BLACK CHECKMATED.

Scheme to Appoint Democratic Surgeons at Soldiers' Homes Exposed.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Had it not been for the vigilance of the Republicans in the House to-day ex-Commissioner of Pensions Block, of Illinois, a Democrat, would have sneaked an amendment into the sundry civil appropriation bill which would have deprived ex-Union soldiers practicing medicine of the opportunity of becoming surgeons and physicians at the Marine Soldiers' Home or any other institution of that character in the country. Under the law the surgeons at national soldiers' homes must be men who have rendered service for the country in arms. General Block wanted to amend the law so that the boards of governors of soldiers' homes may exercise their judgment and employ physicians without regard to their military service. The fact is, he wanted to make it possible for this administration to give out these positions to Democratic spoilsmen, young physicians who never smelled powder. Representative Cannon, of Illinois, by catching General Block, drew out the information that physicians at soldiers' homes receive from $1,000 to $2,750 per year's salary, and are given quarters.
