

GEN. HOVEY AT LAPOORTE

Northern Indiana Republicans Turn Out to Hear Him Discuss the Issues.

Progress of the Campaign in Other Parts of the State—Democrats Attempt to Annoy Their Opponents in Many Ways.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. LAPOORTE, Oct. 9.—To-day was a notable one for the Republicans in this place. The morning opened bright and clear, and by noon the country people were coming in from every direction to hear General Hovey and participate in the first great rally of the campaign. Large delegations arrived from outside cities, that from Michigan City being especially notable. It was headed by a band and drum corps. At the hotel where General Hovey and party were quartered admiring comrades and citizens thronged all forenoon to pay their respects to Indiana's next Governor. The speaking began at 2 o'clock. A grand parade, led by the City Band and composed of visiting delegations from nearly every town in the county, escorted the speakers to the stand in the court-house yard, where, after a song by the local glee club, which evoked much applause, Gen. Hovey was introduced in a neat little speech by Mr. Wm. C. Weil, and began his address. He complained at the outset of hoarseness, and continued for three-quarters of an hour, when he was forced to desist. The greater portion of his remarks were devoted to the subject of pensions. He reiterated his position in favor of a general act pensioning every surviving soldier, at the same time granting him 150 acres of land, and showed that every pension measure on the national statutes was passed by Republican votes and opposed almost invariably by the united strength of the Democratic South. After expounding the false and untrue Democratic claim to the friendship of the soldier, General Hovey passed to a consideration of the tariff. He referred to the fact that the tariff on the Garden swing inward, not outward, and inquired why there was not more immigration to free-trade countries if free trade is so desirable. At this point the speaker's lungs became so oppressed that he was compelled to discontinue, and he was followed by Hon. Clark R. Carr, who dealt in his usual happy and humorous way, drawing forth round after round of applause by his eloquence and humor. The day, on the whole, was a signal success. A marked feature was the excellent order in which the soldiers received their former comrades. Gen. Hovey never met a more admiring crowd than that which surrounded him both before and after the address.

A Democratic Scheme Frustrated.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

KOSCIUSKO, Oct. 9.—The local Democracy here industriously advertised for a meeting for this evening at the opera-house in this city. A display notice appeared in the Democratic paper and another was circulated in the form of a flaming poster, stating that one Capt. R. S. Jacks, State master workman of the K. of L., would address the laboring men. In this deceptive manner it was hoped to draw a mixed audience to be abused by a rank Democratic speech from Jacks. The job was exposed by the Republican evening paper, and it was further exposed and denounced by the local assembly, K. of L., which issued and circulated the following notice:

ATTENTION WORKMEN!—State Master Workman Jacks, of the K. of L., has advertised to speak in the opera-house to-night, having failed to notify the executive board of Equity Assembly, No. 7290, of his intention to do so. The members of this assembly disclaim any knowledge of the motives which prompt Mr. Jacks to speak in Kosciusko, and believe he is doing so, in violation of his duty as a workman of the K. of L. case. By order, W. H. BOGUE, Master Workman, Equity Assembly.

The Expire was complete, and the job acted as a boomerang. Jacks was rendered harmless and compelled to address only a little squad of rabid Democrats.

Hon. Jere M. Wilson at Liberty.

LIBERTY, Oct. 9.—Hon. Jere M. Wilson, of Washington, D. C., ex-judge and ex-Congressman from the old "Burnt District," addressed the people at this place, yesterday afternoon. Fully two thousand were present, and his old friends gave him a most cordial reception. His speech was almost entirely upon the tariff, and was put in such language as to be interesting throughout. The fallacy of Democratic argument as to the Republican protective system was fully demonstrated. He closed with an eloquent tribute to General Harrison. Judge Wilson will speak at a number of points in the fourth district, and it is expected that he will be given large meetings, as he does effective work.

The Democrats are still enforcing their censorship over public meetings.

LIBERTY, Oct. 9.—The Democrats are still enforcing their censorship over public meetings. A letter from the committee, directed to the Republican State central committee, was clipped open, and the contents extracted somewhere between Liberty and the Indianapolis postoffice, as the directed envelope being delivered to the address.

Outrage by Democrats.

CLEMONT, Oct. 9.—There was a disgraceful exhibition of drunken Democracy here last night. Congressman Bynum was advertised to speak, and before the meeting a crowd of toughs from Brownsburg, Pittsboro and this vicinity determined to take down a motto which the Republicans have had stretched across the street for several weeks. They got a boy from Brownsburg, Otis Duncan by name, to climb a tree to which one end of the motto was fastened, and guarded him with drawn revolvers while he did the dirty work. The Democrats claimed that the Republicans had said that they must march under the motto, but from the fact that when the motto was down the mob turned and went to the meeting without passing under where it was, it is evident this was only an excuse. The center class of Democrats in Clemont are much disgusted over the occurrence, and the Republicans are justly indignant. The latter showed much forbearance in not resenting the insult, but it was deemed best to engage in a quarrel with a drunk mob.

Big Meeting at Portland.

PORTLAND, Oct. 9.—Jay county Republicans are having large and enthusiastic meetings. Major Calkins and Mr. Robinson, of Pittsboro, addressed a mass-meeting of 8,000 or 10,000 people at Redkey, on Monday. They both delivered excellent speeches. Hon. Thomas H. Nelson, of Terre Haute, and Gen. R. A. Cameron, of Colorado, addressed a large audience at the court-house this evening. Hundreds of people were unable to gain admittance. Mr. Nelson did not go into details on the tariff question, but struck avenge hammer blows from the mountain in a way that was clear and convincing, and went home to every laboring man. General Cameron made a strong appeal to the soldiers, hundreds of whom were present to attend the reunion of the One-hundred-and-thirty-fourth Indiana Regiment, to-morrow, to stand by the gallant generals and war veterans, Harrison and Hovey. Gen. D. H. Hastings, of Pennsylvania, will speak in Portland on Saturday, and 10,000 people are expected.

A Procession through Many Towns.

CAMBRIDGE CITY, Oct. 9.—The demonstration witnessed in this section to-day was a notable one. The Republicans of Wayne, Henry, Rush and Fayette counties formed themselves into an enthusiastic, good-natured procession, which contained over 2,000 persons and extended over two and one-half miles, passing through Straughts, Dublin, Cambridge, Milton, Bentonville, Ellettsburg and other places. The dinner hour was spent in a grove at Bentonville. The crowd was exceptionally orderly for one so large, and its conduct was a severe rebuke to the cheap Democratic cry of "free whiskey." Sam Watson, the originator of the scheme, was formerly a Democrat and later a Greenbacker. There is now no doubt as to his Republicanism.

Nelson and Robinson at Union City.

UNION CITY, Oct. 9.—The Republicans held a rousing meeting at the opera-house here last evening, which was addressed by Gen. Thomas H. Nelson, in his forcible, clear and polished style.

The speech was well received and responded to by frequent bursts of applause. General Nelson was followed in a short speech by Ezeles Robinson, who, by his terse and forcible presentation of Republican issues, from the stand-point of the people, carried the enthusiasm to the highest point.

General Nelson at Madison. Correspondence of the Indianapolis Journal. MADISON, Oct. 8.—Gen. Thomas H. Nelson spoke to a large and enthusiastic audience at the court-house to-night. Considerable time was given to the discussion of the tariff and trusts, in the course of which telling points were scored against Cleveland and the Democratic party. The Madison Glee Club sang several of its selections and was loudly cheered. The speaker expressed great pleasure at the apparent excellent condition of the party in Jefferson county, and Gen. Nelson told the Journalists that he was sure that the Democratic party would not carry the State by 20,000 majority. The trend of feeling seemed to run toward Republican success.

Gen. Nelson at Martinsville. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARTINSVILLE, Oct. 9.—Hon. Thos. H. Boyd, of Noblesville, addressed a large and enthusiastic meeting of the people of this county at the rink last night. Soon after dark the different wards of the city organized with their torchlights, and after parading the streets a short time, marched to the rink, filling it with 1,000 to 1,200 people. Mr. Boyd gave one of his happy talks, discussing the tariff first; then the State issues, showing up the manner in which the Democracy has been running the business institutions. His discussion of the soldier-question brought frequent and enthusiastic applause, and his comparison of General Harrison and Cleveland with their respective parties, and his speech was one of the best of the campaign.

Hon. Thos. H. Boyd at Martinsville. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARTINSVILLE, Oct. 9.—Hon. Thos. H. Hon. Henry L. Wilson at Annapolis. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ROCKVILLE, Oct. 8.—Hon. Henry L. Wilson, of Indianapolis, spoke at Annapolis, this county, on Monday night, to a large audience. The speaking was in the school-house, and many were unable to procure seats. He dwelt mostly on the tariff question, which he made plain to all. The national and State issues were also shortly and briefly reviewed. The Bloomingdale society, which is the nearest uniform club in the county, accompanied him with their martial drum corps. Mr. Wilson is the son of James Wilson, the one-voiced orator of the State. He has many interesting characteristics, and held his audience two and a half hours with his eloquent Republican appeal.

Democrats Disturb a Republican Meeting.

Salem, Oct. 9.—The largest demonstration the Democrats had at this place during the campaign was held to-day, Senator Voorhes making the speech. The Democrats had no meeting appointed for the evening, and the Republicans, wishing to have Voorhes' speech answered, and on Oct. 9, Friedley, who was in town on professional business, to the witwam, which is jointly used by both parties. This arrangement didn't suit the Democrats, who proceeded to disturb the meeting by the use of tin horns and a sheepskin band. Notwithstanding the disturbance, the Republicans held a rousing meeting in every respect, and closed with three cheers for the national and State tickets and Friedley.

Hon. W. P. Fishback at Keightstown.

KNIGHTSTOWN, Oct. 9.—Hon. W. P. Fishback, of Indianapolis, addressed a large and appreciative audience of Republicans here last night. Mr. Fishback, in a very forcible and convincing manner, exposed the hypocrisy of the present administration in its civil-service reform pretensions. His comparison of the two candidates, made in a scholarly manner, was gratifying to the Republicans present, and the truth as he presented it, was so convincing in extent that many of the Democrats present were obliged to complain after the speech, that the personnel of the candidates should not be brought into the campaign.

The Canvass among the Germans.

LOGANSPOOR, Oct. 9.—Col. Fred E. Ledergerger, of Logansport, and Hon. J. A. Lebeck, State Treasurer, delivered very effective speeches to a German audience at the rink, this evening. Mr. Ledergerger's speech was in German, and left a marked impression on his hearers. He spoke of the matter in interest to citizens of his nationality. Mr. Lebeck addressed the people to the management of the Democratic party for its shameful mismanagement of the benevolent institutions of the State.

He Will Vote for Harrison.

SHELBYVILLE, Oct. 9.—Mr. Ben Ford, an old soldier, a few days ago came out in a card in the Daily Democrat, in which he declared for Cleveland and Thurman. To-day, however, he came out in the Republican with the following boomerang: I desire to say that the statement made by me in the Shelby Democrat of Friday evening, Oct. 5, was obtained from me by Mr. George Kay while I was drinking and irresponsible. I am an old soldier, and respect to vote for Ben Harrison, the true soldier's friend. BEN F. FORD.

Gen. Nathan Kimball at Scotland.

BLOOMFIELD, Oct. 9.—The largest and most enthusiastic political meeting ever held at Scotland, this county, was the occasion of the greeting given Gen. Nathan Kimball here last night. The light procession, music by brass bands and glee clubs from Newbury, Owensburg and Bloomfield, including the famous Pocahontas Glee Club, made it an old-fashioned Republican rally. The Democratic candidate for Congress from the Second district, was present, as was Wm. N. Darnell, candidate for Representative, and made speeches.

Major Ward at Hammond.

HAMMOND, Oct. 9.—Maj. A. B. Ward, of Dakota, addressed an audience of three or four hundred at Republican headquarters here this evening. The speaker came out boldly for protection, and was roundly applauded at intervals in his speech. Major Ward's speech was by far the best of the campaign that has ever been made in this city, and had a very telling effect on weak-kneed Democrats.

Kenworthy and Taylor at Cannelton.

CANNELTON, Oct. 9.—The opera-house was well filled last night, and 1,500 persons listened with delight to the plain and logical arguments of Hon. W. S. Kenworthy, of Iowa, and the impressive labor talk of Hon. Thos. W. Taylor, of Pennsylvania. The crowd was enthusiastic and gave emphatic evidence of their determination to do their share in making an end of the free-trade crusade inaugurated by Cleveland.

Chaplain Lozier at Hebron.

HEBRON, Oct. 9.—A large and enthusiastic Republican meeting was addressed to-night by Chaplain Lozier, of Iowa. The hall was filled to overflowing, and the audience was entertained for two and a half hours on the live political issues of the day. The City Cornet Band furnished some excellent music appropriate to the occasion.

The Civil-Service Act at Work.

LAFAYETTE, Oct. 9.—"Civil-service reform" in the mail service has reached Lafayette, and dropped out Isaac Burg, one of the oldest and most efficient clerks in the country. He was a quiet citizen who always attended to his postal business and had no time to talk politics. His offense was Republicanism.

Jim Wood in Carroll County.

DELPHI, Oct. 9.—Jim Wood, the Irish miner, held a splendid meeting at Pittsburg last night. He will hold two other meetings in this county. Congressman W. D. Owen will make six speeches in this county, commencing at Ellettsburg on Monday. He will be given rousing receptions everywhere.

Chicago's Broken Bank.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—The depositors of the Trustee Bank had meeting last night which was largely attended. The committee appointed at the Saturday night meeting had not finished its work. According to the receiver, the deposit amounted to about $300,000. The bank had about $50,000 in good and available securities and deposits on hand. The depositors are angry at the delay of the suspension, amounting to $130,000. The proposition to pay back this amount met with much opposition from the other depositors. The assets of the bank comprise a piece of real estate supposed to be worth $50,000. The notes deemed good amount to $275,000. Several speeches were made, some of them bitterly denouncing the officers of the bank and urging criminal prosecution. Various propositions of hire attorneys, etc., were left in the hands of the committee.

NEWS FROM ABROAD.

Irish Members of Parliament Talk Bitterly About Secretary Balfour. DUBLIN, Oct. 9.—Mr. T. D. Sullivan, speaking at a meeting of the Irish National League, in this city, this evening, said that Mr. Balfour's indecent lance upon Mandeville's grave would be an everlasting disgrace, and that his slanders upon the Irish patriot would strengthen the cause for which he died. The speaker said that he trusted that the ranks of the patriots would be unbroken. The speaker, he declared, must be treated by the people in such a manner as to make them feel that they were despised, commended and detested.

Effect of the Whitechapel Murders. LONDON, Oct. 9.—The newspapers continue to publish column after column of this stuff about the Whitechapel murders, but no new theories are advanced, nor are there any signs that the old ones have any value. There is no abatement of popular interest and excitement, and everything points to a revival of the investigation.

Items from Crawfordville. CRAWFORDVILLE, Oct. 9.—This morning a white horse of Mr. Tuck Cox, and which his wife was temporarily absent from the room, stole her gold watch, diamonds, jewelry and $12 in money. The prohibition meeting for last night failed to materialize. Crawfordville is now lighted with electricity, but it is not satisfactory to those even who were demanding it.

Foreign Notes. It is stated that the Italian government has unscrupulously organized a wide ramifications and thorough organization. A quartermaster-sergeant attached to a Chilean regiment in the German army has won a prize of $50,000 in the Vienna Communal lottery.

Slave Carriers Captured. LONDON, Oct. 9.—The British "man-of-war" Osprey has captured, off Mocho, three dhows having on board 304 slaves. The captains of the dhows and four of the slaves were killed before the slavers surrendered.

Starting Adventure of a New Paris Man. WARREN, Oct. 9.—Henry Strohm, son of Mr. A. Strohm, of New Paris, who was believed to be a prisoner in the Philippines islands, has just been heard from in a letter from the consul at Manila, stating that Strohm, regarding whose whereabouts nothing had been heard by his parents since last April, arrived safely at Manila, having been on the island of Guam in captivity for 186 days. He left Manila Aug. 13 for Hong Kong, China, from which place he had fled to escape his parents. The young man had a thrilling and interesting captivity among the cannibals. His parents had appealed to Secretary Bayard to effect his release.

Thrown from a Horse and Killed. WARREN, Oct. 9.—Joseph Cloud attended a Republican rally at Wiley's school-house last evening, in Jackson township, Wells county, and after he had gotten home began running his horse to see the result of a race between two young boys. The horse was thrown from him, and he was thrown headlong, breaking his neck. He was a young wife, father and mother and one sister. His parents are almost crazy, he being their only boy, and parties in the buggy were hurt, but not seriously.

Fatally Injured by a Switch-Engine. LAFAYETTE, Oct. 9.—Patrick Hogan was probably fatally injured this morning. He was working on the track of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago road, and had stepped out of the way of a freight train, but was caught by a switch-engine, which ran him down, entailing his death. He was thrown from the head that he believed to be fatal, Hogan being nearly four score years old.

Fatal Fall from a Tree. COLUMBUS, Oct. 9.—George Melien, a prominent young farmer of Clay township, this county, met with a distressing accident, yesterday, when he fell from a tree. He was gathering apples, when the limb upon which he was standing broke and precipitated him to the ground. He fell on his back and injured his spine, so that his entire body and extremities, from his shoulders down, are paralyzed.

New Albany Freshly. MADISON, Oct. 9.—Rev. Irving I. St. John was chosen moderator of the New Albany Presbytery, which convened here yesterday afternoon. Rev. W. O. Goodloe, retiring moderator, preached to-night. Rev. W. L. Austin was dismissed to Boston Presbytery.

Minor Notes. The body of a young child was found in an ash barrel at Westfield on Monday. The Newport district fair opened yesterday, with the largest show of stock and other articles that has occurred at any fair in this section. Ara Maggard, a Boone county farmer, while returning home from Lebanon, on Monday night, was waylaid and robbed of $12 in cash and $100 in notes.

The Wabash Detective Association, composed of representatives from Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, are in session at Lebanon. About three hundred delegates are in attendance. An eloquent address by a poor widow of Upland, fell thirty feet from a walnut tree while gathering nuts on Monday. He sustained internal injuries which are thought to be fatal.

The One-hundred-and-fifty-third Indiana Regiment held its annual reunion at Kokomo on Friday of this week. Great preparations are being made to insure the success of the event. Hester Beards, daughter of a Mill Creek township (Putnam county) farmer, is dead from swallowing "Rough on Rats," but whether it was intentional or accidental is not known. She was twenty-three years of age and highly respected.

At Brazil, on Monday, while an older sister was igniting a fire in the cook stove, by the use of a match, nearly all the children of Mr. and Mrs. Boyassa, were so horribly burned by an explosion of oil as to cause almost instant death.

An eloquent report from Pleasant, Putnam county, the parties being Ben Bridges, eighteen years old, and Grant Williams, a farm boy of the same age, the girl descending a ladder at midnight, in the usual romantic way, to find her lover awaiting her with rings.

The Missionary and Sunday-school Convention of the Christian Church in the Rensselaer mission district was held in Rensselaer last week, and was an occasion of great interest. Rev. E. A. Pardee, the district evangelist, made a very satisfactory report of work done during the past year. Nearly all churches in the four counties were represented and it was resolved to further prosecute the work. Rev. L. L. Carpenter, the State Sunday-school evangelist, held a conference on Monday and conducted interesting Sunday-school meetings.

Registration in New York went Brooklyn, New York, Oct. 9.—This was the first day of registration in the city, and 96,047 names were recorded, against 74,779 the first day in 1887, 46,177 in 1886, 69,751 in 1886, and 61,092 in 1884. The second day of registration in Brooklyn brought out 64,756 names. Total for the first two days, 151,228, against 98,042 for the first two days in 1887.

Evangelist Moody. SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 9.—Dwight L. Moody, the American evangelist, who arrived here a few days since, has just departed for the entire winter to the Pacific coast, and will commence a series of evangelistic meetings in San Francisco, Jan. 1. He left last night for Portland, Ore., to hold a series of meetings at different points in the Northwest.

Large Attendance Upon the State Association of the Baptist Churches.

Several Fatal Casualties, and Others That May Prove So—A Salvation-Army Woman Sees for $20,000, but Gets $500—Gleanings.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

SHERBURNVILLE, Oct. 9.—Two wards of two hundred delegates were here from various portions of the State, attending the Baptist convention, and are being entertained by the people of this place. The matter of chief interest, which demanded the attention of the body during the morning session, was the amendment of the constitution which covers the actions of the denomination in the State with reference to its missionary interests. The Baptist churches are organized into associations, thirty-two of which are in this State. These associations are further organized into the State convention. The work of State evangelization has hitherto been entrusted to a board, one member of which is elected from each association. The amendment to the constitution contemplates bringing this work nearer to the people, by electing special boards in each association, which shall have charge of the missionary interests in these smaller bodies. The organization of the convention, which opened this morning by the election of Mr. J. W. Billingsley, of Indianapolis, president; Rev. B. F. Cavins, of Peru, first vice-president; Rev. L. Kirtley, of Terre Haute, second vice-president; Rev. E. Neighbors, of Indianapolis, recording secretary, and Mr. Arthur Jordan, of Indianapolis, treasurer.

The afternoon session was largely occupied with the election of officers, and the election of a committee to successfully prosecute the missionary work of the State. In the evening a welcome was given to the several pastors who had entered the State during the year. The address of welcome was delivered by Rev. B. F. Cavins and was happily responded to by Rev. J. Ward Stone, of Richmond, who was the moderator of the evening. The remainder of the evening was given to the consideration of State mission work.

Specie to the Indianapolis Journal. MARSHALL, Oct. 9.—D. Booth, an old resident of Melrose township, was found dead in his stable, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Whether he was killed by a kick from one of the horses or died from heart disease, to which he was subject, is a mystery. The large bruise on his head could be accounted for in either way, as he might have fallen against a beam by which he was lying, if attacked with heart disease, or he may have been kicked by the horse. The matter will be investigated.

Brief Mention.

Belleville has thirteen cases of small-pox. Calvin S. Churchill, for fifty years a resident of Sangamon county, and a prominent and wealthy citizen, died on Monday at his home on German Prairie, seven miles from Springfield, in his sixty-fifth year.

Patrick Fitzgerald, aged sixty-five, retired, at his home in Mattson, in reasonably good health Monday night. Yesterday morning his lifeless body was found in bed. He was the father of conductor Fitzgerald, of the I. & St. L.

At a meeting of the officers of the Union Soldiers' Association, held in regard to the efforts of a few "ultra" stalwarts to defeat Harrison and Morton, on the alleged ground that, in the event of his election, General Harrison would be a Democratic ally, it was decided to postpone their reunion, which was to be held at the fair grounds at Pana Oct. 17 and 18, indefinitely, owing to the expense of the campaign and the lateness of the season.

Dr. Pepper's Services in the Sheridan Case. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—Dr. William Pepper, who, as consulting physician, attended the late General Sheridan during his last illness, has been asked by Colonel Sheridan to render a bill for his professional services. In reply to a request, Dr. Pepper, under date of Oct. 3, sent the following to Colonel Sheridan: I am in receipt of your note of Sept. 28, regarding the bill for my services in the case of General Sheridan. I have rendered in consultation to the late General Sheridan. You must permit me to say that I desire these services to be regarded as an expression of that deep and lasting affection which I, in common with all others, owed to him. In view of the extremely limited pecuniary resources of his family, it would be impossible for me to present a bill for these services such as would be proper under other circumstances.

Chamberlain Held on the Border. NIAGARA FALLS, Oct. 9.—The four Chinamen from the Western States bound for New York, Boston and Baltimore, are still at the Great Falls of the city of Hartford, Conn. The authorities still insist that they cannot enter the country. Two of them have been in the laundry business and were going to their country in the East. The other two have stores in the West. They have been in the United States from one to seven years. They have no money and have to depend upon the good-will of the people here for food. Three other Chinamen arrived to-day, but were refused passage by the Great Trunk.

Nebraska's Tattler Oat at Bedford. PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—Mr. J. G. Tate, the great tariff orator of Nebraska, addressed a crowded house here to-night, and spoke for two hours and a half. Persons of both parties say it was the best presentation of the tariff question that has been made in the country since Mr. Tate was urged to return here again, and it is to be hoped that he may make many more such speeches in Indiana.

MARRIED IN A TREE. A Reconciliation of a Quarrelsome Couple Effected by a Wild Texas Steer. NORWICH, Conn., Oct. 9.—Miss Miranda Ellsworth and Jeremiah Simpson, a couple engaged to be married, quarreled while attending a dance in the town of Norwich, on Monday night. During the night Rev. Mr. Jay, the circuit minister, arrived, and in order to calm the proceedings, took of his coat and played a fiddle for the couple. While the couple were dancing, a ferocious Texas steer charged upon them. Simpson was the first to see the beast and took refuge in a tree near by, closely followed by Miss Ellsworth and the minister. The latter saw the young lady a foot above a second tree and himself climbed a third. They remained in this position for about an hour, when the couple, badly frightened at the fierce actions of the animal and fearing death, asked the minister to marry them. Accordingly Mr. Jay read the marriage ceremony from his impromptu pulpit in the tree, while the couple, with great difficulty, joined hands from their unpleasant positions. A farmer's wagon passed by soon and the three descended the tree. Simpson and Miss Ellsworth gave an informal reception last night.

Attacked by a Vampire. MONTGOMERY (Ala.) Special. Mr. W. D. Newman, of Greenock, visiting relatives at Elba, Ala., met with a remarkable and strange adventure. While out walking hunting with some friends, about three miles below Elba, on the Pea river, in a dense part of a forest, suddenly something dropped from a limb of a tree on Mr. Newman, completely encircling and enveloping his head. It lacerated his cheek, bit one ear off and almost severed the other. He was so badly
