Foreign Notes.

The Chicago Tribune asks and receives $22,000 for a column of advertisements one year. A negro owns one of the best dry goods stores President Grant has abandoned the idea of visiting the Pacific coast this year. He will not come even to California. A vast society has been formed in France for the purpose of discouraging the purchase of articles manufactured in Germany. The English Government is seriously considering the project of employing its now idle soldiery on regular daily work in addition to its drill, and would commence by making them build the coast Mrs. Colt, wife of the pistol-maker at Hartford, having built a $200,000 church in memory of her husband, and in behalf of her workmen, is building a $60,000 school-house on her armory grounds for the children of her employes. A recent dispatch announces the death of John A Large Assortment of Slidell at London, at the age of 78. J. M. Mason, his companion on board the Trent, when Commodore Wilkes acted with such intrepidity in making

> During the three months ending June 30th, the number of immigrants arriving in the United States was 101,105. Of these the largest number belonging to any one nationality, 30,814, were Germans. From Ireland there were 26,149, and from Sweden There is evidently a rivalry among the Western > cities. The Cincinnati Gazette calls attention to the proximity of St. Louis to the line of hurricanes: whereupon the Chicago Tribune says that St. Louis may well retort that Cincinnati is so far out of the usual route of travel that even a hurricane could not afford to go out of its way to visit that city. An attempt is to be made by an ambitious young writer to revise and improve Bunyan's sublime allegory, "The Pilgrim's Progress," so that it shall be in nicer accord with the spirit of this advanced age. We have not seen the draft of this proposed plan of revision, but it is said that it is something like this: The Pilgrim, instead of starting on foot with his bundle on his back, buys a through ticket, has his bundle checked, and gets into a sleeping car in the light-ning express. The train stops at Vanity Fair twenty minutes for dinner, and while he is at that place he telegraphs on to the Delectable Mountains for rooms, but is prevented from reaching them that night on account of the train running off the track and pitching the passengers into the Slough of Despond.

NEWSPAPER WORK .- A recent writer pointedly and truthfully remarks that journalism is the only profession which is denied the privilege of privacy. The Lawyer, Doctor and Preacher do their work in private, and no weighty personal responsibility attaches to them on account of it. But the journalist is a mark for the public eye, and his every moment is as open as the course of the sun. The work of the press is continuous, as well as constantly public. There is no rest for the weary. Space is no more annihilated by telegraph than time by journalism. The evening and morning are not merely the first day but all the seven Night is annihilated as to all its quantities of repose. Every minute of every hour of the twenty-four is occupied by some workers doing some work that shows itself in the newspapers of the Facts are ever new. Comments must be as fresh as facts, and the edition is the remorseless giant that cats up all the seconds. The making of a newspaper is perpetual motion in a thousand fields. In such a work, demanding ceaseless sand fields. In such a work, demanding ceaseless effort, permitting no pause, exacting eternal and ever varying exercises, it is impossible for wheat to be unmixed with chaff, for accuracy not to be impaired by mistake, for injustice not occasionally to be done .- Boston Record.
