

the crisis might have been avoided. The split had frustrated the American nation, which it was useless now to renew while Ireland was in her present state of distraction.

A Letter from Gladstone. LONDON, Dec. 21.—Mr. Gladstone, in his letter to Sir Robert Peel's grandson (Speaker Peel's son), who is the home-rule candidate in the Marylebone district, says: "For the first time since commencing in Parliament the struggle under O'Connell, the Irish party, bent on a constitutional and effective scheme of home rule, is looking to Great Britain to pronounce judgment in the contest between it and the minority of the seceders, under O'Connell's leadership."

Said to Be Losing Confidence. LONDON, Dec. 22.—The Daily News Kilkenny special says: "Mr. Parnell is fast losing his feeling of certainty of success. The meeting at Johnswell was comparatively sparsely attended, and there was but little applauding. Mr. Parnell's speech was dignified, but sounded like the knell of a lost cause. His speech at Kilkenny in the morning was delivered under great excitement, and he was exhausted at its close. The McCarthyites delivered thirty-six speeches during the day. They covered the whole constituency with at least one member of Parliament in each district. This was in accordance with Mr. Davitt's plan to have the last word everywhere. Mr. Davitt claims 1,500 majority for Kennedy."

Says England Is Ireland's Only Hope. KILKENNY, Dec. 21.—In his speech at Goresbridge Mr. Davitt said that if Sir John Parnell was defeated the Irish people would no longer be able to count upon an alliance with any English statesman. Parnell continued, but in desperation appealed to the hillside men, to the Fenian sentiment of the country. It would be criminal folly for him or any other man to ask young men to face the overwhelming might of England in the field. Parnell himself would be the last man to lead the way to this policy of violence and destruction. He was making his appeal in the hope of snatching a victory in Kilkenny.

Awaiting To-Day's Result. LONDON, Dec. 21.—Monday will undoubtedly be an exciting day both in London and Kilkenny. While the official result will not be known until Tuesday it is thought that on Monday night a fair idea of the result can be obtained. The polls will be open until 8 o'clock P. M.

Mrs. O'Shea Has Plenty of Money. LONDON, Dec. 21.—Mrs. O'Shea will spend the winter in Paris. There seems now to be no doubt that the difference in regard to her aunt's estate is in the way of amicable settlement, Mrs. O'Shea being in possession of ample funds from some source.

DISASTER IN THE ARGENTINE. Canal Bursts Its Banks, Sweeping Away Many Homes—Over a Hundred Lives Lost.

BUENOS AYRES, Dec. 21.—A disaster has occurred at Cordova, where the canal has burst its embankments and destroyed hundreds of houses. One hundred lives are reported to be lost. General Roca, the Minister of the Interior, has gone to the scene to superintend measures of relief.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS. Fear Drives Chinese Villagers to the Commission of a Horrible Crime.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 21.—Chinese advisers report the execution of sentences on the villagers near Shanghai for the cruel murder of fourteen salt inspectors, and the burning of the bodies of the wounded and dead. Last March these salt inspectors made a raid on a village. They wore no uniforms, and the villagers mistook them for pirates. The inspectors seized a pile of contraband salt which they found by the side of a house, and while removing it to their boats they were attacked by villagers and overpowered. Nearly all were struck by blows, but a visit to their boats showed the villagers that they had attacked government officers, and fearful of the severe punishment they decided to burn the boat, and with it the bodies of the wounded inspectors, to remove all traces of the crime. So they carried the injured men to the boat, and despite their entreaties set fire to it and burned the whole. The chief criminal was sentenced to decapitation, but committed suicide before the day arrived, according to the report. He was exhumed and the head struck off and exhibited as a warning to the public. Four others were strangled and four exiled after heavy fines.

Cable Notes. The election of Deputy Bamshad as burgomaster of Danzig is confirmed.

Eyraud has appealed to the Court of Cassation against the sentence of death pronounced on him.

The Berlin Volkblatt warns German carpenters against going to Chicago to take the place of the strikers there.

It is semi-officially denied that Lord Salisbury has taken any step for or against the British South African Company in regard to their occupation of Mafeking.

Emperor William drove in the Teterden Linden avenue yesterday in the handsome sleigh presented him by the Czar. This is the first time the Emperor has used the sleigh, which was consequently an object of much interest to the crowd that thronged the avenue.

The Emperor William is said to contemplate making Alsace-Lorraine a province, not only separate, but to a certain degree autonomous, to be ruled by a prince of the house of Hohenzollern. It is understood that the matter is now being discussed by the Cabinet, and a plan may probably be submitted to the Reichstag, which body under imperial direction, has control of the conquered territory.

WORSE THAN AN EEL. Turlington, the Notorious Murderer and Train Robber, Again Escapes from Jail.

BOONEVILLE, Mo., Dec. 21.—John Turlington, the condemned murderer of Sheriff Cranmer, who recently escaped and was recaptured, contrived to cut a hole in the top of his cell, which adjoins the roof, and by seeping his body last night crawled through, and by means of a rope, made of one of his blankets, reached the ground. He stole one of the sheriff's horses and rode off. He was discovered this afternoon near Ottsville, concealed in a corn-chock. He will probably be brought to the jail here and left there for safe keeping until his extradition. His case is now before the Supreme Court.

INDIANA AND ILLINOIS NEWS

Women Win by a Large Majority in the Northwestern Methodist Conference.

Probably Fatal Saloon Brawl—Shot by a Gambler—Three Suicides—Old Man's Neck Broken by an Experimental Twist.

Complete Vote of the Northwest Conference on the Admission of Women.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Dec. 21.—The vote in the Methodist churches in the Northwest Indiana Conference upon the question of admitting women to the General Conference shows that out of a membership of 31,002 only 5,400 were cast. Of the votes cast, 4,037 favored the proposition, and 1,363 were opposed, thus making a majority of 2,674 in favor of the question. The largest vote was in the Greencastle district, 1,043; and the smallest vote was 708, in the Valparaiso district. It is the opinion of one of the presiding elders that as the vote cast is so small, when compared with the membership, it will indicate nothing as to the actual will of the church, and that the General Conference will hardly adopt the "new departure" upon the meager vote that has been cast throughout the church. The main cause for the small vote seems to have been the fact that interest in the question submitted was wanting, and therefore only a little over one-sixth of the members in the conference voted. The following are the full returns from each district:

Table with columns: District, No. of Churches, No. of Members, No. of Votes, etc.

Pettit's Best Point Vanishes.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Dec. 21.—One of the main reasons for granting a new trial to W. F. Pettit, at Crawfordsville, seems to have vanished. George Boyland, of Garfield, who made affidavit that Fred Imel, one of the jurors, had expressed an opinion before the trial, now comes and makes another affidavit to the effect that it might be possible that he was mistaken in thinking that Imel had made use of the expression, as there were several in the store at the time, and it might have been one of the other men. Eight men have also made affidavit that the reputation of Boyland for truth and veracity is bad, and Joe Thomas has made affidavit that upon the occasion alluded to Imel did not say a word about the case. Thomas also says that he made the remark that Boyland credits to Imel. Thus one of the strong points in favor of a new trial is probably injured beyond recognition.

Bloody Saloon Brawl.

MADISON, Dec. 21.—The usual Saturday night or early Sunday morning blood spilling occurred. This time in an East Main-street saloon and gambling-house which has been the scene of at least two murders. About daylight this morning Victor Humboldt, a well-known Frenchman, mender, Michael Toole, an Irish miller, and John Weiner, a German saddletree-maker, who had been drinking heavily, became involved with unknown persons in a fight, and all three were knocked down and terribly beaten. Humboldt was carried home disabled, bleeding and mangled, and is in a frightful condition, being hurt internally. Toole and Weiner are also laid up, but neither is supposed to be fatally injured. No arrests and no clues.

Gambler's Quarrel and Shoot.

HARTFORD CITY, Dec. 21.—Last night Jacob White, a gambler, of this city, and Ben Beal, an ex-railroader, quarreled. The two had been partners in a poker "joint," and Beal claimed White owed him a balance coming from the sale of his share. White reached for his pistol and Beal ran. White fired two shots, the first taking effect. White escaped. The ball, a forty-two-caliber, struck Beal under the left arm, and he was killed. The wound was fatal. Despite the evident gravity of the wound Beal has been on the streets to-day.

No Tidings of Lepper.

MADISON, Dec. 21.—The whereabouts of A. F. Lepper, the young carriage-trimmer who disappeared ten days ago, remains shrouded in mystery. Relatives from Ohio have been here all the week sending messages and searching parties in all directions, sparing no pains or expense. Word comes from Chicago, that a man who the man found there answering his description is not Lepper, greatly disappointing all his friends, who begin to fear foul play and even death.

Ended His Life with Strychnine.

MARION, Dec. 21.—Last night, at 11 o'clock, Thomas B. Jeffries, an employe of the North Marion paper-mill, committed suicide by taking a large quantity of strychnine. He lived fifteen minutes after swallowing the poison. The cause was domestic tribulation. He came here three years ago from Missouri. He leaves a wife and two children.

Sulphur Springs at Paoli.

PAOLI, Dec. 21.—At a depth of 225 feet, Paoli has secured a strong flow of sulphur water, equal to anything at the famous French Lick or West Baden springs. The water is now flowing out several inches above the casing. When the fresh water is secured it will be sulphur water, but not less efficacious than the renowned Pluto.

Suicide by Drowning.

EVANSVILLE, Dec. 21.—Robert Aulson, a prominent citizen of Oakland City, Gibson county, committed suicide, at 2 o'clock this morning, by jumping into a mill-pond and drowning. He arose from bed to call a physician for his wife, but did not do so. He has been drinking heavily of late.

Trogon Jury Disagrees.

TERRE HAUTE, Dec. 21.—After twenty-six hours in the jury-room the jury in the case of Henry Trogon, for the murder of Hayes Sanders, near the State line last June, yesterday returned unable to agree and were discharged. Seven voted for conviction and five for acquittal.

Victim of the Suicide Epidemic.

Jesse Austin, of Frankfort, a brakeman on the Clover-leaf road, was crushed to death by cars.

Rev. Samuel D. Miller, of Fort Wayne, died from injuries suffered by a fall down stairs, three weeks ago.

The Central House at Lawrenceburg was badly damaged by fire. It is owned by Edward Hunt, of Rising Sun.

A company has been organized to boom Jonesboro, after the style of Elwood, having secured options on about 1,500 acres of land.

with qualifying words. The sentence is going to have the farmer arrested for provoke.

Nevin Davis, aged twenty-one, committed suicide by hanging at the Princeton Normal Academy. His mind had been unbalanced by hard study.

Rev. James Campbell has been convicted at Columbus of criminal malpractice, with a penalty of three years imprisonment. Miss Anna Hantsman, one of his parishioners, was prosecuting witness.

George Flemming, driving a bread-wagon at Marion, was thrown under the heels of the horses by the breaking of the king-bolt. The frightened horses kicked him a number of times, injuring him. It is feared, beyond recovery.

The Chicago & Erie office at Kent was entered the other night by two masked men, who bound and gagged the agent, W. A. Gardner, and stole the safe of $15 cash. They also deposited the agent of a diamond pin and gold watch.

The teachers of Hancock county held their annual association meeting at Greencastle Friday. Superintendent E. A. Cotton of New Castle, Assistant State Superintendent D. M. Geeting, and Prof. W. J. Bryan, of the State University, were present.

The Republican city convention at Brazil on Saturday night resulted in the nomination of W. D. McCullough as successor of Mayor Jacob Herr, who was recently deposed for inebrity. The Democrats have nominated George A. Klotz, who served as Brazil's first Mayor.

John S. Davidson has been sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for larceny. Davidson was an inmate in the Southern Home at Peru Thursday. When he was dismissed for perjury. The crime for which he was sentenced to two years was stealing money from a comrade.

The sheriff of Perry county, of Gallon, O., has taken out an attachment against the assignee of the buggy firm of Becker & Buser, of Crawfordsville. It is claimed that Becker represented to the company that he owned 100 acres of land, when in fact, the land was in the name of Mrs. Buser. Becker did not know of this, however, until the day of the assignment.

ILLINOIS. Young Cuban Who Claims a Portion of the Land Bloomington Is Built On.

BLOOMINGTON, Dec. 21.—Howard S. Hodson, an attorney at Cape Charles, Va., claims for one Kellogg, that said Kellogg is the rightful owner of 100 acres of land, on which is located a part of this city. He asserts that the land formerly belonged to Charles Kellogg, who, in 1856, moved to Matanzas, Cuba, without deeding the land, and there died, leaving a son, who now comes to America hoping to recover the land. Hodson says the land was sold for tax in 1860, and the title is now in the hands of the State. He asserts that it is not good.

Train Robbery on the F., D. & E. OLNEY, Dec. 21.—A daring robbery took place on the north-bound Peoria, Decatur & Evansville railroad freight train which passed up at 2:30 this morning. At the water-tank, a mile south of this city, the train was cut in two and the engine moved ahead to take water. While the caboose was standing still two men, both masked, entered the engine and took from the hands of conductor Hampton and his brakeman, compelled them to throw up their hands, while one of the robbers robbed them of $50 and their watches.

Fought with a Burglar.

BLOOMINGTON, Dec. 21.—Leander Young, residing near this city, had an exciting encounter with a burglar in an early hour this morning. The burglar attempted to shoot Young, firing at him twice. Young struck him with a chair, knocking the revolver out of his hand, and the burglar fled, leaving the weapon and all valuables behind.

Here's a Queer Murder.

PEORIA, Dec. 21.—James Hannon, who showed a funeral party how to kill a chicken to-day, broke the neck of Patrick Lynn, a man sixty years of age. The entire party were sitting in a saloon after the funeral and Hannon gave the old man's head a slight bump, the fact that the old man was dead did not develop until several hours later, when the party arose to go home.

Brief Mention.

Amos Roberts, a farmer of Fairburg, was found yesterday by the creditors of E. J. Post of Amboy, hanged himself. He was despondent from financial reverses.

Jack and Bill McDonald, prisoners in the jail at Vandalia, overpowered the turnkey while he was giving them their supper, and escaped.

The City Council of Aurora has instructed the county sheriff to serve notice on owners of buildings in Aurora ordering them to comply with the State law relative to fire escapes.

A young man employed on the farm of Noah Knuz, near Cerro Gordo, by mistake attempted to fill a coal-oil lamp from the gasoline can. The fluid ignited, burnt the can severely, but the fact that the old man was dead did not develop until several hours later, when the party arose to go home.

Dr. J. F. Reid, of Decatur, has been elected president of the new Central Illinois Medical Society, which includes Decatur, Bloomington and Peoria. The meetings will be held in the first, second and third weeks in July. There will be six $200.00 prizes, with a grand prize of $1,000.

The marriage of William H. Lapham and Alice Dunlap, of Chicago, has just been made known by an action brought by Mrs. Lapham for alimony. The marriage occurred at Milwaukee Dec. 26, 1889. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lapham were prominent in Chicagoan society until recently, when Mrs. Lapham removed to Grand Rapids with her parents.

Edward Pope, a paper manufacturer of Conowingo, Md., came to Aurora some time ago, and instituted proceedings in the Aurora Circuit Court, which includes Decatur, for the divorce of his wife. A decree had been entered on the judge's docket, when the wife learned of the affair and hastened to Aurora, where she filed a petition for a divorce. The decree set aside, winning her suit yesterday. The wife says that Pope, while on his way to Aurora, stopped off in Ohio to see a woman with whom he was visiting, and gave no intimation of his intentions.

Business Embarrassment.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 21.—At a meeting held yesterday by the creditors of Thomas H. Allen & Co. it was agreed for the firm to resume business and control all assets by giving notes for all liabilities, and a dollar for every dollar of debt, totaling six, twelve, eighteen and twenty-four months. The arrangement is highly satisfactory all around.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Dec. 21.—A fire riner, holding United States bonds, has applied to W. E. Guthrie, of this city, receiver of the Pacific Short-line property in Wyoming. The application was made by the Wyoming Improvement Company, which has expended $2,000,000 in building and equipping the line west of Sioux City. The road has valuable rights-of-way, coal lands and franchises in Wyoming.

Mormons Buy Mexican Lands.

LIMA, O., Dec. 21.—B. C. Faurot, the well-known banker of this city, who is also president of the Columbus, Lima & North-western railroad, largely interested in a railroad enterprise in Mexico, returned home from New York this afternoon, and announced the purchase of a large tract of land with John W. Young, the eldest son of the late Brigam Young, whereby the Mormons come in possession of three million acres of land in the State of Chihuahua. The Mexican government three years ago. Negotiations have been in progress for some time, and were finally closed in New York yesterday. The tract is located in the northern part of Mexico.

Swift Vengeance on a Negro.

JACKSON, Miss., Dec. 21.—News was received here yesterday of a murder and suicide in the town of Prudhoe, Yazoo county. Clarence Martin, a negro of that section, while drunk entered the store of A. Rosenthal and became very abusive and quarrelsome. He refused to leave until he was ordered to get out, when the negro fired at both Rosenthal and his clerk, killing the former. The news of the murder spread rapidly, and a large crowd gathered, and taking the negro to the woods close by, he was hanged and his body riddled with bullets.

BULL'S DEATH A GOOD THING

Gen. Custer's Widow Regards the Killing of the Old Sage with Equanimity.

The Celebrated Chief, Crow-Flies-High, and His Mandans Are Dancing—Revelations of the Messiah Said to Have Been Made.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—It is something of a coincidence that the widow of General Custer has been here the last week at the time when the killing of Sitting Bull and the death of General Terry have been announced. It was Terry who commanded the expedition which culminated in the slaughter of Custer and his little band of heroes, and it was Sitting Bull who conducted the massacre, although he was not directly responsible for Custer's death.

Mrs. Custer was at the breakfast table when she glanced over the newspaper headlines telling of the old chief's death. For a time it put her in a meditative mood and when she did speak it was to share the common expression of late that the country was better off for Sitting Bull's death. She spoke of him as a coward, who liked to map out extensive plans of depredation for the purpose of having others execute them. He was usually in the rear inciting others to do murder and mischief. As a medicine man he had been constantly misleading the Indians into blind superstitions such as the Messiah craze.

Mrs. Custer is here to secure an increase of her pension from $50 to $100 per month, and in this connection it is a significant fact that, while the government has long supplied Sitting Bull and the thousands of Sioux with blankets, rations and ammunition, there is very little supplied to the widows and orphans of those who went down in the Custer tragedy. One of the widows is giving music lessons and teaching dancing and deportment, and by this means adds a meager addition to the $25 which the government gives her in the way of a widow's pension. Dollars as for herself $2 for each of three children.

When the massacre occurred she was thirteen upon her own resources with her children, and she has since that time been a widow. There are many other cases of the same sort, but Mrs. Custer is the only one who receives a special pension by act of Congress. Mrs. Custer's pension is $50 per month, and she is now in the hands of the Pension Bureau, but with the $200 a year which she receives she is obliged to do newspaper and book writing in order to make a comfortable living.

Crow-Flies-High's Got 'Em, Too. BISMARCK, N. D., Dec. 21.—The Indians on the Fort Berthold reservation, unable to any longer stand aside and see their brethren have all the fun to themselves, have at last become affected with the Messiah craze and are indulging in ghost dances with the same vim that characterized other demonstrations. The Bertholds have been the most orderly Indians on the American continent. A private letter received to-day states that some fears are entertained from these hitherto peaceful Indians. They are under the tutelage of several Sioux from Standing Rock, who deserted during the annual visit of the Bertholds to that agency a month ago. They are beginning to act very strangely, and Agent Murphy, desiring to be on the safe side, has asked for troops.

If any serious results should occur these Indians, who are composed of the Crow, Gros Ventre, Mandan, Hidatsa, would notify all the white people on the reservation to leave and that the Indians do not intend to break away from the reservation, but will attempt to hold it against the whites. They want the reservation all to themselves with no white men in their midst to molest them. There is a belief among the Bertholds, under the leadership of the celebrated chief, Crow-Flies-High, located on the Little Missouri, which has never yet yielded obedience to the government. The Mandans have themselves aloof from any intercourse and do not draw subsistence from the government. More fear is felt from the last-named Indians than from the others, but it is seen that, who have so long been the white man's friends.

In Earnest About the Messiah. LAWRENCE, Kan., Dec. 21.—Several of the students at the Haskell Institute, the Indian school here, have received letters from their relatives in the Indian Territory regarding the Messiah craze. One of the letters is from a Caddo chief to his daughter. It is dated Anadarko, and tells of the ghost dances. The chief tells his daughter not to ridicule the coming of the Indians' Christ, for she knows nothing of the wonderful manifestations the Indians have received in their prayers, and she should appear on earth again. He says that maybe some time her Indian instincts will assert themselves, and then she will come back to her people, and the dance and make herself ready to receive the Messiah. The old chief says the belief is confined mostly to the good Indians, and he regrets that the bad ones will not mend their ways and accept the Christ.

Another of the letters is from an uncle to his nephew. This letter also tells of the wonderful revelations that have been made at the ghost dances and of the marvelous interviews that the inspired Indians have had with the Messiah. Some of the inspired Indians, the writer says, have had visions during their trances with dead relatives, who have told them to prepare for the coming of Christ and not treat him as a ghost, but as a man. The writer cautions his nephew not to reject the Messiah until he has attended a ghost dance and had an opportunity to judge himself of the evidences of the coming of Christ.

Canadian Reds Excited. MOOSE JAW, Assiniboia, Dec. 21.—The Sioux Indians here and at Wood Mountain are greatly excited over the killing of Sitting Bull, and a number of armed Indians have crossed the line from the south. The Messiah craze appears to have reached them. Chief Black Bull, now at Wood Mountain, says the whites will soon be exterminated and the Indians have control of the country again.

Ghost Dance Ghost Story. OKLAHOMA, O. T., Dec. 21.—There is no truth in the report that 1,000 Kickapoo are engaged in a ghost dance in the Indian Territory. There are only 300 Kickapoo, all told, and they are on their reservation engaged in their usual peaceful pursuits. Ghost-dancing by other tribes is almost entirely stopped, and no alarm is felt.

Losses by Fire. ATHOL, Mass., Dec. 21.—The most disastrous fire ever known in Athol occurred to-day. The Masonic and Central blocks were completely destroyed, five merchants, the postoffice, Masonic rooms, etc., being burned out. A. C. Porter, George Burham, L. C. Perry and Wm. Connor, of Orange, firemen, were seriously injured by falling walls. Perry was killed. Starbo, fell thirty feet from a ladder, fracturing his skull. The property loss is $135,000; insurance, $75,000.

Muscula, Mont., Dec. 21.—The foundry and machine shops of Rapert, Fisher & Co. burned here last night. Nothing was saved. Loss, $10,000; no insurance.

Jamestown, N. Y., Dec. 21.—The Jamestown Electric Company's factory was destroyed by fire to-day. Loss, $50,000.

Trial of the Mexican Filibusters. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 21.—The jury in the case of Gen. Kusiako Ring, Sandoval and others, charged with attempting to invade Mexico with the purpose of causing a revolution, is still out, and will not render a verdict until to-morrow. The testimony of the witnesses was very brief, and a verdict of guilty is expected. The penalty is fixed for "conducting an armed movement against a friendly power."

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

Advertisement for "Baking Powder" by "The National Tubing Works". It features the text "Baking Powder" in large letters, followed by "ABSOLUTELY PURE" and "WRECKED A PAY-TRAIN".

Diabolical Plot to Waste Human Life for the Purpose of Robbery—Many Injured.

WOODVH, E. Miss., Dec. 21.—A most diabolical and atrocious crime was committed Saturday afternoon in wrecking the pay-train of the L. N. O. & T. on the Woodville branch of that road. The pay-train, after paying off the employes of the road, left here at 4:00 P. M. and had proceeded two and a half miles from this place when the engineer, in turning the curve, saw a man at a distance of forty yards deliberately pull a rail away. He immediately reversed his engine and called for brakes, but it was too late, and ere the echo of his whistle had died away the entire train was a wreck. When the reporter arrived on the scene at night the injured were laid upon the ground near by, while medical aid was prompt in administering to the wounded. As soon as possible conveyances were sent for and the injured were conveyed to the Cohen House, where they were made comfortable. The disaster, from all information gleaned, was planned several months ago, and but for the promptness of W. F. Fugler no doubt the loss of life would have been very heavy. S. A. Bradford, a resident of this place, was identified as the man who pulled the rail, and is now in jail. It appears that he and another man entered into a conspiracy some months ago, to this effect, while the pay-train was passing through the woods, they would kill him. Fugler consented to assist them, and everything was planned and agreed, the time, the place and the particulars, but Fugler, instead of remaining silent, imparted what information he had gained to the officials of the road in Memphis, and they, desiring to get with them or said anything about it, they would kill him. Fugler consented to assist them, and everything was planned and agreed, the time, the place and the particulars, but Fugler, instead of remaining silent, imparted what information he had gained to the officials of the road in Memphis, and they, desiring to get with them or said anything about it, they would kill him. Fugler consented to assist them, and everything was planned and agreed, the time, the place and the particulars, but Fugler, instead of remaining silent, imparted what information he had gained to the officials of the road in Memphis, and they, desiring to get with them or said anything about it, they would kill him.

UPPER MISSOURI. The Crow of the wrecked train consisted of the following, all more or less badly shivered and scratched up: Mr. Bryant, the roadmaster, received a very painful, and perhaps mortal wound, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly and doing as well as can be expected. Col. J. H. Peeney, roadmaster, received slight wounds about the ribs and face. W. L. Harris, clerk, was slightly injured. Conductor Jeff. Smith was bruised about the body. Mr. Brown, the roadmaster's steward, received a wound in the forehead, and was bruised about the face and railroad department. The Mandans had a reputation for being a lawless and lawless people, but at present is resting quietly