THEOBEB AND OTHERS SPEAK

They Plainly Tell Workingmen Their Interests are with Republicans.

Railway Men Give Browning an Indorsement—The Debt Each Voter Has to Bear—A Democratic Scheme—Political Notes.

The Republican meeting of workingmen held last night at Columbia Hall, corner of Delaware and McCarty streets, was well attended, but a number of young Democratic hoodlums in the rear part of the hall annoyed the speakers for some time until they were suppressed. The meeting was called to order by Wm. Milford, county committeeman, who introduced as the first speaker George Harvey. That gentleman made a good-natured, neighborly speech, specially addressed to the Democrats, and closed with a eulogy of the Republican party for the things it had done for the benefit of the working people of the county.

The next speaker was George H. Theobe, of Covington, Ky., the workman who, in 1886, clearly defeated John C. Carlisle for Congress in the Sixth Kentucky district, but was defrauded of his office and denied the benefit of an investigation of the election frauds, notwithstanding the fact that thousands of workingmen had petitioned for the investigation. Mr. Theobe laid the facts before the meeting, and showed the treatment that had been accorded him by Congressmen Bynum and Shively and Senator Voorhees. He showed how Mr. Bynum, who makes great pretensions to being the workingman's friend, had brought this case when the intimation came that the investigation was not desired by the blue-blooded Carlisle. He called attention to the fact that the present Congress had passed five measures for the benefit of laboring people, and that the preceding Democratic Congress had done nothing.

Mr. Theobe was followed by Abraham J. Mankin, a carpenter, and representative of organized labor, who is a candidate upon the Republican ticket for Joint Representative for the counties of Marion, Hendricks and Shelby. Mr. Mankin declared himself in all things a champion of labor, and asked for the support of all who believed in the cause of workingmen.

The next speaker was Mr. David F. Kennedy, the well-known stone-cutter, who made an interesting talk on the tariff. He said that Mr. Kennedy, "is the duty of a citizen your duty as a citizen is to form yourselves on the questions at issue. Henry George made use of the remark that he rode on a wagon as long as it was going his way, and that way it went in politics. I am a workman, and I ride in the party wagon as long as it is going my way. And I try to know the way that I am going. I was once a Democrat, but I am opposed to that party because it has always opposed reform movements. Grover Cleveland said the only way to save the country from destruction was to reduce the tariff in order to reduce the surplus. But the Democrats did not do it, and the Republicans did not reduce the revenue, but they were not allowed the country to go to destruction. In fact, the business interests of this country were never better than now. The dire consequences that were to come if the tariff was not reduced did not come, and we still go on prospering. I read in the evening News to-night that the principal object of the tariff is to protect the farmer. The Democrats tell us that all our living is increased by the tariff, that it is killing the farmer and we are all in the soup together. You and I know that to be untrue. We do not feel the weight of the tariff at all, and we do certainly feel the benefits of it. The people who are injured are not on this side of the Atlantic. Keeping up industries in this country and the people employed is worth all it costs.

"Employing one thousand men," continued the speaker, "are employed in this city through some industry fostered and encouraged by the tariff, either one big factory or four smaller ones; it does not matter. These one thousand men furnish the means for 5,000 persons to live. So, here are 5,000 people by virtue of this factory or factories. They have a chance to live they could not otherwise have. This means 1,000 homes to live in; it means twenty groceries, eight drug stores, eight dry-goods stores, two stove stores, several shoe stores, three furniture stores, several churches and school-houses, together with preachers, doctors and school-teachers. Additional value is given to real estate and the community is built up. Suppose you were to come down the street and find English, French and American goods on the shelves in a store at the same price what would follow? If only half as many American goods were sold as had been sold before, the factories would soon begin to run on half time or lay off half their men. Trade-unions would do little good in a case of that kind. Wages are advanced or hours shortened when men are competing with each other to get a chance to work. When you divide up industries with foreign countries you make improvement in condition of labor and wages impossible. I tell you men, you stand-point from which to consider these questions is that of home and family. Look from that stand-point and see if free trade will pay."

The speakers were frequently applauded, and the listeners left the hall at the adjournment of the meeting expressing a keen interest in talking among themselves about what they had heard.

Twenty-one counties were supplied with ballots yesterday, making thirty-seven in all. Two days remain in which the county clerks can, under the law, call or send for them. The representatives of the various counties reporting yesterday were brought face to face with the same difficulties regarding the transportation of the ballots that beset the first comers. Most of them came with empty satchels of all sizes in which they expected to store away their ballots. One clerk sauntered in with a small hand-bag and was confronted by two hundred pounds of material which he was calmly formed belonged to his county. He procured a big box and packed satchel and tickets in it. Another was not going to let a little thing of that sort bother him, and having his ballot in a box in two bulky bundles, put them on his shoulder and staggered away toward the Union Station under their weight. To-day and to-morrow must be the remainder of the ballots disposed of according to law, and a rush is looked for at the close of the allotted time.

Following are the number of tickets apportioned to each, and the names of the clerks or deputies receiving them: Jennings, 7,470; Clerks: Inby, S. Wagner, Boone, Porter, S. Reagan; Perry, 11,000; Deputy: E. F. Cummings; Putnam, 11,800; Clerk: J. W. Lee; Clinton, 15,200; Deputy: D. A. Coulter; Hendricks, 10,800; Deputy: Richard F. Harkness; Elkhart, 20,750; Deputy: A. S. Zook; Switzerland, 6,710; Clerk: D. B. Lee; Tippecanoe, 25,000; Clerk: H. C. Tinney; Shelby, 11,110; Clerk: Thomas S. Jones; Lake, 14,975; Clerk: George I. Marshall; Warren, 5,800; Clerk: Isaiah Smith; Marshall, 13,950; Clerk: D. A. Snyder; Bartholomew, 11,570; Clerk: G. E. Miller; Adams, 9,000; Clerk: J. D. Hale; Posey, 10,540; Clerk: Oliver N. Freitage; Jefferson, 12,480; Deputy: G. S. Taylor; Henry, 15,130; Clerk: Benjamin S. Parker; Tipton, 10,300; Clerk: James M. Hildreth; Porter, 4,570; James K. Drapier; Johnson, 10,000; Clerk: David Fitzgibbon.

Yesterday an old grocer drew a copy of the Sentinel from his pocket and pointed out the following headline: "The poor man will go without his tomatoes; caused by the robber tariff of the monopolists." Then he read to a Journal reporter from that sheet the following: "The tariff on tin has advanced everything but in cans. Take a two-pound can of tomatoes, which, under the old tariff, was bought at wholesale at $1 a dozen and sold by the retailer to the consumer at 10 cents a can. Now under the new tariff the same cans will cost to the retailer $1.25 a dozen, and he will sell them to the consumer at 15 cents a can."

growers and operators of canning factories they set prices and contracted their tomatoes. They can be bought in the market at 92 cents to 95 cents a dozen for three-pound standard goods. The tomato growers sold them at 30 cents a bushel to the canning factories. Tomatoes will be sold in three-pound cans this winter at 10 cents. I should not be surprised if they sold at a lower price than three-penny cans for a number of months. No matter how they handle these goods they will lay in any great stock of them, as they are likely to be even lower in the spring. There need be no scare about tomatoes.

The repeated assertions of the Sentinel that John W. Browning, the Republican candidate for county auditor, is what is known in organized labor circles as a "scab," have been repeatedly disproved. Railroad men who have investigated the charge find that there is nothing in it, and detail as follows the circumstances, which the Democrats distort:

To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: I wish to state that the statement a place in your paper, so a wrong may be righted. Some charges have been made to the effect that John W. Browning had been a scab in the coal-mining industry, and that he had been a scab in the railroad industry. I wish to state that the statement a place in your paper, so a wrong may be righted. President Taylor and Secretary Gresham, of the Lincoln League of the State, a few weeks ago sent out letters to bring that useful force into the campaign. Responses have come from all local organizations, and the general opinion of the reports is that they are doing their utmost in having the people of the State supplied with Republican literature. The results have been most encouraging, and the meetings of the subordinate leagues are all well attended.

Each ticket, under the law, must be given in the initials of the polling clerks and not those of the county clerk. The Hon. Ferd Winter and Major John B. Glover will speak at Siskinard's Hall, West Indianapolis, Friday evening, at 7:30 o'clock. "Some funny things about the tariff," said druggist Sloan. "A certain line of English goods has been offered to me since the passage of the McKinley bill at a reduction of 25 per cent."

The Bowen-Merrill Company Again Takes a Place Among Washington-Street Dealers. The Bowen-Merrill Company began business again yesterday on Washington street, in its new quarters in the Iron Block. The time of this opening was just seven months and five days from that of the fire which was attended by the disaster that has its place in local history. The Iron Block has been remodeled to suit the company's uses, and thousands of visitors were there yesterday, the capacious and handsome store-rooms winning general comment for their attractiveness.

A very comprehensive map of the election precincts of Marion county, and one understood at a glance, has been issued by W. B. Burford. It is a reduced photo-lithographic copy of the official map of the divisions of the precincts that hangs in the County Commissioners' office. Burford, backed by a request from the chairman of the Democratic and Republican county and State central committees, went to the commissioners with a proposition to supply each precinct with these maps, but they refused to incur the expense. The descriptions of the precincts as reported by the commissioners and advertised in the Journal and Sentinel and by a few posters throughout the county have been found to be incorrect in many particulars, and it is not surprising that the voters who find out the precinct in which they live, that necessitates his looking through all the precincts for the street on which he lives. The official description is about as cumbersome as the election law, but a map readily gives one the information he desires.

The latest scheme of the Democrats to take voters from the Republican ticket is to induce voters of the latter party to move from one precinct to another, thus distracting them. This evasion of the election law is being practiced in several counties of the State, substantial inducements being held out to the Republicans to change their residence now that only a few days remain before election. The law requires the residence of thirty days in a precinct, and any voter moving now from one precinct to another loses his vote. The Democrats seem to go on the principle that if they cannot succeed in buying Republican voters the next best thing is to disfranchise them. The growing popularity of the Republican ticket is causing the Democratic leaders so much uneasiness that they are likely to resort to any and every measure to stem the tide which has set in so strong against them.

A Democrat who desires to vote the ticket of that party, with the exception of the five Representatives, and wants to give two of the Republican Representatives his vote, writes to the official description in an attempt to how he shall stamp his ticket. He should state the name of every man he wishes to vote for.

This and to-morrow evening there will be Republican meetings in several places in order to cover as much of the county as possible. To-night the meetings and speakers will be as follows: Bridgeport, school-house, John L. Griffith, 7:30; No. 3 school-house, Franklin township, Hiram B. Howard and George Harvey, 7:30; Limbo, No. 11 school-house, Pike township, C. L. Holstein and Ernest Keith, 7:30; No. 3 school-house, Warren township, John L. McMaster, 7:30; corner East and Lower Meridian streets, Chester Bradford and Parke Daniels, 7:30; South Calvary Church, corner of Morris and Maple streets, Wm. D. McCoy, Elder J. M. Horton, Elder Charles W. Williams, Elder Simmons and Jacob Franklin. To-morrow night the meetings will be in Franklin township, New Bethel, Hiram B. Howard and George Harvey, 7:30; M. Center township, West Indianapolis, Siskinard's Hall, Ferdinand Winter and John B. Glover, 7:30; Washington township, J. M. Horton, Elder Charles W. Williams, Weir, 7:30; Washington township, No. 7 school-house, Geo. Harvey and Chas. Wiltse, 7:30; Warren township, Irvington school-house, T. S. Rollins, 7:30; M.

"I see in an afternoon paper," remarked a South Meridian-street dry-goods man, "that a dealer says he has laid in a supply of goods and will avail himself of any advance the McKinley bill will give him in imported wares. He seemed very bitter against the bill, and I wondered if such a consequence would take advantage of the market. I wondered whether he had advanced the wages of his employees in proportion to this alleged advance in his goods. As a matter of fact, that merchant is either a myth, or a feathered free-trader, or a Democratic politician. Go into the houses on this street that handle any imported goods at all, and inquire of ten persons whom you interrogate will tell you the chances are that a break will come in the prices of imported goods, because New York imports have over-purchased. The result will be that a few months from now we will see some bargains in imported goods that are not now generally expected."

The county ballots will not be ready for distribution before to-morrow or Saturday. "We could not begin work on them until Tuesday," said Deputy Clerk O'Brien, yesterday. "The law gave us until Monday night for petitions to be filed for party representation on the tickets, and hence the copy could not be put in the hands of the printers until the 17th of the month. We received a few tickets to-day, but there were some changes to be made and it was sent back." Only three parties will be represented on the ticket—Republican, Democratic and Prohibition. The People's party filed no petition and therefore will not be included.
