SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 2. (From our Special Correspondent's OUR WASHINGTON LETTER. WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 25, 1878.

As soon as the summer's heat in the city suggests the summer's charms in the country, the annual exodus begins. Every body really has or fears a physical visitation that nothing save sea-bathing, mountain air, mineral water or farm house life can assuage.

There is during the season sure to be a Tournament, where the young men assume for a lance a ring from some point suspended, which requires address, coolness, and horsemanship.

The victor in this graceful contest then chooses among the fair the maiden whom he esteems to be "Queen of Love and Beauty," and each contestant claims a Maid of Honor to Her Majesty.

It is now one of our wisest and most graceful charities to provide daily excursions that will take the old and the young far out of the city limits on land or water, for a day of sunlight and fresh air.

WE HAVE JUST RECEIVED

BUGGIES, CARRIAGES AND WAGONS! FROM THE CORTLAND WAGON MANUFACTURING COMPANY!

ON receipt of a letter from the Cortland Manufacturing Company a few months since, in which they offered us the agency for their factory for the Kingdom, we wrote them, that there was a popular law against Imported Carriages, and that we did not care to handle such goods, and unless they would send us some of the BEST MATERIALS and GUARANTEE them to be in every respect FIRST CLASS CARRIAGES, we should not be obliged to do so.

Our Wagon is in use in every part of the Kingdom from the Pacific to the Atlantic, over a range of country in which no climate, good or bad, could be more varied, and in which no soil could be more fertile, and in which no climate is more healthy, and most approved material, such as years of steady, regular and application have shown to be best fitted to combine perfectly with strength, and elegant workmanship. We are SURE when they have been tested by actual use in your country, the prejudice you speak of as existing against Wagon of foreign make, will so far as they are concerned entirely disappear. We fully warrant all our goods to you, and you may look for us in proportion to the size of the factory of the wagon to come up to your requirements.

We have quite the different styles of vehicles made by the Cortland Manufacturing Company, and are prepared to take special orders to be delivered at any regular port in the Kingdom at LOW AND PRICES, according to style and kind of carriage or wagon.
