PIANO-FORTES. DRIGGS' NEW PATENT.

ARE THE ONLY INSTRUMENTS constructed on a truly scientific principle. They have greater strength, and will remain longer in tune than any other Piano.

They have received the highest testimonials from the Press, and all the principal Artists in the country, among whom are: HENRY SHREVE, L. M. GOTTSCHALK, MAX MARSTNER, S. TRALING, THOMPSON EISENLOD, Wm. Mason, HENRY WOLFFHEIMER, A. BARELLI, FRANCIS H. BROWN, M. STRACCONI, Wm. HENRY FAY, CHAS. FRADEL.

Ms. SHREVE'S Testimony, the great pianist, says: "I have examined your new Piano-Forte, and I cordially approve of its system of construction—in principle, by which great increase of vibratory power is obtained, being very simple and perfectly philosophical.

As regards structure, they are original and philosophical; in purity, volume, and continuity of tone; in vocal versatility, that crowning excellence which enables the pianist to 'sing' on the instrument, your Pianos ever derive the highest rank. Your invention, in my opinion, is destined to work radical changes in the manufacture of Pianos throughout the world."

From the N. Y. Herald, Sept. 5: "Upon a careful examination of Driggs' Piano-Forte, we find the results obtained are a very fine singing tone; great purity and brilliancy throughout the entire instrument, not often found in Pianos constructed upon the old plan."

The N. Y. Times, July 12, says: "We have now an instrument without an equal. It can sing with a smooth delicacy, perfectly unobtainable on any other instrument; an ordinary player obtains, with no exertion, the fullness of a Grand Piano Forte, and they must speedily supersede the old style."

GENTLEMEN—Having thoroughly examined and tested the Piano-Fortes invented and patented by Mr. S. B. Driggs, I am of the opinion that the tone resulting from his improvements, as exhibited in the instruments under examination, in point of richness, depth and brilliancy, equals that of the best Grand Piano-Fortes, and excels them in pure, musical intonation and actual tone and power, thus approximating closer to what I consider perfection in the instrument than has yet been achieved by any other system of manufacture.

Yours, respectfully, L. M. GOTTSCHALK. SOLE AGENTS: WM. HALL & SON, 543 Broadway, NEW YORK.

THE TRIBUNE FOR 1867!

The Tribune stands upon the year 1867 more preponderant in business than ever before. The efficiency of enlarging our pages—thus making The Tribune the largest and the cheapest newspaper in America—was doubted by many. We have found our account in it. The circulation of The Tribune is steadily increasing, and our advertising patronage has increased so much that it is more difficult to print our news than when we used a smaller sheet, and this is the only way we can only meet the increasing publishing supplementary pages.

The close of the war has imposed upon The Tribune the discussion of momentous and perplexing problems. We have met these best we could, laboring with sincerity for Freedom, Social Progress, Political Equality, Impartial Suffrage—All Rights for All. A Republican President became the enemy of Republicanism, and we have seen only means to expose the treacheries of a degraded Administration. It was not without pain, certainly not without much thinking, that we made issue with President Johnson. The people have chosen by returning their radical representatives to power. The elections of 1866—so important to the nation as Lee's surrender—make no doubt. Reconstruction is now the duty of capitalists. The previous minority reconstruction in finances and tariffs. We are no longer pressed by war necessities, and we must amend our war experiments. The present condition of the currency is a grievous evil. Trade suffers; our manufacturing interests are in a precarious state. A dollar does not mean a dollar, but its fraction. It may be sixty cents, it may be ten. It is a sentiment, not a fact. When a laborer earns his dollar, he does not know whether he will have one cent for it. All business is forewarned and unsettled. We think this can only be remedied by a wise and interlop policy at Washington—by reducing the currency to the specie basis. Upon this we should insist.

The necessity of Protection to Labor again presses upon us. We regret that on this most important measure the Republican party is divided. A honest but mischievous minority in the West, particularly, are endeavoring to create a policy which can only result in the prostration of American industry—the degradation of Labor and the aggrandizement of English capitalists. During the many years of our work we have struggled against this interest. We believe Protection more necessary now than ever before, and we shall insist upon the broadest and wisest legislation for the Rights of Labor.

In the perplexing question of Reconstruction we see no reason to amend the policy which we have asserted since the close of the war. It then seemed to us that Emancipation of the Black should be followed by Self-Government of the Black. We did not see the wisdom of a policy of promiscuous confiscation and hanging. We had too much blood in war to ask for blood in peace—ever to gratify angry vengeance. It is important that the South should concede Amnesties. Some of our friends disapproved of this; but Congress has followed our advice. Amnesties have been approved by Congress—to a great extent, and we are confident that the Administration have agreed that no punishment should be inflicted upon men who are charged with these crimes, and the only measure looking like punishment is the amendment of disfranchisement. Congress has passed which is merely a sentimental and not a practical penalty. On the other hand, the passage of the Civil Rights Bill, the Freedman's Bureau Bill, and the Bill for Suffrage in the District of Columbia, show that reconstruction will not be consummated without suffrage and protection for the Blacks. The policy of The Tribune has been practically adopted by those who differed with us during its discussion. We never quarrel with our friends who are impatient for us. We do them the justice of believing they go their way to what is right, just as we trust that they will do us the justice of believing we go our way to what is right. We work for the same object, but differ in our methods. We have no higher aim than to secure peace to this nation, and to all nations—liberty, progress, happiness, virtue, and the universal brotherhood of man. And for this we shall continue to toil in our best way.

We have reorganized and strengthened every department of The Tribune. We have correspondents in every part of this country and in every important city of the world; resident correspondents in every capital and commercial centre of Europe and South America; special correspondents who follow important movements in all parts of the world; and we are charged with a great deal of money, and to organize it we have invested many thousands of dollars—When we state that there are three hundred people directly or indirectly connected with the editorial department of The Tribune, charged in a greater or less degree, with writing for its columns and giving it news, and that for every item of news we pay money, the vast expense of our publication may be imagined. We intend to do these things, and we intend to do them to the satisfaction of all parts of the world, but to the most gifted men of other countries to write for our columns. With many of them we have already entered into negotiations which will result in the most valuable contributions of our publication may be imagined. We intend to do these things, and we intend to do them to the satisfaction of all parts of the world, but to the most gifted men of other countries to write for our columns. We intend to do these things, and we intend to do them to the satisfaction of all parts of the world, but to the most gifted men of other countries to write for our columns.

Friends of Impartial Justice and Progress! We greet you on the bright prospects before us. Friends of The Tribune! We appeal to those who are in possession of an honest conscience. The Tribune would conduce to the political, intellectual, and moral wellbeing of the Republic, to aid us in effecting such increase.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times." "Unquestionably the Best Sustained Work of the Kind in the World." HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE. Critical Notices of the Press. It is the foremost Magazine of the day. The series never had a more delightful companion in the million a more comprehensive than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant, (Baltimore). The most popular Monthly in the world.—New York Observer. We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of over 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the finest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the culture of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 146 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood-cuts; and it combines within itself the recent monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Traveller's Guide in American Literature, London. The volume's bond constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading such as can not be found in the same compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.
