

CONGRESSMAN JAMES N. BURNS, of the St Joseph, Mo., district, died in Washington Thursday morning, at 12:46. Paralysis overtook him Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Burns was re-elected last fall.

Mrs. FRANK MILLER, of Fort Scott, came in to see the proceedings of the senators yesterday afternoon with Mrs. M. E. DeGeer. That paper fails to state the nature of the proceedings of the senators with Mrs. DeGeer.

On Wednesday Representative Hanna introduced a bill authorizing Trego county to aid the Trego County Creamery association. This is what the World referred to last week when it stated that this association desired that the county be empowered to loan it one thousand dollars.

A MOVE is on foot in the legislature for the creation of the thirty-second judicial district. It is to be composed of the counties of Rush, Ness, Lane, Scott, Wichita and Greeley. The Ness county bar have petitioned for this action. In the case of the passage of this act, our judicial district will be cut down to the counties of Ellis, Trego, Gove, Logan and Wallace. This points quite clearly to an Ellis county man for judge in 1890. In saying this, we are making allowance for some accidents.

WORN OUT.

S. L. Wilson, who has imagined himself an applicant for the forestry commissionership, is virtually flattened out. A perusal of the communication of Attorney T. D. Hamilton, published elsewhere, will hardly fail to convince you of this fact.

And Mr. Hamilton will have in this week's Wallace Herald another very strong dose for Wilson. Wilson is worn out at Wallace.

HARD ON THE HASTY.

Senator Quay left Washington on Wednesday to go to Florida for about a week. He desired the associated press to announce that he would oppose the appointment to office of any man who applied to him for assistance prior to March 4.

Mr. Quay evidently carries his brains in his head. Of all the rot one is called upon to smell in political paths, that of undue haste in begging for an official appointment is the most offensive.

IMPROPER.

We understand that petitions are out for the appointment of C. C. Yetter as forestry commissioner.

This seems to settle a question which was mooted last summer.

As a life-long Republican, as a competent commissioner of forestry and as an old soldier, Mr. Robb ought to be appointed for at least another term. The good of the public service requires that this be done. It is wearisome to note the distance to which the contest for factional success is carrying the Republican party of Trego county from its proper moorings.

A GRAND ACT.

The Kansas legislature, in re-electing Preston B. Plumb United States senator, performed a grand act. This is his third for-full-term election.

No man in the nation is more worthy of political preferment. Senator Plumb has for more than thirty years been a prominent factor in the public affairs of Kansas. He is a thoughtful business man, whose success we have the right to cite as proof. His career in the senate has placed him in the front of the list of senators who watch carefully the current of general legislation, and at the same time never forget to look after the interests of their home states.

PARTIALLY UNITED.

Couriers from the camp of the imaginary political powers that be in Wa-Keeney bring the intelligence that a meeting was held last Sunday night, at which Dr. Jones received a nearly unanimous endorsement as their candidate for postmaster. This decision was hard on two or three other men, who had been expecting to get there by that route.

Jones petitions have been circulated this week. Those who want for postmaster a man who will not attend in person to the duties of the office, a man who has only the most indifferent of claims upon the Republican party, may find cause for signing this petition.

A NEEDED LAW.

Representative McAfee, of Shawnee, has introduced a resolution, instructing the Judiciary Committee to examine the statute recently passed by the legislature of the state of Massachusetts adopting for that state the "Australian system of voting," so called, and to prepare and report to this house a bill for the adoption of said system of voting, so as thereby to prevent bribery and corruption, and to secure an honest and unbiased expression of the will of the people at all popular elections.

Mr. Jones, of Finney, said western Kansas needed some law of this sort. He hoped the resolution would be adopted.

It was adopted unanimously. The legislature will act with superhuman wisdom if it reaches the seat of this difficulty. The difficulty lies in the dishonesty at the bottom of the hearts of many men. When court judges and county officers will plot for the defeat of the people's will at popular elections, the disease of political depravity has taken deep root. The best remedy which the legislature can apply to fraudulent elections is to make punishment sure, speedy and severe.

Sugar Factories Wanted.

A friend, writing from Aliceville, Coffey county, this state, says: "We want to say through your paper that Aliceville wants a sugar plant. We have the best of soil and the purest sandstone water in abundance, and our farmers will give a very liberal bonus to any capitalist that will locate sugar machinery here. We are well located on the Missouri Pacific railroad system, and coal can be had very cheap."

This is a sample letter. It is substantially the same as we have received from each of probably a dozen other counties. The farmers want sugar factories, and the want is reasonable. There is probably no better opening for the profitable investment of capital in this state than this. We would caution the people, however, against undue haste in the matter. The failure at Douglas last year is a lesson worth studying. It shows that there must be system in the business management, that the machinery and sugar-making processes must conform to approved models and methods, and that great care generally must be exercised. Experienced sugar-makers are very scarce—not five in the state. Still, there has been enough learned to justify the erection of five good factories in Kansas this year; there are men enough to handle that many new factories by importing some help from Louisiana. Letters have been written to Germany for the purpose of learning whether a few experts could not be obtained from the sugar schools of that country. Sugar factories are expensive establishments, they require careful management, just as any other business does. If a man or a company engages in trade, investing $50,000 or $100,000 in business, the best talent is employed to take care of it. A good sugar factory, built after models now in use, costs in the neighborhood of $100,000. Such an investment cannot afford to keep incompetent managers. And that refers to the business affairs only. Sugar-making is a chemical operation; it requires expert knowledge and skillful manipulation; the average man cannot do the work. Every factory must have at least one person who has had some experience, and such persons, in this country, are very few indeed. In Germany there is one (possibly more) school specially devoted to the training of sugar-makers. Most of our most useful knowledge on this subject was derived from German sources. The diffusion process was practiced in that country some years before it was adopted here.

There are at least four essentials in sugar-making: First, good cane; second, a good factory—one in which all the parts are not only of approved patterns, but are so constructed as to work easily together, so that every part does its full share of the work and does it well; third, good business management; fourth, skillful supervision of the work in the factory. Let farmers who are anxious about sugar factories consider all these matters before engaging in the work to the extent of investing money or incurring themselves with debt. The Kansas Farmer believes the time is coming when Kansas will produce immense quantities of sugar, and will do all it can to forward the work, but it does not want its readers to invest money in sugar-making until they have looked the ground over and made the beginnings secure. Our greatest need now is sugar-makers; all other related matters can be handled easier than this.

A Woman's Discovery.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady of this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her, and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and was so much relieved on taking the first dose that she slept all night, and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus write W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C.—Get a free trial bottle at A. B. Jones's drug store.

Old Reprobate Wilson.

Wisconsin Clipper, 17. In Hon. W. S. Tilton, of the Wa-Keeney World, S. L. Wilson finds bitter opposition to his appointment for Forestry Commissioner; and it is a barrier to disgust a disliked, kicked-from-home old reprobate like Wilson.

—Croup is a terror to young mothers, especially during the winter months, as it is then most prevalent. It can always be prevented, if properly treated as soon as the first symptoms appear. Hoarseness is the first symptom; this is soon followed by a peculiar, rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given as soon as these symptoms appear, it will invariably prevent the attack. There is no danger in giving the remedy, as it contains no injurious substance. A Grand Lecture.

That of Rev. J. T. Allen at the M. E. church, January 18, on the Camp, Court and Tabernacle of the Hebrews. On a platform of about 14 feet square he had a model of all this, in miniature form, made almost as perfect as could be from the description given by Moses. He handled the subject in a masterly manner. The tabernacle, with all its furniture and appointments, became illuminated, and the use of each part made so plain that God's great plan of redemption seemed more wonderful and glorious. To do it justice one must see and hear for himself.

It is to be hoped that more of our Sabbath school children and people will be permitted to hear the lecturer again in the near future.

Shakespearean Reading Class.

A number of ladies have organized a Shakespearean reading class, which meets every Monday evening at 7:30. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Porter's. All interested in improvement by reading and literary conversations are cordially invited to be present and bring their copies of the celebrated author. The subject for the next meeting is Hamlet.

Sugar-Plant Meeting.

The sugar-plant meeting last Saturday afternoon decided, we hear, to recommend to the legislature the passage of an act authorizing cities and townships to vote aid. This recommendation can be made to serve as a memorial for the success of the measure which had already been introduced upon the same subject.

"Will Pull through Somehow."

Kansas City, Kansas, Gazette. Gov. Glick has a sugar mill theory with which to save western Kansas. The Wa-Keeney World is mad about it, because he intimates that general farming and stock raising are a failure out in that region. Western Kansas will pull through somehow. God never is guilty of such waste as making that handsome country for nothing.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Buckle's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never had a single complaint of dissatisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. A. B. Jones, druggist.
