I do not like to Hear Him Pray.

I do not like to hear him pray Who leans at twenty-five per cent. For then I think the borrower may Be pressed to pay for food and rent;

I do not like to hear him pray, Who bends knee about an hour, For grace to spend right on the spot, Who knows his neighbor has no flour.

I do not like to hear him pray, "Let blessings on the widow be," Who never seeks her home to stay, "Who ever takes you, come to me."

I do not like to hear him pray, Who prays for his neighbor's soul, "That's offered for the orphan's weal By him who sees him crushed by wrong, And does not for his suffering soul."

I do not like to hear him pray, With folded hands and face a smile, Who prays for his neighbor's soul, "That's offered for the orphan's weal By him who sees him crushed by wrong, And does not for his suffering soul."

I do not like to hear him pray, Who prays for his neighbor's soul, "That's offered for the orphan's weal By him who sees him crushed by wrong, And does not for his suffering soul."
