HAWAIIAN LEGISLATURE. Styry-styru Day, July 11.

The Assembly met at the usual hour, Vice Presideut, Hon. G. Rhodes, in the Chair,

Mr. Kamalo, Chairman of the Committee to whom was referred the bill to amend Section 347 of the Civil Code, reported, recommending the passage of the bill. Report adopted. On motion the rules were suspended to allow Mr. Kamakan to present the report from the Committee on Education. Report adopted.

Mr. Kaapa presented a majority report from the special Committee on Accounts, reporting that the expenses of the funeral of Her late Highness the Princess Victoria were $9,988 07, and that the Journ ounchold expenses of her failer were $2,778 5s. and recommended that the former sum be paid. Mr. Wana said that he should like to have time granted him to bring in a minority report, as he was in favor of paying both amounts. Mr. Kannamano said that he wished his name understand the report when he signed it. Mr. Kamalo said be thought it queer that $6,000 was asked for at first, and now they wanted 39,000. Gov. Dominis said that $6,000 was all that was asked for, as it was thought the funeral would take place soon after the sum was asked for ; but owing to unavoidable delays in the funeral, the sum of course increased; that he and the Minister of Finame had accepted bills amounting to over $9,000; and that it the Assembly did not appropriate more than $5,000 for the funeral expenses, the family and her estate would of course have to pay the

Mr. Henck favored the majority report Mr. Ukeke said he was opposed to giving more than $6,600, because when that sum was asked for he wanted to increase to $10,000, but the Ministers were against it, saying $6,000 was sufficient, and he put the following question to them: "Will you pay the balance, if it is over $6,000?" and they said "Yes." New let them pay it out of the $5,000 a year that they have just received. And the best thing the House can do is to write out an appeal to the King to put the Minister of Finance out of office, as he is an maskillful financier. The Vice President told the hon, member not to indulge in personalities.

Mr. Ukeke said I take all back but the word naskillful, which is not personal. Wr. Kupan sympathised with the member from

Mr. Hishop-It has been already stated by His Excellency the Covernor of Oahu and the Minister of Finance that they claim from the House only $6,000 appropriated, and it rests entirely with the House to vote more or not. The balance will unquestionably have to be paid by the estate, for islature assumes it. They felt, I believe, as I do, that the amounts expended in this country on funerals has been extravagant. On the day that the appropriation for the expenses of the funeral of the late Princess was under consideration. I understood from the Ministers and the Governor that one reason for favoring $6,000 instead of accepting $8,000 or $10,000, as proposed by some others, was that the smaller appropriation would have an influence in keeping down the expenses for the funeral; whereas the larger appropriation would encourage large outlays. We have unfortunately had a great deal of experience in the expensiveness of public funcculs, and yet it is very difficult to estimate for such matters before hand. It was mude the business of the Minister and Governor to make the preparations for the funeral, and they were to a certain extent acting for this Assembly They have contracted and accepted bills amoun ing to about $10,000. The relatives and friends of the deceased bad a right to make any additional expenses on their own account that seemed to them proper; it was entirely their own affair; they old of course settle their own accounts, and we have nothing to do in the matter. Ten thousand dollars is a large amount to expend upon a funeral, but we have in times past expende a considerably larger sum on similar occasions. I will vote to appropriate $9,988 07, the amount of the bills

Mr. Ii was in favor of the Government paying the bills when they were in a fit state to do so, or in other words, when they had a surplus of funds. Gov. Nahaolelua said that if there was any fault it lay with the whole Assembly. If they were going to make the Ministers pay the balance they would have to stand their share, as they all had a vote in the matter, and as the aves and noes were not taken, they all laid themselves responsible. He was in favor of having the House assume the whole amount.

A motion to defer the further consideration of the majority report till the minority report was presented and then be considered together was put to vote and carried. Mr. Smith introduced a resolution that the sum of $9,988 07 be entered in the Appropriation Bill for the funeral expenses of Her tate Highness, in place of $6,000. Resolution lost. Mr. Kamalo introduced a resolution that the sum of $12,766 65 be inserted in the Appropriation Bill for the funeral expenses of the late Princess Vic-

Mr. Ukeke was strongly opposed to this resolution, as in his opinion it was the same as throwing the money away, and that the mourning budge on his arm was all of the $6,000 that he had received He was also ashamed of those Representatives who had taken an oath to do as they best thought according to their own conscience, and then vote for anything that was brought up without understanding it. He entreated the House not to believe the report of the Minister of Finance, Governor of Oahu, &c., as if they were the books containing the account of expenditures, but advised them to wait until they saw the vonchers, &c. Motion to adopt the resolution was lost. Minister Varigny introduced a resolution that the sum of $10,000 be inserted in the Appropriation Bill for the funeral expenses of Her late Highness Princess Victoria Kamamalu Kaahumanu. Mr. Kakani moved to amend to $6,000. The Vice President stated that $6,000 had already been appropriated. Mr. Kakani then moved to reject the resolution. Mr. Kamalo moved that the resolution be rejected, and the sum of $6,000, inserted in the Appropriation Bill, be adopted. Mr. Alpsio moved to table resolution and take it up when the reports of Countillies were under discussion.

Main question put to vote and lost. Minister Varigny doubted the vote, and moved that the ayes and nage be taken. Carried. Question again put to the House and lost-vote

Minister Varieny moved to the order of the day, which motion was put to vote and lost. Mr. Kalakana was opposed to the raling of the hair regarding the 40th rule of the House, as his interpretation of the rule was that no member could vote on a subject concerning his private interests outside of the House, and the day of proroguing the Legislature was not known by any one, and no Maister Harris said that his remarks did the Jadge of Molomember knew how much longer he would be re- kai a great deal of good, as he found a gallant defender in the become their proper to take us. I say that this quired to sit in the House.

Mr. Smith moved the previous question, viz: The ruling of the Chair upon the 40th rule regarding the right of any of the Representatives to vote on President again overruled by vote of 20 to 17,

Mr. Nahaku moved the passage of the resolution. Minister Harris cautioned the Representatives crainst voting for the resolution, and requested every member to look at the 56th Article of the Constitution, and read it over carefully, and called their attention also to the 40th rule of the Assembly, as follows: "No member shall be permitted to vote upon any question where his private right. distinct from public interest, is immediately cor cerned." He said that the King would uphold the Constitution he had sworn to, and would not deviate a word or letter from it. He asked the Representatives not to piace His Mujesty in a position against their resolution, and said that there could be no greater misfortune for the people than the idea that they could vote themselves any sum they wanted. Minister Varieny was astonished at the Representatives for their the Constitution and their own rules, and toped that propriation Bill was taken up. they would change their opinious regarding it, and appealed to their good sense to kill the resolution. Gev. Nahaol-ha was in favor of submitting the resolution to the Justices of the Supreme Court, as there was some difference in the opinious of the Representatives regarding the 56th Artis-heading. Lost,

Mr. Kalakana did not think the argument advanced by the Minister of Figures sound, as this was only a resolution, and not a bill, and would not fix the pay of the Representatives, as stated by the Minister of Figures; that this was granted for unhing to do with the question at issue.
