

A GOOD TICKET SELECTED

Republicans, with Enthusiasm and Confidence, Put Forth Their Nominees.

Spirited Contests for Township Trustee and Assessor Result in the Choice of Wiegand and White—Justices of the Peace Named.

Tomlinson Hall was filled with earnest Republicans last night at their township convention. The county committee had arranged for a system of admission by tickets, and in consequence the best order possible prevailed. Delegates only were admitted to the lower floor, all spectators being sent to the rostrum, balcony or gallery, and there was but little difficulty in calling the convention to order. James T. Layman, chairman of the county central committee, took the chair, and after several selections had been rendered by the Brotherhood band, called for nominations for a permanent chairman. W. W. Herod, P. C. Trusler and Gen. Fred Kneifer were named, but Messrs. Herod and Trusler withdrew in favor of General Kneifer, and he was elected by acclamation. Granville S. Wright, Frank Wells, G. L. Davis, W. J. McCoy and Michael Toomey were elected secretaries for the evening, and preparations were at once made for making the nominations. On motion of Albert Wiegand it was decided to allow Brightwood and West Indianapolis, as incorporated towns, to select their own candidates for justice of the peace. It was also decided, on a motion that was received with considerable applause, that delegates should be prohibited from making speeches in placing their respective candidates in nomination.

There was but little confusion in making the nominations. When the call for candidates for township trustee was made the names of Smith King, Miles Reynolds and William Wiegand were placed before the convention and the voting began at once. Three ballots were taken, resulting in the selection of Mr. Wiegand. The first ballot was as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Wards, King, Wiegand. Lists vote counts for various wards from First to Twenty-fifth.

Table with 3 columns: Precincts, King, Wiegand. Lists vote counts for various precincts from First to Eighth.

On the second ballot a part of King's strength went over to Wiegand, while Reynolds gained in one or two wards. It resulted as follows: Wiegand, 259; Reynolds, 208; King, 151. There was some contention when the vote of the Third ward was called on this ballot. Harry Craft, chairman of the delegation, announced twenty-six votes for Smith King, claiming that he had been so instructed at the primaries. Louis Harris, colored, insisted there was a mistake in the poll, as he was certain several delegates favored Reynolds. The ward was polled and it was found that out of the seventeen delegates present, eleven voted for King and six for Reynolds.

The third ballot was decisive. King lost in every ward in Wiegand's favor and a few votes dropped off from Reynolds's score. Wiegand was nominated by 433 votes, Reynolds receiving 198 and King 93.

Mr. Wiegand was at once called to the platform, and as he stepped forward he was heartily applauded. He thanked the convention for his selection, which, he said, was unexpected by himself and in every way a pleasant surprise. He urged upon the delegates the necessity of party harmony in the coming campaign. "I am not one of those Republicans," he said, "who evince a spirit of defeat in the spring. If the Republicans are as enthusiastic outside as they are in this hall tonight I am certain the ticket we will nominate will be elected. But we must be consistent. There is one thing upon which I want to congratulate the Democrats of this city, and that is that they stick to the ticket they put up. Why, I have even known them to vote solidly for an ex-convict just because he was in the field and was a Democrat. Langley and Egger then cried out, 'I say, I want to see the Republicans united and harmonious in the approaching campaign.' Miles Reynolds moved to make Mr. Wiegand's selection unanimous, and the motion prevailed amid great applause. Nominations for assessor were then called for, and the names of Hughes W. White, John Egger, William Petty, Horace P. Makepeace and William W. Wallace were placed before the convention. Four ballots were taken, the last resulting in the nomination of Mr. White. The following was the first ballot:

Table with 3 columns: Wards, White, Egger, Makepeace, Wallace. Lists vote counts for various wards from First to Twenty-fifth.

Table with 3 columns: Precincts, White, Egger, Makepeace, Wallace. Lists vote counts for various precincts from First to Eighth.

On the second ballot White received 347; Petty, 152; Egger, 141; Makepeace, 111; Wallace, 11. On the third White had 302; Petty, 137; Egger, 96; Makepeace, 21. When the fourth ballot was announced Mr. Egger's name was withdrawn, and the contest narrowed down between White, Petty and Makepeace. Mr. White received 235 votes, Petty 97, and Makepeace 39. The result was loudly applauded, and calls were made for Mr. White, but he did not come to the platform.

When the call for candidates for justice of the peace was made, the Brightwood delegation presented the name of Charles Willard and West Indianapolis offered the name of Allen Jennings. Both men were nominated by acclamation. The candidates for the remaining four justices were Jacob Franklin, William Parker, Charles B. Feibleman, Edward McDevitt, William Judkins, Richard M. Smock, Tremont Alford, Peter E. Stroupe, Jonathan F. Har-

ROBBED HIS INTENDED BRIDE.

Capture of a Youth Who Stole $7,966 and Fled on the Eve of His Wedding.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 1.—Ross Carter, a telegraph operator from Cincinnati, was arrested yesterday, charged with having absconded with $7,966 belonging to the lady whom he was engaged to marry. All but $100 of the money was found in his valise. Carter offered voluntarily to return, and he and the two detectives who had him in charge left for Cincinnati to-day. Carter arrived here the day after Thanksgiving, and has been learning the trade of a printer in a job-printing office at a small salary. From the detectives it was learned that he was engaged to Miss Anna Allen, who lives about six miles from Cincinnati, and that all preparations had been made for the wedding. Miss Allen had $10,000, and the day before Thanksgiving she drew her money from the bank and turned it over to Carter for safe keeping, and he fled with it the night before the wedding, leaving his wedding suit on his bed. It was supposed that he had been robbed and murdered, and the river was dragged for his body. It appears that Carter had wronged a friend of Miss Allen named Johnson. Carter was in a quandary, and was undecided which of the girls to marry, but favored Miss Johnson, and the only way out of his dilemma was to fly from the place. Carter has been keeping up a correspondence with Miss Johnson under the assumed name of Ellwood. He showed her a picture of himself, and called her his wife, saying she would soon join him here. Before leaving this place he expressed himself as contented with being able to support her, and said he would then marry Miss Johnson.

He believed to have killed his father-in-law. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. NEW ALBANY, Ind., March 1.—Robert Collins died to-night of mysterious circumstances, and there is what is believed to be good evidence of foul-play. After his death numerous bruises and cuts were found on the body, and the family seemed anxious to conceal particulars. It is known that Collins and his son-in-law, Edward Kennedy, had a quarrel yesterday, and Kennedy was arrested at 11 o'clock to-night on suspicion of being the murderer. He tells several contradictory stories. Collins's skull was fractured near the ear, and Kennedy is known to have kicked him in the head.

Daring Jail Delivery. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. COLUMBUS, Ind., March 1.—Charley Coeh and George Duncan, confined in jail in this city on a charge of grand larceny, awaiting the action of the grand jury, succeeded in breaking jail here to-night, and have not yet been captured. They had pried up the floor of their cell and led themselves down to the first floor. When the deputy sheriff came in with their supper they knocked him down, and escaped through the main entrance. The sheriff and his deputy and the police are in pursuit, but have not yet captured them.

THE RUSSIAN EXILES.

Mr. George Kennan Gives His Account of Political Despotism and Man's Sufferings.

There was no fire in the furnace at Plymouth Church last night, and thus a large number of people shivered in the cold air as they enjoyed the lecture of Mr. George Kennan. Mr. Kennan, in beginning his lecture, stated absolutely that nihilism in Russia, of which so much is heard, the doctrine of mere negation and destruction, did not have any organized existence in that country, but that opposition to the government of the Czar, from the mildest form of dissent to terrorism, with all the attendant horrors, was a direct result of his bad fortune during the last few years to make the acquaintance of over four hundred protestants against the present form of Russian government, some of whom were, and others are in the terrible mines of Kara, of which so much has recently been heard. The lecturer told of his trip from St. Petersburg, in 1885, accompanied by Mr. Frost, a Russian and Siberia, tracing the long journey by means of a map thrown upon a canvas by a lime light. This was followed by many pictures showing the difference between the present and the past, against society and those sent for political offenses, the latter consisting of the most inhuman and cruel punishments, and the most generous and self-sacrificing men and women. Many of them are poets, novelists, and some of them are well known in Europe and even in the United States. He found these exiles to be persons with high standards of honor and duty, and as one picture after another was thrown upon the screen it was accompanied with a brief history of wrong. Here were pictures of tenderly-reared and delicate women sent a long and dreary journey of five thousand miles, occupying sixteen months of travel, charged with political crimes or for joining their husbands or friends. Frequently they died of starvation, and sometimes they became deranged or committed suicide. In many instances these exiles have not even been brought into a court of justice or had a trial, but have been sent to the mines of Kara, or perhaps to the far north, even within the arctic circle, by "administrative process" upon merely a suspicion of holding views inimical to the government, or for "political unworthiness," as it is termed. The series of pictures shown concluded with those of Prince Krapotkin lying in his coffin, having committed suicide in Siberia to escape an additional penalty of exile, after having served ten years and of Alexander as he lay in the Winter Palace after assassination.

Had No Fire Protection. Block of Frame Buildings Consumed at Farmland, Ind.—All Uninsured. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MUNCIE, Ind., March 1.—About 1 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the old Sherman House, at Farmland, a village ten miles east of here. The place has no fire protection, and the flames were fought with buckets. The vacant hotel building, a meat-shop, barber-shop and Mite Society's meeting-room were destroyed, entailing a total loss of about $7,000, with no insurance, as the buildings were of such construction that no company would place risks on them. The losses are: John Craver, of Dayton, building, $4,000; J. A. Moorman, building and office, $1,000; Al Watson, building and meat-shop, $250; George Crabb, building, $1,000; J. C. Moore, $500; Elsie McNeese, household goods, $200; Charles Ward, barber-shop, $500; Henry Moorman, undertaking establishment, $500; Mite Society of Friends' Church, $50. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Suffocated by Smoke. SCHENCK, N. Y., March 1.—This morning, at 12:30 o'clock, the residence of James H. Bradshaw, in the village of Schenck, was on fire. Mr. Bradshaw came out on the street, but went back again, probably to save some of his property. He stayed too long, and was overcome by smoke and suffocated. The cause of the fire is unknown. Considerable mystery surrounds the origin of the fire, but the prevailing opinion is that it was caused by electric wires.

Other Fires. CHICAGO, March 1.—At the village of Kensington, early this morning, fire was discovered in the large five-story building owned by James J. Kane and used as a boarding-house and hotel. The flames spread so rapidly that many of the guests fled in terror. The fire was extinguished by the fire department. The hotel was destroyed, and the flames spread to the adjoining buildings, four of which were consumed. The loss on the hotel is about $20,000 of building and $5,000 on furniture; insured for $4,500. The general store of Matthias Kestner was destroyed, and the loss is about $4,000; insured for half that amount. Other losses were James Cotton, dry goods and hardware, $1,300, and P. H. Shipley, hardware, $1,300.

Elizabeth N. J., March 1.—An electric light wire set fire to the Peter Bredt Company's brewery, on Pearl street, in this city, at 3:15 this morning. The machinery with the tubs and machinery, was consumed. The loss is $25,000; covered by insurance.

May Buy the Chicago & Atlantic. Rumored that the Baltimore & Ohio Road is About to Make a Big Purchase. CHICAGO, March 1.—The latest gossip concerning the Baltimore & Ohio and its alleged plans for obtaining a foothold in this city is to the effect that one of the schemes under consideration by the management of the company is the purchase of the Chicago & Atlantic road. This would not only give the Baltimore & Ohio first-class terminal facilities, which it needs above all things, but would add to its system a line of road that, by the construction of a thirty-mile link between Marion, O., and Mount Vernon, O., would shorten its route between Chicago and Eastern points, thus making possible more equal competition with the Great Western system. In such an event the B. & O. would have practically a double track west of Pittsburgh, with local traffic in two distinct portions of the territory. Upon how much foundation the gossip in this connection rests it would be difficult to say. The general opinion is, however, that the Great Railroad Company would eventually absorb or secure control of the Chicago & Atlantic.

New St. Louis—Chicago Line. St. Louis, March 1.—A new railroad to be known as the New York, St. Louis & Chicago is being organized here. The names of the gentlemen interested in the project are as yet unknown.

Brakeman Killed. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. COLUMBUS, Ind., March 1.—Charley Clark, a young railroad driver in this city, twenty-seven years old and married, was killed on the Cambridge City branch of the J. M. & I. railroad, near Thornburg switch, early this morning. He was acting as front brakeman on a freight train due here at 7 a. m., and while setting a brake lost his balance, fell beneath the train and was horribly mangled. His limb was severed from his body and his skull was fractured. He was a member of the voluntary relief department of the J. M. & I., and carried $750 life insurance, which is payable to his wife.

Killed Himself for Love. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. VINCENNES, Ind., March 1.—This morning, about 1 o'clock, Herman Welton put a pistol in his brain and instantly killed himself. He is of an old and respected family. Disappointment in love was the cause.

NOT A PIMPLE ON BABY

Baby one year old. Had with Eczema. Hair all gone. Scalp covered with eruptions. Cured by Cuticura. Hair splendid and not a pimple on skin.

CURED BY CUTICURA. I cannot say enough in praise of the Cuticura Remedies. My boy, when one year of age, was so bad with eczema that he lost all of his hair. His scalp was covered with eruptions, which the doctors said was scab-head, and that his hair would never grow again. Despairing of a cure from physicians, I began the use of the Cuticura Remedies, and I am happy to say, with the most perfect success. His hair is now splendid, and there is not a pimple on him. I recommend the Cuticura Remedies to mothers as the most speedy, economical and sure cure for all skin diseases of infants and children, and feel that every mother who has an afflicted child will thank me for so doing.

MRS. M. E. WOODSUM, Norway, Me. FEVER SORE EIGHT YEARS. I must extend to you the thanks of one of my customers, who has been cured, by using the Cuticura Remedies, of an old sore, caused by a long spell of sickness or fever eight years ago. He was so bad he was fearful he would have to have his leg amputated, but is happy to say he is now entirely well—sound as a dollar. He requests me to use his name, which is H. H. Cason, merchant of this place.

J. O. W. M. N. B., Druggist, Gainsboro, Tenn. We have been selling your Cuticura Remedies for years, and have the first complaint yet to receive from a purchaser. One of the worst cases of scrofula, the most obstinate of hereditary skin diseases, was cured by your Cuticura Remedies. TAYLOR & TAYLOR, Frankfort, Kan.

Catarth to Consumption. Catarth in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is, therefore, singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torturing themselves with doubtful palliatives.

Santoro's Radical Cure meets every phase of Catarth, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never failing to produce a constant and distressing cough.
