

articles as laid down in a certain time volume that lies always handy at Judge Griswold's right hand. Does a day pass over their heads they do not sell liquor to a native? How many times has a kanaka been told that he must say, his intoxication was owing to beer, when the wherewithal was furnished at the $1000 per annum licensed Hotel. How many of those bars are there, which are not supplied with brandy of one sort for the Don, and another brandy for the kanaka, and which by chance the White, when a little oblivious and palate disturbed, is smilingly helped to?

I instance but one of the violations, which they daily incur penalty for, and it should bring to their minds the text, "Let him without sin among you, cast the first stone." That their informers have not succeeded in all they promised is evident from the acquittal of nearly all, in fact all but one of those informed against by the "Mice." Had the offence been as common as "Justice" would indicate, why did not the Police, the proper persons for such purposes, take the matter in hand. Why leave it to an amateur who evidently knows nothing of his business, but the "slimy" part?

Before Barnum failed, he offered $1000, for a person who always attended to his own business. He wanted him to put in his Museum of Curiosities. He was a bankrupt before he succeeded. It is a sure thing he could not have found him among the P. P. Ws., or members of the Hotel Keepers Club. If they attended less to other people's and more to their own affairs, "the future improvement of their business would enable them to repair their losses for the past few years." Yours truly,

BEER SELLER.

Mr. Editor.—In a religious Journal, The Pacific, edited in San Francisco, under date of Sept. 4, appears a letter from the regular correspondent of said Journal on these islands. The letter is dated Makawao, Maui, July 15, 1856, and signed J. S. GREEN, a reverend gentleman of the ultra-missionary stripe, and better known in his own neighborhood on Maui, than he can possibly be either here or in San Francisco. Among many other subjects to which Mr. G. alludes and which, with his usual gurgling, credulity, and bigotry, he prepares for foreign consumption, is the following:

"The Sandwich Islands Monthly Magazine, of which six numbers had been sent, I have had cause to be. The first number, as I remarked in my last, was a decent one; but of the other one can I say the like. It did too early to give your Committee a cut on your doings at San Francisco. It had become insipid and vulgar; the use of wine, of tobacco, the licensing of houses for the sale of ardent spirits. I think the base of this Magazine will be easily borne. Indeed, I have seen but one note of lament on account of its decease, and this was from The Polynesian."

So speaks Sir Oracle. Not content to revile a Magazine that united on its pages some of the best writers on the islands, and under whose well directed lash in several articles the reverend gentleman of Makawao vined not a little, yet with commendable manhood kept his peace until the Magazine was stopped, when this missionary chancier steps over to a foreign banyard to crow his ill-flavored notes; not content with such post mortem exultation, this would-be Daniel in criticism condemns the Magazine upon his own unsupported assumption of facts. I ought to be sufficiently acquainted with the character of the Magazine to know that, if it had given any body connected with the Vigilance Committee "a cut on their doings in San Francisco," it would not have been the respectable, long enduring and much imposed upon citizen whom circumstances of a social and political complexion, too sad and serious to be referred to, unless to be deplored, had forced into an anomalous position, but those ever intermeddling, ambitious, gossiping busy bodies in a livery of black, too often a reflex of the spirit within, who doat upon excitement of any kind as bringing grief to their mill, and who are not content to justify social and political acts upon social and political grounds, but must drag the "holy of holies" down into the hot and bitter strife of contending passions, that so they may rise on the wings of the storm to richer livings or wider notoriety.

The Magazine is declared "insipid and vile," because it combated that stultification of the intellect by which men are brought to a class of bigoted writers—stripped of their feathers and fallen solely in public estimation, it is true—but yet sufficiently powerful to trammel and embarrass the true progress of civilization in this country.

Yours, ABRAHAM FERNANDEZ.

HONOLULU Oct. 9, 1856.

Mr. Editor.—I agree with "Democrat" in your paper of this morning that as a matter of curiosity it would be gratifying to test the relative strength of the several political parties of the U. S. amongst the American residents here by holding an election in November next.

All native born citizens of the United States, whether naturalized or not, over twenty-one years of age, to be entitled to vote, and the male children of all such, being over twenty-one also being voters. All foreigners who have been naturalized in the U. S. of legal age, being entitled also to vote, and all children of such foreigners who would at this time have been entitled to vote in the United States had they continued to reside there, being also allowed to vote at the contemplated election here.

Yours, &c., REPUBLICAN.

P. S. It will be borne in mind that the old party issues of Bank and Tariff, with other minor ones, do not enter into the present contest, at least form no considerable element in it. The Republican party is framed from the democratic, whig and know-nothing, chiefly of the north, opposed to the extension of the area of slavery, all opposed to the abrogation of the Missouri compromise, with many democrats who favored that measure, but who have felt that the combined frauds and violence in Kansas have hitherto prevented any fair expression of their opinions of the actual settlers of that territory in regard to the legalization of slavery in it, together with some slaveholders, like the venerable Adam Bent of Kentucky, who were opposed to the Kansas Nebraska act and slavery extension, have by common consent of the time being, waded all minor points of difference and united to test the vital question of slavery extension, and whether settlers in the territories may be allowed peacefully to decide at the polls their own institutions upon the democratic principle of a majority of votes. Those contending for these principles form the Republican party, and have selected J. C. Fremont, a democrat, as their Candidate for the Presidency. R.

Mr. Editor.—In the Polynesian of the 4th inst. the editor of that paper exults in the belief that "even teetotalism is relinquished as the only qualification that adorns a minister of the Crown," &c.

With a simple denial that "teetotalism" was ever the "only qualification" that was required, or actually "adorned" His late Majesty's ministers, I beg to state as a looker on of matters and things at the Islands for several years past, that I consider the present want of that virtue in high places most disastrous to all the interests, personal and public, entrusted to those unworthy hands.

And I must further state my honest belief, that if those who are reproached by the government editor with the virtue (in his estimation, vice,) of teetotalism, had remained still in office, we should witness at the present moment a much more desirable and respectable, not to say responsible state of things than now unfortunately exists. I do not believe the Treasury would now be empty, and government employees be obliged to blush at their inability to pay their little quarterly bills here and there, because there is no money in the treasury.

And I further believe that if "teetotalism" had been the practice and precept of ministers, His late Majesty would now be the reigning Sovereign; his Minister of the Interior transacting his own business, for which he gets full pay, without doing a thing; and His present Majesty would have been saved the disgrace of making a boon companion of a once convict, who came to a violent and disgraceful end by his own hand in the Vigilance Committee rooms in San Francisco.

I draw these inferences, Mr. Editor, from the reports of the Minister of Finance in former years, when there was always money in the treasury to pay employees, notwithstanding as much public work was then done as now, and quite as much to the purpose. Another reason is, that it is well known in this community that the results followed the causes to which I have alluded, and cannot be gainsayed by the Editor of the Polynesian, or any body else; and I hold that ministers are responsible for them, because they boldly proclaim the doctrine that to take a little is a good thing, when they knew, or should have known, that it was certain destruction to those to whom they recommend by precept and example, the insidious tempter.

I regret to see the ministerial organ pursue the course it does in regard to those important elements of Society, which lie at the foundation of good order and prosperity, private and national. It holds morality, religion, and temperance in contempt, and has already disgusted so many of the old supporters of the establishment, as to obligate them to withdraw from all contenance of it, and the consequence will, of course, follow.

In conclusion I will only say, that I have heard many laudable men lately say that they longed for the old times again, when the men whom the Editor of the Polynesian imputely impugned, conducted the affairs of the Kingdom in a manner to secure public prosperity and its credit at home and abroad.

EXCHANGER BILLS.

CONSCIENCE.—Conscience is the divinest gift of God to man. It is that which ever speaks, if man would listen, of an Omnipresent Deity. It is not the thunder-peal, nor the flashing lightning, it is not the raging of the ocean storm, nor the terrific fury of a tornado; nor the fiery burning of the lava from its mountain furnace; it is none of these that speaks to the heart of man, but the spirit within him, that says these are the avenging forms of an offended Conscience! It is the consciousness, deeply implanted in the soul, of the existence, of the unescapable presence of a Superior Being; and its upbraidings are the torments, the self abasement, and the confusion of one who knows himself to be standing before a justly offended Judge. Let a man have sickness and sorrow, and scorn, and shame of face, and poverty, and exile; every evil that can be poured out of the vials of wrath upon suffering humanity, and he may bear all with patience, save the horrors, the undying horrors of a reproving conscience.

THE OTHER SIDE.—Once in a happy home, a sweet bright baby died. On the evening of the day, when the children gathered round their mother, all sitting very sorrowful, Alice, the eldest, said, "Mother, you took all the care of baby while she was here, and you carried and held her in your arms all the while she was ill; now, mother, who looks her on the other side?" On the other side of what, Alice? "On the other side of death; who took the baby on the other side, mother; she was so little she could not go alone?" "Jesus met her there," answered the mother. "It is he who took little children in his arms to bless them, and said, 'Suffer them to come unto me, and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven.'" He took the baby on the other side."

MACHINERY IN THE HUMAN FRAME.—Very few, even mechanics, are aware how much machinery there is in their own bodies. Not only are there hinges and joints in the bones, but there are valves in the veins, a forcing pump in the heart, and other curiosities. One of the muscles of the eye forms a real pulley. The bones which support the body are made precisely in that form which has been calculated by mathematicians to be strongest for pillars and supporting columns—that of hollow cylinders.

A WAG, on hearing that a man had given up chimney sweeping, expressed surprise, as he thought the business suited him. Many men mistake the love for the practice of virtue, and are not so much good men, as the friends of goodness.

CAPT. ROBERT BROWN'S WHALING GUN, PATENT BOMB LANCES AND TRIPOLI. AFTER SEVERAL YEARS LABOR AND experimenting upon whales, on the whaling ground, with his apparatus, combined with the advantages of being a practical whaler, the Patent has been enabled to obtain an instrument in form of a Bomb Lance, which for utility and effectiveness cannot be excelled. The attention of Agents and Officers of whale-ships is called to the following testimonials.

SAN FRANCISCO, January 10, 1856. CAPT. ROBERT BROWN.—Sir: I take this opportunity to inform you that we used two Bomb Lances, the first of which you found them to be of great benefit in capturing whales amongst the ice. The first whale that we used the Bomb Lance on was killed in the following manner—"The boat went alongside of the whale and the boat-iron fired a Bomb into him and then fastened to him with a big iron. The Bomb was heard to explode, and the whole side blew after the Bomb exploded. The above-mentioned whale was in the ice, and it is our opinion that we should not have got that whale and many others that we did get, if it had not been for your Bomb Lances, and we fully recommend them to the attention of those fitting out whale ships. Respectfully yours, THOMAS WALL, Master bark George.

HONOLULU, March 17, 1856. CAPT. ROBERT BROWN.—My dear Sir: I used your Bomb Lance on a whale, north, the past season, which made 250 lbs. of oil. We never could have taken him without said Lances, as our boats could not get near enough to use the common hand lances. Yours Respectfully, G. L. Cox, Master whale-ship Magnolia.

HONOLULU, March 15, 1856. CAPT. ROBERT BROWN.—Dear Sir: I take this opportunity to inform you that I used your Bomb Lances on the whale ship Herald, and found them effective in taking whales, and we fully recommend them to all whalers, and especially around the ice. I also used the harpoon and got most of the whales by your Gun and apparatus. Yours Respectfully, ISAAC ALLEN, Master ship Herald.

Other testimonials can be seen by calling on the undersigned, Agents, who have the Guns, Bomb Lances and Harpoons for sale. 11-4f R. COADY & CO., Honolulu.
