MEMPHIS BRIDGE OPENED

Tennessee and Arkansas United by Bands of Iron Across the Mississippi. Third Largest Structure of the Kind in the World—Tested by Eighteen Locomotives in a String—Speech by Senator Voorhees.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 12.—The great steel bridge across the Mississippi river at this point was formally declared opened for traffic at noon today.

The decoration of business houses was never so elaborate, and the star-spangled banner floated from every cornice and window of the downtown buildings. Distinguished visitors in the person of eminent statesmen, Senators, Congressmen, Governors, Supreme Court judges and prominent railroad officials crowded the hotels. They were here to join in celebrating the grandest event in the history of Memphis. The man-of-war Concord, gaily decorated with stars and stripes, anchored in the harbor...

At 12:30 o'clock eighteen monster locomotives from the ten different railroads of the city, newly painted, with the brass parts shining like gold and beautifully decorated, pulled slowly across the bridge...

The bridge is the third largest of its kind in the world, and stands as a magnificent monument to the engineering genius of its builder, Mr. George S. Morrison. There are five spans and six piers, including the anchorage piers...

INDIANA AND ILLINOIS NEWS

Desperado Sings, the Notorious New Albany Negro, Murdered Last Night. He Was Going to Use a Knife on Another African Who Up with a Shotgun and Empty Its Contents Into His Bowels.

INDIANA. Negro Terror, One of a Notorious Family, Shot and Killed at New Albany. Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

NEW ALBANY, May 12.—The most notorious negro desperado who ever lived in this community was shot and killed on State street, this city, at 6 o'clock this evening, by John Davis, another colored man. His name was Sims, and he was threatening to cut Davis with a knife, when the latter emptied the contents of a shotgun into his bowels. Sims was arrested and placed in jail. The Sims family has killed some years ago during a quarrel with a man named Neal. Charles Sims served a term in the penitentiary for shooting a named individual. Ambrose Sims, younger brother of the four brothers, served a term in the penitentiary for grand larceny.

Odd-Fellow Corner-Stone Laying. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. BLOOMINGTON, May 12.—This has been a momentous day in the history of the Odd-Fellows of this city. After years of struggling it to-day laid the corner-stone for a magnificent hall that is being erected on the northeast corner of the square. There were a number of visitors present from surrounding lodges. At 1 o'clock a procession formed at the Odd-Fellows' Hall, headed by a company of the State militia. A march was made to the proposed new building, where the cornerstone was placed in position with appropriate ceremonies. After this was completed a march was made to the Methodist church, where a service was held by Rev. U. Z. Wiley, of Lebanon, grand master of the State, and Judge Canning, on behalf of the Odd-Fellows of this city. The Odd-Fellows' building, when completed, will be one of the most important and beautiful structures in the city. It is the largest and most modern of Odd-Fellowship in the State.

At the meeting of the Board of Public Works, it was concluded that the city should purchase the property owned by the late Mr. J. H. Holliday, who was the founder of the Indianapolis News. The purchase price was set at $25,000, and the city is expected to acquire the property by the end of the month.

The Indianapolis News, under the management of Mr. J. H. Holliday, has been a success story. It has grown from a small paper to one of the largest and most influential in the city. The city's purchase of the paper is a significant step in the development of the local press.

MR. J. H. HOLLIDAY RETIRES

His Interest in the Afternoon News Sold to Control the Paper—Understood to Be Purchased for His Son, Delavan. William Henry Smith, of the Associated Press, to Control the Paper—Understood to Be Purchased for His Son, Delavan.

This morning Mr. Chas. R. Williams, late assistant manager of the Associated Press in New York, will assume editorial charge of the Indianapolis News. Mr. John H. Holliday will retire from the business, his interest in the newspaper, a controlling one, having been purchased by William Henry Smith, general manager of the Associated Press, and his son-in-law, Chas. R. Williams. Frank T. Holliday, William A. Holliday, and Mrs. W. J. Richards will continue to be the publisher of the paper.

It is generally understood that Mr. Smith has purchased the News for his son, Delavan Smith, who is at present day manager of the Associated Press at Chicago. For the past six or seven years Mr. Smith has managed the entire country for an effort to secure a good newspaper property for his son and at one time he had a six months' option on the Washington Post. It is now thought that young Smith will be in charge of the News by becoming managing editor.
