

BALL PLAYERS ON A STRIKE

The Indianapolis Men Refuse to Play Unless Salaries Are Paid in Full. Club Not in Arrears to Any Extent—The Revolt an Ill-Advised One—Her Highness Wins the Realization Stakes.

One year ago the League players had everything arranged for a strike, but failed to put their plan into execution. Not so with the Indianapolis players of 1890. They evidently believe in making good their threats, and as a consequence, refused to play ball yesterday unless they were paid in full to date. The stupidity of the move is apparent when it is known that less than $500 is due them, and that the receipts of the Fourth of July games would more than square things. As an instance of the folly of their action it may be cited that the salaries of the Evansville players, due July 1, have not yet been paid, not because the club is financially embarrassed in any way, but simply for the reason that it is more convenient to wait until after the Fourth. Under the constitution of the Interstate League the clubs have ten days of grace in which to pay salaries, and it was proposed to the players by the Indianapolis management that they wait until next Saturday for their money. This was made necessary by the fact that the receipts of Tuesday's game fell more than $800 short of the amount expected. There was not the crowd that had been anticipated. Instigated by Reeder, the outfielder who has been seeking the management of the team for the past week, and who was released Tuesday night, and Burke, who is here because he was very ill, 325 Tuesday for refusing to pitch, the players declined to put on their uniforms unless the money for the week was paid in full. Burke and Reeder had a hand in the work. The balance of the players appeared to see the folly of their action when it was too late. There were between two hundred and three hundred people at the park, and after the announcement that the game was off their money was refunded. The umpire was, of course, compelled to give the game to Evansville 3-0.

President Martin was criticised somewhat severely for his failure to appear at the grounds, and his absence was noted. It is he who is at home suffering from a sick headache, which confined him to his bed, and he was, therefore, unable to be on hand. This is the first time since the termination of efforts by Reeder and Burke to run things to suit themselves. The former was signed at $125 a month, and he was not long in demonstrating the fact that he could not earn his money. He was about to be released when he asked that he be given further trial, and volunteered to stand a cut to $100 a month. Reeder, Mr. Martin that he would soon play good ball. This assurance he failed to make good, and was, therefore, released on Tuesday night. There was $7 due him, but he refused to accept that amount when tendered, claiming he should be paid at the rate of $125. The animus of his action in this trouble is quite apparent, and he has been marked for release, and his knowledge of it has caused him to urge Reeder for the management, and to urge the players of the club he would be in good standing. There is just $9 coming to Burke, together with a release. Behne is even with the management financially, and is out of humor because Mr. Martin will not advance him money, while Sharp is not much behind. It is Mr. Martin's intention to release the players of this morning and arrange matters so that to-morrow's game can be played as scheduled.

This trouble of yesterday may lead to a reorganization of the team which will result advantageously all around. Mr. Martin said last night that he had no idea the players would be so obstinate. The above statements are given on the authority of the refractory players claim. He promised to pay them after Tuesday game, and called for an appointment to be at his office at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon and settle. Mr. Martin says he was at his office within a very few minutes after the players did not come. He further says he gave instructions to pay the men all that was left of the afternoon's receipts after the guarantee was taken up by the players. He is in his power to meet their demands. His greatest fault seems to have been his leniency with the ring-leaders. No other manager would have let up with their actions for a moment.

Indiana League. PERU, 7, KOKOMO, 1. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. PERU, July 2.—A great game of ball was the one to-day between Kokomo and Peru, the latter club winning with comparative ease. The visitors would have been shut out except for an error in the eighth inning, the first made this season by Rafferty. O'Connor struck out eight men, Peru's new catcher played an error or two, and passed ball. Attendance, 600. Score: Peru.....1 1 0 0 0 1 0 2 0-7 Kokomo.....0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0-1 Hits—Peru, 10; Kokomo, 8. Errors—Peru, 3; Kokomo, 3. Batteries—Peru, O'Connor and Rafferty; Kokomo, Gayle and Rafferty. Umpire—Burgett.

FORT WAYNE, 4, MARION, 3. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARION, July 2.—Marion was defeated by Fort Wayne to-day in a hotly contested game, which was lost to Marion by costly errors. Score: Marion.....0 0 1 0 0 1 0 1-3 Fort Wayne.....0 0 0 1 2 0 0 0-6 Hits—Marion, 4; Fort Wayne, 5. Errors—Marion, 4; Fort Wayne, 3. Batteries—Marion, Gough and Feeney; Fort Wayne, Gallagher and Ferris. Umpire—Lewie.

MUNCIE, 16, ANDERSON, 6. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ANDERSON, July 2.—It was not the umpire, but Muncie's ball-tossers, that simply mopped the field with Anderson to-day. Hemming was pounded at will by the visitors, and his support was little better in the field, as is shown by the score. The umpire charged a Muncie man $5 for impudence. The score: Muncie.....1 0 7 1 3 0 3 1-16 Anderson.....2 0 1 0 0 3 0 0-6 Hits—Muncie, 17; Anderson, 11. Errors—Muncie, 2; Anderson, 9. Batteries—Anderson, Hemming and Frantz; Muncie, McGinnis and Martin. Umpire—Sullivan.

Tipton Defeated by the Indianapolis Journal. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. Tipton, Ind., July 2.—The Indianapolis Journal team defeated the local club in a well-played game at the fair grounds, to-day, in the presence of a fair-sized crowd. Hereth, of the Journals, distinguished himself by climbing a rail fence and taking a long fly with one hand, while Goble played a perfect game at short. The game was called in the seventh to allow the visitors to catch a train. Score: JOURNAL.....1 1 0 1 0 1 0 1-7 Tipton.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0-0 Hits—Journal, 10; Tipton, 1. Errors—Journal, 1; Tipton, 0. Batteries—Journal, Hereth and Goble; Tipton, Goble and Smith. Umpire—Wid Fitzner.

Y. M. C. A. Field Day. The field-day contests at Y. M. C. A. Park to-morrow afternoon comprise the following: Standing broad jump, running broad jump, potato race, thirty yards, six potatoes; high kick, hundred-yard dash, running broad jump and jump over hurdles. The ten-hurdle race, putting the shot, sixteen pounds; one-quarter-mile run. The sport will begin promptly at 2 o'clock, and will be followed by a ball game between the News and Hemingtons. Admission to non-members, 25 cents. Coughlin in Demand. Coughlin, the ex-Chicago pitcher, who is here with the Evansville, will not sign with that team, as he desires to return to California. He has offers from the San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento clubs.

Paris, Ill., Defeats Charleston. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. PARIS, Ill., July 2.—The Paris Reds defeated the Charleston base-ball club at Charleston, this afternoon, in a score of 14 to 0.

REALIZATION STAKES. The Big Event at Sheepshead Bay Won by Tournament—A Poor Race. SHEEPSHEAD BAY, July 2.—The Coney Island Jockey Club brought the most successful spring meeting in its history to a close to-day. The last day of the meeting was one as disagreeable as the one which will be. Rain commenced falling an hour before noon, and by racing time the track was quite heavy. This was doubly unfortunate, as the Realization stakes was down for decision, and while the crack three-year-olds were not engaged, some very fast youngsters were down as probable starters, and a good contest was looked for. It was the fourth race on the card.

First Race—For three-year-olds and upward; one mile. Diablo won; Reporter second, Granite third. Time, 1:41 2/5. Second Race—The double event, second part, a handicap for two-year-olds; the association to add the amount necessary to make the value of the two events $5,000 each; three-quarters of a mile. Russell won; St. Michaels second, Keckon third. Time, 1:11 1/5.

Third Race—Purse of $750; seven furlongs. Shofiver won; Vengour second, Dan third. Time, 1:30. Fourth Race—The Realization stakes for three-year-olds; all starters to pay $250, all of which was to go to second, and third to receive $100. The race was won by Island Jockey Club to add $10,000; the second to receive $2,000 of the added money; and two-thirds of the starting money; the third to receive $1,000 of the added money; colts to receive $125; fillies and geldings $100; all allowances; one mile and five furlongs. Starters, 12; 3 to 1; Paddisla, 116; 1; Banquet, 119. 5 to 1; Her Highness, 116. 8 to 1; Paddisla, 115. 5 to 1; Ranco, 112. 30 to 1; King Thomas, 115. 10 to 1; Tournament, 117. 7 to 1; Paro, 109. 50 to 1; Morris had given his colt, Lyomynia, a special preparation for this race, and last night, when he went into his stall, he was fit to run. He was the man's life, his horse when led out, he exhibited symptoms of lockjaw. Since then the horse has not shown any improvement, and the opinion seems to be that he is a goner. Tournament was made the favorite, with Paddisla second choice, and Torso and Banquet next in demand. The race was won by one as has been seen on the track. After passing the stand it was not a question of who would win, but how much he would win by. The start was made with the dip on the starting line, when they got the flag Tournament on one ran out and at the end of a furlong was a length before Banquet, with Paddisla third. At the half-mile post, Tournament had increased his lead to three lengths, and Banquet had three lengths the best of Paddisla, while the others were beginning to string out. Her Highness moved up from fourth position in making the turn, and at the end of three-quarters was in the third place, only a neck behind Banquet. Tournament, in the meantime, had opened up a gap of two more lengths, and was fast getting away from the rest. At the mile post, the tournament was eight lengths in the lead, while Her Highness had passed Banquet, and was in the second place; Banquet third and Paddisla fourth. Examined at the end of the race, it was found that Tournament to tire and fall back, but he did nothing of the kind, but, instead, increased his lead at every jump. On the last quarter he was a regular process. His Tournament twenty lengths to the good, followed by Her Highness two lengths before Banquet, and the rest strung out for a few yards. After the stretch was reached, Tournament increased his lead still further, and passed the post a winner by thirty lengths. The only interest in the race was the fight for second money. Banquet moved up rapidly in the stretch, and at the furlong pole was on even terms with Her Highness. A brief tussle ensued, when Her Highness drew away and got it by a short head, while Banquet was a length behind. Paddisla, third money. Then came Paddisla, Thomas, Rancomas and Jersey Pat, a very poor race. Time, 2:51.

Fifth Race—The sturmiest cup; a handicap sweepstakes of $80 each, with $2,000 added; one mile and a half. Cassius won; Prather second, Bon third. Time, 2:38 1/5. Sixth Race—For two-year-olds; purse of $1,000; futurity course. Lepanto won; Evangeline second, Tourist third. Time, 1:13 1/5.

Seventh Race—A handicap sweepstakes, for two-year-olds; and upward; of $30 each, with $1,500 added; two miles on turf. St. Luke won; Little Jim second, Taragon third. Time, 3:35.

Mile and Seventy Yards Record Lowered. CHICAGO, July 2.—The "long shots" were the order of the day at Washington Park, and when Lizzie B., an 8 to 1, came home winner in the fourth race, in the fast time of 1:54, breaking the record by half a second, the sporting fraternity were particularly surprised. The races were well contested, and with a fine track, gave 4,000 people an exciting afternoon.

First Race—A sweepstakes for two-year-olds; five furlongs. Bramblebush won by three parts of a length; Woodruff second, the same distance ahead of Ed Leonard, third. Time, 1:02 3/4.

Second Race—A handicap sweepstakes; one mile. Cook won by a length and a half ahead of the wire, and winning handsly from Gymnast, second, who beat Julia, third. Time, 1:12 1/2.

Third Race—For two-year-olds; selling; purse of $600; quarter of a mile. Prettiest won by three-quarters of a length; Silver-Cloud second, half a length ahead of King Solomon, third. Time, 1:40.

Fourth Race—A sweepstakes; one mile and seventy yards. Lizzie B. won by three-quarters of a length; Cassius second, a neck in front of Workmate, third. Time, 1:54 1/4, breaking the record of 1:55 1/4 made by Catalpa on this track, June 27, 1889.

Fifth Race—A sweepstakes for three-year-olds and upward; two miles. Outbound won by a length and a quarter from Hypocrite, second; Spokane, third. Time, 3:52 1/4.

PENSIONS FOR VETERANS. Residents of Indiana and Illinois Whose Claims Have Been Granted. Originals have been issued to the following: Original Invald—George Atkinson, Lafayette; William C. Clark, Deane; the nationality of the new republic will find rather weak expression in a central Diet composed of three members from each state; a President, chosen by lot from among the Presidents of the five states; and an advisory board of five counselors, one from each state, also chosen annually. The President appears to be elected by the voters, and the choice of his successor is elected in the Diet, which simply designates by lot which state of the four remaining states shall be the seat of the national government. Among the powers granted to the central government are those of directing foreign affairs, in so far as they concern the interests of the dominant party; the board of the states; of providing for the common defense, and of appointing committees whose duty shall be to frame new codes of laws, and to report on the expediency of provisions of the provisional compact, in view of the past history of these countries. It is the one declaring that under no circumstances shall war be waged between the several states, and that all disputes shall be settled by arbitration. The old flag of Central America will be restored to use by all the states, well by the national government, although a concession to local sentiment is made in permitting it to be adorned by local devices.

Loose Nature of the Confederation Which Began Next September. Springfield Republican. The new republic of Central America, according to the treaty of union adopted at the recent conference held in Guatemala city, will begin its provisional existence on September 15, 1890. The confederation of Guatemala, San Salvador, Honduras, Costa Rica and Nicaragua shall have ratified the proposed compact before that date. Such is the nature of the treaty, and to indicate that interstate jealousy at present is sufficient to defeat the adoption of the treaty, which, however peculiar in its contents, is the result of a long and hard, doubtless offers a desirable basis of union to those discordant states. Although the provisional constitution, or unity, of the confederation to be given—but a decade to run, a general convention for establishing a permanent union may be called in the meantime by the national executive, and action seem desirable. The nature of the temporary basis of union is of interest to the people of this country, for no other reason than the fact that the confederation of Central America will render our commercial relations with the Central American states more intimate and important than ever before.

As was to have been expected the rights of the individual states are very jealously preserved. Thus each of the five states retains full sovereignty over its own internal affairs but also may send ministers to foreign countries to negotiate concerning local matters. On the other hand, the nationality of the new republic will find rather weak expression in a central Diet composed of three members from each state; a President, chosen by lot from among the Presidents of the five states; and an advisory board of five counselors, one from each state, also chosen annually. The President appears to be elected by the voters, and the choice of his successor is elected in the Diet, which simply designates by lot which state of the four remaining states shall be the seat of the national government.
