C. W. MILLER FOR SENATOR
His Majority 1433

Card of Thanks

With malice toward none and charity for all I wish to express my appreciation of the great favor conferred upon me by the Republicans of the 39th Senatorial District.

It is my earnest desire that at any point along our path where the hot blood of strife was shed, that the sweet blossoms of peace will spring up and the success of the republican party in November, and the enlivening and upbuilding of all the great public institutions in our midst will receive our united efforts. Let us all put our shoulder to the wheel and push and victory will crown us. To that end I pledge all the power I possess.

Your obedient servant,
C. W. Miller.

Dictagrams

The Turks have taken Mush, so they say. Well, if the high cost of living doesn't take a tumble pretty soon we shall all be taking soup before spring.

After Villa had been killed numberless times by all sorts of people he up and killed himself, for a change. And now he is ready for another operation.

We are reminded of the approach of the re-union season. Ye dictagrammer has just been invited to attend the Trego family re-union in Pennsylvania, and the Jerico school round-up in the old Hoosier state. Of all sad words of pen or typewriter—"money is tight and getting tighter." We shall not be able to accept.

An 80-acre field of wheat was insured against damage by hail. The hail came, all right, and the insurance netted the owner about $1,500, over and above the cost of the premium. Later on the damaged wheat was cut and threshed, yielding over 1,800 bushels of superior quality, testing about 64 pounds per bushel. And that is the way things happen in western Kansas—sometimes.

Now that we have evolved 17 similar and diverse definitions of "sabotage," will somebody please tell us what a "bridgehead" is?

And here comes another invitation. The Downing family want us to reunite with them in the grove on the bank of Jordan lake near Lake Odessa, Michigan. It is a fine place to visit and eat fried chicken, but we shall not be there. Three events of that kind in three different states within the space of four days (the nearest one a thousand miles away) puts us out of the running, to say nothing of the exchequer.

Speaking of falling bodies, the Topeka baseball bunch would have hit the bottom and come to a state of rest long ago if St. Joe had only had the grace to get out of the way.

Yes, the dictagrammer was a baseballer away back in 1876, but he has been practically immune every since. However, he remembers that year particularly well—for several reasons. There was that base ball uniform of red, white and blue flannel—home made. It was the year of the Centennial exposition—which he couldn't attend; it was the year of the Hayes-Tilden presidential election; the year he got his first teacher's certificate and began his first school; the year he bought the Hopf violin. Aside from the memory of its events, that first certificate and that faithful old fiddle are about all he has to show for the year 1876.

HINSHAW HARRIES

On last Tuesday evening, August 15th, at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Hinshaw, well known and respected residents of this city, occurred the marriage of their only daughter, Iolan Ethel, to Mr. August J. Harries, of Ogallah, Miss Eva Brown, an intimate friend of the bride, played the wedding march. At eight o'clock the ceremony was performed by S. L. Allison of the Presbyterian church in the presence of the bride and groom; after which a delicious three course wedding supper was served. The bride was very attractive in a gown of white persian lawn piped in white satin with white satin girdle. The young couple were the recipients of many handsome and useful gifts. The bride is one of Trego county's successful teachers and is one of our choicest young ladies. Her sweet face is an index to her lovely character and she has won the esteem of everyone with whom she has come in contact by her exemplary christian life and examples. The groom is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Harries and is one of the rural route carriers out of Ogallah besides being employed in the elevator at that place. He is a fine upright young man of sterling worth and is respected by all who know him. By his honesty and integrity he has won the confidence of a large number of friends. The young couple will leave in a few days for quite an extended trip through Colorado. They will be at home to their friends in Ogallah after September 15th. The World with their many friends extends hearty congratulations wishing them a long and happy life.

OUR BIGGEST CORPORATION

Next to the presidency of the United States, the biggest job in America is the chairmanship of the United States Steel Corporation.

Hilbert Henry Gary is the head of a corporation empire greater in income resources and area than the average European nation.

Its income this year promises to reach $908,000,000, almost equal to the revenue of the United States Government or the United Kingdom.

It has an industrial army of 275,000 men, or more than the American army and navy combined, more than the entire regular and volunteer force engaged in the Spanish-American war, enough to plant one man every mile between the earth and the moon and leave enough to girdle the earth with human milestones. Standing side by side, the solid line would stretch a hundred miles.

The corporation payroll this year will total $250,000,000. Since its organization, in 1901, it has paid $2,250,000,000 in wages.

It has a fleet of 107 steamers, which drawn up would form an unbroken line ten miles in length, greater array than the navy of any second rate power.

Its own railroad system, straightened out would stretch from San Francisco to New York and project several hundred miles into the Atlantic. Yet it pays in freight charges to the other railroads $3,000,000 every day of the year. Its freight bill in fifteen years has aggregated $1,650,000,000.

It mines as much coal as the greatest of America's coal companies and makes over a million barrels of cement every month.

The corporation's original total capital of $1,400,000,000 was equal to two-thirds of all the money then in circulation in the United States. If it had been all paid in gold the weight would have been 2,330 tons; in dollar bills it would have circled the earth six times with enough left to stretch from northmost Alaska to Cape Horn.

Its assets total $1,900,000,000. Over $1,000,000,000 has been paid in taxes.

Not less than $7,000,000, is spent annually on welfare work to make employees healthier, happier, safer and therefore, more efficient.

Allowing five to a family, the Corporation supports 1,375,000 persons, twice the population of Boston.—Ex.
