

BEATEN AGAIN BY CHICAGO

The Indianapolis Players Kindly Present Anson with Another Game.

The In-Field Dugles Badly in the Beginning, and Brilliant Player Fails to Make Good the Losses—Shomborg Injured.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

CHICAGO, May 2.—Manager Spence wore a bitter look as he held an umbrella over his head in one of President Spidings' boxes, to-day, and gazed down upon the diamond, where Indianapolis was losing another game to Chicago.

There was a clear gift on the part of Captain Denny's team, and Anson is, of course, thankful. A shower which fell just as Valentine called play delayed the first inning about ten minutes and made the soggy earth worse even than yesterday.

Rain also fell during the second and third innings, but the sun shone promisingly every now and then, and the game continued without interruption. It was during the first three innings that the game was lost. The Indianapolis in-field gave a second exhibition of brilliant tumbling and wild throws, until four runs were scored.

Then, too late to avail anything, the team settled down to good ball-playing for six innings, and finished like a race-horse. The disposition on the part of a portion of the audience to abuse Esterbrook was much less marked than on yesterday. His work was appreciated, and from the applause given him when he put out Anson in the third inning, it would seem he had several friends present.

Valentine gave Chicago the best of it, calling Boyie's grounder over the third base a foul, to the fifth inning, when it was clearly a fair ball. The accident that befell Shomborg, that excellent all-around ball-player, when he severely strained his ankle in sliding to second base, in the first inning, seemed to discourage the team.

He was unable to walk, and Denny and Myers, making a basket of their arms, carried him to the Chicago dressing-room, where a surgeon examined his injuries and pronounced him unfit for duty, at least for ten days to come. Chicago scored three runs in the first inning on errors, two stolen bases, two short hits and a passed ball.

Chicago scored three runs in the first inning on errors, two stolen bases, two short hits and a passed ball. Denny, who took Shomborg's place, for some foolish reason, held Ryan's hit until Flint could score from first base. A single, a stolen base and two outs in the third inning gave the Chicagoers their only earned run.

A base hit, a passed ball and two outs counted for a run in the last inning. Seery's hit, a steal of second and an error accounted for the Indianapolis run in the second inning. Young Krook was not safe again until the last inning, when a single and triple by Myers and Denny, assisted by Seery fly to center, gave Indianapolis two well-earned runs.

Both pitchers did magnificent work. Krook was hit safely in but six innings, and Boyie would have done very nearly as well if the home team out had his support been better. The visitors, although they had less than the Chicagoers, earned two runs to one by the home team.

Pfeiffer, Anson and Ryan did some pretty fielding for the Chicago team. Denny and Buckley for the Indianapolis Club. The threatening weather again cut down the attendance, which numbered about 2,000. Shreve and Baldwin will probably be the pitchers tomorrow. Following is the score:

Scores by innings: Chicago 2 1 0 0 0 0 1-5, Indianapolis 0 1 0 0 0 0 0-3.
