

SEASON FOR RICH VIANDS

The Turkey in Demand, with Well-Supplied Market to Meet It, at Low Prices.

Poultry Shipments to the East Larger than Ever Before—Dealers Will Have an Abundant Supply for Thanksgiving Dinners.

As fowls of all manners, and in all manners prepared were held the chief delicacies in the earliest Thanksgiving days, they still retain the most prominent place in the menus of to-day on such occasions, and first of all comes the turkey. With the American turkey is a valuable bird, and how to procure it at its best, and serve it in the most appealing way is of annually recurring interest.

The past few days have furnished ideal turkey weather, and the birds have been shipped here in large numbers, so that there is now a surplus. The supply is the largest ever known, the local dealers report. Of course, the birds have been shipped in with a special view to the Thanksgiving demand, but none have yet commenced to be held over for local use.

The dealers all agree that the price of turkeys will not be much higher than usual for this market as they think the heavy shipments will continue to be made, and run them down to the same price as usual for the full dressed fowl. It is very nearly as cheap as chicken, so that the poor people will be able to indulge in turkeys as well as others. A number of large manufacturers already have entered orders with the wholesale dealers for turkeys for all their hands.

The dealers all emphasize the importance of cooking properly to know what turkey really is, but do not doubt a great deal of enjoyment of his own feast comes to the liberal-minded who take the benevolent assistance in giving the worthy poor a bit of sunshine on the national holiday.

Home of the Friends. The board of managers of the Home of Friends Women will be in session on Tuesday evening on Tuesday of this week from 9 A. M. to 10 P. M. to receive donations, which it is customary to give at this Thanksgiving season.

As you see I am thin now, And am very dry, O send me back heavy, And a bottle of hair.

With you can think of That's wholesome and nice, Such as oatmeal and soap, An soap and rice.

For all that you send, They'll be glad to receive, For a brush or a broom, Or for your present.

For a barrel of flour, Potatoes and beans, And everything else that mortal man eats.

The Young M. C. A. Association. The Young Men's Christian Association of this city propose to inaugurate a custom here next Thursday which has proven a great success in other cities, viz., the giving of a Thanksgiving dinner and entertainment to young men who are away from home and happen to be here on that date.

Thanksgiving Donations. Several ladies connected with the board of managers of the Orphan Asylum will be at the When clothing store on Tuesday, to receive donations for the little ones. Food, clothing, money, or other necessities can readily be made use of in this home, and the managers will be very grateful for any assistance at this season of the year.

Plans of the Woman Suffragists. The executive committee of the executive board of the Indiana National Woman's Suffrage Association was called to transact general business, and to consider a plan of work for the winter months. A resolution was adopted to send to each membership of the association a request to renew the membership, and also the annual fee to the treasurer, to increase the fund for carrying on the work.

Local News Notes. Hon. Joseph Murray, of Colorado, will lecture at the Methodist church, yesterday, and after calling at all the newspaper offices and cheering them, he made a speech with the view of forming an organization for the benefit of the boys. He discouraged large boys from continuing as newspaper editors.

Christ Before Pilate. In order to study this great work fully one string is out of the world, it seems to grow in power every day. It is the greatest of all, and the one who has been visited in it. It should be remembered that Saturday is the closing day.

FURNITURE at Wm. L. Elder's. Hon. Joseph Murray, of Colorado, will lecture at the Methodist church, yesterday, and after calling at all the newspaper offices and cheering them, he made a speech with the view of forming an organization for the benefit of the boys.

RELEASE OF SADDIE BRUCE

A Writ of Habeas Corpus Brings the Lady from the Insane Hospital.

She Was Sent There Against the Advice of Physicians, so a Few Fee-Grabbers' Could Be Paid—Other Court Mat'rs.

Judge Taylor yesterday heard the application for a writ of habeas corpus by Griffiths & Potts for the release of Miss Sadie Bruce from the Insane Hospital. The evidence showed that after Dr. Hodges and Walker had recommended that the lady be not committed to the hospital, she was put under restraint in her own home, a man in the office of Julian & Julian, who had been a witness in the case, wrote to Dr. Galbraith, superintendent of the hospital, and informed him that the woman was removed to the institution named. Dr. Galbraith then decided, as it was expressed in testimony, that Miss Bruce was brought to the hospital in order that the hungering fee hunters might be satisfied. The sheriff complied with the order. An effort was made to prove that the woman is insane, but nearly all the expert testimony and much of the non-expert testimony contradicted that theory. Dr. Galbraith was frank enough to say that he did not believe in the insanity of the woman, and gave it as his opinion that if she was treated one hundred years in the hospital it would not change her mental condition.

When the evidence was taken the Taylor announced that he was ready to decide the case at once, and in doing so he took occasion to speak very strongly in condemnation of the fee-grabbers who had been in this matter. The woman he said was removed to the Insane Hospital in direct opposition to the advice of the physicians, and simply because some of the fee-grabbers had secured the hospital under a contract. He cited the fact that the commission which recommended that she be placed under restraint was held on Sept. 23, and that she was not removed to the hospital until Oct. 14. During the time intervening, she showed no signs of insanity, and her actions were those of a quite sane lady. He also cited that during the time she had been confined in the hospital she was not unwell. Under such circumstances, he said, he thought it would be best for the court to permit the lady to remain in the hospital. There was a likelihood that if she should become worse, and her confinement might become more, and he therefore gave her liberty. In conclusion, the judge stated that he desired to have it understood that the woman, who Miss Bruce had a right to be considered, had pursued an honorable course all through the trial. He had never been the attorney for her, and he had never been the attorney for her, and he had never been the attorney for her.

The New Supreme Court Judges. The justices provide that the newly elected Supreme Justices shall take their place on the bench the first Monday in January. Six years ago that day occurred on the 1st of January, and the commissions bore that date. The commissions of the retiring judges therefore expire on the first day of 1889, but, as under the new constitution the judges go on the bench the first Monday, which occurs on the 7th, an interval of one day occurs between the expiration of the commissions of the retiring judges and the beginning of the new term.

The Vote for Electors. Tomorrow the marshals appointed by the Governor will meet in the Secretary of State's office, between 9 and 11 A. M., to canvass the electoral vote of the various counties of the Governor and other State officers.

GENERAL HARRISON GOES FISHING.

Visitors Who Called, and Unique Presents That Came to the President-Elect.

General Harrison went fishing yesterday with Mr. R. S. McKee, of this city, the result being that a small string of fish was procured from White river near Broad Ripple, and a large number of visitors who called to pay their respects to the President-elect failed to find him at home. Of the visitors who called, United States Senator C. E. Anderson, of Nebraska, was the most distinguished of those from abroad. He took the precaution of telegraphing his intended visit from St. Louis, but as he was unable to get a train for the city, he was obliged to remain at his hotel. General Harrison failed to recognize his intended visitor, and made no change in his fishing program. Other individual visitors at the Harrison house were Mrs. French and Ferguson, of Cincinnati; Mr. McHenry, of New York; J. W. Blackburn, of St. Louis; U. T. and Geo. Porter, of this city.

Some very unique and beautiful presents have been received at the house within the last few days. Among them are a pair of shoes, the typical ones on the topmost rail, which came from a friend in Illinois, and an excellent portrait of General Harrison, framed with a hat pole on wood, which has been very much admired by all who have seen it. Another testimonial of regard for the President-elect is a photograph of the shape of a fine photograph of Mr. Harrison in Idaho Territory. This picture was sent by Messrs. F. E. Anderson, J. A. Garrett, of Albion, who climbed Mt. Harrison, one of the highest peaks in the territory, and placed an American flag on its summit before having the photograph made. The family name is a name which was occasioned by the loss of a letter that gnawed its way out of its box a few days since, and was recovered by the capture of the animal yesterday at Haugwilly.

A Permanent Republican Club. A meeting of Republican friends of whom there was a large number, was held in the Council chamber last night, to prepare the way for a permanent organization of a Harrison Club. "The purpose is," said one of the gentlemen who was there, "to redress the wrongs of the Republican party, and to bring together in a social organization all the Republican workers, and all who are connected with the fair, with to return hearty thanks to all those who so kindly gave assistance in any way, and to the public for the generous reception of the ladies who have come for congratulation upon the success of the fair.

The Flower Mission. The Flower Mission, which was held at the Harrison house, was a success. The ladies who were present were Mrs. French and Ferguson, of Cincinnati; Mr. McHenry, of New York; J. W. Blackburn, of St. Louis; U. T. and Geo. Porter, of this city.

Religious Services. The Rev. Dr. Walker, of Morgan Park, will preach at the First Baptist Church to-day. Rev. E. C. Evans, of St. Paul, Minn., will occupy the pulpit at the Congregational Church to-day, morning and evening.

At Grace Cathedral (Episcopal), corner St. Joe and Pennsylvania streets, the Right Rev. Bishop Knickerbocker will address the congregation upon the Lambeth conference and his trip abroad. He will celebrate holy communion at 10:30 A. M.

Have Not Obeyed the Law. There are still many complaints about the condition of the streets where the gas tranches have not been dirt enough put into them to make them at least level with the streets. Friday those of Peter F. Bryon's wagon and team got into trouble. One horse got down and was injured, and the springs of a wagon were broken. But the most serious part of the trouble was a few damage suits might be in order and to some good by compelling the gas companies to live up to the law.

The Commercial Travelers. At a meeting of the Commercial Travelers' Association, held at the Grand Hotel last evening, it was announced that Frank Bird's transfer would furnish all members free transportation from Union Station to hotel or hall and return on the occasion of the annual meeting in January. It was moved that vote of thanks be tendered to Mr. Bird for his generous offer, which motion prevailed unanimously.

Local News Notes. Hon. Joseph Murray, of Colorado, will lecture at the Methodist church, yesterday, and after calling at all the newspaper offices and cheering them, he made a speech with the view of forming an organization for the benefit of the boys.

Christ Before Pilate. In order to study this great work fully one string is out of the world, it seems to grow in power every day. It is the greatest of all, and the one who has been visited in it. It should be remembered that Saturday is the closing day.

THE NEW YORK STORE

(ESTABLISHED 1853.)

Last week we told you about some lines of Handkerchiefs that we were offering at bargains. There was one lot of Silk Handkerchiefs at 30c, but they are nearly all gone, so we will not say any more about them. But the Ladies' Unlaundered Hem and Reverser Stitced Handkerchiefs, with handsome initial, was a hundred-odd lot, and of these we still have every letter and you can buy them for the exceeding low price of 25c. You can't buy the same Handkerchiefs at a regular way less than 50c. We continue the bargain from 5c to 15c. We wish to do you a special favor by reminding you of the "Real Duchess Lace" Trimmed Handkerchiefs from 75c to $3 each. Worth a great many cents more.

PLUSH CLOAKS

We will not keep you waiting any longer. This week our Cloak manufacturers have been pouring the Plush Cloaks in every day, and now we have all sizes and grades. Those special good values that we have been giving at $25, $30 and $40, are kept right up to the full standard.
