

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

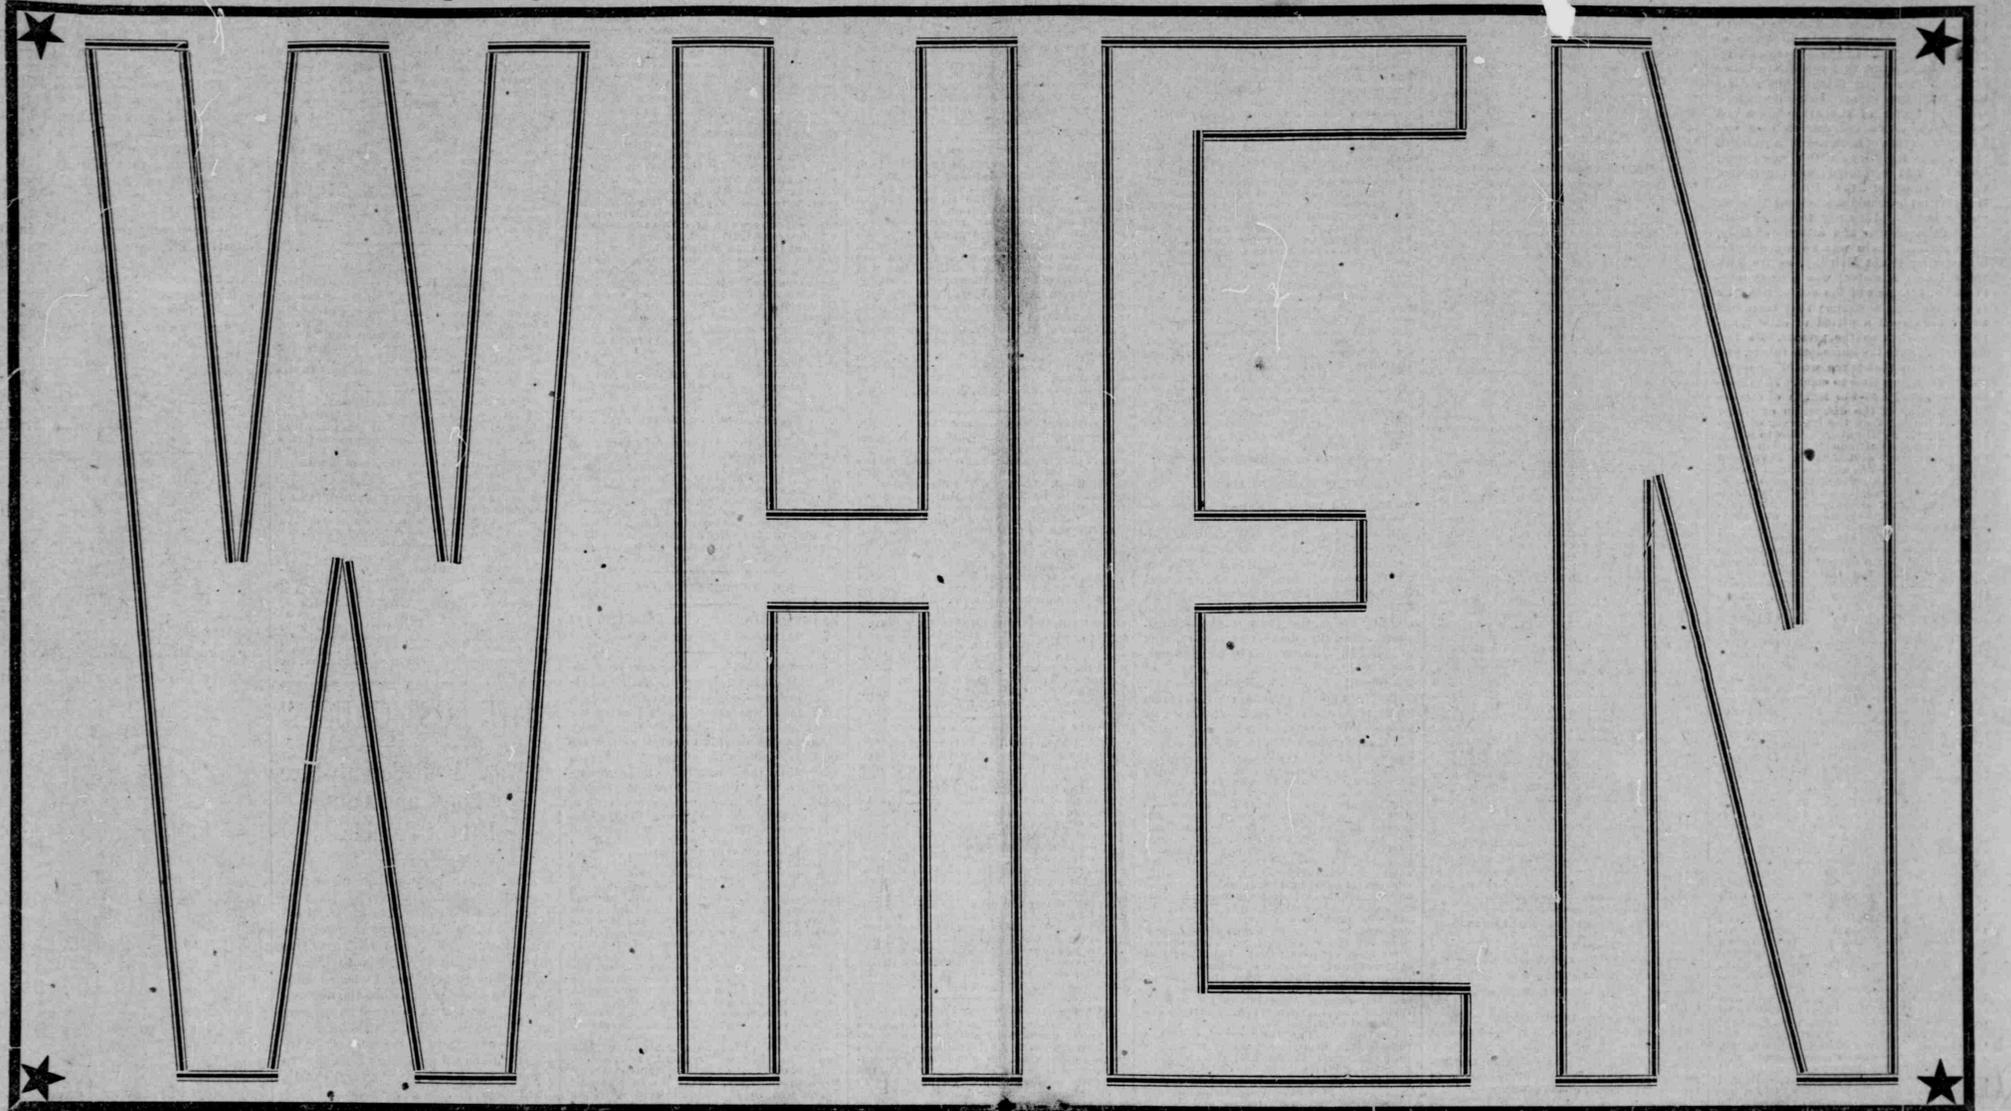

INDIANAPOLIS, SUNDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 9, 1890—SIXTEEN PAGES.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

Warmer, cloudy weather, with occasional rains.

TO-DAY WE ARE GOING TO TALK TO YOU ABOUT HATS

We haven't been saying very much about them of late. Didn't need to, in fact; for we have been crowded with business in this department. But we have so many things that you are really entitled to know something in detail about WHEN HATS. We buy everything from first hands, in large quantities; that is to say, we buy, not from the other words, WE ARE JOBBERS. That's a big advantage which the

Gets, and we give our patrons the benefit. At the When you get a Hat upon as good terms as the ordinary retailer gets a dozen. This is one reason why we are so busy in our Hat Department. Another advantage which will commend itself to the thinking individuals. We operate a great many stores. This gives us an inside track in handling Specialties, Novelties and Drives. Our trade is courted by the live factories of America, and we are always abreast of the times in styles and variety. We have a thorough knowledge of the trade, its demands and requirements. The department is managed by gentlemen whom you all know—who have been with you for more than twenty years as Hatters. Our Specialties for this week will be for Monday and Tuesday, about 200 dozen Men's Caps for winter wear at 49c each. This lot of goods is perfect, new goods in a variety of shapes and patterns and are regularly worth $1.25, $1 and 75c, but caps are not moving in proportion to other goods and this price is to start them. Another Specialty this week will be about 100 Boys' warm caps that are 50 and 75-cent goods; we make them 24c. This will fix 100 boys at 24c per boy. We will close this talk on Hats by saying that we will sell this week a lot of Children's Knit Caps for 10 cents each. You know that the prices have been from 20 to 50c. We are only going to mention clothes this week, but you know that that is our principal business and that we are showing more novelties in Overcoats than anybody at the WHEN.

Trusses

And everything in Surgical Instruments and Appliances. W. B. ALMSTRONG & CO.'S Surgical Instrument House, 92 South Illinois st.

Go to the Southern Winter Resorts

THE BIG 4 ROUTE, And forget to go to the polls. Whether this is or is not true, there is no doubt that the Big 4 is the best and only line from Indianapolis entering the Grand Central Depot in Cincinnati, and the only route by which passengers avoid an out-door train.

READ, READ, Opportunity of a Lifetime.

MIDDLESBOROUGH, KY., LAND SALES Commencing Monday, Nov. 10, 1890.

C, H. & D. R. R.

will, on Nov. 7 and 8, sell tickets from Indianapolis to Middlesborough and return for $10.20, good to return until Nov. 23. Here is an opportunity of which all the investor, stockholder, mechanic and laborer should take advantage.

LADIES ARE INVITED

To attend the opening JAPANESE BAZAAR, 45 North Illinois Street, Saturday, November 8.

THE SUNDAY JOURNAL Will be sent to any address for $2 PER ANNUM.

KRAKAUER PIANOS

THE Krakauer is one of the most carefully made and neatly constructed Pianos on the market and the result of many years' careful thought and study. Unlike many other pianos it does not grow tinny or wiry by use, and its freedom from rattles, jingles and sticking keys are a constant source of satisfaction, both to dealers who have sold them and to satisfied purchasers. The tone is both powerful singing and sweet, and will bear a critical comparison with that of any made. The touch is way in advance of the average piano, is both light and elastic, and has wonderful precision and repetition. The treble has that full bell tone so much sought after but seldom found. Tuners prefer to tune them, because they can be readily adjusted to the finest harmony, and stand in tune for longer periods than other pianos, and because the scale is so correct that it can be tuned to absolute clearness of tone, when other pianos are full of false notes, that defy the skill of the best tuner to get them into clear harmony, and besides causing him unnecessary work. A piano that will tune without a false note is a joy to the tuner seldom found, but realized in the Krakauer. Fully warranted for six years. To be had in magnificent cases of Walnut, Mahogany, Oak, Ebony and Rosewood, and all fancy woods, finely polished. We cordially invite you to call at our Warerooms and examine the Krakauer Pianos, as well as our immense stock of Pianos and Organs. Our motto is: "To furnish the best possible instruments for the least possible money." We have the best facilities in Indianapolis for the repairing of Pianos and Organs, and for Tuning.

PEARSON'S MUSIC HOUSE 82 & 84 North Pennsylvania St., Indianapolis, Ind.

STRONG POINT FOR PETTIT

Testimony of Dr. Yeager, the State's Best Witness, Considerably Weakened.

Dr. Black, the Consulting Physician, Tells a Different Story—Other Evidence Taken in the Famous Murder Trial.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. CRAWFORDSVILLE, Nov. 8.—The Pettit murder trial still absorbs the time of the courts. The defense rushes witnesses through, and the State does very little cross-examining. James B. Clew was superintendent of the Battle-ground camp-meeting in 1889, and said that Pettit, who was secretary, was kept very busy assisting him and settling up with the gate-keepers, and Pettit's duties were more arduous than usually is the case, from the fact that the president, vice-president and treasurer were absent.

John Kerr and wife gave in some testimony in regard to the sickness of Mrs. Pettit and about that church festival, tending to show that Pettit did not do anything out of the ordinary. Dr. J. F. Riffle, of Veederburg, has had three cases of idiopathic tetanus, one there last winter and two at Newtown in 1889. One patient at Newtown died. Mrs. S. Vater, of Lafayette, went to Indianapolis with Mrs. Whitehead on May 27, 1889, and these two were shopping next morning from 10 to 12, during which time it was charged that Pettit and Mrs. Whitehead were seen walking together on Washington street. Pettit was not with them. Amos Snyder, railroad agent at West Point, said that Pettit was right in starting with the remains of his wife when he did, as he saved twenty-four hours' time in arriving at his destination.

Dr. D. R. Black, the physician who was called in to consult with Dr. Yeager, is a graduate of the Physicians and Surgeons' College at Indianapolis. He first saw Mrs. Pettit at 2 o'clock on Wednesday morning, the day she died. After the arrival of Dr. Yeager he examined the patient and found the temperature 103, pulse 125, tongue dry and coated, with a gaseous disturbance of the bowels, which were very sore when touched. The muscles only around the bowels were slightly rigid, and she was unconscious and could not be aroused by speaking loudly or shaking. He and Dr. Yeager held a consultation in the yard, and Dr. Yeager told him all about the case, and they both agreed that it was malarial poisoning. Dr. Black says that Dr. Yeager never said a word then about strychnine poisoning for convulsions. (Dr. Yeager, when on the stand, said he did.) Dr. Black then told Pettit that his wife would hardly live through the day, and if she did she would probably have typhoid fever. Dr. Black and Yeager had agreed on this point, and this lady carbolic acid rags were placed around the room. Dr. Black said that the stupor in which Mrs. Pettit rested was the result of malarial poisoning, because it lasted too long for anæsthetics.

HE PRECIPITATED A RIOT

Procession of Democratic Jollifiers at Fairmount Attacked by a Negro.

Ran Amuck with Pistol and Club—One Man Fatally Shot, Four Others Wounded, and the Ruffian Himself Given Two Bullets.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FAIRMOUNT, Ind., Nov. 8.—The Democratic jollification meeting held here tonight to celebrate the results of Tuesday's elections ended in a bloody riot. Thomas Udley, a negro of herculean proportions, who came here from Anderson a few days ago to work as a hod-carrier on the new school building, quarreled with William Campbell, who was marching in the procession. Cornelius Paul, a white teamster, came to Campbell's assistance, and the negro, with club and revolver, attacked the whole procession, shooting recklessly into the crowd and laying about wildly with his club. Great confusion and excitement prevailed. Paul was shot in the head and cannot recover. William Corn, white, and Jerry Frazier, colored, both received bullets in the leg from Udley's pistol, while he himself was shot in the back and head, though neither wound is likely to prove serious. Campbell suffered a slight flesh wound in the arm, and Jim Berry's face was cut by a bullet.

Udley was finally overpowered and dragged off to the city prison, with the mob howling at his heels. A telegram was sent to Sheriff McFeely, at Marion, and he came in haste to protect the prisoner. Udley was turned over to him, and was at once got off of town and is now safely on his way to the county jail at Marion, a very fortunate circumstance, for excitement is running very high here. All of the wounded will recover without difficulty, except Paul, who can live but a few hours. He leaves a wife and four children in destitute circumstances.

Accidentally Killed His Wife.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 8.—Frank Keller, of Linton, has been bothered by dogs and had been shooting at them. A day or so ago, while cleaning his revolver, which he thought was empty, it was accidentally discharged. His wife was standing near, and was shot in the right side, from which she has since died. Mr. Keller is left with three small children and is almost distracted with grief over the accident.

Killed by a Fall.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Nov. 8.—Walter Gladstone, aged ten, fell from a second-story window to-day to the sidewalk and was killed.

Death of a Richmond Councillman.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. RICHMOND, Ind., Nov. 8.—Councillman George S. Thomas died this morning. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon under the auspices of the Odd-

ON THE EVE OF HIS WEDDING.

Suicide of a Faithless Young Man Who Was to Have Been Married Yesterday.

CHICAGO, Nov. 8.—A strange story was told to-day at the inquest on Edward C. Hunt, a young pharmacist, who, in a saloon last night, blew out his brains with a revolver. The story is that Hunt was to marry to-day a Miss Monte Della McCrosky, said to be the daughter of a cattle king residing in the new State of Washington. According to the testimony Hunt left his home in Garnett, Kan., for a trip to the far North-west about a year ago to benefit his health. On the road he met Miss McCrosky and the acquaintance was followed by an engagement not long after their arrival at Tacoma. Although no ceremony had been performed the relationship of the pair during the time they were in Tacoma was that of man and wife. Shortly after Hunt's departure the young lady left her home and went to visit friends in Iowa, where she gave birth to a baby boy, which, however, lived but a short time. She had heard but once or twice from her recent lover in the interim, and now determined to hunt him up. Ten days ago she arrived in Chicago, met Hunt on the street, and demanded of him that he marry her. Hunt agreed to do so, and the wedding was fixed for to-day. Monday night Hunt failed to appear at his apartments, and it was not until Wednesday that his room-mate, G. W. Rogers met him for the first time in three days. On being questioned as to his whereabouts the two preceding nights, Hunt related the above story to his friend.

Brakeman Decapitated.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. FORT WAYNE, Ind., Nov. 8.—Frank Devill, a switchman employed in the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago yards, fell off a train this afternoon and was instantly killed by the wheels. He was trying to set a brake, when the handle came off and Devill was thrown on the rails. His head was cut off and the body dragged two hundred yards.

Took Poison While Inmate.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ANGOLA, Ind., Nov. 8.—Mrs. Rantz Deal committed suicide last night by taking poison while temporarily insane.