

THE SUNDAY JOURNAL

SUNDAY, AUGUST 16, 1891. WASHINGTON OFFICE—513 Fourteenth st. Telephone Calls. Business Office. Editorial Rooms. TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. DAILY BY MAIL. One year, without Sunday... 12.00

THE INDIANAPOLIS JOURNAL

Can be found at the following places: FAHNS-American Exchange in Paris, 26 Boulevard des Capucines. NEW YORK—City House and Windsor Hotel. PHILADELPHIA—A. F. Kemble, 232 Lancaster street. CHICAGO—Palmer House. CINCINNATI—J. R. Hawley & Co., 154 Vine street.

TWELVE PAGES

The Sunday Journal has double the circulation of any Sunday paper in Indiana. Price five cents.

SPEAKING OF SPEAK-ERS, Mayor Sullivan does not speak easy.

BOTH the Democratic organs to Mr. Herod: If you make any attempt to reach Democratic voters we will empty a stop-bucket on you.

ONE of these days people will learn that a real reformer is not a croaker or a slanderer, and that it is not essential that the reformer shall be a master of invective.

THE Argentine Republic has a money circulation of $100 per capita, based on the faith and credit of the nation, and yet no people on the American continent are so poor and needy.

THE Springfield Republican, a free-trade paper, says mournfully that "lower prices than ever have succeeded the passage of the McKinley bill."

IT is stated by the New York Press, upon the highest authority, that Collector Fassett's appointment was not requested or suggested by ex-Senator Platt, as has been asserted by the opposition press.

DURING the week wheat has gone up visibly, but silver bullion seems glued to the spot where the intrinsic value of a silver dollar is about 77 cents.

THE report that the four-and-a-half per cent. could not be extended at 2 per cent. afforded the opposition an hour of pleasurable emotion, but the denial thereof ushered in the hopeless gloom which encompasses the foes of the administration.

WHEN metropolitan newspapers which are published on two continents publish as news the personal slanders to the effect that Mrs. Harrison's father has left the White House because he was so badly treated, it is high time that their managers should take a few lessons in ordinary decency.

THIS is one of the years when Europe needs us more than we can ever need Europe. Even Germany, where it is said that American pork has been saturated with kerosene to give it a bad reputation, would like to have the rye that people in this country will not eat to any extent.

DR. BRIGGS, who is now in Europe, writes to friends in New York that he will be back about the middle of September, and that he has been engaged during his absence in preparing his defense on the charges of heresy.

AN OBSCURE IDEA. Ex-Senator Bruce, one of the foremost colored men of America, is reported as saying of the recently revived project to encourage colored emigration to Liberia: "There is nothing new or startling in this movement."

SOCIAL progress and development give rise to new words just as the progress of science does. A recent cablegram spoke of the meeting in London of the "International Congress of Hygiene and Demography."

THIS announcement that "the peerless Fatti" will make one more farewell tour in the United States will hardly excite unbounded enthusiasm among those who have already bade her farewell once or twice in appearances declared to be positively her last.

REPORTS from Mexico state that the Mormons are making as remarkable progress in the States of Chihuahua and Sonora as they did in Utah when they first settled there.

ican miner, who says that in the single valley of Corralitos, Chihuahua, there are more than one thousand families, living in several colonies. The colony Diaz, the largest of these settlements, was established about seven years ago. He says the Mormons are transforming the desert into a garden, and that their prosperity is remarkable.

SMALL RETURNS OF RAILROAD PROPERTIES.

It appears by Poor's Manual of Railroads for 1891 that, at the close of the year 1890, the railroads of the United States represented $9,746,141,000, representing $10,263,781,130, of which $4,640,239,578 was State stock and $5,603,541,552 was funded debt or bonds.

THE MOTHER OF THE WESLEYS.

The devout pilgrims who went from far ends of the earth to worship at the birthplace of John Wesley are now telling their experiences and impressions. Naturally all have more or less to say of that remarkable woman, Susannah Wesley.

A SACRED TRUST.

At the State League convention of Building Associations, just held in Cincinnati, a speaker, whose subject was the "Auditing of Building Association Accounts," said: Building associations in the United States number 6,000, embracing a membership of over two millions.

PENSIONS FOR WORN-OUT CLERKS.

Postmaster-general Wanamaker is reported to be devising a plan for the establishment of a civil pension system for disabled and supernannated clerks in the departments of the public service at Washington.

AN OBSCURE IDEA.

Ex-Senator Bruce, one of the foremost colored men of America, is reported as saying of the recently revived project to encourage colored emigration to Liberia: "There is nothing new or startling in this movement."

SOCIAL progress and development give rise to new words just as the progress of science does.

A recent cablegram spoke of the meeting in London of the "International Congress of Hygiene and Demography." The latter is a new word and is found only in the latest dictionaries. It is defined as "that department of anthropology, which relates to vital and social statistics and their application to the comparative study of races and nations."

As a matter of course, the command came and was obeyed, and Susannah Wesley is known to posterity as the mother of her sons, when she might have won, not personal distinction, for which she cared nothing, but a record as an evangelist and a laborer for humanity.

THE HOPKINS MILLIONS.

If California newspapers have any influence with young Mr. Hopkins, adopted son of the late Mrs. Hopkins-Searles, that young man will certainly contest his mother's will.

A SACRED TRUST.

At the State League convention of Building Associations, just held in Cincinnati, a speaker, whose subject was the "Auditing of Building Association Accounts," said: Building associations in the United States number 6,000, embracing a membership of over two millions.

PENSIONS FOR WORN-OUT CLERKS.

Postmaster-general Wanamaker is reported to be devising a plan for the establishment of a civil pension system for disabled and supernannated clerks in the departments of the public service at Washington.

AN OBSCURE IDEA.

Ex-Senator Bruce, one of the foremost colored men of America, is reported as saying of the recently revived project to encourage colored emigration to Liberia: "There is nothing new or startling in this movement."

SOCIAL progress and development give rise to new words just as the progress of science does.

A recent cablegram spoke of the meeting in London of the "International Congress of Hygiene and Demography." The latter is a new word and is found only in the latest dictionaries. It is defined as "that department of anthropology, which relates to vital and social statistics and their application to the comparative study of races and nations."

They never got the start, and in a few years they found themselves out of touch with the industries and the vocations of the active world, and so they have remained all their lives. What the Postmaster-general has in mind is the establishment of a system by which these worn-out clerks can be retired upon partial pay, to be derived from an assessment of the whole clerical force under certain conditions.

THE HOPKINS MILLIONS.

If California newspapers have any influence with young Mr. Hopkins, adopted son of the late Mrs. Hopkins-Searles, that young man will certainly contest his mother's will.

A SACRED TRUST.

At the State League convention of Building Associations, just held in Cincinnati, a speaker, whose subject was the "Auditing of Building Association Accounts," said: Building associations in the United States number 6,000, embracing a membership of over two millions.

PENSIONS FOR WORN-OUT CLERKS.

Postmaster-general Wanamaker is reported to be devising a plan for the establishment of a civil pension system for disabled and supernannated clerks in the departments of the public service at Washington.

AN OBSCURE IDEA.

Ex-Senator Bruce, one of the foremost colored men of America, is reported as saying of the recently revived project to encourage colored emigration to Liberia: "There is nothing new or startling in this movement."

SOCIAL progress and development give rise to new words just as the progress of science does.

A recent cablegram spoke of the meeting in London of the "International Congress of Hygiene and Demography." The latter is a new word and is found only in the latest dictionaries. It is defined as "that department of anthropology, which relates to vital and social statistics and their application to the comparative study of races and nations."

M. Swafford. These collections serve the members not only as pleasant remembrances of their annual reunions, but also contain much of sufficient merit and interest to attract the general reader.

THE HOPKINS MILLIONS.

If California newspapers have any influence with young Mr. Hopkins, adopted son of the late Mrs. Hopkins-Searles, that young man will certainly contest his mother's will.

A SACRED TRUST.

At the State League convention of Building Associations, just held in Cincinnati, a speaker, whose subject was the "Auditing of Building Association Accounts," said: Building associations in the United States number 6,000, embracing a membership of over two millions.

PENSIONS FOR WORN-OUT CLERKS.

Postmaster-general Wanamaker is reported to be devising a plan for the establishment of a civil pension system for disabled and supernannated clerks in the departments of the public service at Washington.

AN OBSCURE IDEA.

Ex-Senator Bruce, one of the foremost colored men of America, is reported as saying of the recently revived project to encourage colored emigration to Liberia: "There is nothing new or startling in this movement."

SOCIAL progress and development give rise to new words just as the progress of science does.

A recent cablegram spoke of the meeting in London of the "International Congress of Hygiene and Demography." The latter is a new word and is found only in the latest dictionaries. It is defined as "that department of anthropology, which relates to vital and social statistics and their application to the comparative study of races and nations."

The fatal shot was fired. Mr. Kent was present at Ford's Theater on that eventful night and saw Booth run across the stage after the assassination of Lincoln.

THE HOPKINS MILLIONS.

If California newspapers have any influence with young Mr. Hopkins, adopted son of the late Mrs. Hopkins-Searles, that young man will certainly contest his mother's will.

A SACRED TRUST.

At the State League convention of Building Associations, just held in Cincinnati, a speaker, whose subject was the "Auditing of Building Association Accounts," said: Building associations in the United States number 6,000, embracing a membership of over two millions.

PENSIONS FOR WORN-OUT CLERKS.

Postmaster-general Wanamaker is reported to be devising a plan for the establishment of a civil pension system for disabled and supernannated clerks in the departments of the public service at Washington.

AN OBSCURE IDEA.

Ex-Senator Bruce, one of the foremost colored men of America, is reported as saying of the recently revived project to encourage colored emigration to Liberia: "There is nothing new or startling in this movement."

SOCIAL progress and development give rise to new words just as the progress of science does.

A recent cablegram spoke of the meeting in London of the "International Congress of Hygiene and Demography." The latter is a new word and is found only in the latest dictionaries. It is defined as "that department of anthropology, which relates to vital and social statistics and their application to the comparative study of races and nations."

The fatal shot was fired. Mr. Kent was present at Ford's Theater on that eventful night and saw Booth run across the stage after the assassination of Lincoln.

THE HOPKINS MILLIONS.

If California newspapers have any influence with young Mr. Hopkins, adopted son of the late Mrs. Hopkins-Searles, that young man will certainly contest his mother's will.

A SACRED TRUST.

At the State League convention of Building Associations, just held in Cincinnati, a speaker, whose subject was the "Auditing of Building Association Accounts," said: Building associations in the United States number 6,000, embracing a membership of over two millions.

PENSIONS FOR WORN-OUT CLERKS.

Postmaster-general Wanamaker is reported to be devising a plan for the establishment of a civil pension system for disabled and supernannated clerks in the departments of the public service at Washington.

AN OBSCURE IDEA.

Ex-Senator Bruce, one of the foremost colored men of America, is reported as saying of the recently revived project to encourage colored emigration to Liberia: "There is nothing new or startling in this movement."

SOCIAL progress and development give rise to new words just as the progress of science does.

A recent cablegram spoke of the meeting in London of the "International Congress of Hygiene and Demography." The latter is a new word and is found only in the latest dictionaries. It is defined as "that department of anthropology, which relates to vital and social statistics and their application to the comparative study of races and nations."