

RESULT OF A STUDENT ROW

Reported that No American Consulate Has Been Insulted by Peruvians.

London Striking Dock Hands Rioting—Socialist Demonstration in Brussels—2,000 Christians in Turkish Dungeons.

THAT ATTACK ON THE CONSULATE.

A New York Herald Correspondent Says It Was a Howl Caused by Students. VALPARAISO, April 9.—The New York Herald's correspondent, in obedience to instructions from the Herald received by Mexican cable dispatch, made an investigation into the report that an American consulate in Peru had been attacked by a mob for which an apology had been demanded by the United States government.

DOCK HANDS RIOTING.

Company of Dragoons Necessary to Protect Non-striking Men at Hull. LONDON, April 9.—Steamships Montebello and Romeo put from the Hull docks last night, and anchored in the roads so as to be able to take aboard their crews at a safe distance from the rioters. Two companies of dragoons, armed with lances, formed on both sides of the crews about two hours later, and escorted them to the tenders. The police, who had been called out in full force, tried to keep the mob back, but the strikers broke through the lines repeatedly, stoning the soldiers and sailors. The police swung their clubs right and left, cracking heads and battering faces.

Large but orderly meeting of the strikers was held this afternoon. Ben Tillett and John Havelock Wilson, labor member of Parliament from Middlesbrough, made the principal speeches. The strikers urged the men to hold fast to their present position, and Mr. Wilson proclaimed the intention to produce a general strike. The doctors at Grimsby, who have been striking since the Hull resolution, are expected to return to work on Monday.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

Socialists with Red Banners Jeered at King Leopold's Birthday Celebration. BRUSSELS, April 9.—In observance of King Leopold's fifty-seventh birthday Gen. Brassin, commander of the troops in this district, inspected that garrison. As he passed down the line with his staff, a group of Socialists, led by a man with a large red flag, ran up shouting: "Long live universal suffrage." All of the officers reined in their horses, and several, in the excitement, drew their swords. The Socialists, however, withdrew, jeering at the officers and shouting for universal suffrage. Shortly afterward the Socialists were arrested near the parade ground, shouting insulting remarks concerning King Leopold.

CHRISTIANS IN DUNGEONS.

Constantinople, April 9.—The condition of affairs in Armenia is becoming more serious every day. Constant arrests of Armenians are reported in private letters. It is estimated that between 1,800 and 2,000 Christians remain in Turkish dungeons. The recent announcement that the Sultan had proclaimed a general pardon of Armenian prisoners was mere humbug. Only a few Armenians will be released, and these will be set free only because no evidence whatever of their connection with the pretended revolution could be obtained.

Stanley Holds Germans Responsible.

LONDON, April 9.—Henry M. Stanley has written to the Peace Association a letter in which he attributes the increase of slave trade in 1932 at African ports under German administration to the growing practice among German merchants of importing into Africa small arms and ammunition. These materials were to be sold to the slave traders and do inestimable damage.

Earthquake in Serbia.

Belgrade, April 9.—A severe earthquake was felt in many parts of Serbia. The village of Viskopovitch was tumbled into ruins and several inhabitants were killed. Deaths in wrecked houses are reported in other villages in the kingdom.

Cable Notes.

The Hehring sea arbitrators have decided to give their judgment as to the admissibility of the British supplementary report to evidence on next Wednesday.

Francisco, who was extradited from England, Briton, his colleague in snatches, and Marie De Lange, Briton's mistress, are probably being placed on trial today in Paris. All three are accused of complicity with Ravachol in the explosion at Cafe Vary, in the Rue Magenta, a year ago.

Members of the Chilean Cabinet have resigned.

But President Montt has temporarily declined to accept their resignations. The trouble was caused by Senator Pinto, Minister of War, who desired to proclaim Santiago in a state of siege on account of disorders among the people. The members of the Cabinet, after a long consultation, disagreed with Minister Pinto and tendered their resignations.

Monument Struck by Meteor.

OSAWATOMIE, Kan., April 9.—An arrolite fell near this town yesterday afternoon, striking the monument to John Brown or "Osawatomie" Brown, as he was sometimes called—erected to him by private subscriptions that originated with Horace Greeley in 1855. The meteor broke off the left arm of the statue and passed through the dome and gave a slightly southeasterly direction, and through six feet of clay just south of the crypt, stopping only at bedrock. Experts say the arrolite is composed of pelium metal, known to exist only in the sun.

BOUND TO HAVE PURE WATER.

Houses Condemned and Scattered the Winds to Protect the Supply of Croton.

NEW YORK, April 9.—The war for the purification of the city's water supply continues. The objective point just now is Brewsters, a village of 300 houses, and probably fifteen hundred inhabitants. A number of these houses have been condemned, and will soon be food for the pickers and tories. In the main street there are fifty houses without any system of drainage. These will be allowed to remain and the drains will be turned into a field taken for the purpose. There are also about fifty houses on stilts along the East branch of the Croton, which drain directly into the stream. These houses will all have to go. This section of Brewsters is known as Thomastown, and will soon be nothing but a memory.

GENTLEMAN GEORGE RETIRES.

Slosson Will Not Challenge Lives and Says He Will Play in No More Matches.

NEW YORK, April 9.—Maurice Daly called on George Slosson at the latter's room on Broadway yesterday afternoon and had an extended conference with him in reference to a match with Frank Lives, to be played in the near future. Slosson, however, would not listen to the proposition and told Daly that Lives had evaded making a match with him for a long time and he did not think that the latter had any intention of playing. Consequently it would be useless to issue a challenge for a game. Slosson has said several times of late that he intended to retire from active participation in tournaments and matches. He reaffirmed this determination today.

"My main reason," he said, "for retiring is in order for me to give my full attention to my billiard room. My business interests have increased so much that I am unable to spare the time necessary to keep in trim for matches without neglecting my customers' interests. So, after being for a number of years before the public, I wish to say to my many friends that I have entered the ranks of the amateurs, and hereafter I shall be known as a room keeper, not a candidate for championship honors."

ATTACKED BY BANDITS.

An American Mine Owner and His Servant Assaulted and Robbed in Mexico. CHIHUAHUA, Mex., April 9.—The mineral culture, which arrived here last night from the Batopilas mines district, in the western part of this State, brought the first news of an attack by brigands made on an American mining man, L. F. Tendick, formerly of Colorado. Mr. Tendick and a "mozo," or servant, set out from Guaymas, in the State of Sonora, about three weeks ago for an overland trip to the Batopilas district. Tendick contemplated investing in the mines. When within about sixty miles of Batopilas the American was suddenly attacked by a band of ten brigands. Mr. Tendick and his "mozo" attempted to defend themselves, but were overpowered and beaten into insensibility by the outlaws. Mr. Tendick was robbed of a large quantity of money and both were taken where they were riding, were taken. The authorities were notified and are in pursuit of the bandits.

GOSSIP FROM THE STABLES.

Not a Sick Animal Throughout the Winter Among the Steppers at Terre Haute. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., April 9.—The spring finds all the fast light-harness horses that passed the winter here, from Nancy Hanker, Stamboul and Axtell down, in first-class condition. At the driving park there are more than two hundred horses and not a sick animal among them. The severe winter seemed to harden them and though Stamboul, coming as he did from an entirely different climate, needed much extra clothing, he is in the pink of condition. John Dickerson, who is to be Dobie's assistant this year, daily jogs Stamboul, Belle Vara, Delmarch and other famous ones of the stable. "Dob" Hollenbeck gives Nancy her exercise, which she enjoys hugely.

George Starr's first year as proprietor of a stable has far to be successful. In the character of the horses placed in his charge is any indication. Among those in his string of twenty are Monbars, 2:14; Car, 2:18; Miss Anna, 2:17; Myrtle, 2:18; 2:18; Aubine, 2:19; Junemont, 2:14; Sines, 2:27; Jeannette, 2:27; Glenwood, 2:28; and Emeline, 2:29. Starr's quarter are headed by Dobie, with whom he was associated eight years, and during which years he was never away from the horses more than twenty or thirty hours at a time. After he left Dobie he was with the Salisbury stable for two years, when he fledged Vincent, Dickson, Marcorer, Flying Job, Vinette, Albert W. and other horses. He now has the backing of such men as C. S. Dickinson, of New York; W. C. France, of Lexington, A. D. Merrill, of Ontario, and W. F. Paine, of Cleveland. Starr is entitled to the spirit of the Times's ten-thousand-dollar stake for four-year-olds. Starr will start his first string for Pittsburg about July 1 and then will go down the Grand Circuit, coming back to Chicago and down the Southwestern circuit.

He-Eleven.

Washington Post. Col. Pat Dyer, of St. Louis, is one of the distinguished Missourians who came to Washington yesterday. He is man of portly, robust and imposing presence, well groomed and happy. He has been his life long a better and uncompromising Republican. The Colonel always raises the old flag from his nude and soaring dome of thought and gazed around upon the array of office seekers who crowd the Ebbitt morning and night, and use up all his toothpicks.

A Defective Simile.

Detroit Free Press. "Sleep" responded the large, good-natured, comfortable-looking man, to a question the man by the stove had put to him; "I don't know." "What baby?" queried a nervous, harassed-looking young fellow, with a strange glitter in his eyes. "What baby, I say?" "I don't know," responded the man, who that night had been a father for only a year.

Removal of Jeff Davis's Casket.

RICHMOND, Va., April 9.—The executive committee of Lee Camp in charge of the arrangements for the removal of the remains of Jefferson Davis from New Orleans to this city has completed the details of the programme. It is not yet known at what point the funeral train will stop, but it is expected that the cortege will leave New Orleans May 25 and will reach this city on the evening of May 30.

WOULD-BE NUN ARRESTED. Mexican Authorities Prevent a Merchant's Daughter Leaving for a United States.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 9.—There is considerable excitement among the Catholics of this city over the alleged action of the government authorities in forcibly detaining Miss Juana Lopez, daughter of a prominent merchant, who left here last Tuesday for Lafayette, La., where she was to enter a convent as a nun.

BELLAMY'S PROPHECY FULFILLED.

Audience in Chicago listens to an Entertainment Given in Boston. CHICAGO, April 9.—Listeners in the office of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, in this city, were this afternoon treated to an entertainment from Boston. The entertainment was given by Mrs. May Barker, of England, a relative of Sir Richard Grenville, in the main office of the company at Boston. She sang and recited a number of selections, all of which were heard in the Chicago office. 1,300 miles distant, with perfect distinctness. Mrs. Barker gave first "The Knowing Bird," which was warmly applauded by her far-distant audience. Her second performance was the musical comedy, "Maggie's Landing," and followed by the "Bird's Singing Lesson," in which every note came over the wire with such clearness as if the singer were in an adjoining room.

SUNDAY BALL GAMES.

The Never-Win Orioles Take the Orioles Into Camp by a Score of 7 to 2. LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 9.—The Louisville Orioles opened the season here today with an exhibition game. Two thousand people enjoyed it. At times the plays were very exciting, and both sides were loudly cheered all through. Louisville won by heavy batting. Score: Baltimore.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 Louisville.....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 7 Base hits—Louisville, 12; Baltimore, 6. Errors—Louisville, 6; Baltimore, 2. Batteries—Louisville, Hendrix, Johnson, Hansen and Grim; Baltimore, McMahon and Wadsworth and Milligan.

GENERAL WEATHER BULLETIN.

Forecast for To-Day. WASHINGTON, April 9.—P. M.—For Indiana and Illinois—Probably local showers in southern portions; easterly winds; slightly warmer. For Ohio—Local showers; winds mostly from the northeast; slightly warmer in northern and western Ohio.

Local Weather Report.

Table with columns: Time, Bar., Ther., R. H., Wind, Weather, Precip. for Indianapolis, April 9.

A Muzwamp Shiver.

It is not a disqualification for a minister to be a Christian, or a member of a church that he is from South Dakota. Yet the people whose opinion is worth taking on such a question do not seem to be particularly impressed with the qualifications were such as to make him a creditable representative at Vienna it would have been found out in so many ways. Mr. Tripp who has impressed himself somewhat on the ambient air as Mr. Hannis Taylor has done, and as Messrs. Bayard, Eustis and He-Eleven, in the same connection, and creeping sensation along the spinal column greet the announcement that a string of ministers, and in the presence of the office of Land Commissioner has been nominated as minister to Austria, and a hope is entertained that the Senate may satisfy itself that he is really qualified for the place before it advises and consents to his appointment.

He Was Insulted.

Washington Post. Col. Pat Dyer, of St. Louis, is one of the distinguished Missourians who came to Washington yesterday. He is man of portly, robust and imposing presence, well groomed and happy. He has been his life long a better and uncompromising Republican. The Colonel always raises the old flag from his nude and soaring dome of thought and gazed around upon the array of office seekers who crowd the Ebbitt morning and night, and use up all his toothpicks.

A Defective Simile.

Detroit Free Press. "Sleep" responded the large, good-natured, comfortable-looking man, to a question the man by the stove had put to him; "I don't know." "What baby?" queried a nervous, harassed-looking young fellow, with a strange glitter in his eyes. "What baby, I say?" "I don't know," responded the man, who that night had been a father for only a year.

He Knew.

Detroit Free Press. "I don't feel a bit well this evening, I'm so dull and drowsy. Do you know what is good for that tired feeling?" The advertising man replied: "Fanny. It's now three minutes of it. Good evening."

THANKS TO THE INTRODUCTION OF SALVATION OIL.

young bicyclers need not fear a fall. 25 cents.

ANOTHER POINT OF ATTACK

Attorney-General's Office Wages Its War on Loan Association Methods.

Opinion Issued Implying that the Building Societies Have No Right to Borrow and Releas Money.

Deputy Attorney-general Bailey, who wrote the opinion that "paid-up" stock of building associations is taxable, which has caused so much comment, has prepared another opinion, which will, doubtless, be as widely commented on. It is a sort of addendum to the first opinion, and will be sent out to the assessors to-day bearing the Attorney-general's signature, as it has been approved by him. This second opinion raises the point that building associations have no right whatever to borrow money, and while it does not go so far as to positively assert this doctrine, it raises the question and leaves the money-borrowing power of the associations open to attack. "The building associations," said Mr. Bailey yesterday, "are organized under the laws of the governing building and loan societies. Section 30 of that law, which describes their powers, expressly provides that they shall have the right to loan to stockholders the accumulations paid in by them on specified securities, and declare that the earnings shall belong to the stockholders. It seems to me that this express provision confines the loaning operations of the association to the money thus accumulated from payments made on stock.

CLEARING UP A MYSTERY.

How Mr. Reeves, a Union Soldier, Happened to Be Appointed from the South. New York Commercial Advertiser.

It seems that we have been in error in supposing that Felix A. Reeves, of Tennessee, who has been appointed to the position of a member of the War Record of the Treasury on his merits. Several of our more or less esteemed Southern contemporaries wish it understood that the war record of Mr. Reeves had nothing whatever to do with his appointment. We gather from their candid remarks that his war record was something of a hindrance; and, further, that he could not have been nominated at all had it been for the powerful influence of the Southern "pull" of Senator Harris, who, the Chattanooga Times informs us, was "one of the pillars of the Confederacy."

BOLD BURGLARY.

Second-Hand Store on Washington Street Robbed Early in the Evening. Burglars played a shabby trick at the expense of M. Katz, a dealer in second-hand goods, at No. 233 East Washington street, last night. Mr. Katz sleeps in the store, and last night retired very early. It was perhaps 10 o'clock when he was awakened by the cracking of glass at the front of the store. He arose to investigate and found that he had been robbed of two watches, a pair of shoes and a shirt. The burglars had effected an entrance by raising the window, and in leaving had broken the sash in their haste. One of Mr. Katz's watchmen claims to have seen a man jump through the window, and describes him as short, heavy set and wearing a soft hat and dark suit.

AMUSEMENTS.

This week's attraction at the Park Theater, opening with matinee to-day, will be the musical comedy, "Maggie's Landing," with a capable cast, and new songs and specialties. Dr. Carver, the champion rifle shot of the world, and his big Wild West company are billed in "The Soldier and the Boy," a drama, at the Empire this week, beginning this afternoon.

The attraction at the Grand to-night and until Thursday will be the drama, "The Soldier and the Boy," by Dennis, called "The Old Homestead," which played four years at the Academy of Music in New York.

Fanny Davenport, supported by her own company, headed by Messrs. M. D. and M. J. Davenport, comprising nineteen speaking characters and a chorus and auxiliaries numbering over one hundred people, will appear in "The Soldier and the Boy" at the Grand to-night and all the week in Sardon's "Cleopatra."

King Surrenders Himself.

John A. King, the commercial traveler who was wanted for living with the woman Kate Morrison, walked into the police station yesterday and gave himself up. He was not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom he has had the honor to wait upon for instructions as to their wardrobes have not mentioned erinoline. On the other hand, the Frenchman says with pride and authority, but of a different kind, that erinoline shall not be worn. He will permit it. He has not given his previous time, but his invaluable talents gradually and firmly to lead the daughters of Eve to a style of wearing apparel, which, if not so simple as the Frenchman says, will be at least not confuse and pervert the noble lines of beauty inherited from her. And shall be in the hour of his triumph, his shining charms, "royal personage" whom