HE SAYS HE WAS BOUGHT OFF

Why Simon Schmalholz Never Was Nominated for Auditor of the County.

Declares that Taggart Agreed to Pay Him $100 Per Month to Stay Off the Track and Then Never Paid Him a Cent.

Central Labor Union Adopts a Vote of Censure of Young Mr. Bynum.

Answers of Legislative Candidates Suppressed—What is Thought of Mors's Luck—Kern's Ridiculous Aspirations.

TAGGART AND SCHMALHOLZ.

Simon Accuses the State Chairman of Buying Him Off and Never Paying the Money.

Something has been worrying Tom Taggart, auditor, chairman, etc., for several days. The cause erupted last night when it was learned that he is about to be made defendant in a suit which recalls the first campaign he made for his present office.

Schmalholz accepted the offer, Taggart agreeing, as it is stated, to keep out of Schmalholz's way in 1900. Taggart was elected, but he never paid any attention to the terms of the contract, and in 1890 was in no mood to give up the $200,000 per year office he was enjoying.

CENSURED "TOM" BYNUM.

Central Labor Union "Roasts" Him for Suppressing Those Candidates' Answer.

Last night's meeting of the Central Labor Union was devoted almost wholly to political topics, and was, therefore, somewhat lively. The most interesting subject came in the form of the report of an investigating committee appointed to discover the reason why Tom Bynum, brother of the Congressman, had, as chairman of the legislative committee last autumn, suppressed the answers of legislative candidates to the questions propounded by organized labor.

Contrary to expectation, there was no general discussion upon the recent federal court decisions at Toledo and New Orleans, which have caused so much talk among labor leaders.

A communication from President Gompers of the Federation of Labor, was read, calling a convention of blacksmiths of the United States at Philadelphia May 15 for the formation of a national blacksmiths' union.

MR. MORSS'S APPOINTMENT.

It Proves Acceptable to Most of the Indianapolis Democrats.

The appointment of Samuel E. Morss to be consul-general at Paris was generally approved by local Democrats yesterday, regardless of faction. The Gray wing has received so many favors that it is in a generous mood, and the "ninety per cent" were so glad to be recognized at last that they had nothing but praises.

Mr. Morss is still at Asheville, whether he went to recuperate, having been seriously ill for many months past. He is forty-one years of age, and a native of Indiana.

REPUBLICAN CONFIDENCE.

Chairman Gowdy Talks of the Spring Elections—Mr. Sulzer's Views.

Secretary Frank Millikan, of the Republican State committee, went to Rushville Sunday to confer with Chairman Gowdy. "Mr. Gowdy's face bears the bronze of a farmer's out-door life," said he, "but while busy, he is giving the Republican party a great deal of thought. He said it is very palpable the party will be successful at the next election, and he urged the party to begin at once to look after the spring elections in towns. The new laws on the subject of elections do not affect towns, and elections will be held in May as usual.

"There was never a more promising outlook for Republican success in this State than in 1892," said Mr. Charles E. Shaver, of Richmond, yesterday. "We will carry this State next time, and it behooves Republicans to make the first and best use of the situation as it has been grasped by a number of young Republicans, and I will not be surprised to see the candidates for next fall's offices come out strong and early from the State."

WHAT KERN WANTS.

He Has His Eye on Voorhees's Place in the United States Senate.

It is now pretty certain that John W. Kern will not stand for the Democratic nomination for Mayor, unless it is unanimous and he is forced to accept. That is not likely, as Colonel Downing is the ring candidate, and will have the unanimous support, practically, of the South-side delegates.

MR. STEM'S COMMISSIONS.

Trouble Between Orchestras Brings Out Charges from Manager Morris Reno.

The board of directors of the May Musical Festival Association are somewhat disturbed since receiving a letter last Saturday from Mr. Morris Reno, manager of Walter Damroch and the New York Symphony Orchestra. The writer states that he anticipated much pleasure in coming to Indianapolis, and that, since they are not to come, he will be pleased to negotiate for next season, except through the secretary of the board, Mr. J. H. Stem.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 17, 1892.

Dear Sir—Will you be in Indianapolis the week of our festival? If not, presume you will give instructions to your manager about our private account amount deducted from my contract. Respectfully, J. H. STEM.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 26, 1892.

Dear Sir—Our festival was a great success, and we are exceedingly artistic and did not discredit to the elegant array of millinery. Other departments of the store were toned up for the occasion. In passing through the house a great throng of customers was noticed at the silk and dress-goods counters.

CONVENTION OF DENTISTS.

Biggest Gathering of the Profession Indiana Has Known Will Meet on Thursday.

In pursuance with a scheme to hold a grand Columbian jubilee at Chicago during the time of the world's fair for the dentists of the country, the dentists of Indiana have determined to hold a similar event, and a committee appointed for that purpose has issued a call for the meeting to take place in this city beginning next Thursday, and lasting two days.

GREAT DAY FOR BONNETS.

Enthusiastic Admiration Expressed by a Great Attendance of Ladies at H. P. Wasson & Co.'s.

An Easter Millinery Display—Bonnets of the "Directoire," "Empire" and "1830," with a Dash of Old Colonial Days.

Yesterday will be set down in many a lady's calendar as a red letter day. It was the day chosen by H. P. Wasson & Co. for their Easter millinery opening, and to say that thousands of ladies visited the store to look with wonder and admiration on the new things in hats and bonnets would be to state a fact with great modesty and mildness.

This great store was thronged with ladies, a constant stream of fair humanity going into and coming out of its wide doors all day long.

The first attraction was in the windows—the eye of the house. It is no new thing to see marvelous displays in these windows, but yesterday the artist excelled himself.

Beneath the bell was a glow of color from flower beds of iris, lilacs and pansies, in which natural and artificial flowers were so deftly mingled that it was difficult to tell which nature or which art had made.

The point of attention, however, was the millinery department, and thither there was a constant stream of travel.

The holy of holies was where the choicest and latest French styles of millinery were shown. Any lady knows that the feeling and sentiment expressed in a bonnet depends upon the material, and that this artistic expression in a bonnet is as much a manifestation of genius as in a great painting or a wonderful piece of sculpture.

Among the dashing styles of the "Directoire" times, was shown in black and white, trimmed with corn-colored ribbons and black lace; a bunch of roses and agrettes on one side, and a bow of ribbon on the other.

The "1830" period had many representatives. The shape is a poke. One of these that attracted much attention was in poke style with a fall of lace over the front.

The kid glove department was also thronged. Buyers appeared to be alive to the fact that Easter, the day on which spring actually will begin, is at hand.

The Fairmount Daily News and the Daily Times will be started this week. Foundations will be begun on several new factories before April 1.

One of the largest paper mills and a large rolling mill are negotiating for sites. They will employ several hundred men.

Great activity is being shown in real estate. Another syndicate from the East has purchased a large tract of land, and will develop same.

The new Chicago, Indiana & Eastern Railway will have surveys on this week, crossing at this point, and will make an air line via Peru to Chicago.

Nichols, Paddock & Co. have gotten out an elegant natural-gas map that all should have.

The new water works will soon be pushed to completion.

A hundred families will come here from Findlay, and there is not a house vacant.

This may justly be said of a good many of our citizens who will visit the bench show of the Illinois Kennel Club tomorrow. Tomlinson Hall will be hardly spacious enough to accommodate all visitors, but it certainly would not hold one-tenth of the number of people who praise the excellent qualities of "Columbia Beer," the latest product of our "Home Brewing Company." On tap every where. Bottled by J. Bos. Telephone 1693.

Can show you the finest line of Refrigerators in the State. They are going freely, and we invite every body to call and see before you buy. The Rapid Ice Cream Freezer, Water Coolers, Hill's Shiloh Biscuits and Scones. HILSBRAND & FUGATE, 52 South Meridian street.

We are prepared to satisfy all your wants in the Easter Novelty line. Old and dainty forms in gold and silver are just at hand. Come and see them.
