Table with 2 columns: Description of advertising space (e.g., 1 square of 12 lines one insertion) and Price (e.g., $50.50).

No advertisements to be considered by the year unless specified on the manuscript, or previously agreed upon between the parties.

Announcing candidates for office $1 for each name in advance.

All advertisements from transient persons to be paid in advance.

Advertisements not marked on the copy for a specified number of insertions, will be continued one month, unless sooner discontinued, and payment exacted accordingly.

The privileges of yearly advertisers will be confined to their regular business, and all other advertisements not pertaining to their regular business as agreed for, to be paid extra.

All advertisements for charitable institutions, fire companies, ward, township, any other public meetings, and such like, to be charged full price.

Marriages and deaths inserted without charge.—Obituary notices and funeral invitations to be charged full price.

Regular advertisers and all others sending communications or desiring notices designed to call attention to fairs, soirees, concerts, or any public entertainments where charges are made for admittance, all notices of private associations, every notice designed to call attention to private enterprises, calculated or intended to promote individual interest, can only be inserted with the understanding that the same is to be paid for.

If inserted in the editorial (which can only be at the discretion of the editors) the same will be charged at the rate of not less than 12 cents per line.

Knowing the above rates to be liberal and much less than is charged in other cities and towns for similar work, we make known our intention to be guided hereafter by them; and to prevent any misunderstanding, we deem it expedient to publish this on the inside pages of our papers for one month, that all persons may have an opportunity of making themselves acquainted with the rates hereafter to be charged by us respectively.

PRACTICAL ASSOCIATION.—The N. Y. Sun relates an instance, in which the principle of association has been carried out successfully in that city.

About nine months ago a company of mechanics met, and, contributing five dollars each, established an Association Grocery Store in Seventh street.

The objects were: the purchase of groceries at the lowest wholesale prices, and, as far as practicable, from the producer; retailing them at the lowest prices which would pay expenses and yield a fair interest on the investment, and establishing a source of supply for the best of articles where the interests of the customer would be subordinate to no other.

The advantages of the store were not confined to the association only, but opened to the public generally; and success, which could not have been doubted from the outset, has attended the effort.

A dividend of fifteen per cent. actual profits has been made to the stockholders, which, with the savings in prices, has made no inconsiderable difference in the supporting their families—quality not considered.

The cash plan, as may be readily inferred has been rigorously adopted in the sales department in this experiment. The consequence is, there are no losses—no bad debts—to be accounted for. Purchasers pay as they go, or make advance deposits in cash.

Not a fraction of credit is given to any—stockholders or stranger.

On this the Boston Transcript observes: Associations like this need no formulas from Fourier for their prosperous establishment.

They will thrive just so far as men can work together in harmony and integrity of purpose. Similar associations have flourished and faded long before the 'phalansterian school' was heard of.

Our whaling vessels are fitted out on the principle of association. There is a thriving establishment in this city wherein the system is admirably carried out.

Such examples are much to be commended, and we wish they were more numerous. But where one such experiment has succeeded fifty have failed.

The coffin of Hon. Dixon H. Lewis, the New York papers state, was of uncommon size, of mahogany, and with the body and lead casing was said to weigh upwards of nine hundred lbs.

On a plain silver plate was the following inscription: DIXON H. LEWIS, United States Senator.

Died in New York, October 25, 1848. Aged 46 years 2 mos. 15 days.

A Persian poet gives the following instructions as to how men should treat women:—'When thou art married seek to please thy wife, but listen not to all she says.

From man's right side a rib was taken to form the woman, and never was there seen a rib quite straight. It breaks but bends not. Since, then, it is plain that crooked is woman's temper, forgive her faults, and blame her not; nor let her anger thee, nor correction use, as it is in vain to straighten what is crooked.'

DALLEY'S Magical Pain Extractor.—Most roots that Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor is best Medicine in the world. Every day is demonstrating the matchless virtues of this article.—Letters are coming to us from all parts of the Union expressing gratitude and surprise at the wonderful properties it possesses in all cases of burns, rheumatism, piles, wounds, &c. The press abounds in notices of its high character as a standard Medicine, and from the number we select the following from the Island City of the 12th September:—Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor.—An invention like this truly wonderful article, so full of virtues should be made known to the universe. Its cures, in many cases are absolutely beyond belief. For burns, scalds, sores, swellings, pains in the limbs of all kinds, cuts, wounds, and in every disease of the body, where it can be applied externally, it never fails to cure. A singular case came under our own observation. A friend in playing with a slip steel pen, ran it into the palm of his hand so that it came out at the back and had to be extracted, that way. The poisonous nature of the ink in the wound, as well as the instrument itself, caused the hand to swell dreadfully. Dalley's Pain Extractor was applied, and the next day the swelling had entirely gone down, the pain had left, and the wound was cured in a few days.

Important Caution.—Counterfeits of my Extractor are unobtrusively published to the world in my name. Protect yourself, as you value life, and health, from these deceptions. I am, as every druggist in the United States knows, the sole inventor and proprietor of Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor; no other being ever made or can make a grain of it, for no man living has the secret of the preparation but myself. The only genuine has my written signature on each label, and is sold wholesale and retail at the General Depot 208 Broadway, New York; and at the Southern Depot, 151 C ARTRISSE street, New Orleans, my only general Depot for the South and West.

H. DALLEY. All orders for Agencies, or for Pain Extractor, must be addressed to J. WRIGHT & CO., 151 C ARTRISSE street New Orleans, only agents for the South and West.
