SHOCKING BRUTALITY. Children Cruelly Treated by an Unnatural Step-Mother—Horrible Condition of a Girl. BANGOR, Me., May 11.—A shocking case of child-torture is reported from Old Town, a dozen miles up the river. Fred Sawyer and wife, with their little daughters, eight and nine years, live in a little white frame house on the outskirts of Old Town village.

IN THE FIELD OF LABOR. Carpenters Asked to Keep Away from Chicago—Packers May Strike in July. CHICAGO, May 11.—Another step was taken to-day in the fight between the union carpenters and the old Master Carpenters' Association.

ILLINOIS MINERS GET AN ADVANCE. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 11.—The soft-coal miners and operators came to an agreement yesterday, and the men will go to work to-morrow. The scale as adjusted is higher than paid elsewhere in the State, and the men feel that they have obtained a signal victory.

Saloon-keepers Not Wage-earners. NEW YORK, May 11.—The Central Labor Union to-day refused admission to delegates of the Saloon-keepers' Union on the ground that they are not wage-earners.

TERRIFIC BOILER EXPLOSION

Sixty-Ton Locomotive Torn to Pieces and the Engineer and Fireman Killed.

LOCOMOTIVE BOILER EXPLODES. Engineer and Fireman Thrown a Long Distance and Horribly Mangled.

BUFFALO, May 11.—About 2 o'clock this afternoon Lehigh Valley engine No. 281, George Pearl engineer, and Henry J. O'Connor, fireman, started for East Buffalo with twenty-seven cars. The train was moving slowly, and had crossed the Lake Shore tracks at Buffalo Creek Junction, when the locomotive exploded. A roar was heard like the discharge of a battery of heavy artillery, the earth trembled as though with an earthquake and the air was filled with flying fragments of iron, steel, brass and timber.

Loss of Life Near Oil City. OIL CITY, Pa., May 11.—The most destructive cloud-burst and tornado ever known here struck this section about 11 p. m. Saturday. Houses, barns, bridges, oil-well rigs and gas lines are in ruins. At East Sandy, eight miles from here, the residence of Wm. Nunemaker was blown down, burying the entire family in the ruins.

DAMAGE IN MISSOURI. Large Amount of Property Destroyed and a Number of Persons Killed.

ST. LOUIS, May 11.—Several violent storms in the form of tornadoes have occurred in different parts of north Missouri within the past two days and a large amount of property has been destroyed and several persons killed. In Harrison county a number of houses and barns were demolished and a large amount of farm property destroyed.

FEARS FOR A REVENUE OFFICER. Captain Hawkins and Posse May Have Met Death at the Hands of Moonshiners.

MIDDLESBOROUGH, Ky., May 11.—Fears are entertained here to-night that Capt. C. H. Hawkins, chief revenue officer, and his posse of twenty men, who left Middlesborough on Thursday morning last for Bennett's Fork and Clear Fork, Cumberland mountains, to destroy illicit stills, have met with foul play at the hands of the moonshiners.

THE AKRON TORNADO. A Mile and a Half of Houses Levelled in Twenty Seconds—Number of Injured.

AKRON, O., May 11.—Darkness shut in so quickly after the tornado that tore through the southern part of the city Saturday evening that not half an idea could be gotten of the fierceness or extent of the terrible storm. To-day has been so calm and sunshiny that even the half-dozen people who stood about their wrecked homes scarcely realized that elements could ever work themselves into such a fury.

Stabbed Each Other in the Street. NEW YORK, May 11.—Pasquale Marrosella, aged thirty-two years, Francisco Mitchell, aged twenty-two, and three other Italian laborers, drank and played cards together until midnight last night in an Italian resort in James street. Marrosella, with blood streaming from a terrible gash across his face, ran up to a policeman at Roosevelt and South streets and fell at his feet from weakness.

Pledged For and Against the Lottery. NEW ORLEANS, La., May 11.—The Legislature in second biennial session will arrive at the State Capitol at Baton Rouge to-morrow. The session will be an exciting one, made especially so by the fact that the new charter of Louisiana, which has been procured to procure the passage of a constitutional amendment permitting an extension of the lottery.

Will Not Issue World's Fair Bonds. CHICAGO, May 11.—Stockholders, and not bondholders, are to be the preferred class in the finances of the world's fair, so the new ways and means decided at its meeting yesterday. The original financial scheme contemplated the issuing of bonds to the extent of making up any deficiency between the amount of stock subscribed and $10,000,000, the amount required to be raised. The outlook for the subscription

Thousands of people visited the scene of destruction to-day, and a force of special police stood guard over remnants of residences and buildings. A number of churches, relief papers, started, and several thousand dollars will be raised for the immediate wants of the homeless people.

William Poole and his daughter, who had just driven into their barn, were caught up with the building and rolled with it to the top of the hill, on which it stood. The barn of Albert Frank, on Exchange street, was torn to pieces and his horse blown into a vacant lot near by and killed. People who were in the neighborhood had had their investments in them and majority of the houses were mortgaged. That no lives were lost is most wonderful. In most instances the families took refuge in the cellars and the fact that no one was killed is a miracle.

IN PENNSYLVANIA. Two Persons Killed and Many Seriously Injured in Venango County.

FRANKLIN, Pa., May 11.—A tornado passed over the southern part of this county last evening, about 5 o'clock. Two people—Noah Jackson and wife—were killed outright, and a large number of persons dangerously injured. The storm was general throughout the county, but the deadly tornado, only about 300 feet wide, extended about twenty-five miles. Everything in its path was demolished, trees uprooted and houses and barns completely demolished. In one instance a house containing a sick man was lifted up bodily and carried into the yard, where it was lodged.

Loss of Life Near Oil City. OIL CITY, Pa., May 11.—The most destructive cloud-burst and tornado ever known here struck this section about 11 p. m. Saturday. The outlook for the subscription of the entire $10,000,000 of stock is so promising that the committee decided not to issue bonds. This will make unnecessary pieces of receipts to guarantee the payment of bonds. For director-general, a new name has been suggested, that of W. B. Strong, late president of the Santa Fe road. There are two strongly urged candidates for the secretaryship, Col. H. C. Corbin, of Chicago, and President Walker, of the Boston Institute of Technology. The latter made a special study of the Paris exposition.

TROUBLES OF POTENTATES

Rothschild, the Great Money King, Trying to Get Bid of Too Much Adipose.

While the Rulers of Denmark, Greece and Belgium Are Seeking Means to Fatten Their Purses—Episcopal Orders in Britain.

AILMENTS OF GREAT MEN. Rothschild Troubled with Fatness—Three Kings Whose Purses Are Lean.

LONDON, May 11.—Excessive fatness, which has caused it share of trouble to the great men of the earth—Bismarck, for example—has seized upon another victim, a potentate, not of the political, but of the financial realm—no less a personage than Rothschild, the London head of the great house which could make and unmake empires, but prefers to milk them and wax fat upon the revenues thereof. Lest the banker's bulk should continue to grow in proportion to his fortune, he has called upon that equally renowned friend of the adipose, Dr. Schweninger, who will shortly arrive in London for the purpose of personally treating his illustrious patient.

New York's political ruler will soon be the subject of the propriety at Washington of two of Europe's nominal heads—the kings of Denmark and Greece—rendered uneasy not so much by their crowns as by the ailments appropriate to high life, and who themselves hitherto to try the famous waters. Still another King's troubles must be chronicled—those of Leopold of Belgium. His private conference, and if favorably inclined, a duty of 10 percent, which he levied upon all merchandise, the proceeds to be used in reaping King Leopold's private fortune, which is said to have been considerably enriched upon the Belgian monarch. What will become of the tariff after the King's advances have been made is not stated, but the general impression is that it will be kept up for the benefit of the infant industries that may be reeling at this juncture along the Congo.

King Leopold, by the way, arrived in London to-day, to take part to-morrow in the elaborate ceremonies attendant upon the coronation of King William, the jubilee status of the late Prince Consort. The party of guests will be moderately large, but very distinguished, only the royalty being invited, with very few exceptions, being honored by invitation.

COPIING AFTER CATHOLICS.

Brotherhoods and Sisterhoods to Be Countenanced by the Church of England.

LONDON, May 11.—The prelates of the Church of England last week discussed the burning question of permitting brotherhoods and sisterhoods in connection with the church. Such institutions have been in existence a good many years, but they have grown without episcopal encouragement and have been beyond episcopal control. A large number of Protestants would abolish their root and branch, as avowing the Church of Rome, and the decision taken by the bishops is already being fiercely assailed. Brotherhoods are to be permitted, but members will not be allowed to bind themselves by vows of celibacy, poverty and obedience—a wise provision, seeing that such vows could not be enforced in this country; and are, in fact, contrary to the law.

Upon the more delicate question of sisterhoods there was much discussion and considerable divergence of opinion among the reverend fathers, but it was finally resolved to place them under the care and guidance of the church. Sisters not under thirty years of age will be permitted, after an adequate period of probation, to undertake long engagements to the work of the community. Such engagements will be liable to annulment by a competent authority, and sisters will retain control of their private property.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

Englishmen Unable to Decide Whether George Francis Train Is Insane or a Crank.

LONDON, May 11.—The cheerful cynic, George Francis Train, embarked safely on the Etruria for New York to-day, a sojourn number of admiring Americans being present to bid him "adieu." The papers devote a good deal of space to Mr. Train, but seem quite puzzled as to his proper classification—whether among the geniuses or the cranks of America. The former rating is insisted upon by some writers who remember him as the brilliant inventor and orator of days gone by, and who remember that he was included in the list of our train-car system. Less favorable comments are made by others, who cannot convince themselves that the genial philosopher's expressions of anarchistic sentiments should be condoned. All agree, however, that in his present enterprise he is likely to succeed in beating all previous records.

Crushed Under Falling Walls. BRUSSELS, May 11.—The Allisais fort, near Namur, where rebuilding operations are being carried on, was the scene of a fatal accident to-day. A portion of the work collapsed, and twenty persons were buried in the debris. Five corpses have been recovered from the ruins. Twelve others were injured.

MUST NOT BRIBE ENUMERATORS. Census Supervisors Warned Against Accepting Money from Boom Towns.

Specialist of the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, May 11.—Advises have been received by Superintendent Porter, of the Census Bureau, that the enumerators in some of the Western cities have been approached by real-estate boomers and offered tempting bribes to falsify their returns so as to make the population appear larger than it is. In fact, especial complaint to this effect came from St. Paul, Minn., which wants to make a better showing than Minneapolis, its rival. A bill will be introduced in Congress to-morrow, making such propositions to enumerators a penal offense, and making it also a penal offense to falsify census figures. Yesterday Mr. Porter sent the following order to all supervisors of census: "It has been brought to the attention of the Superintendent of Census that the city councils and boards of trade of certain Western cities have been approached by persons offering money to aid their census supervisors in the enumeration of the population. While it may be urged by some that such a proposition is allowed by law, which is double the amount paid in 1880, should at once resign. The census must and shall be above suspicion. To tolerate any such proposition is to tolerate a crime against the people of the United States. It is the duty of every enumerator, association, organization or individual, no matter how powerful they may be, which has for its purpose the subversion of the truthfulness of the returns, would, in my opinion, be nothing short of a crime against the people of the United States. This whole matter, together with the facts in the possession of this office, has been laid before the Secretary of the Interior, and the action of the Superintendent of the Census meets with the Secretary's approval."

CARLISLE MISSED IN THE HOUSE. Democrats Need His Help to Talk Free Trade—His Senatorial Candidacy.

Specialist of the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, May 11.—The Democratic forces are considerably weakened in the tariff debate by the absence of Mr. Carlisle, who is now in Kentucky looking after his election to the United States Senate. He promised to return to Washington when the five-minute debate commenced and take the leadership of the Democratic side, but the news received here from Kentucky shows that he may not return till the end of the week, or even longer. Mr. Carlisle expected to have a walk-over for the United States senatorship. Three years ago he could have been elected without opposition, but he was the Speaker of the House and preferred the position to being a Senator for six years. Now that he is out of the speakership and wants to be a Senator he finds that the place is not so easy to reach. He has been here yesterday and to-day report an entirely different state of things from that expected, and predict that the senatorial contest in Kentucky will be protracted for several weeks and become very lively before the end is reached.

Strength of the Candidates. LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 10.—The senatorial contest has gone forward briskly to-day. Ex-Congressman McKenzie reached Frankfort late last night, and to-night formally announced himself. Aside from this there is little new as to candidates or estimates of strength on the first ballot in the Democratic caucus Monday night. It is clearly understood that no election will be made until the caucus nominates. All agree that Carlisle will have a big lead on the first ballot, and the rest of the vote will be pretty evenly divided between Knott, McCree, McKinzie, Buckner, Lindsay and Keener. Carlisle's friends are aggressive and want to push the contest to conclusion the first night. They hardly hope their chief can be stronger by a long, hard fight. On the other hand, many others believe they will do better by waiting, and they will be able to prevent a nomination at once. Ex-Congressman McKenzie is held to be especially favored in an prolonged fight on account of his good generalship and popular manners. It is claimed he never came out of a race weaker than when he went in. But in this case it is not generally believed he can win, no matter how long the contest lasts. Governor Buckner has developed great strength. His friends have been moving everything in their power, and it is believed when the final test comes it will be between him and Carlisle. His record as a Governor has made him very popular with the people, and while he has offended many politicians his friends claim that legislators who regard their standing with their constituents can turn from him only to Carlisle.

MEASURES IN THE SENATE. Democrats May Imperil the Statehood Bills by Talking Too Long on Silver.

Specialist of the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, May 11.—The debate on the silver bill will commence in the Senate in earnest to-morrow morning, and is likely to last for several weeks. The Republicans have not yet reached an agreement and they are not likely to do so. The situation is the same as it has been all along. At least eight or ten Republican Senators insist that the time has come for the Congress of the United States to declare in favor of a double standard of money, and to make silver equal in all its qualities to gold. This will postpone the consideration of the bills for the admission of Wyoming and Idaho until midsummer, and may imperil their passage altogether, although it is believed that the Republican leaders will prolong the session, in order to make these two new States.

Senator Vest explains that his opposition to the consideration of the bills, according to the Republican programme, last Wednesday, was on account of the desire of Sena
