CULLINGS FROM THE COURTS.

Superintendent of the Work-House Fined for Contempt of Court. Superintendent Boone was tried before Mayor Denny, yesterday morning, for contempt of court, and upon conclusive evidence that he had frequently disobeyed the Mayor's orders in regard to releasing prisoners at the work-house, was fined $50 and costs. Boone at once appealed to the Criminal Court. Mayor Denny said, last evening, that he made the fine light because it seemed to be the desire of both sides to have the work-house statute interpreted. Ever since the work-house was established there has been a conflict between the authority of the Mayor and the superintendent, and he thought it was time the higher courts should define the law.

Slaven Allowed to Give Bond. Thomas Slaven who shot and killed John McFee last Tuesday, appeared before the Mayor yesterday morning, and asked to have a preliminary examination for the purpose of showing the court the justice of filing a bond in the case. The prosecutor consented to a bond being given, and the Mayor fixed the amount at $5,000. Slaven had not secured a bondsman last evening, but he probably will get one today. He is confident that he will be acquitted. The grand jury which convened yesterday, began an investigation of the case.

The Ellis Babe Killed. Probably the last feature in the Ellis divorce case occurred yesterday, when W. S. Stevens, a brother of Mrs. Ellis, appeared before Judge Walker and applied for $50, which he paid into court several weeks ago, as a reward for the recovery of the Ellis babe, which was kidnapped by its mother. The judge ordered the clerk to pay the sum, after Mr. Stevens had shown that the babe was killed in Jefferson City, Mo., by falling from a third-story window. It seems that when Mrs. Ellis eloped with her infant she went to Jefferson City and has been residing there ever since.

Law as to Challenges. The law relating to challenges, with which the duties of inspectors are largely connected, is as follows: Sec. 4702. R. S. Challenges, Oaths.—Any person offering to vote may be challenged as unqualified by any qualified voter or by the inspector, in all cases the inspector, or any judge, shall challenge any person offering to vote whom he shall know or suspect not to be qualified to vote, or who shall demand to be sworn to be a citizen of the United States, the following oath: You do swear (or affirm, as the case may be,) that you are a citizen of the United States; that you are over twenty-one years of age, to the best of your information and belief; that you have resided in this State for six months immediately preceding this election; that you have resided in the township six days, and in the ward or precinct, as the case may be, thirty days, and are now a bona fide resident of this precinct; that you are generally known by the name in which you now desire to vote, and that you have not voted, and will not vote, in another precinct at this election. If the voter challenged does not claim to be a citizen of the United States the inspector or one of the judges of elections should administer to him the following oath: You do swear (or affirm, as the case may be,) that you have resided in the United States for six months, and have declared your intention to become a citizen thereof in conformity with the laws thereto; that you are over twenty-one years of age, to the best of your information and belief; that you have been a bona fide resident of this State for six months immediately preceding this election; that you have resided in the township six days, and in the ward or precinct, as the case may be, thirty days, and are now a bona fide resident of this precinct; that you are generally known by the name in which you now desire to vote, and that you have not voted, and that you will not vote in any other precinct at this election. But in every case of a challenged voter before it is received, unless the challenge is withdrawn, some qualified voter of the precinct in which the voter is offered who has been a resident of the ward or precinct for at least one year preceding the election, must make the following oath or affirmations: You do swear (or affirm, as the case may be,) that you are a qualified voter in this precinct; that you have been a freholder and a resident householder in this precinct for one year next preceding this election; that you, who now desire to vote, has resided in this State for six months immediately preceding this election, and that he has resided six days, and in the ward or precinct, as the case may be, thirty days, and is now a bona fide resident of this precinct. All these oaths must be written or printed, and signed by the persons making such oaths, in the presence of such board of elections; the oaths shall be administered by some member of the election board, who shall affix his seal thereto; and affidavits must be attached to and returned, with the ballots, to the office of the county clerk. The section relating to challenges, 4703, is as follows: If the person challenged take such oath, and shall have been supported by a freholder of his precinct, as hereinbefore provided, he shall be admitted to vote; and it shall not be lawful thereafter for said board to examine any challenge touching such applicant; but if he refuse to take such oath, he may swear and examine other witnesses. In carrying out these laws the inspectors have no discretion in the case of a challenge, they are peremptory and must be obeyed.

Duties of Supervisors and Deputy Marshals. The United States supervisors may be either inside or outside of the polling places, but they must be in a position where they can see and voluntarily see the ballot-box. They must challenge every vote that they have good reason to believe is illegal; if they have any idea that a ballot is double it is their duty to carefully examine the ballot, not to read the same, but to see whether or not it is a double ballot. This is one of the duties imposed upon them by the federal law, and if there is any attempt, by any one, to interfere with this privilege they shall order the arrest of the offender at once, and they can call upon citizens to take the man into custody and convey him to the jail to be dealt with by the federal authorities. They must be present at the opening of the polls, and examine the ballot-box, and satisfy themselves that it is empty. They shall remain with the counting board until the ballots are counted and the bags are sealed. They shall make a note of any violation of the law by any outsider or member of the board. They can call upon the deputy marshals, or in their absence, or upon their failure to comply with their orders, or upon any citizen to arrest any man, without warrant, for an offense committed in their presence. The deputy marshals have no right to arrest anyone upon information brought to them, unless they have a warrant issued and charged on an offense relating to the election and where the offense has been committed in their presence and in their sight; if they have an officer's warrant, it has been committed by some one away from the polls or out of their sight it is their duty to report the same to some United States commissioner or justice of the peace, and an arrest warrant may be made in such cases by a warrant properly issued. The man who persuades another to cast an illegal vote, or to cast a vote, as a bribe, or who casts it, or who prevents a legal voter by any means, whether by intimidation or threat, is guilty of an offense against the United States, and is liable to imprisonment in the penitentiary.

TABLES FOR COMPARISON.

The Vote of Marion County and of Indiana in 1884 for Life To-Night. The official vote for presidential electors cast by wards and precincts, in Marion county, Tuesday, Nov. 4, 1884, was as follows:

Table with columns for 1884 and 1888, and rows for various wards and precincts. Includes sub-tables for 'Vote for Electors in 1884' and 'Vote for Electors in 1888'.

For use in comparing the votes to be cast to-day with that of 1884, for presidential electors in this State, the following figures are given. The official vote by counties is as follows:

Table with columns for 1884 and 1888, and rows for various counties. Includes sub-tables for 'Vote for Electors in 1884' and 'Vote for Electors in 1888'.

Amusements. 'Fair Play,' which began a week's engagement at the Park Theater, yesterday, is such a play as is very popular with the patrons of that place. It is a sensational drama, with exciting scenes and climaxes, and a strong comedy element running through it that relieves the tension to a very considerable degree. The performances yesterday were witnessed by crowds that packed the theater to the very doors and throughout. Mr. George Booker made much fun out of a grotesque character part, and Miss Maud Leigh, who is a clever and attractive southerner, was likewise entertaining, while the support was very competent. 'Fair Play' will run all week, afternoon and evening. The Edou Museum was thronged yesterday with ladies and children to see that infant wonder, the Edou baby, which is a year old and weighs less than two pounds. As one of the visitors said 'it is the littlest little baby' of them all, and it is alive and well. Besides it, Chauncey Morlan, the Indiana fat boy, the cannibals and other curiosities are there. They will remain on exhibition all week, afternoon and evening. The election returns will be read as follows:

ROYAL BAKING POWDER ABSOLUTELY PURE Light Sweet Wholesome Bread Delicious Pastry REPORTS OF GOVERNMENT CHEMISTS As to Purity and Wholesomeness of the Royal Baking Powder.

The Officers Fired at Him. At the Park Theater, last night, a colored man, while being expelled for disorderly conduct, attempted to cut Officer Kincaid with a razor. The latter warned off the weapon with his mace, but the man made his escape. He ran down stairs on to the street and into the alley-way east of the theater. Officer Davis joined in the pursuit, and three shots were fired at the fugitive, one of which is said to have taken effect in his right leg.

Found Unconscious on the Street. Henry Bleak, found unconscious at the corner of St. Clair and Pratt, last evening, was taken to his home, at No. 3 Minerva street, in Kregelo's ambulance. William Raymond, of 153 East Ohio street, was also found unconscious at the corner of Ohio and Delaware streets, and taken home by Kregelo.

Assaulted an Old Soldier. Tom Malone, an old soldier sixty-five years of age, of Dayton, O., while talking politics in front of the Bates House, was assaulted by a crowd of Democrats, last night, and knocked insensible. He was taken to the City Hospital in Flanner & Buchanan's ambulance.

Philip Michaels escaped at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the work-house through the window of the wash-house. Patrolman Sotter and Street were there with a prisoner, and caught him before he got outside of the grounds.
