SUMMER MISSION.

Six Weeks of Very Good Work in Caring for the Sick Children of the Poor.

On Saturday the Summer Mission completed its sixth week of caring for the sick children of the poor of this city. There have been camped for, within that time, at the fresh-air camp, 191 children, 59 mothers, and 57 attendants, and the nurses, officers and lady visitors in charge numbered 53, making a total of 260.

The aggregate number in attendance was 1,581, being an average of forty-three for each day on the grounds. Several sick adults have also, on the recommendation of their physician, availed themselves of the benefits of the mission. Four have been sent to Mooresville for a prolonged visit, and these are cared for through the kindness of the ladies of the W. C. T. U. of that place. The following sums have been received at the office of the mission:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Amount. Includes John S. Spann, Mrs. H. H. Lee, Charles Mayer, W. J. Richards, J. E. Shover, Chandler & Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Taylor, Wm. M. Taylor, Bradley, Holton & Co., R. H. McCrea, 149 Grand Hotel, John King, J. F. Rueckle, W. R. C. No. 40, Mrs. John A. Appel, G. A. Schull, Miss Jennie Lazarus, A. H. Snow, Lois C. Pratt, Ruth A. Pratt, Sums under $2, Cash—names not given.

Total to date, $1,258.85. Subscriptions are received at the office of the mission, at the charity rooms, Plymouth Building.

Dr. Prunk's Victim Arrested. Ida E. Johnson, the victim of Dr. Prunk's alleged malpractice, was yesterday formally arrested for complicity in the felony, and placed under bond of $1,000. While able to sit up, she can not leave St. Vincent's Hospital. She is allowed to remain there in the custody of the Sister Superior. It is expected she will be able to secure bail. The detectives were to have filed information yesterday against Dr. Prunk, so that the case could be brought to trial to-day, but the defendant's attorneys were not ready and secured a continuance.

Before Snow Files. The People's Gas Company had a successful meeting at the Prospect-street engine-house last night, attended by about forty people. President W. H. Tucker addressed the meeting and assured his hearers that they would have gas before snow flies. It was decided to continue the work of taking stock subscriptions, which is progressing very successfully, a few days longer. The subscriptions now average about eight hundred to a street.

Work on the Monument. The work of removing the scaffolding from the upper portion of the monument was begun yesterday. All that portion of the structure above the upper window will be left clear. The next meeting of the monument commission will be held Aug. 13, instead of next Monday, as intended. The postponement is on account of the Grand Army encampment at Detroit, which several of the members desire to attend.

Articles of Incorporation. The Leonard Manufacturing Company, of Indianapolis, was incorporated yesterday, with a capital stock of $25,000 and the following directors: Charles N. Leonard, Frank W. Wood, Ernest W. Bradford and Robert Drake. The object of the corporation is to make and sell surgical furniture and apparatus. The LaPorte Medicine Company, of LaPorte, capital stock, $1,300, was also incorporated yesterday.

ON HIS KNEES TO THE GANG

It Was the Wicked Coy, Not the Pharisese, Who Gave Sullivan His Chance.

A General Desire to Know How Clerk Swift Felt Over His Defeat—Tom Taggart Chairman of the City Committee.

Mayor Sullivan got his renomination by the grace of the gang, and the price he paid for it was his assistance in rushing through the Sullivan-Coy gerrymander and a promise that Coy and his associates should have as much to do with the policy of his administration henceforth as they have had heretofore. Coy himself is authority for the statement that the convention was made up almost exclusively of his followers, and nobody who observed the antics of that howling mob Saturday night will doubt his assertion.

"Yontz was mighty foolish for withdrawing," said Coy when the subject was under discussion among a little group in the Council chamber last night.

"Do you think he could have been nominated?" was asked.

"Why, of course he could have been nominated," replied Sim.

"Do you think they will beat Hicklin?" "I don't think anything about it. But I know I could be nominated without any trouble in that convention."

"Bet you $10 to a cent you couldn't!" put in the reporter, as a feeler.

"Well, I ain't sayin' anything; I'm not a candidate," said Sim, as he looked up in disgust. Then, after a pause: "But I'll bet $100 to $1 that there's hardly a man in that convention that I didn't solicit to become a delegate!" Coy usually knows what he is talking about, and he was probably offering to bet on a sure thing.

"Are you still in the race?" asked a reporter of "Col. Bill" last night.

"In the race?" echoed "Col. Bill." "Well, I should say I was still in the race. I ain't seen the News yet to ask it whether I am or not, but I have an impression that I am. I think that with one more effort on my part to-morrow I'll get there by a unanimous vote."

Directly after the Council meeting, last night, Coy, Hicklin, Burns, McGill and Leon Bailey held a little caucus in the city clerk's office to decide upon who should be chairman of the city committee, as well as to talk over the outlook for to-night. The caucus ended about five o'clock, at which the statesmen went up to the Hendricks Club rooms to do the business.

Apparently, Sullivan talks one way to the "good" Democrats and another way to the leaders of the "wicked," and he seems to do it successfully too, for the "better element" worship him as a fetch, while "the boys" evidently thought enough of him to give him a renomination. "Sullivan has been handicapped," said one of his worshippers, of the Frenzel faction, yesterday, "by men who were elected to office and had to be made a part of his administration, but just wait until their terms expire and we'll show you what a clean government is. Thank heaven, we've got the last of 'Bud' Swift. He's a dead cock in the pit henceforth. And Leon Bailey is another who will be out of a job soon as his term expires. I tell you all the gang's got to go! We began with Swift; Hicklin will get his quietus to-morrow night, or if not then he'll get it this evening, and Bailey's turn will come with the end of the year."

If any one imagines that Swift's friends are contented with the outcome he should listen to the remarks of the men who drop in to talk about it. "Bud, it's a d—d shame! Sullivan will—!" Thus burst forth the first individual that made his appearance yesterday morning while a Journal reporter was sitting in the office. Before he had finished the sentence Swift was at his side and had whispered "something in his ear."

"Well, Bud, the d—n hypocrites succeeded in getting—!" was another impulsive friend who had dropped in and was expressing his feelings, but he also was listened to by the men who were Swift's friends realize thoroughly the cause of his defeat, and if Mayor Sullivan wants to bring them around to his support he must do some very active work, and the way of conciliation between now and election time, the Mayor and all the members of his administration are feeling very anxious about the matter.

"How is Bud feeling this morning?" was the query in all the city offices yesterday. In the afternoon Sam Perrott was dropped by a messenger of peace, and had a confidential talk with Swift. He told him that this was by no means the end of his political career, and that if he wanted promotion in the future the thing to do was to take off his coat and work for the ticket. This is the same old story that is given every day to the candidates, and Swift probably took it for what it was worth.

Among the candidates who will go before the Republican city convention on Saturday are Joseph Wright Wharton and Douglas W. White. These gentlemen seek the nomination for city clerk, and neither would be a very good selection.

The Democratic city committee, last night, carried out the behest of the Coy-Hicklin-Bailey junta, that met in the city clerk's office, a few minutes before, and organized by electing Tom Taggart chairman and Romeo Stuart, of tally-sheet trial fame secretary. The election of Taggart means a thoroughly organized campaign, with plenty of money behind it, for if there is any man on earth who can outdo the corporations and wealthy Democrats "shell out" for the campaign fund, Taggart is the man.

CLEMENCY OF THE GOVERNOR.

George W. King Released from a Life Sentence—Painter Sent to the Reform School.

The Governor yesterday paroled George W. King, sentenced in 1883 from Wells county to the northern prison for life, having been convicted of murder. King was twenty-seven years old, and had been raised in that county as a farmer boy. He became intimate with a man named Thayer, notorious for being quarrelsome, and guilty of many petty offenses. Thayer gave King the use of an old building on his premises at Ossian, for the purpose of keeping a saloon. One night Thayer was found dead near the saloon and King was arrested for the crime and convicted on purely circumstantial evidence. At the time of the trial there was much feeling in Wells county because of a shooting affray that had occurred some time before and King was given a more severe sentence on that account than he would have otherwise received. Judge Holbo, who tried the case, wrote very urgently for King's release, and the entire jury that tried him and more than two thousand citizens of Wells county joined in the request. King is one of the best looking convicts in the northern prison and looks nothing at all like a criminal. His family is well known and highly respected, and his members are among the most prominent citizens of Wells county.

Governor Hovey also commuted the sentence of Curtis Painter, a seventeen-year-old boy, convicted last April in the Spencer Circuit Court of larceny and sent to the county jail for six months. The Governor concluded that the Reform School was the place for Painter, and the latter will therefore stay at Plainfield four years, or until he is of age. Painter and another boy escaped a few days ago, from the Rockport jail, but were soon recaptured.

Paying Under Protest. It is under protest that the foreign insurance companies doing business in Indiana are filing statements with the county auditor.

BRICK FOR STREET PAVING

The Contracts for the College Avenue, South Meridian and Other Work.

Olsen Could Not Keep the Deere Company from Getting a Switch—West Washington-Street Merchants Protesting—Hard to Please.

The Board of Public Works yesterday let the contracts for brick paving to the lowest bidders, and the contracts in all cases went to those named in Saturday's Journal as the successful competitors. President Hanson, of the Indianapolis Paving Company, appeared before the board with a statement that his company would be able to do two sections of College avenue this year, but would not have brick enough to do it all, and the provision in the bid fixing the limit of time for completion of the work at June 1, 1892, would have to stand on the section from Christian avenue to Seventh street. L. A. Marshall, of Chicago, president of the Minnehaha Granite Company, was also present, and said that his company was ready to finish this season any contracts it could get. The board fixed Nov. 1 as the date for the completion of all the contracts. With this understanding the awards were made as follows:

College avenue, from Christian avenue to Seventh street—Minnehaha Granite Company, with Ottawa brick and stratified limestone curb, at $2.33 per front foot on each side. There are 2,432 lineal feet, and the street is 40 feet wide, making 1,003 square yards of paving.

College avenue, from Seventh to Eleventh—Indianapolis Paving Company, with the Brazil brick and stratified curb, at $2.20 per front foot. There are 1,170 square yards.

College avenue, from Eleventh to Seventeenth—Indianapolis Paving Company, with Brazil brick and stratified curb, at $2.51 per front foot. There are 1,620 square yards.

South Delaware, from Madison avenue to South Street—Palmer & Robert, with Ohio valley brick and outfit curb, at $2.70 per front foot. There are 2,902 feet, with 16 feet on each side, making 4,644 square yards.

South Meridian, from Morris to Palmer—Minnehaha company, with Ottawa brick and stratified curb, at $2.70 per front foot. There are 2,063 square yards.

South Meridian, from Palmer to 243 feet north of the Bell street crossing—Palmer & Robert, with Ottawa brick and stratified curb, at $2.30 per front foot. There are 1,100 square yards.

Pearl street, from Illinois to Pennsylvania—Robert Kennington, with London brick and outfit curb, at $2.75 per front foot. There are 1,100 square yards.

Olsen Could Not Defeat It. The Council met in special session last night long enough to pass the ordinance approving the contract of the Board of Public Works with the Deere company for a switch across Kentucky avenue. Olaf Olsen, who juggled with the original ordinance in a mean effort to defeat it, was there, and voted for it in order to break the force of the criticism his little trick had aroused. However, his hired man, Nolan, voted against it long enough for two. Gausm made a spread-eagle speech against it, calculated to gain votes for himself, but he did not change a vote. "Col. Bill" Hicklin was in the chair, and when the duplicate ordinance was handed over by Mr. Bailey, he asked Olsen if he had the original.

"No, sir; I had not," replied Olaf, with a show of helplessness. "I mailed dot ordinance to de Hon'ble George Markey."

"Olsen claims, as he did a week ago," said Mr. Markey, "that he mailed dot ordinance to me. Now, I've read the ordinance, and I know it's not his."

Mr. Pearson asked Hicklin if he would rule, and Hicklin so ruled. It was then read and engrossed by a vote of 14 to 4. Messrs. Pearson, Sherman, Gausm and Markey voted against it. Then it was put upon its final passage and Gausm made his speech, laying great stress upon the fact that seventeen hundred signatures had been pledged to this corporation measure through.

Mr. Pearson replied that he would vote for it, first because the "all-wise" Board of Public Works had looked up the matter and prepared the contract. He thought this was no time to fence in the town, to hamper and drive out capital that came here to help build up the city. The ordinance passed by fifteen votes to four, and the Council adjourned.

MISTAKES ON BOTH SIDES.

After examining the Report of John W. Coons, who was recently sent to Washington, D. C., to see what ground the government had for keeping back that $20,000 of the direct war-tax refunders, the Governor yesterday decided to delay making it public until he had gone carefully over it. The report is voluminous, and from what Governor Hovey said yesterday is in some respects a surprise to him. Mr. Coons found that the government had made several mistakes and that Indiana was not wholly free from them either. The result will probably be that the State will get a portion of the amount in dispute.

Frank Jackson, colored, threw himself into the canal, at Vermont street, yesterday afternoon with suicidal intent. He was rescued by patrolman Davidson, and then assaulted the officer in his efforts to break loose and throw himself in the water again. He was taken to the station-house for detention until examined for insanity. His appearance, as well as acts, indicates a disturbed mental condition.

Bar-tender and His Customer. George Lattin was assaulted, yesterday, in William Selking's saloon, on South Meridian street, by Taylor O'Bannon, the bartender. Patrolman Hyland placed them under arrest, slating Lattin for drunkenness and O'Bannon for assault and battery.

Events to Occur. Secretary of State Matthews will address a farmers' picnic at Reddington, Jackson county, next Saturday.

The Board of Trade committee on communications and resolutions will meet at 11 o'clock this morning.

The managers of the Home for Friendless Colored Children will meet this afternoon at the residence of Henry Fletcher, No. 355 North East street.

Mr. Cleveland's Mistake. Philadelphia Press. Grover Cleveland is greatly mistaken in thinking that any Republican objects to his being an ex-President, or in trying to wake over his discharge of the duties of an office which, with Mr. Cleveland and Cape Cod scenery to help him, ought to be a most agreeable term of service. We hope Mr. Cleveland will be an ex-President to the days of his death—and may the same and his fair lady's be far distant. The number of Democrats of the same way of thinking, we notice, seems also to be steadily growing. Mr. Cleveland must possess the soul in patience about the theories of an ex-President. He is in to stay.

CALL AND SEE. The "M. & D." Gas Range. Perfection in boiling, baking and roasting. Can show it in operation. Also, "M. & D." Wrought-iron Range, for gas, coal or wood. "Magic" Gas Filters very cheap. A CIRCUS HAD.

Jerry-Lovely white hand Mrs. Simpkins had Joe-Joe. Reminds me of Barnum's big show. Jerry-Lovely. It has so many rings—Pittsburg Bulletin.

We have more rings than all the circuses put together, in all kinds—Diamonds, Emeralds, Rubies, Sapphires, (Lapis Lazuli, etc., etc., and besides they are more lasting. Come and see them.

Merchants Fenced In. Councilman Cooper appeared before the Board of Public Works yesterday morning and stated that the merchants on West Washington street, where the new asphalt is being laid, were "kicking loud and hard." They had been fenced up there for two or three weeks, and there was no indication that the work was to be completed this summer. A little later a long protest signed by all the merchants and property-owners and other trades, was handed to Mr. Condit and called the engineer's attention to it sharply. "We don't like such kicks as this to be coming in here," he remarked. "There is no time for contractor closing up streets that length of time." The company was ordered to proceed with the work at once.

Never Satisfied. When the Board of Public Works orders asphalt on the South Side the people protest and want brick; when it orders brick they protest and want asphalt. When it orders paving of any sort they want macadam or gravel. The board has ordered the engineer to prepare a resolution to pave Greer street from McCarty to Stevens, with brick, on a broken-stone foundation, and yesterday morning John Howard appeared with a long petition asking that it be changed to asphalt. It will be so changed.

Will Comply with Orders. The Water Company yesterday sent a note to the Board of Public Works stating that it would comply with the order to lay mains on College avenue out to Fifteenth street. The board sent it another order to lay mains on South Meridian, from Palmer street to the Bell street crossing.

LABOR ORGANIZATION MATTERS. Violent Stone a Subject for Investigation—Other Grievances Disposed Of.

At the regular meeting of the Central Labor Union last night delegates were admitted from Carpenters' Union No. 46 and from the Barbers' Union. The committee in charge of the street-car stablemen's troubles reported that financial assistance is still being received, but that no settlement had been made. The stonecutters reported a grievance against Kessler's quarries, at Ramona, where the stone for the viaduct is cut. It is charged that the men in the quarries are working from ten to twelve hours a day, and are receiving 10 cents an hour less than the scale. It is charged, also, that the contractors are representing that
