

BOLTS FROM THE EAST SIDE.

March 9, 1892.
Mrs. Morton's health is reported much better.
Tom Winn caught a fine coyote Friday last.
Mrs. Hixon has been quite poorly the past week.
Jacob Hoffer butchered two fine hogs, Wednesday last.

A small attendance reported from school number four. Storms, bad roads and illness the cause.

J. F. Barclay and D. B. Rogers attended the teacher's meeting in Wa-Keeney, Saturday.

The Pleasant Ridge literary last evening was well attended in spite of blustering weather.

The forsaken look on the face of our teacher tells that Mrs. Rogers is still an absentee from her home.

The accomplishment which receives the most attention of late, from our young men, is the manner of being thrown head-long from a horse's back without being injured. Alvin Froge, John Cutler and Chet Mason have each tried for the honors the past week with varying success. Chet is rather ahead, having been thrown several feet with no further injury than to spoil his best pair of pants.

The meeting of the singing class at the residence of J. P. Marquand, last Sunday evening, was the most enjoyable of the season so far as reported. After several well rendered pieces of music the young people formally organized themselves into a permanent society with the following charter members: Mr. and Mrs. Hixon, Mr. and Mrs. Coffey, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. McCollum, J. F. Barclay, Chas. Francis, Basil and Hattie Marquand, Joseph. Wes, Chas. and Ella Marquand, John Musgrave, John Hixon, Chester Mason and Alva Cutler. The officers are: Chorister, Amos McCollum; organist, Mrs. McCollum; assistant organist, Ella Marquand. Each member is assigned the part they are to take and are required to come prepared to do that part justice. The society provides each member with a book of music and will continue to meet at the homes of the members in routine on Saturday evening of each week in place of Sunday evenings as heretofore. The next place of meeting will be at the residence of C. C. Ridgway.

GLENCOE GLEANINGS

GLENCOE, March 24, 1892.

Stock is looking a little tough for the last few days.

Several of the ranchers of the east side have been rustling for fodder and hay.

Fred Egger lost a fine steer last week.

Otto Colborg is working for E. E. Horton on the Johnson ranch.

Eq. Fuller is being kept busy these days attending the dances and dispensing justice to the citizens.

E. E. Horton rejoices in the title of deputy constable of Glencoe township.

Mr. George Mixer was taking in the rabbits last Saturday. He had his saddle covered with them.

D. B. Fulton is canvassing for a patent washing-machine.

It is said the Lyceum at school house No. 2, in district 11 will be a thing of the past after next Thursday night.

Joseph Herbert is busy hauling hay now.

GRANGER.

COLLYER CULLINGS.

COLLYER, March 22, 1892.

Muddy! Yes.
Wheat is in good condition.

Land seekers are frequently observed on our streets.

Jesse Courtney is flourishing the hammer in Mr. Myerly's blacksmith shop.

Grippe prevalent in this vicinity.

The assessor, Mr. Myerly, is complaining of bad roads.

Miss Cooper is visiting schools in this part of the county this week.

The farce, "The Irish Linen Peddler," and the dance, which was given St. Patrick's eve, in our little burg, by the literary society, were highly appreciated.

The agent, A. W. Nutz, wife and daughter, Mabel, boarded Friday evenings east bound train for a two weeks trip through the eastern part of the state. They will visit Chicago and Denver before returning home.

SILVER CREEK ECHOES.

Every body is wishing spring would open.

Some have begun oat sowing. But of course could not finish just yet.

We are glad to announce that the farmers are in good spirits here. They haven't the least doubt but we are going to have a bountiful crop of all kinds of produce. We will all do our best to secure our share of the plenty.

How the poor rabbit suffers in such weather, as every body wants his ears.

Mrs. Hudson Harlan is visiting her parents this week.

Mr. Wilber Benson is back in this vicinity once more. He is going to put out 50 acres of corn and other grain in their season.

We are informed that B. C. Rich is on the sick list again. We sincerely hope it is nothing serious.

Alliance did not convene on Thursday eve. As the days draw longer and nights grow shorter we must arrange our meetings accordingly.

March 18 closed the school in this district. In the evening an entertainment was given. Silver Creek and Pioneer schools combined their efforts and together they held a well crowded house for a space of two hours. Had the weather been pleasant we would have had no room to stand.

Rev. O. A. Chapman preaches here every two weeks.

IRAC.

OGALLA OBSERVATIONS.

OGALLA, March 23 1892.

A bouncing baby girl at Thomas Wynn's. It is one week old to-day.

School will close on Wednesday of next week. We still have sixteen scholars in attendance.

Mrs. Hopkins will teach the spring term of school here. We hear her well spoken of as a teacher and hope her labors will be crowned with success.

We attended the Pleasant Ridge literary society last Tuesday evening. The house was crowded and much interest manifested. We were exceedingly well pleased with the recitations.

Thomas Wynn's dogs killed another coyote about two weeks ago.

We will have an entertainment at the school house on Wednesday evening of next week, commencing at eight o'clock, central time. The first part of the evening will be allotted to recitations by the scholars and any other persons who will be kind enough to assist us. After recess we will have a debate. Question, "Resolved that justice to the people demands that the president, vice-president, and senators of the United States should be elected by the popular vote of the people." Affirmative—D. Countryman, L. Countryman and L. McGarvie; negative—H. Davidson, Chas. L. Howe and Wm. Brabb. As we are not sure how many of the debaters on the negative side of the question can be with us we would suggest that all the debaters study both sides of the question, then if one or two of the debaters does not "materialize" we can have the debate anyhow. As this will be our last meeting we hope many of our friends will favor us with their presence and songs or recitations.

LONGFELLOW.

More Microbes.

The germ theory is in danger of being overworked. Nearly every disease has been credited to bacilli, and at last human habits and feelings have been analyzed in the same way. John Smith tells the Buffalo Express that now a Philadelphia scientist has discovered, or says he is just going to discover, that the liquor and tobacco habits are caused by microbes, like consumption, catarrh, and grip. He also thinks there is a microbe of love, and that the reason why a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love in the spring is because the atmospheric influences of late spring and early summer are favorable to the existence of the microbe. The man who habitually wants to borrow money is, according to this scientist, also affected with a microbe. In short, it would appear that not diseases, but all habits, emotions, feelings, etc., are taken into the system with the air we breathe. The only safe way is not to breathe.

Queer Fits in Sickness.

The moral effect of illness upon some people is very curious. A prominent physician said recently that he has among his patients a preacher who swears when he is sick and a gambler who prays. A successful and well-known business man will not go to his bed when illness attacks him because of a morbid fear that he will never rise from it again. A lady has all her jewelry and fine dresses laid on the foot of her bed, to keep her mind from terrifying thoughts. A hundred other peculiarities are developed, but the most remarkable one to the doctor in question was that of a professional man who reads up in current literature when he is really seriously ill, because he "hasn't time to do it when he's well."

A RECENT cablegram from Rome states that the pope assured Thomas W. Bryan, vice president of the exposition, to whom he gave a special audience, that he was deeply interested in the Columbian exposition, and would contribute as far as possible to the success and eclat of the undertaking, and that he would soon issue a pontifical letter embodying his sentiments as expressed. An exhibit from the vatican prepared under the direction of Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state, is promised.

A CITIZEN of Topeka, Kan., lately paid the western doctors three thousand dollars to be told that his eyes would not last long and that he soon would be stone blind. He then went to New York, where an eye doctor informed him that they would last all his life, and to go home and be happy. For the latter information he paid five hundred dollars. Medical advice comes high but we must have it.

A CERTAIN witty lady says of the people of a certain town where she had gone to reside: "They are very pleasant, very intellectual, very delightful in a distant sort of way, and talk to you like so many books; but, when you approach them socially, they all climb into their genealogical trees as though they were frightened." A more pointed and expressive description could hardly be coined.

Mrs. PARTINGTON in her palmist days could hardly have surpassed in point of elegance the following courteous note of regret received from an illiterate but polite young man who was invited to be present at a friend's wedding: "I regret that circumstances repugnant to the acquiesce will prevent my acceptance to the invite."

FINDING a meeting house in Hebron, Me., to their liking, a swarm of hornets took possession a few days ago. Notice of eviction has not been served by the congregation, who have been compelled to worship in a public hall.

A MORTGAGE of ninety years standing was lifted from a Connecticut farm a few days ago. The debt, a loan of $878.50, was contracted in 1801, and the interest has been paid regularly every year since.

Tips on Dining Cars.

We have tried the no-tip system to waiters on our dining cars and find that it gives satisfaction, says an official on the Santa Fe lines. Of course there are those who do not take any notice of such trifles, but the majority of travelers are not of that class. When we adopted the no-tip system we found that we had to discharge our colored help, for they refused to work without opportunity to gather in the future. We employ white waiters, and by not employing so many to each car we pay them good wages, and they give the best of satisfaction. We find that two waiters, as a rule, are sufficient to each dining car, and where they get no tips and know they cannot accept any we find that they attend to the wants of our patrons well. If there happens to be a crush now and then on the diner the conductor of the same takes a hand and helps out on the rush.

Usurious Interest.

That the pound of flesh is being daily, nay, hourly demanded by remorseless usurers from luckless borrowers is part and parcel of the routine of this weary world. The question of reducing the legal rate of interest being now before the legislature, it might be well for that body to consider the need of more efficient legislation for the suppression of illegal interest. The law, as it stands, is readily evaded, and there is virtually no punishment for its violation. Five, and even ten per cent. a month is collected from poor people in need, and who, of course, are far less able to pay than others in better circumstances. There should be some way of putting a stop to such usury, and of making it unsafe to loan money at usurious rates.

A Magnificent Gift.
Within a few days past Mr. J. D. Rockefeller has expressed his intention of adding another million of dollars to the one million six hundred thousand dollars previously given by him to the new University of Chicago. Mr. Rockefeller says: "I will give to the University of Chicago one thousand five per cent. bonds, of the par value of one million dollars, principal and interest payable in gold, and I will deliver these bonds March 1, 1892, bearing accrued interest from December 1, 1891. I make this gift as a special thank offering to Almighty God for returning health." This is indeed a splendid endowment and it stands preeminent among the benefactions for educational purposes in the history of America.

The question has often been asked: "Why do men sacrifice health and money in pursuit of pleasure?" The answer may be found in the words of a certain writer, who says: "It is not the intrinsic value of the luxurious banquet, or the tasteful costume, or the new carriage, or the expensive summer trip, that leads men to give up their time to risk their health, to resign natural recreation, and, worse than all, to violate their consciences in order to obtain them. It is the well-founded hope of receiving increased regard from their friends and society at large which prompts them thus to strain every nerve and even to stoop to unworthy means."

The statistics of life insurance people show that in the last twenty-five years the average of man's life has increased 5 per cent. or two whole years, from 41.9 years to 43.9 years. Woman's life average has improved even more than this, from 41.9 to 45.8 years, or more than 8 per cent. Out of every 1,000 males born at the present day twenty-four more will attain the age of 35 than used to be the case prior to 1870; the combined life of every 1,000 persons born at the present day is 2,700 years longer than it was twenty-five years ago. The average human life is now being added to at the rate of nearly ten years each century.

The Bristol (Eng.) chamber of commerce has undertaken to furnish an exhibit for the Columbian exposition that will doubtless attract a great deal of attention. In addition to a representation of the manufactures of the place, the exhibit will show much in illustration of the lives and discoveries of John and Sebastian Cabot, upon whose early American explorations is based England's claim to its past and present possessions in this country. The Merchant Venturer's guild has agreed to contribute Cabot relics, of which it has a large collection.

A CALIFORNIAN, having read an article in Nature on the intelligence of the fox, writes that whatever may be true of the English fox his California cousin is next door to a fool. His son caught numbers of them in a trap, but many of them escaped by parting the chains (by dint of strength, not of intelligence) and were again caught within two or three days in the same traps! One of them was caught three times in quick succession!

REPUTATION does not always come with success. A man may accomplish much in his particular sphere and yet remain unknown beyond it. But constant effort and untiring zeal will open fresh opportunities of breaking out of the dull routine and pave the way to world-wide fame.

An Iowa jury became so confused by a mass of scientific testimony the other day that they could not decide upon a verdict, and so they drew lots to settle the matter. There are, undoubtedly, very many verdicts arrived at in just that way.

The police of Lewiston, Me., it is said, have hard work to enforce the liquor laws of that state, owing to a system of electric alarms with which the saloons of that city are provided. The outside loungers press the button and the bartender "does the rest."

CAMEL skins are now figuring quite prominently in the commerce of this country. A consignment of five bales was received the other day from Aden, in Arabia, by an American firm.

SILVER is the preferred coin in Alaska. As soon as a native Alaskan gets a five-dollar gold piece or a ten-dollar bill he immediately trades it for silver, having no faith in gold or paper money.

2 LIVE NEWSPAPERS FOR THE PRICE OF ONE.

The Metropolitan and Rural Home. $1.00
The Western Kansas World. $1.50
Both together, $1.75

We have recently arranged with the Metropolitan and Rural Home, of New York City, whereby we can make our patrons this extraordinary offer for sixty days.

Any of our subscribers now in arrears who will pay up their dues within sixty days from February 1, 1892, and at the same time renew their subscription at regular price for another year; and all persons who will during the same period extend their subscription another year, although present subscription has not yet expired; and to all new subscribers at regular rates; whose orders are received within said sixty days, we will send this great journal, published in New York City, The Metropolitan and Rural Home, both papers for $1.75.

Five Million people read the Metropolitan and Rural Home every month. It is a combination of the American Rural Home, Rochester, N. Y., that old reliable farm journal of twenty years' standing, with the New York Metropolitan, a popular literary monthly of large circulation.

This immense paper contains eighty columns of readable matter each month. It is an all-around illustrated family journal, with something interesting for every member of the household. The contents are all original and in most cases written expressly for that publication. These are some of the engraved titles regularly appearing, and each is in charge of a special editor.

Story (illustrated) horticultural, agriculture, stock, veterinary, poultry, bee, editorial, Men and Women, World at Large, Quiet Hour, Good Reading, Boys and Girls, Fashions, (Illustrated) The Puzzler, The Traveler, Humorous, beside many columns of interesting miscellany. Articles finely illustrated.

The regular subscription price is $1.00 per year. The circulation 500,000 monthly. You will never get another such opportunity, so embrace it at once. Remember The Metropolitan and Rural Home and THE WORLD, both one year for only $1.75. Sample copies shown at this office. Send all orders to THE WESTERN KANSAS WORLD, Wa-Keeney, Kansas.

No healthy person need fear any dangerous consequences from an attack of grippe if properly treated. It is much the same as a severe cold and requires precisely the same treatment. Remain quietly at home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed for a severe cold and a prompt and complete recovery is sure to follow. This remedy also counteracts any tendency of the grippe to result in pneumonia. Among the many thousands who have used it during the epidemics of the past two years we have yet to learn of a single case that has not recovered or that has resulted in pneumonia. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. B. Jones, druggist.

All Your Dress Patterns Free.

Every subscriber for 1892 to Arthur's New Home Magazine, illustrated, will receive $3.00 worth of McCall's Glove-fitting patterns free. McCall & Co. want to introduce their new patterns; we want to increase the circulation of our magazine. We make an agreement to help each other and the result is our subscribers get the greatest offer ever made by a magazine. New subscribers get three months free. No advance in price; still only $1.50 a year. Full particulars in January number, sent postpaid (including a pattern order, worth 25 cents) for five two-cent stamps. Address, ARTHUR'S NEW HOME MAGAZINE, Lock Box 913, Philadelphia.

Notice to Shoemakers.

On account of old age and sore afflictions I want to sell my boot and shoe business in the City of Wa-Keeney, Trego county, Kansas. I have a good set of tools and everything that is necessary to carry on a custom, including a good English Bradbury sewing machine for patching boots and shoes. I have a good stock of leather and findings, a few dozen pairs of boots and shoes of my own manufacturing. I will sell reasonable. There is no better location in western Kansas than Wa-Keeney for a good custom shop; always plenty to do and good pay. I have always kept one and sometimes two journeymen when I could get them. I also have a good house and lot, with barn and outhouses, which I will sell cheap. Correspondence solicited.

Still the Favorite.

If you are contemplating a trip for business or pleasure it will be well to remember that the Burlington Route is still the favorite. Her old established line to Chicago hardly needs more than a mere mention for the reason that every man, woman and child in the country is so familiar with the fact that over this line runs the famous solid vestibule "ELI" with its splendid Pullman Sleepers, chair cars and dining cars.

Your attention is now called to our double daily service between Kansas City, Atchison, St. Joseph and St. Louis. Heretofore we had but one daily train from the Missouri river to St. Louis, that being a night train, placing passengers in St. Louis in the morning in time for breakfast and all eastern connections, but on account of the increasing demand another train has been put on and now leaves Kansas City, Atchison and St. Joseph in the morning, placing the passenger in St. Louis in the early evening of the same day.

Omaha and Council Bluffs are put in rapid communication with the lower Missouri river points by two superb daily trains, one leaving Kansas City late in the morning and the other in the evening, making the run from Kansas City in about eight hours. The morning train carries a through buffet sleeping car to St. Paul and Minneapolis, placing the passenger in the twin cities twenty hours after leaving Kansas City. For further information call on or address H. C. Orr, G. S. W. P. A., 900 Main street Kansas City, Mo., or A. C. Dawes, G. P. & T. A., St. Joseph, Mo.
