

INDIANA AND ILLINOIS NEWS

Veterans of the War Having a Good Time at Seymour and Boonville.

Young Boys on Trial for Murder—Opening of Earlham College—Death from Lock-Jaw—Historical Paper Found.

Indiana. Remembrance of Veterans of the Southern Part of the State at Seymour.

SEYMOUR, Sept. 11.—The first day of the soldiers' remembrance of southern Indiana opened with a steady down-pour of rain.

Notwithstanding this fact large numbers of veterans arrived on all the trains, and busy scenes were enacted at the beautiful camp in City Park.

The first of the veterans' camps in City Park. The firing of cannon and the strains of martial music were continued during the day.

Indiana. Remembrance of Veterans of the Southern Part of the State at Seymour.

SEYMOUR, Sept. 11.—The joint reunion of the soldiers of Warrick and Spencer counties was held at Boonville yesterday and was a grand success.

Earlham College. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

RICHMOND, Sept. 11.—Yesterday morning Earlham College opened and entered upon its thirty-first year.

Death of Lock-Jaw. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

BEDFORD, Sept. 11.—Willie Estes, while walking along on Sycamore street last Friday, a week ago, ran a rusty nail that was protruding from an upturned side-walk.

Boys on Trial for Murder. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

ROCKVILLE, Sept. 11.—The State vs. Oscar Pearson, Hosea Douglas and Kersay Douglas, aged, respectively, fourteen, twelve and ten years, for murder in the second degree, is now being tried.

Burglars Captured by a Clerk. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WINDYBROOK, Sept. 11.—The dry goods and clothing store of Bowen Bros. at Linn, Ind., was burglarized last night between 11 and 12 o'clock.

Allen County Democrats Alarmed. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

FORT WAYNE, Sept. 11.—Delegates from the Farmers Alliance of this county and the various labor organizations of this city held a meeting here to-day to decide whether or not an independent county ticket should be placed in the field.

Blown to Atoms. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

SEYMOUR, Sept. 11.—John Green, superintendent of W. N. McDonald's farm, adjoining this city, met with a horrible death yesterday afternoon while engaged in blowing out stumps with dynamite.

Diseased Meat Sold to Poor People. CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—The old agitation about the meat of "lumpy-jaw" cattle being put upon the local market and sold for food revived this morning.

Million-Dollar Improvement Company. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

MARION, Sept. 11.—To-day the Peonias Natural-gas and Land Improvement Company filed articles of association, with a capital stock of $1,000,000.

Ten Horses Burned. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

ROCKFORD, Sept. 11.—A big barn on the Stites farm, four miles northwest of here, was burned last night, together with eight horses, two cows, a wagon and harness and the season's crop of hay and oats.

Blackford County Institute. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

Valparaiso Normal College, were present and assisted in the work of the institute.

Wedding at Warsaw. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WARSAW, Sept. 11.—Mr. Dalbert Mabie and Miss Bessie McClure were married last evening in this city.

Killed by a Switch Engine. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

TERRE HAUTE, Sept. 11.—William Kelley, who was the first baggage-master at the Union Depot here, and recently employed at the car-works, was horribly mangled and killed by a switch engine to-day.

Burglars got $300 from the safe in Frank Thomas's saloon at Columbus.

George Ulmer, of Medina, died from injuries inflicted by a horse's kick.

The Muncie Presbytery closed a very profitable two days' meeting at the Presbyterian Church, Winchester, yesterday.

Maj. W. W. Carter, recently removed from the Insane Asylum at Indianapolis to his home in Brazil, has escaped and is now at large.

The Farmers and Knights of Labor of Delaware county held a picnic at Muncie yesterday. About four thousand people were in attendance.

Mr. Oliver, of Crawfordsville, has been made a surety on a $100 bond to keep the peace on account of his avowed intention to kill his wife because she has applied for a divorce.

Mr. Benson, the venerable widow of Mrs. Benson, aged seventy, died very suddenly at Madison, last evening of heart disease.

Mr. Henry Stanga, of Cory, died Tuesday night. On Saturday, Aug. 30, she retired in her usual good health, but did not awake the next day, despite the efforts of her family.

Discovery of the Coroner's Verdict on the Killing of the Founder of the Mormon Church.

CARTHAGE, Sept. 11.—While hunting recently for relics in an old pile of papers in one of the court-house jury-rooms Thomas B. Griffith, a pioneer, and one of the few living men who saw Joseph and Hiram Smith killed by a mob at the old Carthage jail on June 27, 1844, found the original copy of the coroner's verdict concerning the tragedy.

More Salaries Reduced. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

PARIS, Sept. 11.—At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors in this city to-day, the salaries of the county officers were reduced to $1,200 a year for each clerk, judge, sheriff and treasurer.

A jury is being selected at Morris to try James Maxwell, one of the Decker murderers.

Stephen Cullen was fatally injured by a premature explosion of blasting powder at Wesley.

An insane man, claiming to be Vanderbilt, nearly naked, was caught and locked up at Peotone.

Mrs. James Killian, aged fifty-five, died at Merna, McLean county, yesterday from lockjaw, produced by a single nail penetrating her foot one week ago.

The One-hundred-and-fourth Illinois Infantry held a reunion at Ottawa, Wednesday, Col. J. D. Hopeman was elected president. The next reunion will be held in Ottawa in August, 1891.

Indiana Converted by a Preacher Sent. TERRE, S. D., Sept. 11.—Two weeks ago Colonel Benson, the government agent, induced old Sitting Bull to return from Canada and surrender after the Custer massacre, years ago, became converted at a camp near Pierre, since which time he has been preaching among the Sioux, and the result is that hundreds of the Indians are becoming converted.

The Flood in New York State. ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The Chenung river is not rising now and the water is over three feet down. A great deal of damage has been done to crops throughout the Chenung valley.

The Flood in New York State. ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 11.—The Chenung river is not rising now and the water is over three feet down.

When you feel uncomfortable about the stomach take Simmons Liver Regulator.

BASIS OF COOPER'S CHARGES

Made Up from Newspaper Articles Written by Discharged Pension Clerks.

Two More Angry Tills Between Mr. Raun and His Accuser—Between the Latter and Attorney Flick—Mr. Bussey's Testimony.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Right at the beginning of this session, this morning, the special House committee on defining the charges against Commissioner Raun had the usual daily tilt.

Chairman Morrill said that he had not the stand the other day, the chairman had said that his [Lewis's] conduct was not gentlemanly, and he wanted a retraction.

Commissioner Raun, beginning his defense, asked that Mr. Cooper be sworn.

In answer to the Commissioner's questions, Mr. Cooper said that his attention had first been called to the refrigerator company by newspaper articles, and afterwards by George B. Fleming.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

Mr. Cooper said that the Commissioner had given out an untrue list of pension office employees had bought refrigerator stock. There was where the charge originated, which seemed to be corroborated by the newspaper.

days ago Mr. Marshall Harris, a former president of the humane society and a very wealthy citizen of Oskosh, died. He was the owner, for many years, of a fine family horse that was a pet and a good, healthy animal.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

Mr. Harris says that inside of forty-eight hours after his death the horse is to be taken out and shot, this strange and apparently impulsive act being mentioned in the document because he always feared that after his death the horse would not be treated well in his old age.

COLD COMFORT FROM DEPEW

He Tells a Committee of Central Strikers That Nothing Can Be Done for Them.

Having Quit the Company's Service, and Their Places Filled by Mr. Webb, Mr. Depew Cannot Assist Them—Claims of Strikers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—A committee of five of the ex-employees of the New York Central railroad, who went on strike, called on Chas. H. Depew, in his office at the Grand Central Depot, at 11 o'clock to-day.

They were headed by Thomas Ballaney, an old freight conductor, and Mr. Gaffney, another striker, acted as spokesman. The following conversation between Mr. Depew and Mr. Gaffney followed:

Mr. Gaffney—We have come to talk over the strike on the New York Central railroad.

Mr. Depew—I'm afraid there is nothing to talk about. The strike is virtually over now.

Mr. Gaffney—The strike is not over, because all the men on the road who are members of labor organizations have quit work and are now out.

Mr. Depew—They have chosen to resign their positions. Mr. Webb, who was managing the road in my absence, took new men in their places when they quit work.

Mr. Gaffney—There is no use in making false promises to us. There is nothing more to be done. I do not care to talk over back numbers. You have chosen to resign your places. Mr. Webb filled them, and I have nothing more to say.

Mr. Depew—The strike is not over, because all the men on the road who are members of labor organizations have quit work and are now out.

Mr. Gaffney—There is no use in making false promises to us. There is nothing more to be done. I do not care to talk over back numbers. You have chosen to resign your places. Mr. Webb filled them, and I have nothing more to say.

Mr. Depew—The strike is not over, because all the men on the road who are members of labor organizations have quit work and are now out.

Mr. Gaffney—There is no use in making false promises to us. There is nothing more to be done. I do not care to talk over back numbers. You have chosen to resign your places. Mr. Webb filled them, and I have nothing more to say.

Mr. Depew—The strike is not over, because all the men on the road who are members of labor organizations have quit work and are now out.

Mr. Gaffney—There is no use in making false promises to us. There is nothing more to be done. I do not care to talk over back numbers. You have chosen to resign your places. Mr. Webb filled them, and I have nothing more to say.

Mr. Depew—The strike is not over, because all the men on the road who are members of labor organizations have quit work and are now out.

Mr. Gaffney—There is no use in making false promises to us. There is nothing more to be done. I do not care to talk over back numbers. You have chosen to resign your places. Mr. Webb filled them, and I have nothing more to say.

Mr. Depew—The strike is not over, because all the men on the road who are members of labor organizations have quit work and are now out.

Mr. Gaffney—There is no use in making false promises to us. There is nothing more to be done. I do not care to talk over back numbers. You have chosen to resign your places. Mr. Webb filled them, and I have nothing more to say.

Mr. Depew—The strike is not over, because all the men on the road who are members of labor organizations have quit work and are now out.

Mr. Gaffney—There is no use in making false promises to us. There is nothing more to be done. I do not care to talk over back numbers. You have chosen to resign your places. Mr. Webb filled them, and I have nothing more to say.

Mr. Depew—The strike is not over, because all the men on the road who are members of labor organizations have quit work and are now out.

Mr. Gaffney—There is no use in making false promises to us. There is nothing more to be done. I do not care to talk over back numbers. You have chosen to resign your places. Mr. Webb filled them, and I have nothing more to say.

Mr. Depew—The strike is not over, because all the men on the road who are members of labor organizations have quit work and are now out.

Mr. Gaffney—There is no use in making false promises to us. There is nothing more to be done. I do not care to talk over back numbers. You have chosen to resign your places. Mr. Webb filled them, and I have nothing more to say.

Mr. Depew—The strike is not over, because all the men on the road who are members of labor organizations have quit work and are now out.

Mr. Gaffney—There is no use in making false promises to us. There is nothing more to be done. I do not care to talk over back numbers. You have chosen to resign your places. Mr. Webb filled them, and I have nothing more to say.

freezing temperature and snow. The center of the high barometer is about four hundred miles north of Montana, moving southward.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 11.—Signal-service Observer Lyons says snow was reported this morning from Ft. Assiniboine, Mont. It is the first snow of the season in the United States, reported by the signal service.

Temperature ranging from 28 to 30 degrees prevails from North British America southward over Montana. The storm area or low barometer is more prominent this morning than it was last night, and for that reason it will most undoubtedly pass northward.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 11.—Signal-service Observer Lyons says snow was reported this morning from Ft. Assiniboine, Mont. It is the first snow of the season in the United States, reported by the signal service.

Temperature ranging from 28 to 30 degrees prevails from North British America southward over Montana. The storm area or low barometer is more prominent this morning than it was last night, and for that reason it will most undoubtedly pass northward.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 11.—Signal-service Observer Lyons says snow was reported this morning from Ft. Assiniboine, Mont. It is the first snow of the season in the United States, reported by the signal service.

Temperature ranging from 28 to 30 degrees prevails from North British America southward over Montana. The storm area or low barometer is more prominent this morning than it was last night, and for that reason it will most undoubtedly pass northward.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 11.—Signal-service Observer Lyons says snow was reported this morning from Ft. Assiniboine, Mont. It is the first snow of the season in the United States, reported by the signal service.

Temperature ranging from 28 to 30 degrees prevails from North British America southward over Montana. The storm area or low barometer is more prominent this morning than it was last night, and for that reason it will most undoubtedly pass northward.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 11.—Signal-service Observer Lyons says snow was reported this morning from Ft. Assiniboine, Mont. It is the first snow of the season in the United States, reported by the signal service.

Temperature ranging from 28 to 30 degrees prevails from North British America southward over Montana. The storm area or low barometer is more prominent this morning than it was last night, and for that reason it will most undoubtedly pass northward.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 11.—Signal-service Observer Lyons says snow was reported this morning from Ft. Assiniboine, Mont. It is the first snow of the season in the United States, reported by the signal service.

Temperature ranging from 28 to 30 degrees prevails from North British America southward over Montana. The storm area or low barometer is more prominent this morning than it was last night, and for that reason it will most undoubtedly pass northward.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 11.—Signal-service Observer Lyons says snow was reported this morning from Ft. Assiniboine, Mont. It is the first snow of the season in the United States, reported by the signal service.

Temperature ranging from 28 to 30 degrees prevails from North British America southward over Montana. The storm area or low barometer is more prominent this morning than it was last night, and for that reason it will most undoubtedly pass northward.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 11.—Signal-service Observer Lyons says snow was reported this morning from Ft. Assiniboine, Mont. It is the first snow of the season in the United States, reported by the signal service.

Temperature ranging from 28 to 30 degrees prevails from North British America southward over Montana. The storm area or low barometer is more prominent this morning than it was last night, and for that reason it will most undoubtedly pass northward.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 11.—Signal-service Observer Lyons says snow was reported this morning from Ft. Assiniboine, Mont. It is the first snow of the season in the United States, reported by the signal service.

Temperature ranging from 28 to 30 degrees prevails from North British America southward over Montana. The storm area or low barometer is more prominent this morning than it was last night, and for that reason it will most undoubtedly pass northward.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 11.—Signal-service Observer Lyons says snow was reported this morning from Ft. Assiniboine, Mont. It is the first snow of the season in the United States, reported by the signal service.

Temperature ranging from 28 to 30 degrees prevails from North British America southward over Montana. The storm area or low barometer is more prominent this morning than it was last night, and for that reason it will most undoubtedly pass northward.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 11.—Signal-service Observer Lyons says snow was reported this morning from Ft. Assiniboine, Mont. It is the first snow of the season in the United States, reported by the signal service.

Temperature ranging from 28 to 30 degrees prevails from North British America southward over Montana. The storm area or low barometer is more prominent this morning than it was last night, and for that reason it will most undoubtedly pass northward.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 11.—Signal-service Observer Lyons says snow was reported this morning from Ft. Assiniboine, Mont. It is the first snow of the season in the United States, reported by the signal service.

Temperature ranging from 28 to 30 degrees prevails from North British America southward over Montana. The storm area or low barometer is more prominent this morning than it was last night, and for that reason it will most undoubtedly pass northward.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 11.—Signal-service Observer Lyons says snow was reported this morning from Ft. Assiniboine, Mont. It is the first snow of the season in the United States, reported by the signal service.

Temperature ranging from 28 to 30 degrees prevails from North British America southward over Montana. The storm area or low barometer is more prominent this morning than it was last night, and for that reason it will most undoubtedly pass northward.

POTOMAC WINS AGAIN

Flatbush Stakes at Sheepshead Bay Won by the Speedy Two-Year-Old.

SHEEPSHEAD BAY, Sept. 11.—It rained steadily all afternoon, but notwithstanding this a very fair crowd was in attendance. The card presented was one of the best of the meeting.

First Race—For three-year-olds; a sweepstake of $50 each, with $1,000 added; seven furlongs. Worth won easily; Druidess beat Reclaire a length for the place. Time, 1:30.

Second Race—A handicap sweepstake of $25 if declared a winner before 1:00 added; one and one-eighth mile. Cousin Jeems won by half a length, while Diabolo beat Benedictine three lengths for the place. Time, 1:53 1/2.

Third Race—The Flatbush stakes; a sweepstake for two-year-olds, with $