COLLYER CAWINGS.

COLLYER, July 15.

Heavy dew.
Butter 12½ cents per pound.
Wheat good.
Small yield of oats.
Slight demand for butter.
Horse flesh cheaper.
Outlook for corn never better.
Tuesday's heat—110° in the sun.
Land agents expect but little business until after harvest.

Mrs. J. D. Colby returned from her trip to Chicago the first of this week.

Tuesday morning a rainbow of bright colors could be seen in the western sky.

Misses Comfort and Harrington, of Wa-Keeney, are paying a visit to Mrs. L. A. Fisher.

For some unknown reason Rev. Weller failed to keep his appointment on Sunday, and no service was held.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps will be held next Saturday afternoon at the G. A. R. rooms.

Mr. Patterson's price for wild horses from his herd was considerably lower last week than when here before—from $6 to $10 less per head.

Again there is a rumor that the railroad company will soon stop the fast trains here. It has been in anticipation so long it may prove a realization soon.

B. O. Richards has been suffering the past few weeks with his old trouble, the asthma. This time it was more severe than usual, but he is now slowly gaining.

Although unprepared, as yet, for business, J. Sheehan has had many occasions to make his anvil ring while accommodating his customers with small jobs of work.

George Tiffany, of Gove county, was at the depo Tuesday evening, and when the train arrived greeted a friend he had not seen for years. Mr. T.'s friend will locate here if he likes the country.

Ira Ramsey spent a portion of last week with his former neighbors and friends at Banner. He is doing a good business in Ellis as barber, and expects soon to unite his fortunes with a young lady of that city.

The past few days have been good ones for prohibitionists. The demand for cool water has been great. Not only humanity, but animals as well, have sought to counteract the effects of the heat by drinking often of the priceless liquid.

Thomas W. Bundy and Stephen McNichols, partners in the well boring business, have recently arrived from Superior, Neb., bringing their machinery with them. Both are Ohio men, and one, at least, expects to locate in this locality if a desirable homestead can be found.

Very often of late the fast train has used strategy to get free of tramps. After taking on water it will back up to the end of the switch and then gain on its starting speed sufficiently to pass the depo platform at such a rate that even a tramp will not risk his life to jump on.

L. A. Fisher last week pulled down his barn to build greater. A portion of it—formerly the Tomasson residence—he had moved a few feet east, to place it upon his own lot, instead of that of Mr. Tomasson's, which could not be purchased. He will now build a barn on a much larger plan.

Seeing the long train of fifteen passenger and eleven freight cars, containing soldiers and their baggage, pass east on Sunday, did not lessen the interest of our citizens in the Indian troubles; but since news has reached here that Gen. Sheridan has taken command, the people feel reassured.

On Friday the Manhattan Agricultural College professors passed through town on their return trip. As they had considerable to say of the Indian scare in Wallace county, it was supposed that specimen gathering had lost its attractions, and "home, sweet home" had become unusually dear.

Bundy & McNichols have bored a well on the claim joining town on the east. Water was struck at 75 feet, after passing through very hard magnesia limestone. The work was performed very neatly and speedily, saving all the fuss of many days' labor and the unsightly pile of dirt which always surrounds a dug well. The firm is now engaged on a well for L. LaBron, and have a number of others engaged.

Not long since there was a cat in the town well, and though she was tenderly taken out, some persons failed to relish the drinking water, and preferred to walk farther and draw water from the railroad tank. Now, even that pleasure is denied, for on Tuesday two young tramps mistook the tank for the pool of Siloam, and washed therein. If their diseases cease thereafter, not so the disgust of the town folk.

Would that the Cawings could secure the railroad officials' attention long enough to suggest an improvement in the surroundings of the depo. When it rains hard it is impossible to cross the track without going far to the west of the street crossing or picking the way from one bunch of grass to the next until the east end of the depo is reached—all the other paths and roads are under water. A small amount of work expended in filling in such places with cinders would aid the walking as well as appearances much.

Sunday afternoon John Ebeling's herd of cattle wandered into town and sought the shade of the school house. While near the building they ate off the tops of some of the trees on the grounds and bent others over quite badly. Truly, there is need of a fence being built as soon as possible.

A township of land between Collyer and Buffalo Park was recently purchased, with the intention of locating a Dunkard's settlement there. Already the price per acre of property has raised considerably. Should men of enterprise take hold of the matter, Collyer will have to arouse her energies or lose the trade she now has.

Last Thursday night's heavy rain was appreciated by everybody, and vegetation immediately accepted its invitation to grow, while the clouds hung in heavy mist between the sun and earth, thus allowing the soil to drink its fill of the moisture. The sun did not get many opportunities to shine forth until Sunday.

Wm. Spicer is spending a short vacation at home, whence he was called by the report that his pre-emption, upon which his family was residing, had been taken by another. Mr. Spicer had no trouble in rectifying the mistake, but the stranger who was placed upon it is probably out to the extent of a land agent's fee, at least.

Dame nature played a practical joke Monday morning, which effected almost every family in the community. It was at the hour when the morning chores are about finished that the clouds rolled up in the northeast. Dark thunder clouds were tipped with the lighter ones, indicating wind, and the latter did blow as though to warn us of the storm which was to follow. Of course much of the morning's work was undone; the little chicks caught and housed, as well as everything blowable fastened down; when, one by one, the clouds passed around and the sun shone out bright, as if smiling at our discomfort.

OGALLAH OZINGS.

OGALLAH, July 15.

All quiet.
Temperance (?)
Good growing weather.
Most of the harvesting is over.
A soiree at Ben C. Rich's July 4.
Be ready for the Institute next Monday.
Seal and Tarpey have just received lumber for a new house.
There is still some school land in Ogallah township unsettled.
A heavy rain and hail storm Monday morning, between seven and eight.
C. S. Howe, the genial clerk at the store, went home to spend the Fourth.
Wheat is generally well filled, but it is somewhat like the Dutchman's oats—short but thin.
The Topeka Nursery is represented in this county by Mr. Richard Elias. He makes this his stopping place a part of the time.

I saw, the other day, a letter from Mr. Thomas Roberts, one of the number who left here some time ago to hunt wild horses. They are now in Texas. They seem to enjoy the sport very much. They intend to start home about September 1.

Mr. Wm. Lenix, a brother-in-law of Mr. C. C. Yetter's, made Mr. Yetter a call the other day. Mr. Lenix has traded 100 acres of land in Hancock co., Ill., for 160 acres lying ten miles from Hays City, where he intends to locate in the fall or spring.

C. U. LATER.

Every family should have a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for use during the summer. Its prompt use has saved untold suffering, many lives and many doctor bills. It is the acknowledged standard, and can be depended upon, besides it is pleasant to take. It is put up in 25 cent, 50 cent and one dollar bottles.

In writing of that country, Mr. O. S. McClain, a prominent real estate dealer, 301 Fifteenth street, Denver, Colorado, says: "I removed here from Iowa in 1874. As a healthy country, Colorado has proved to be equal to my most sanguine expectations. The air is clear, pure and light. The water here in Denver is obtained from artesian wells, 600 feet deep, which are numerous in the city, and free from alkali, mineral taint and vegetable matter; but in many places the water is impregnated with alkali, and persons not accustomed to it are almost certain to be taken with cramping pains in the stomach, diarrhoea or bowel complaint of some form; and right here I wish to give my friends and the public a bit of advice, which is based on eleven years' experience. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy is a certain cure for alkali poisoning, cramping pains and diarrhoea. It's a remedy I would not do without for any consideration, and I have heard many such expressions from persons who have tried it."
