

Columbian Half Dollars

The official change of the WORLD'S FAIR given in charge of their face value on all purchases at the regular price.

SEE THE WINDOW.

L. S. AYRES & CO.

BRASS BEDSTEDS

From $15 to $200

And in Every Pattern Made

Brass Bedsteads are perfect from a sanitary point of view - healthy, sweet, cleanly.

Brass Bedsteads are the best because of their durability.

Brass Bedsteads are desirable for artistic reasons - they are in perfect taste and highly decorative.

SEE THE BRASS AND ONYX BEDSTED IN THE WINDOW.

Visit our Furniture Department.

ASTMAN, SCHLEICHER & LEE

Window Bargain Sale Every Monday.

ART EMPORIUM.

Telephone 500.

Casts from the antique, low in price and very fine, in antique ivory finish. See our assortment.

Portrait busts of authors and musicians.

THE H. LEBER COMPANY, 38 South Meridian Street.

Recent photographs of Dr. O. W. Holmes.

FOR Neat and Nobby SHOES

GO TO "THE FASHION"

10 N. PENN. ST.

You will want Rockers, and Chairs, and other odd fancy pieces. We have for years gotten out a large line of Holiday Goods for wholesale.

Some how and let us lay away your presents.

UNITED STATES LOUNGE MFG. CO.

5th Collins, Prest. 25 & 27 N. Illinois St.

"This dish of meat is too good for any but angels, or very honest men."

KNOX'S World-renowned Hats

He is one of the clerical members, being a minister of the Friends Church. A. C. Lindbergh, one of the Republican leaders of the last House, is also in town.

He is in consultation yesterday with the party leaders, who recalled the services of a member of the minority in the last Legislature.

A Candidate for Doorkeeper.

R. K. Groves, of Perry county, is a candidate for Doorkeeper of the House of Representatives.

BUTLER FOOTBALL TRAINING.

Preparations for the Game with Wabash To-Morrow.

The course of training which the teams of Butler University and Wabash College are undergoing at present much resembles that of Eastern teams just before their struggle for second place in the State College Association.

They will remind you to go and make your plans according to Marcy's. Everything as bright as a new dollar. It's getting well on in the season and you should have your goods laid aside now and call later and get them. Beautiful goods in every line and prices to suit the times.

MARCY THE JEWELER

38 West Washington Street.

SHERIFF WOMACK'S DEPUTIES.

James Hamilton Will Be Chief-Harry Mounts Turnkey.

Sheriff-elect Womack will go into office Dec. 10, and for the places under him he has had over 500 applications.

For Ladies Only.

What you need now is a pair of shoes that will stand up to the most exacting conditions of wear, and that will give you the most comfortable and durable.

PROMISES TO BE KEPT

REPUBLICAN SENATORS DETERMINE LEGISLATIVE POLICY.

A Pair Appointments and an Economic Administration-Committee to Name Senate Committees.

The conference of the Republicans will constitute the majority of the next State Senate, both yesterday and today.

It was decided to have the various State institutions, carefully canvassed with a view to change for the better where it can be done by law, and when this investigation shall have been made, to pass a law putting them under the direction of non-partisan boards to be appointed by the Governor in time for the Senate to confirm.

It is assumed that the Governor will, under the circumstances, readily concur with such legislation, but if he will not, there was a feeling expressed that the Legislature must take the matter in hand.

The expectation is that the Governor will regard the expression of the law-making branch of the Legislature.

In regard to doorkeepers and subordinates it was decided to adhere strictly to the provisions of the statute as it now stands.

This was given out so that a large number of persons may not come here expecting that forty or sixty men will be employed, as by the last Legislature, in violation of the law.

The general policy of the Senate, as outlined by the speaker, is to exercise the utmost care in appropriations. This is especially necessary because the times are hard and the Legislature has a right to be economical.

In fact, the attention of the Senate will be directed to efforts to secure a better management of its institutions upon business principles. It will vote the money for construction of buildings only when it is absolutely necessary for the State institutions.

The conference was unanimous in favor of a new commission to investigate the department, for which legal reasons can be given. In regard to the election law, it was decided to make no change except to allow each party to have authorized watchers present at the count.

Hon. Le. Henry and Fayette, was unanimously nominated for President of the Senate, and Senator W. W. W. was appointed to select the committees to be reported to the Senate.

The conference was called after an expression of the confidence of the members of the Senate in the speaker, and in the members of the committee.

Those who will be members of the next Senate, in order that the Senators might get acquainted with each other, were invited to a supper at the Hotel Hamilton last night.

Completed some of the work of the afternoon session, the speaker, and the members of the committee who will nominate the Senate committees made a report to the Senate.

The members decided to keep the name of the nominating committee as it is at present. The committees selected by them will be submitted to Lieutenant Governor W. W. W. and if he refuses to abide by the choice the appointment will be taken out of his hands.

Senator W. W. W. after the adjournment: "There are many men of strength among the candidates for the Senate who are not being considered. I believe that the majority of the party in platform and on the stump, are not being considered. I believe that the majority of the party in platform and on the stump, are not being considered."

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

Senator White and Senator Bethel, the former of Warrick and Spencer and the latter of Knox and Putnam, and both doctors, are in town. They are in town to see the Governor.

Senator Kerns, representing Vermillion and Parke counties, is one of the several farmers in the House. He said to a Journal reporter:

"The people of my county expect us to transact the business of the Legislature in a business-like manner. They expect us to have a business-like administration of the public institutions of the State."

MR. SUNDAY'S APPEAL

HE APPEARS AT ONE CHURCH AND MR. CHAPMAN AT ANOTHER.

Two Big Audiences Show the Interest That is Gathering for the Evangelical Campaign.

The Sixth Presbyterian Church was packed again last night for the occasion of a discourse by William Sunday, the evangelist who is working with Dr. Chapman. The latter preached to a crowded audience at Edin Ray Church, making a deep impression and being rewarded by seeing evidence of repentance and acceptance of salvation.

Mr. Sunday had a like experience. His pleading, tender voice and his persuasive and yet vigorous periods, did not fail to make perceptible a depth of feeling throughout his congregation.

His discourse was based on the words "Behold I stand at the door and knock." He showed that God had provided a way of salvation and sent His Son who should plead with the sons of men to accept the offered grace. The call was urged by God in His tenderness and mercy, but oftentimes it does not win the heart. Then there are other methods, he said, of showing humanity its need of God and of His Son. Trials are sent, that from a full realization of man's weakness, he may cry for the help of God.

He said that God is sending His Son, the evangelist, to stand at the door and knock, and a storm arose that threatened the safety of all. A man who kept a saloon in Chicago, the first friend related, was on board and in the extremity of despair had thrown himself upon his knees and promised that if he could but reach land he would live a Christian life.

"But he didn't," continued the speaker, "his prayer was heard and he lived to go back to his old business and kept one of the wicked places in Chicago. But it is not for us to judge him - he has begged favors of God and made promises and then not kept them? Sometimes Jesus comes to us through beds of sickness and a death. There was a time of epidemic diphtheria some years ago in Cherokee, and a man named John R. was president of the Infidel Club. His little daughter was taken sick and became very ill. After night had set in she lay weak and restless upon her bed with her father by her side. He was so anxious to see her recovered that he wanted to see Dr. Knox (who is now pastor in one of your churches here) and he went to his house to see him. He found Dr. Knox in his study and he said, 'Oh, yes he does,' he answered, 'I went to his Sunday school.' And thus his father was induced to see the first offense, and for the second the place would be closed. The order includes a number of clubs which have been serving intoxicants to their members without either city or county licenses. At police headquarters it is said the order is the result of complaints from citizens about town and also on the part of the city council. The practice of selling liquors in these places was an injustice to them, as they were compelled to close at 11 o'clock, while the resorts were open at any hour a visitor might call.

CLARK MODEL ACCEPTED.

Monument Commissioners Pass on Mr. Mahoney's Work.

The model of George Rogers Clark was yesterday accepted by the State Board of Monument Commissioners. The contract for casting the statue will be awarded at the close of the present session of the board. Sculptor Mahoney was instructed to prepare a model of William Henry Harrison, which will be placed on the pedestal of the Clark monument. The statue will be placed on the pedestal of the Clark monument. The statue will be placed on the pedestal of the Clark monument.

Home for Friendless Women.

The manual of the Home for Friendless Women gives a brief history of the litigation through which the home sought to secure certain city blocks for the purpose of erecting a home for friendless women. The recent attempt to secure these blocks recalls this history. Under an act of 1873, fines for the breach of certain class of penal ordinances were to be paid over to a home for friendless women, provided such a home existed in the city. The city of Indianapolis questioned the constitutionality of the act, but the Supreme Court held the act constitutional, and until 1881 the home in question received the fines. In 1881 an act was passed prohibiting all cities of the State from making or enforcing ordinances for the punishment of acts that are punished under State law as State offenses, and thereby nullifying the ordinance of the city of Indianapolis, from which the home received fines, were from that time on no longer payable under State law. The Constitution of the State requires that all fines collected for State offenses be a part of the common school fund. Since the passage of the act of 1881, therefore, the fines for the breach of certain city ordinances are paid into the common school fund.

Negro Etched the Officers.

William Green, a negro, who was sent to the workhouse several months ago for drawing a deadly weapon, eluded patrolmen Johnson and Kiefer when they made an attempt to arrest him on another charge of assault with intent to kill, which was filed against him at the time he was sent up on the first charge. They went to his home and demanded his surrender, at the same time telling him they had a warrant for him. He was armed with a revolver and a knife and was preparing to read it when he was arrested by Johnson and Kiefer. He is the man who shot at Mr. Treaney, on North Capitol avenue, because he refused him to get out of a neighbor's fruit trees.

Republican Thanksgiving Banquet.

Representatives of all the Republican organizations in Marion county will meet tonight at the Marion Club for the purpose of completing arrangements for the annual banquet of the officers of these organizations. The banquet will be given at the Marion Club and will be a most enjoyable affair. It will be a most enjoyable affair. It will be a most enjoyable affair.

Banish the Postmaster Injured.

George Treaney, postmaster at Banta, Ind., attempted to alight from a South Meridian street car yesterday evening, about 6 o'clock, while it was in motion. He was thrown to the pavement and seriously injured. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and the dispensary ambulance called. Dr. Terrell found him suffering from concussion of the brain. He was removed to the home of a niece, south of a block away.

Delinquent Still in the Flesh.

The stationer Delinquent, of this city, is not dead, as has been reported. Mr. Dickinson cannot account for the rumors that have been circulating. As the boys have not been sick he is of the opinion that they were started by some malicious purpose. Delinquent is one of the best-known performers in the State, having a record of 2-18 in his half-mile track and several standard performances.

Test of Voices for the Festival.

Owing to the great number of applicants for position in the May Festival chorus, there will be two more voice tests, one this evening and one Monday evening at the College of Music. This is probably the largest chorus ever given in this city and that all who wish to be in the chorus should make application at once. The rehearsal for the festival will begin about Dec. 1.

SMITH WON AN EX-OFFICIAL

Fee-Grabber Retires from Office-Hess as Supreme Court Clerk.

Attorney-general Smith smiled as he became an ex-Senator yesterday when he received the oath of office, administered by the new Supreme Court Clerk Alexander Hess. The new Attorney-general came with a barrel of apples and a box of cigars with which the voters were regaled the remainder of the day. Mr. Ketcham began work at once and at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon was at his desk going through a big pile of transcripts that lay before him. Assistant Attorney-general Merrill Moore received the oath of office yesterday and will begin his duties this morning. Miss Hattie Moore, who was chief clerk in the office under the former Attorney-general, will be retained. Before leaving the statehouse yesterday Mr. Smith invited all the officers and clerks to a dinner which he proposes to give next week.

A. M. Sweeney, Supreme Court Clerk, retired from office at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The incoming clerk, Alexander Hess, received the oath of office from Mr. Sweeney. Mr. Hess will make immediate changes in his clerical force. He is considering a large number of suggestions for places but will appoint no one until he has thoroughly familiarized himself with the office work. Mr. Sweeney, the retiring clerk, will remain in Indianapolis at the head of an insurance company of which he was recently elected general manager.

NEW GEOLOGIST'S WORK.

Will Make Systematic Surveys-Wants More Money.

W. S. Blatchley, the new State Geologist, will ask the Legislature to increase the appropriation for his office. Until two years ago the appropriation was $5,000, but at the last session of the General Assembly the amount was cut down to $2,000. Mr. Blatchley says it is impossible to carry on the geologic work of the State with that amount. The new Geologist will make some radical changes in the manner of conducting the surveys of the State. Each year he expects to make a number of new discoveries of the natural resources of Indiana. The first year he reported the limestone product, which the Geologist says is of the finest quality to be found in the country. Mr. Blatchley has decided upon an office inspector to succeed the present incumbent of the office, but declines to make public his choice.

He Is Before a Higher Bar.

It has been ascertained that William Stillwell, indicted by the federal grand jury last week for passing counterfeit money, is dead. Deputy Marshall Dooling was informed of this on Monday yesterday to Swanzey to arrest Stillwell.

We are closing out our Knox and Gordon & Co.'s high-grade walking shoes at $2.50. The regular price of these goods is $3.00. DALTON, High-Class Hatter.

DINED THE FIREMEN

COMMITTEE FROM TERRE HAUTE CONFER WITH BOARD OF TRADE.

Brotherhood of Firemen Organized Here-Moved to Terre Haute When Debs Was Secretary.

Six members of the committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, which is to decide upon a location for the general offices of the order were in the city yesterday afternoon and last night, the guests of the Board of Trade, viewing the city and inspecting the various office buildings which would be available for the purposes of the order. The party consisted of T. W. Arnold, grand secretary and treasurer; Eugene A. Ball, T. P. O'Rourke, Henry Walton, Fred Keeler and E. H. Brown. They were met at the depot by a committee of the Board of Trade and a committee from the local lodge of the brotherhood, and driven direct to the Board of Trade building, where they were shown the rooms which had been offered to the order for offices, after which they were taken to several of the main office buildings and other suitable apartments shown them.

To give the men, most of whom were strangers here, some idea of the city which is bidding for the location of their headquarters a drive over town was taken. It extended north through the main residence portion, almost as far as Fall creek, and south on Virginia avenue to McCarty street. In the evening the visitors were given a 6 o'clock dinner at the Grand Hotel, about thirty persons were present and two hours were passed in a pleasant informal chat.

The result of the visit of the committee will not be known for several days yet, probably not until next week. Last night the committee went to Evansville, as will hear the claims of that place presented today. It was expected that the matter would be decided before now, but no such invitations have been received to visit the city, and it is supposed that a few days' foreseen delay has caused the committee to be delayed in its decision.

Indianapolis was the original home of the order. It was founded here in 1872, and its offices were on South Illinois street until at that time W. W. Sawyer, who was secretary and treasurer and T. W. Arnold, who was grand secretary, were in the city. The search of the records satisfied him that his suspicions were correct. The train was stopped at Fairland to do some switching, and in a short time the conductor noticed that a car he was standing on seemed to pass over something on the track. He made an investigation and found Meyer lying there dead.

The railroad men were inclined to suspect that he was the victim of foul play. At Fairland and came to this city on it. It was supposed that Meyer had stolen a car on this train, and believing Meyer had some money, Wednesday being payday, had killed him and thrown the body over the train to hide his crime. It is not known how much money he had when he was killed, but when the train was examined the remains he found $1.10 in his pockets. The Illinois Railway, which was owned by Flanner & Buchanan's morgue. Mr. Meyer was thirty-two years old and married.

Conductor Killed at Fairland.

F. W. Meyer, who lives at 88 Harrison street, was killed yesterday evening at Fairland, Shelby county, by a Big Four freight train. He is a brakeman in the employ of the road, and left here about 5 o'clock on his regular run. The train stopped at Fairland to do some switching, and in a short time the conductor noticed that a car he was standing on seemed to pass over something on the track. He made an investigation and found Meyer lying there dead.

The railroad men were inclined to suspect that he was the victim of foul play. At Fairland and came to this city on it. It was supposed that Meyer had stolen a car on this train, and believing Meyer had some money, Wednesday being payday, had killed him and thrown the body over the train to hide