THE MAXWELL LAND GRANT.

Origin of the Present Difficulty—Fears That Further Bloodshed May Result.

DENVER, Col., Aug. 27.—The trouble on the Maxwell land grant has been brewing for some time; in fact, ever since the Supreme Court of the United States confirmed the title to the grant. The grant was originally made by the Mexican government to Sebastian and Miranda, two Mexicans, who were given two square leagues, or 96,000 acres, of land, providing that they would cultivate the same.

The boundaries of the grant now contain 1,750,000 acres. The manner in which the grant grew to its present proportions is one of the chief causes of the trouble. The settlers living within the boundaries of the grant charged that the original property was enlarged by fraudulent means.

The highest tribunal in the Land Department has held, however, there was no fraud, and refused to set aside the patent granted by Congress. Hundreds of settlers have improved homes and lived there so many years that they considered themselves rightfully in possession, and look upon the threatened ejectment as an outrage.

Soon after the Supreme Court decision, the grant people proposed to purchase the settlers' improvements, and stock at the market price, under which they were to vacate, or they would sell them the land at reasonable figures. Many settlers accepted the proposition, and some have purchased lands at a price ranging from $1.50 to $10 per acre. The grant company claims to treat the settlers justly, appraising the stock and improvements at a fair value; but charges have been made that in many instances settlers have been asked to pay an exorbitant price for premises upon which they were living for many years.

Over three thousand persons are gathered at the grant, and are being quartered as fast as they arrive. Two hundred car-loads of machinery of all descriptions have been placed in position. This afternoon the general meeting of exhibitors was held in the auditorium. The exhibition will be formally opened by Hon. Leonard Rhoads, worthy master of Pennsylvania.

THE WHEN

BLOODY TIMES IN MOROCCO

The Barbarous Sultan Takes a Terrible Revenge on His Unruly Subjects.

The Country Swept with Fire and Sword, Massacre Being the Only Order of the Day—An Appeal for Aid from Foreign Powers.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LONDON, Aug. 27.—There is now war to the death between Muley Hassan, the Sultan of Morocco, and his rebellious subjects.

Their last outrage was more than even his barbarous nature could stand, and he has set out to avenge his cousin, Prince Muley's, death in a wholesale manner. Some time ago the Sultan sent to the rebels, at their request, Prince Muley, with an escort of 200 horsemen, to collect tribute and receive their submission, but the rebels, remembering how Muley Hassan put to death their companions, whom they sent as a peace deputation, decapitated the Prince and his escort into ambush and murdered them to a man.

The Sultan himself has gone in pursuit of the rebels, and poor Morocco flows with blood. The outraged monarch has allowed his troops to sack and burn the rebels' villages, and commit whatever depredations they please in the latter territory. The troops have availed themselves of the privilege accorded to them of plundering towns, ravishing women, killing children and old people, and have enslaved numerous captives.

The Sultan is now believed to be besieged by the rebels, whom he has pursued in his wild raid. The country is in a terrible condition; a famine is beginning to make itself felt throughout the land, and half of the people are in a rebellious mood. The Revue du Maroc, a journal of Tangiers, urges the powers to send ships to the coast and prevent the massacre of Jews and Christians. Nothing, it says, will stay the present atrocities but the intervention of some civilized power.

Empress William's Travels. BERLIN, Aug. 26.—The King of Saxony met the Emperor on his arrival at Dresden today. The town was decorated with flags, and 12,000 persons awaited his arrival. The Emperor drove with the King through the city and was enthusiastically welcomed. He lunched with the officers of the Emperor's regiment, and afterward drove to the Bellevue palace and dined with the Queen and forty guests. The Emperor will leave Berlin the last week in September, and will visit the Grand Duke of Baden at Karlsruhe, the King of Wurttemberg at Stuttgart, and the King of Sardinia at Munich. Thence he will go via the Brenner Pass, to Italy; returning he will go via Venice to Vienna.

The World's Harvest. VIENNA, Aug. 27.—The official report of the world's harvest shows that the wheat crop in Italy, France, Great Britain and Russia is 20 to 25 per cent. below the average, and in Austria-Hungary, southeastern Europe and Egypt from 7 to 30 per cent. above the average. The barley crop in Great Britain, Austria-Hungary, France and Egypt is deficient from 1 to 25 per cent.; in Germany there is an average crop, and in Holland the crop is 25 per cent. above the average.

Confagration and Loss of Life. HAMBURG, Aug. 27.—Seven odd wooden warehouses at Steinhafen, containing cotton, rice, sugar and saltpetre, valued at 7,000,000 marks, were destroyed by fire today. Six persons perished in the flames. The spectacle was a grand one. Twenty thousand persons watched the flames. Most of the property was insured in England. Five thousand cases of champagne and a large quantity of candles were destroyed.

More Irishmen Sent to Jail. DUBLIN, Aug. 27.—The police of Wexford today arrested Mr. John Redmond, member of Parliament for Wexford; his brother, Mr. Wm. Redmond, member of Parliament for Fermagh, and Mr. Edward Walsh, editor of the Wexford People. They are charged with offenses under the crimes act. The Redmonds and Mr. Walsh were subsequently admitted to bail.

Aeronaut Simmonds Killed. LONDON, Aug. 27.—Professor Simmonds, the balloonist, with two companions ascended in his balloon today at the Italian exhibition. The balloon descended some miles outside of London in Essex, and in its downward journey collapsed, killing Mr. Simmonds and his companion. Simmonds was badly injured and died tonight. The others are seriously injured.

Foreign Notes. Mr. Gladstone has presented to a church in Flintshire the money he received for his reply to Robert G. Ingersoll.

The physicians of Lawrence Olishant report him somewhat improved in condition, though they say his illness is serious.

A girl named Catharine Murphy was arrested at Queenstown, yesterday, on landing from the steamer Catalina, for having a loaded revolver concealed in her dress.

Reports have been received showing that the Egyptian corn crop has seriously suffered. The reports also say that it will be impossible to grow wheat in upper Egypt in 1889, and that the greater portion of the present crop can only be cultivated at an increased expense.

It is believed in semi-political circles in St. Petersburg that the Czarine, when she goes to Gmunden, will bear to Prince Waldemar a suggestion regarding his candidacy for the throne of Bulgaria, and a hint that the Czar will support him in this direction. The Czarine will meet at Gmunden her father, the King of Denmark, and her brother, Prince Waldemar.

The Harrison Reception Day at Put-in-Bay Likely To Be Changed—Henry George's First Effort in Behalf of Mr. Cleveland.

AT HEADQUARTERS.

Cheering Reports Reach the Republican Managers from All Sections.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—As a rule it is not lively at Republican headquarters on Monday, but today was an exception. Senator Quay was called early and went to work on the big mail awaiting him. A prominent Republican from Indiana dropped in and said it looked very much as though Congressman Holman, the great objector, would be defeated. He declared that he knew of many Democrats in Holman's district who intended to vote against him. "Two years ago," he continued, "Gen. Tom Lucas came within 789 votes of defeating Holman, reducing his majority from 1,600 to 788. General Lucas was nominated about three weeks before the election, and had no time to make a canvass. Holman will be a victim of his own party's success, because so long as the Democrats were on the outside there was no patronage to dispense in his district, and the result was he made many promises of what he would do when his party came into power. He did not think the Democrats would be successful soon. The result has been that every Democrat whom Holman promised a place or a fat contract has asked him to fulfill his promise. He could not do so, and did not try, and about half of the Democrats in his district have seceded. In addition, many Democrats are disgusted with Holman's obstruction record."

Reports from the Western States are very encouraging. The defections reported by Democrats in Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin do not exist, and many Democrats are coming out boldly for the Republican candidates and protection. In Nebraska, Colorado and the far Western States much greater interest is taken in the tariff question than was expected. Piles of letters are received from farmers and business men, showing that the people are keenly alive to the issue, and intend to vote for protection.

JAMES G. BLAINE. A Short but Pointed Speech to the Voters of Waterville.

WATERVILLE, Me., Aug. 27.—Mr. Blaine addressed an audience of about 2,000 here this afternoon, but made only a short speech, owing to hoarseness. He addressed himself principally to working men, dwelling upon the injury which would be done them should the President's tariff policy be carried into effect. Mr. Blaine then referred to President Cleveland's message upon the Canadian treaty as a mere scheme to divert the attention of the American people from the question of protection, and to stop such as possible the popular discussion of the subject, which he feared would only strengthen the Republican position. In his present spirit he said the President will be satisfied with nothing that does not put courage in his administration and protective tariff out of the minds of the people. The speaker believed that Congress would not gratify the President, and that the American people would put the whole question over to next year, by which time a Republican administration would be in power, when the question could be suitably settled. He expressed sympathy with Senator Morgan, of Alabama, and Hon. William L. Fessenden, of Maine, and then referred to the President's action. While Mr. Putnam is advocating a peace policy in the fishery negotiations, the President takes the ground from under his feet by asserting loudly that "We must have a war with Canada with a vengeance, one and all." Then with a side glance the President intimates that he will surely work without harm to men in front of it, and, may I not add, that he will invariably arranged to kick and kill men behind!

GENERAL HARRISON. Another Rollo of 1840 Sent Him—Friday's Reception Likely To Be Postponed.

PUT-IN-BAY, O., Aug. 27.—It was so chilly this afternoon that fires were lighted in the Berdan cottage, and General Harrison remained indoors, reading and writing. In the evening his mail was brought over to him from Put-in-Bay. It was an addition to his already large collection of relics, in the shape of an old Tippecanoe campaign flag, with a picture of William Henry Harrison in the center, sent by Mr. Green, of the firm of Green, Joyce & Co., of New York. It has developed that the reception which the residents of Put-in-Bay intended to give the General on Friday was to be taken advantage of by the steamboat lines from Detroit, Cleveland and Toledo to run extra. The first inkling of this to the General was the receipt of dispatches asking that the reception be set for an hour which would enable the excursionists to return in good season. General Harrison was somewhat chagrined over this action, and expressed himself as undesirous of being made the target of excursion parties during his brief vacation. The reception will likely be set for another day, with notice to the citizens only. John Brown, Jr., so-called old John Brown, of Ossawatimie, will do the welcoming honors. After the wind had gone down this evening, General Harrison, accompanied by J. W. Keifer, of Springfield, O., took a night row on the lake, going as far as Welch's clubhouse, about a mile, and back. The General rowed in great shape the entire distance.

A Doctor's Sanguine Berth. "What would General Harrison do if he was suddenly taken sick here, at such a distance from the mainland and without medical treatment?" speculated one of the excursionists who followed a brass band on a newly arrived steamer at this place this noon. The solicitous gentleman who made the remark was not aware that Put-in-Bay, in addition to certain associations in connection with the naval history of America, over which the inhabitants thereof are much puffed up with pride, enjoys the distinction of being the home of one of the most absolute monopolists on the continent. In all the various forms of printed matter extolling the charms of this once popular summer resort, in type equally as large as that in which the coolness of the lake breeze and the interest attaching to certain limestone formations are set forth, appears the announcement that a competent and experienced physician is one of the attractions of the place. Two churches look after the spiritual wants of the islanders, but Dr. O. F. Sears is the sole custodian of their bodily welfare. In appearance he is portly and jolly, and a five years' residence here has made him a fine specimen of the health to which a stay on the island is advertised to contribute. He is the only doctor in the group of five Lake Erie islands, with a population estimated at 2,000. He was given a bonus to locate here, and is furnished a house rent free. A family physician to a whole archipelago, he is known and respected of all men, keeps out of politics, is familiar with the history and constitutional secrets of every permanent resident within his extended bailiwick, is consulted with a pastoral freedom on matters temporal as well as spiritual, and has annual passes on all the boats.

GEORGE AND GARRISON. They Are for Absolute Free Trade, and Favor Cleveland. They are at the head of the parade.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Henry George held his first Cleveland and Thurman ratification meeting to-night, and, beside himself, William Lloyd Garrison was a speaker. The spirit of the meeting was embodied in a line upon a canvas behind the speaker's stand: "Free Trade," "Free Land," "Free Men." Mr. Garrison said the Republican party, content to dwell on the issues of the past, stood upon one side, while on the other was the Democratic party, bewitched. Said Mr. Garrison, among other utterances: "We have no desire to conceal that our attitude is one of absolute free trade. We are not only against the spirit of protection, which is a relic of despotism and monarchy." Speaking of Mr. Blaine, Mr. Garrison said: "This man knows not the meaning of a principle, and then it is but justice to Mr. Cleveland to admit that under his administration the colored voter has not, at least, been so defrauded of his legal rights than under Grant, Garfield or Arthur."

They stand here to ratify the nomination of Grover Cleveland and Allen G. Thurman as President and Vice-president of the United States. [A voice.—"What's the matter with the labor candidate?"] Grover Cleveland is the true labor candidate of today. I am a free-trader, and the man who is afraid to be branded as a free-trader don't know the power in the word free. I raise all revenues by a single tax, we say; and when we go by the side of Cleveland and Thurman we take the first step in that direction. Protection [softly], it is a sham, a fraud and a humbug. Why does labor want protection when it produces all wealth? All labor needs is freedom. If protection can raise wages, why are they not higher than they are? Protectionists have had their way for years, and it is about time we tried freedom."

OTHER POLITICAL NEWS. Dan Talks in a Non-Committal Way About Grover's $10,000 Contribution.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Concerning the reported $10,000 contribution of the President to the Democratic campaign fund, Colonel Lamont today made the following rather indefinite statement: "I do not see anything very startling about that story. It is well known that the President has always openly and above board been in the habit of making such contributions as he means justified toward defraying the necessary legitimate expenses of his party's campaign, whether he has been a candidate for office or not, and this year is no exception. The expenses for documents, meetings, etc., in a national campaign covering the whole country, run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars. Some must pay, and no one could be expected to more cheerfully than those who are supposed to have a personal interest in their parties. The President, as heretofore, assisting in the same manner as he has done, as he thinks fair and proper, just as I suppose General Harrison and General Plisk will do the Republican and Prohibition parties. I don't know the details, but I don't think I can stand that it is any of my business, but I am quite sure that the sum you mention ($10,000) is not unusually large."

As to Political Assessments. BOSTON, Aug. 27.—Hon. John E. Fitzgerald, collector and custodian of the postoffice building, has issued the following in offset to the circular sent to the postoffice employes by the Democratic State committee: "The plan proposed in the collector's department in the city of Massachusetts, and in those in the United States Department of the Postoffice and Inspection, is to assess the postoffice employes, and to make them responsible for the salaries of all persons employed in the departments above mentioned, requesting contributions to a political campaign fund. This is to inform the employes that they are not to be assessed, and that they are as free, so far as contributions are concerned, as if they were employed by a private firm. The vicious system of assessing office-holders, many of whom are very poor, and especially in the custodian's department, does not hold under this administration."

Collector and Custodian of Postoffice Building. Difference Between Barnum and Cleveland. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Senator Allison met Senator Beck this afternoon and said: "Beck, have you heard the difference between Barnum and the President?" "No," replied the Kentucky Senator, with some surprise; "there cannot be any difference between Barnum and Mr. Cleveland. Do you mean the difference between the two?" "Yes," said the Iowa, "there is a difference, and it is this: Barnum has the biggest show on earth, while Cleveland has no show at all."

THE YELLOW FEVER.

Jacksonville's Record for the Past Month—Six New Cases Reported Yesterday.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 27.—Today ends the first month of the existence of yellow fever in Jacksonville, the first suspicious case having been brought here July 28. The record is as follows: Total cases, 107; deaths, 17; discharged, 28; under treatment, 62, many of whom are convalescent. The sensational stories about the suppression of news of cases and deaths by the authorities are utterly false. Possibly a few cases have been reported by family physicians, but the number is doubtless offset by cases reported that are not typical yellow fever cases. No death has been suppressed. There have been seven new cases since 6 o'clock last evening, and a great many more are expected at the shutting off of middle Georgia and the mountains. The modification not allowing persons to go to points beyond the Wilmington and Jacksonville roads, regarding a break of the Marine Hospital Service. Political work is much hampered by the fever and consequent scare. Both the Democratic and Republican candidates for governor have been quarantined—Captain Fleming at Monticello, and Colonel Shipman at his home in Sawtry, for harboring relatives who are refugees from the city. Both are now at the Marine Hospital, and are being treated by Dr. Sibley, with ice from Belfast, Me., come in today. The crew stopped at Mayport. The vessel was brought up by a tug in charge of a doctor, and was fumigated and loaded with lumber and turned over to the captain and crew at Mayport. Since the fever has attacked the negroes the colored population has thinned out considerably.

Mrs. Ballinger's $1,000 Hustle. KANSAS CITY, Aug. 27.—M. Ballinger, a wealthy business man of Bronough, Mo., and his wife have been stopping at the New Albany Hotel for several days. They left Friday morning for home. Friday afternoon the proprietors of the hotel received a telegram stating that Mrs. Ballinger had died, and the money was finally found between the slats of the bed and the mattress. It was done up in a strange fashion. She will be furnished and loaded with the money a piece of coffee sack had been sewed tightly. Around this was wrapped a towel, which was also tightly sewed, and the whole was put in a bag and fastened with a string. Mr. Ballinger arrived this morning and got his money. He explained that his wife had done it up in that manner so that she could bear it as a bustle. He is the lucky to catch the train she forgot to put on the bustle.

Closing Day at Chautauqua. CHAUTAUQUA, N. Y., Aug. 27.—This is the closing day of the Chautauqua Assembly for 1888. This morning ex-Governor Cumback, of Indiana, gave a fine lecture on the "Model Husband." In the afternoon Robert McIntyre lectured on "The Duties of a Citizen." He spoke to-night, when addresses were delivered by President Lewis Miller, Secretary Wm. Duncan and Chancellor John H. Vincent.

HOVEY AND MATSON.

The House of Representatives Grants Both Gentlemen Leave of Absence.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—There was a little amusement in the House, this afternoon, when the pair of Matson and Hovey was announced at the Speaker's desk. John J. O'Neill, of St. Louis, who has a vivid recollection of Indiana men since Mr. Owen took him down several pegs in connection with J. Milton Turner's Cherokee claim and the colored men's convention at Indianapolis, arose and entered his solemn protest. Colonel Bayne, of Pittsburg, moved that the question be laid before the House for a vote. Mr. Buchanan, of New Jersey, said he thought the gentlemen might as well be permitted to go to their State and conduct their campaign, otherwise they would have to do it on the floor of the House, and members had already had a foretaste of this. When the vote was taken the opposition, if any, had vanished. Mr. Matson has not been in his seat to any appreciable extent for about a week. He was ordered to watch the clock in his private room at 215 East Capitol street. He will continue to be on hand to vote and perform his other legislative duties till his pair goes into effect on Wednesday, when Matson leaves for Indiana. The general will take his departure on Thursday.

THE INDIANA CANVASS.

Hon. Ira J. Chase, Candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, at Hartford City.

HARTFORD CITY, Aug. 27.—To-night the city is one blaze of enthusiasm for Harrison and Morton and the State ticket. The streets are thronged with an immense concourse of people. The occasion of this demonstration was the arrival in
