By the arrival on Thursday last (Jan 17) of the fine packet Comet, Capt. Jas. Smith, in the remarkably short passage of 9 days and 20 hours, we received the New York mail of Dec. 11, brought through in thirtygir days, and San Francisco daily papers of the 7th, only ten days old, containing St. Louis news, by Pony Express, to Dec. 24th, and Washington advices to Dec. 21st. We have thus received the proceedings of Congress up to Dec. 21, in twenty-five days. This is ahead of any time yet made, and will probably not be beaten till the telegraph is carried through.

The news is of more than usual interest. From our exchanges, we gather the following summary:

The Secession Movement.

The general tenor of the latest telegraph news is that the South Carolina secession furor was likely to subside without the seceders being able to accomplish their ends. Public opinion in the cotton states was against hasty action in the matter.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA CONVENTION .- Convention assembled on the 17th Dec., at Columbia, in the midst of a panic created by small pox, which was intensely raging among the citizens. Many members of the Legislature had gone home in consequence. The Convention on the 17th adjourned to Charleston, where they arrived on the 18th, and had a grand military reception. Fifteen guns-one for each slave Statewere fired. The Convention assembled at four o'clock; one hundred and fifty members were present. The galleries were crowded with ladies.

Resolution was adopted, that so much of the President's Message as to what he designates property in the United States, be referred, with instructions to report what such property consists of, how acquired, whether the purposes for which acquired can be enjuyed by the United States after secession, consistenty with the dignity and safety of the State, and that the Committee report on the value of United States property not in South Carolina, and value her share on an equitable division among the States-(Applause in the galleries) - which gave no remonstrances. The resolution was made the order for to-morrow. The same disposition was made of a resolution to appoint five citizens as a Council of Safety, to act with the Governor. An address from a portion of the Georgia Legislature was on the table.

A resolution was introduced for the appointment of a Commissionier to each slave State, bearing the plan of proceedings, in advance of secession, to prepare each State willing to unite with South Carolina in the adoption of a Confederacy based upon the Constitution of the United States, and recommending those uniting to elect members to the House of the new Congress, and a President and Vice President of the new Confederacy. Another resulution was offered for the appointment of three Commissioners to proceed to Washington and lay the ordinance before the President, requesting him to communicate the same to Congress, and treat with Government for the delivery of the Forts, etc., up to the last day of February, provided the Forts, in the meantime, be allowed to remain as at present; also, | and commenced operations on the place. to treat upon and settle the questions of the public debt and division of property.

Dec. 20th, an ordinance of secession was reported which declares and ordains the repeal of the ordinance of May 234 , 1778, whereby the Constitution of the United States was ratified, and all acts of Assembly ratifying the amendments to that Constitution, which passed unanimously, at a quarter past one, 169 mem-

Louisiana -The Governor of Louisiana has forwarded a message, on the 10th, calling an extra sesion, and exhorts the calmest deliberation. He says that Lincoln's election shows that the Northern mind is poisoned against the South; recommends a Convention; says that Louisiana ought not to refuse to mest her sister slave-holding States in council, to demand of the North a repeal of obnoxious legislation, and guarantee against future similar measures. He says that these questions should be met before the inauguration of Lincoln, because that self-respect, and the honor of the State do not comport with her remaining under a Black Republican President. THE SOUTH BOGINS TO SUFFER .- The South is suffering largely by the disunion panic, and nearly eve-Ty sort of business is stagnant there. Cotton has declined largely, and the loss on this great staple during November is estimated at over $25,000,000 ! The industry of all the Middle and Northern States, their manufacturing and mechanical business, is largely affected, while the grain and produce of the West alike feel the depressing effect of the political blight which now spreads over every section of the country. John Minor Botts, in his letter, says that he thinks Virginia will not secole. He pronounces the position Which South Carolina has taken to be a bold, plain and daring rebellion and treason against the President of the United States. He thinks that the only question is whether it is worth while to keep her in

been appointed, and accepted by telegraph. The latest Pony Express news is of a highly interesting and exciting character. The demand of Maj-Anderson, the Commander of Fort Moultrie, for reinforcements in order to enable him to hold that position against a possible attack of the people of Charleston, and the reported disagreement of the President and his Secretary of State, Mr. Cass, on the question of acceding to that demand-which was followed by shall be the Capital of the Territory, instead of Olym- Mr. Cass' resignation-are events that must have produced a profound sensation thoroughout the country. VISIT OF THE U. S. MINISTER TO WINDSOR CASTLE. promise; but we by no means are convinced that they Mr. Dallas, the U. S. Minister, had been invited, with Mrs. Dallas, to spend a few days at Windsor. The Queen received him most graciously, and coustantly displayed, in her conversation with him, the highest appreciation of the manner in which the Prince of Wales had been received in the United States. She was exceedingly courteous, and devoted herself with zeal to the entertainment of her guests, walking with Mrs. Dallas in the Castle grounds, and driving them about the park. She has derived great pleasure from the kindly feeling displayed toward the Prince in America, and she testifies it by this act of friendly politeness, for it is not customary for any one not personally intimate with some Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, member of the royal family to be invited to Windsor; and since Mrs. Stephenson was in England, twenty years ago, this privilege has never been extended to an American Minister.—The London Observer remarks that the invitation of the American Minister to Windsor so soon after the arrival of the Prince of Wales, in company with the heads of the Government, is a grateful acknowledgment of the hospitality of the President; and the attention and enthusiasm bestowed upon the head of the British throne exhibited by all ranks and classes of the people of the United States. THE FRENCH EMPRISS .- The French Empress was traveling through England and Scotland incog., and, had reached Elinburgh. The London Times says: The visit of the Empress Engenie to the Scotch metropolis has been received by its inhabitants with much gratification and pride. Coming as she does, estensibly incognito, she has, nevertheless, wherever recognized, obtained a welcome of the most genuine description. Old countries have long memories, and Scotland does not forget that before the union with England, to which she owes so much, her great ally and friend was France; and to the illustrious lady herself a still closer tie is owned, for she is of the family of the Kirkpatricks, whose history may be traced from the time of Robert Bruce. From the East, the news by her is three or four days later. Regarding the latest secession news received, the Bulletin of the 11th says: THE PONY NEWS .- The news by Pony Express has ome importance, though nothing decisive appears to have been yet done. Maj. Anderson has evacuated Fort Moultrie-but the act has little significance. Fort Moultrie, situated on Sullivan Island, is approachable by a land force at low water, and if atcked by overwhelming numbers could hardly have held out with the very small garrison it contained. The United States commander, therefore, evacuated by withdrawing all his force to Fort Sumter, which located in the Bay, surrounded by deep water, and aly approachable in boats. Although Fort Moultrie ftenest referred to in speaking of the Charleston fortifications, Fort Sumter is really the point of greatest importance. It cost the General Government nearly twice as much money for its construction, as made upon the Fort if matters are left for the present | Moultrie did, and besides being almost impregnable, mands the other fortifications, and holds the city of Charleston itself at the mercy of its guns and shells. No ship can approach or leave that city so long as Fort Sumter is in the hands of an enemy, as it is located on the very margin of the channel, and all vessels going in or coming out are forced to pass directly under its guns. For all the purposes of the General Government, therefore, Fort Sumter is the essential place, while the other fortifications are comparatively of small importance. The South Carolinians will find it a difficult job to capture it, even when manned by the small garrison at present there. The Convention at Charleston, it appears, is going on with its secession programme. The temporary appointment of the Federal officers State officers also, is a shrewd way of preserving the honor of the Secessionists, and at the same time not provoking a conflict with the Federal authorities. It is pretty clearly indicated that nothing precipitate will be done, and whatever course the South concludes to take, will be decided by a General Convention of the Southern The Times has another editorial on the political States.
