TWO UNUSUAL SUITS POMPEII PROPRIETORS SUE FOR LOSS OF THE BRUCE BARN.

Claimed that Fireworks Caused the Damage—Fight for Naval Rights at the Ripple.

Two suits for damages and writs of attachment were filed yesterday against the proprietors of the Pompeii spectacle by Margaret Bruce and Elijah Hofford. James, Henry L. and Henry J. Pain are defendants to the suit. Mrs. Bruce, one of the plaintiffs, is the owner of the barn which was burned Friday night at the intersection of Park and Sutherland avenues. The stable was located within a few squares of the spectacle, and the plaintiffs allege that the exhibition of fireworks was so negligently managed as to permit a shower of sparks to scatter beyond the confines and limits of the park. It is alleged that the defendants paid no heed to the burning stable and made no effort to extinguish the flames or to abate the danger to other buildings. Mrs. Bruce demands $1,000 damages for her share of the loss. The plaintiff Hofford, who had a quantity of grain stored in the barn, estimates his loss at $700. The court was asked to place in the hands of the sheriff a writ of attachment against the defendants' property.

The Boat Row at the Ripple.

Judge Brown, of the Circuit Court, yesterday granted an order restraining R. C. Light, the Broad Ripple Rapid-transit Company and Roland S. McDonald from interfering with the property of Fred D. Norvold, the lessee of a certain portion of Broad Ripple Park. The plaintiff, on Sept. 11, 1894, secured from the Indianapolis Water Company the right to operate boats upon the "reservoir" at Broad Ripple for one year, with the privilege of a renewal of the lease at the expiration of that year. It was shown in the application for an injunction that the defendants, on Sept. 20, threatened to take possession of the plaintiff's rights and destroy his boats. He averred that they damaged his property to the extent of $1,000. The court, after asking damages for that amount, Judge Brown granted the injunction, which will remain in force until Sept. 29, when the case will be finally heard.

Neither Spoke English.

Ann Theresa Warchold, aged seventy-three years, was the plaintiff in a suit for divorce in Room 2, Superior Court, yesterday. Franz Warchold, the defendant, is ten years the junior of his wife. The aged plaintiff charged her spouse with cruel treatment, and set up a number of specific facts to prove her accusations. On the occasion she said that Franz came into her room where she was ill and struck her with a broom. The couple were married in Berlin in 1878. Neither the plaintiff nor defendant could speak English, and the services of an interpreter was required through the case.

Injunction Against Nobleville.

Judge Baker, of the United States Court, has granted a temporary restraining order to the Lake Erie & Western railway to prevent the city of Nobleville from continuing certain street improvements. The suit was for the road contemplated by the operation of trains. The order was made returnable Sept. 28.

Emilia Teague, in a complaint for divorce against Moses Teague, alleges that her husband has failed to provide for her and that he has treated her cruelly, and since his separation from her a year ago has written her slanderous and insulting letters.

BUTLER VS. HIGH SCHOOL.

The University Team Won—Harry Griffith Disabled.

The Butler football team played the Indianapolis High School on the college campus yesterday afternoon. The game was called at 4 o'clock. The teams lined up as follows: High School, Butler; Foxworthy, Center; Butler, Beville; Pennington, Right guard; Loop, Schlicher, Left guard; Owens, M. Gooden, Right tackle; Giesler, S. Parker, Left tackle; Core, H. Griffith, Right end; Parker, Winter, Left end; Foster, Holiday, Right half back; Al. Hall, St. John, Left half back; Foster, Barth, Quarter back; W. Blount, Renhart, Full back; W. Blount, The Score: Butler, 22; High School, 12. Griffith and Renhart scored for High School and Hall and Foster for Butler. During the second half Goode and Owens were disqualified and Sam Patterson, "Purser," half back of last year, was put in. Shortly before the close of the game considerable excitement was caused by the disappearance of Harry Griffith. He was outside the foul line, and Griffith, bringing it in and touching it down, attempted to return the ball, and was knocked unconscious. It was several hours before he recovered.

WATER WORKS FOR BRIGHTWOOD.

Citizens by an Election Decide to Have a System.

The election at Brightwood yesterday on the water-works question resulted in a victory for the Progressives. One hundred and eight-two votes were cast favoring the establishment of a system of water works. Eleven citizens voted against the movement. Those in favor of the water works declare that a plant can be built for $3,000 and they say that they mean to have it.

TWO STREET-CAR STORIES.

One day last week there were two passengers coming down town on an Alabama-street car. One sat on the front seat and the other further back. The car reached Delaware street near the headquarters of the fire department and there came a woman toward the car waving her umbrella and signaling by every known method to the motorman. He saw her and kindly stopped and waited for her to come across the space and get on the car. Just before she was seated the conductor saw the bell and the power was applied with such swiftness that the car started and she was thrown toward the seat in front and from all demonstrations she thought she was hurt. As she took her seat next to the front passenger she began to sob and about "the way the street cars were run in this city, anyhow. Nothing suited her, and she kept up her tirade till the conductor came for her fare. Then she turned on him. She told him she was going to report him, that he did not know his business, and she blamed the company for allowing such a man to be in their employ. She found her pocketbook after searching through her satchel, and as she handed the man her fare she fairly scolded: "There, take your nickel and you give me a ticket to the lunatic asylum." The passenger at the back of the car thought he could have guessed her decision before she demanded a transfer ticket.

A short time ago on one of the Clifford-avenue cars was a young man who occupies a prominent political position and whose inhabitants patronize the Clifford-avenue line. There were ever so many passengers, and when he jumped aboard he sat on the front seat. In the seat next to others and among them two women. Between them was a valise. One of the women signaled the car to stop and got out and got out. As she did so the political young man wanted to do the handsome thing and he got up and took the valise, and as the bell rang twice set the valise on the ground. The woman in the car looked around and said "Why, this is my valise," and started to rise. The p. y. m. had a confused sense of having been somewhat rash, and motioning the conductor to stop, he jumped off and got the valise and placed it by her side. Then he went and the rest of the way he kept the coupler at the rear and wished he had just a little bit of sense.

An Infant's Peculiar Death.

Several days ago the sixteen-month-old child of E. H. Moulton, residing at No. 361 Indiana avenue, fell from a porch and received injuries which, it is thought, caused its death. The remains were buried Friday and Coroner Beck learned about the case yesterday. Dr. J. W. Partlow, who attended the child, denies that its death was caused by injuries received in a fall, and Coroner Beck thinks he has sufficient grounds upon which to make an investigation.

ASLEEP ON THE TRACK.

Charles Howard, a Big Four Employee, Killed by an Engine.

Charles Howard was struck by a switch engine yesterday morning about 2 o'clock on the Big Four tracks about three-quarters of a mile northeast of the Massachusetts-avenue station and received injuries that caused death a few minutes afterwards. He was employed by the Big Four in the city yards, and Friday night about midnight he started to walk from his home in Brightwood along the railroad tracks to his work. On leaving Brightwood he was very tired and on the way to the city evidently sat down to rest and fell asleep, as the engineer of the engine which struck Howard says that he saw Howard sitting on a rail holding his head in his hands. He was struck on the head and feet from the track, but retained consciousness. His body was badly bruised and cut and he died from the shock of the engine falling on the man shortly after medical assistance when Howard died. He was working for the Big Four since the recent strike, and was well thought of. He came from Illinois and has a mother living there, the address of whom Coroner Beck has not yet learned. The remains of the dead man were taken in charge by Flanner & Buchanan.

MAY INDORSE PATERNALISM.

Carpenters' Brotherhood to Consider Federation of Labor Platform.

The Carpenters and Joiners' Brotherhood, in convention, had another quiet session yesterday. The greater part of the time was consumed in making constitutional changes, which were of a minor nature. It was decided to allow the local unions to use any language which they desire in their business meetings or in the ritual. The convention left the question of admitting the Cabinet Makers' Union and the House Framers' of New York to the organization of the local unions. The latter will take a vote upon the question, and the result will decide it. Contrary to expectation, the political action of the convention was postponed, and will probably be considered tomorrow. It is thought that the platform of the American Federation of Labor will be indorsed. Many of the delegates are openly stating that it would be a wise policy to pursue. The platform approves governmental ownership of railroads, telegraph systems and the like. The work of the convention will probably be finished by Tuesday. No dues have yet made application for the next convention, but it is thought that it will be able to elect a new executive committee, and the organization is strongest in those localities.

CARBOLIC ACID BY MISTAKE.

Mrs. W. W. Johnson Dies After Taking the Acid.

Mrs. W. W. Johnson died suddenly at her home, No. 238 East Vermont street, yesterday morning, after taking carbolic acid by mistake. She had been suffering with asthma and heart disease for some time past and either her husband or one of her five grown children were always within call when she needed assistance. In a fit of choking yesterday morning about 4 o'clock she asked for whiskey. Her husband went to the table to get it and in his hurry poured out carbolic acid instead. She died without noticing the difference until it was swallowed. Dr. Frank Morrison says he believes death was due to heart disease rather than the acid. She was the mother of C. D. Johnson, a well-known stenographer, and her husband was a member of Typographical Union No. 1.

FOR THE PARK, $7,000

FINANCE COMMITTEE WILL RECOMMEND THAT SUM FOR GARFIELD.

CITY ATTORNEY HOLDS THAT THE VAPOR LIGHT CONTRACT IS NOT VALID—COMMITTEE MEETS.

The finance committee of the Council met last night to consider the appropriations to be passed upon at the special meeting of the Council Monday night. The appropriations were in the main approved by the committee as they came to it. The appropriation for vapor lights, amounting to $3,000, and that for Garfield Park received the principal consideration. The city attorney has submitted to the committee an opinion, in which he holds that the contract of the company with the city is not valid because it was not submitted to the Council for ratification as required by the charter. If the city should decline to abide by the contract, however, the company would sue for a specific performance and the city would be involved in more litigation. Chairman Rank was in favor of cutting out the appropriation for vapor lights altogether. Other members of the committee, however, were in favor of adding it to the appropriation for other lights if it was decided not to use the vapor lights. The Garfield Park estimate was cut from $10,000 to $7,000. The latter was the original amount fixed by Controller Truesler. Upon the recommendation of Mayor Denny the finance committee afterwards raised the amount to $10,000, and has now reduced it to the original amount. Members of the committee say they would favor the appropriation of even a larger sum than $10,000 if the city had a board of park commissioners who would devote their time to seeing that money expended in the improvement of the park was judiciously expended.

Charges Against Meuer.

The captain of hook and ladder company No. 2 has filed charges against fireman Meuer, of that company, for absenting himself from the house without leave. An unusually fine entertainment is expected to be the result of weeks of hard work by the young people who are getting it up.
