

A GENUINE MAY SENSATION

Has been the rush to the Original Eagle of the clothing buyers of this city and vicinity. No hurrying or sensational snap sales, offering cheap-made goods at seemingly ridiculous prices, but steadfast well-doing, performing to the letter everything we promise, and providing the very best of garments at strictly the lowest prices.

GREAT SALE OF MEN'S DRESS BUSINESS SUITS

WE LEAD IN STYLES. MEN'S FINE CLOTHING, YOUTHS' & CHILDREN'S SUITS, GENTLEMEN'S FURNISHINGS. ORIGINAL EAGLE. 5 and 7 West Wash. St.

Emphatically the choicest stock of fine fabrics of the best manufacturers ever shown in Indianapolis.

IF YOU WANT PERFECT FIT. Do not buy one dollar's worth of clothing until you see what is offered at the

ORIGINAL EAGLE, WEST WASH ST

Don't overlook the fact that our Hat and Cap Department is overflowing with new Headwear of Popular Shapes and at the Lowest Prices.

CARRIAGES, BUGGIES, SPRING WAGONS, PHAETONS, CARS. HOWLAND & JOHNSON

THE LEADING Carriage Dealers, 75 & 77 West Washington Street.

BEAUTIFUL!

That is the expression used when they see our superb stock of new Spring and Summer Wools. The newest, handsomest and most desirable styles in Suitings, Coatings and Trouserings of Foreign and Domestic weave.

A. COHEN & SON, Merchant Tailors, 32 West Washington Street.

HOUSES AND BUILDING LOTS ON UNUSUALLY FAVORABLE TERMS.

I have for sale several hundred good Building Lots in Indianapolis, and a large number of Small Houses (from two to six rooms). Also, some fine lots for residence and garden purposes, in sight of the city, containing from two to three acres each.

AN IMMENSE STOCK OF LAWN-TENNIS GOODS

Horsman's and Spalding's Rackets—best in the market. Nets, Poles, Ropes, Markers and Balls. Wholesale and Retail.

CHARLES MAYER & CO. 29 and 31 West Washington Street.

BARGAINS IN ROCKERS

I show in the Windows a lot of odd Rockers and Chairs at $3 up. There is a limited number of them, and they are rare bargains, and won't last long. Call and see them.

W. M. L. ELDER, 43 and 45 South Meridian Street.

51 WEST WASHINGTON ST. 51 Opposite Bates House. MRS. HARRY FOWLER, Second Floor, Rooms 1, 2, 7, 8.

RICHARD VAUX AND DICKENS

The Experience Randall's Successor Had with the Great English Novelist.

How "Boz" Was Shown Through the Eastern Penitentiary of Pennsylvania, Praised Its Workings and Afterwards Abused It.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. PHILADELPHIA, May 17.—The entrance of Richard Vaux into Congress as the successor of Samuel J. Randall—which now seems assured—will introduce into that body one of the most picturesque men, both in appearance and in character, which it has known during the present generation.

Richard Vaux is a man of numerous interesting anecdotes of his life which have already found their way into public print, but it is not generally known that he is the man who acted as the escort of Charles Dickens upon the occasion of the great novelist's visit to the Eastern penitentiary, of Pennsylvania; a visit, the description of which was the cause of much of the denunciation in this country of that wonderfully inaccurate, if not maliciously incorrect work, "American Notes." For more than fifty years—not forty, as has been generally reported—Mr. Vaux has been an inspector of the Eastern penitentiary, and is now, as is well known, the president of its board. For many years he has made daily visits, except on Sundays, to the great prison, which is the only one in this country where the custom of solitary confinement is practiced.

Nowhere else are such extensive lines and low prices offered. Our stock of Children's Suits is unrivaled for style and variety.

PERFECT STYLE and PERFECT QUALITY.

Do not buy one dollar's worth of clothing until you see what is offered at the ORIGINAL EAGLE, WEST WASH ST

Don't overlook the fact that our Hat and Cap Department is overflowing with new Headwear of Popular Shapes and at the Lowest Prices.

CARRIAGES, BUGGIES, SPRING WAGONS, PHAETONS, CARS. HOWLAND & JOHNSON

THE LEADING Carriage Dealers, 75 & 77 West Washington Street.

BEAUTIFUL!

That is the expression used when they see our superb stock of new Spring and Summer Wools. The newest, handsomest and most desirable styles in Suitings, Coatings and Trouserings of Foreign and Domestic weave.

A. COHEN & SON, Merchant Tailors, 32 West Washington Street.

HOUSES AND BUILDING LOTS ON UNUSUALLY FAVORABLE TERMS.

I have for sale several hundred good Building Lots in Indianapolis, and a large number of Small Houses (from two to six rooms). Also, some fine lots for residence and garden purposes, in sight of the city, containing from two to three acres each.

AN IMMENSE STOCK OF LAWN-TENNIS GOODS

Horsman's and Spalding's Rackets—best in the market. Nets, Poles, Ropes, Markers and Balls. Wholesale and Retail.

CHARLES MAYER & CO. 29 and 31 West Washington Street.

BARGAINS IN ROCKERS

I show in the Windows a lot of odd Rockers and Chairs at $3 up. There is a limited number of them, and they are rare bargains, and won't last long. Call and see them.

W. M. L. ELDER, 43 and 45 South Meridian Street.

51 WEST WASHINGTON ST. 51 Opposite Bates House. MRS. HARRY FOWLER, Second Floor, Rooms 1, 2, 7, 8.

SHORT SERMON ON MARRIAGE

Maud Howe Discusses Mercenary Matrimony, and Tells Its Misery and Folly.

She Also Talks of Marriage of Affection, and Says Love is the Greatest Thing in the World—Lesson from the Life of a King.

Written for the Sunday Journal.

To marry for money is one of the most unparadiseable of blunders. The search for truth and the pursuit of happiness are in the judgment of most wise men, from Moses to Socrates, from Lord Bacon to Emerson, the two most intelligent aims in life.

It is stupid for so many points of view—it is staking the permanent against the evanescent. Money is an uncertain commodity, a fluctuating value, and a man or a woman who exchanges his or her best chances of happiness for that flimsy, slippery coin is exchanging the true for the false, the real for the counterfeit.

It is a mistake with us in the great importance which is attached by all classes in this country to the money question. It is a very unpleasant thing to be hungry; but high thinking at this date is a thankless task—it probably has always been. It is not a very dreadful thing to be poor.

STUPENDOUS NATURAL PHENOMENON

Two Thousand Miles of Seaboard Where the Wind is Always from the East.

In sailing northward from Valparaiso along the Chilean coast the traveler is constantly struck by a natural phenomenon. He enters a rainless zone without vegetation or resources for sustaining life. At Coquimbo, the first anchorage in the southern part of the coast, he is within the southern edge of this bleak and arid district. Thence for over 2,000 miles he follows a mountainous coast, bare and desolate, where the wind is from the east and where languishing plants and shrubs can only be kept alive by the spray of the sea.

The causes of these astonishing phenomena are explained more or less adequately by scientific writers. It is evident that the wind is a product of the heating of the 2,000 miles of desert seaboard in the Andes range. The southeast trade winds strike the coast of South America, and the air, being heated, rises and is carried westward in an oblique direction.

There is no happiness, there is no content without love. We are born with the precious heritage of the mother love and the father love, but that sacred bond does not suffice us; in the order of nature it can shield us but for a part of our pilgrimage of life every human heart yearns for its love, as the bird calls and cries for its mate.

There are some mistaken people who will say to you, love is not enough, love will not feed you, nor clothe you, nor keep a roof over your head. There is no such thing as love, there is no incentive like it. It brings out the best in man and in woman. It makes the weak strong, the poor rich, the miserly generous.

There is no better test to you than this very question: Do you love your neighbor? Do you love your holiday or working-day love? If holiday, it is like the false dawn of the Orient. One tells of an old man who was a miser and a miserly man.

I say again money is of very little consequence. "Give me neither poverty nor riches," says the wisest old philosopher who ever wrote. None of the things of this world having in life cost money. Sunshine, blue sky, blue sea, health, beauty, genius, love, these are not to be bought with gold. Disease may be alleviated, but it can only be won by health, but health and love, God's greatest gifts to man physical and man spiritual, are not to be bought or sold.

THE CITY OF ST. PETERSBURG

An American. Says St. Petersburg Is the Best Governed City in the World.

Mr. William H. Dunster, United States Vice Consul to St. Petersburg, Russia, is a native of Newark, N. J., and is almost sixty years of age.

Let your sons and daughters grow up truly independent, without those habits of idleness which are so common to the children of the poor. Then they will be fitted to whatever life awaits them. If they are to find their life's work among the rich they will need to be able to do it, and to do it in the nature of a prince, who was destined to go through and suffer so much for the recovery, and for the sake of his country.

The independence of material conditions is the true American independence, the very foundation of our national existence. If in certain artificial social circles it seems to us to be dying or dead, let it not shake our faith in the vitality of this fundamental principle. It is the heritage of our people, and it behooves us to hasten to our children, even as our fathers bequeathed it to us.

THE Czar's CAPITAL

Mr. William H. Dunster, United States Vice Consul to St. Petersburg, Russia, is a native of Newark, N. J., and is almost sixty years of age.

St. Petersburg is a city of over one million people. The streets are kept as clean as a floor, and the water, which comes from the river Neva, is as clear as crystal. I cannot bring myself to drink the water that I have seen in Cleveland. We have a splendid system of lighting, some of the streets being lighted by electricity, but the wires are all underground.

There are many American visitors to St. Petersburg. This is all nonsense. There is no trouble whatever in getting to St. Petersburg. They can then get about with the utmost freedom. I walk the streets of St. Petersburg at all hours of the night, and I feel as safe as if I were in New York. The people are all very kind and hospitable.

Yes, the winters are long and very cold. We dress warmly in furs. The houses are all of brick, covered with white porcelain, and in order to keep out the cold the walls are made from one foot to one foot and a half thick, and the windows are all double. The summers are short, but very warm. We have plenty of strawberries, but Indian corn cannot be raised.

BAD PRONUNCIATION

Careless Practices Into Which Many Fall Because It Is the Fashion.

Don't corrupt the English language. For example, don't drop the r sound in such words as lord, bird, etc. Don't confound lord and lord, and bird and bird. We know perfectly well that it is English to do so, and that the leading English orthoepists are of the same opinion.

Don't pronounce the English language. For example, don't drop the r sound in such words as lord, bird, etc. Don't confound lord and lord, and bird and bird. We know perfectly well that it is English to do so, and that the leading English orthoepists are of the same opinion.

Don't say "I'll be damned." This is the last syllable of these words is silent, as much as the e in heaven. This is another of the liturgical affectations of would-be purists which our pulpits are taking up and making more or less popular, but which is not an intelligent ear. Don't say "I'll be damned for God." This is the worst of all.

THE CITY OF ST. PETERSBURG

An American. Says St. Petersburg Is the Best Governed City in the World.

Mr. William H. Dunster, United States Vice Consul to St. Petersburg, Russia, is a native of Newark, N. J., and is almost sixty years of age.

Let your sons and daughters grow up truly independent, without those habits of idleness which are so common to the children of the poor. Then they will be fitted to whatever life awaits them. If they are to find their life's work among the rich they will need to be able to do it, and to do it in the nature of a prince, who was destined to go through and suffer so much for the recovery, and for the sake of his country.

The independence of material conditions is the true American independence, the very foundation of our national existence. If in certain artificial social circles it seems to us to be dying or dead, let it not shake our faith in the vitality of this fundamental principle. It is the heritage of our people, and it behooves us to hasten to our children, even as our fathers bequeathed it to us.

THE Czar's CAPITAL

Mr. William H. Dunster, United States Vice Consul to St. Petersburg, Russia, is a native of Newark, N. J., and is almost sixty years of age.

St. Petersburg is a city of over one million people. The streets are kept as clean as a floor, and the water, which comes from the river Neva, is as clear as crystal. I cannot bring myself to drink the water that I have seen in Cleveland. We have a splendid system of lighting, some of the streets being lighted by electricity, but the wires are all underground.

There are many American visitors to St. Petersburg. This is all nonsense. There is no trouble whatever in getting to St. Petersburg. They can then get about with the utmost freedom. I walk the streets of St. Petersburg at all hours of the night, and I feel as safe as if I were in New York. The people are all very kind and hospitable.

Yes, the winters are long and very cold. We dress warmly in furs. The houses are all of brick, covered with white porcelain, and in order to keep out the cold the walls are made from one foot to one foot and a half thick, and the windows are all double. The summers are short, but very warm. We have plenty of strawberries, but Indian corn cannot be raised.

BAD PRONUNCIATION

Careless Practices Into Which Many Fall Because It Is the Fashion.

Don't corrupt the English language. For example, don't drop the r sound in such words as lord, bird, etc. Don't confound lord and lord, and bird and bird. We know perfectly well that it is English to do so, and that the leading English orthoepists are of the same opinion.

Don't pronounce the English language. For example, don't drop the r sound in such words as lord, bird, etc. Don't confound lord and lord, and bird and bird. We know perfectly well that it is English to do so, and that the leading English orthoepists are of the same opinion.

Don't say "I'll be damned." This is the last syllable of these words is silent, as much as the e in heaven. This is another of the liturgical affectations of would-be purists which our pulpits are taking up and making more or less popular, but which is not an intelligent ear. Don't say "I'll be damned for God." This is the worst of all.