to-night to sit on the Court of Appeals to-morrow. He spent the evening with Judge Taft and others. He had not heard of the trial, which was conducted in the evening papers. To a reporter he furnished the following statement:

"Some four or five years ago the McCullens brought suit in the United States Circuit Court at Cleveland, Ohio, for personal service on Ritchie in Canada. When sued on the judgment in the Circuit Court, he claimed the right to plead defenses which he should have made in the original suit."

"The case was tried before United States Circuit Judge Jackson (now of the United States Supreme Court), and Judge Ricks. The latter wrote the opinion of the court, which was concurred in by Justice Jackson, and in that opinion, the court held that the Canada judgment had the same force and effect as the judgment of a court of one of the States of the Union and judgment was given in favor of the plaintiff. A writ of error was taken from the judgment in the Supreme Court of the United States, where it is still pending. The court has had it under advisement."

"In due time the McCullens filed a creditor's bill on their judgment so obtained, as above stated, and the McCullens, Burke, ex-attorney Henry B. Payne, A. F. McIntosh, of Cleveland, and the Cornell estate, of Akron, all parties defendant, seeking to reach assets and credits in their hands to be applied to the satisfaction of their judgment. This case in due time was heard on its merits by Judge Lorton and Judge Ricks. Judge Lorton took all the papers and the case to Cleveland, Ohio, and after a three months' careful consideration wrote a very exhaustive opinion deciding in favor of the McCullens. Judge Ricks rendered the opinion in the case, Judge Ricks was fully sustained so far as he participated in the case in his judgment. He was sustained, if he made any interlocutory orders and they were complied with, they were fully reviewed by the Supreme Court. His final opinion on the merits of the case."

These are the facts, as they will appear from an examination of the records of the court and of every book in Judge Ricks' library. He has no statement, deeming the other matters too trivial for notice. Judge Taft read the above, and from a knowledge of the facts, he is satisfied therein.

Donounced by Payne. CLEVELAND, Jan. 7.—Senator Payne, when shown the dispatch from Washington to-day, in reference to the memorial presented to Congress against United States citizenship for the charges are ridiculous and an outrageous slander. Let Mr. Ritchie pay Judge Ricks, Mr. Connelley and the other parties, and he can get his stock. Judge Ricks did not decide that case. He simply coincided with Judge Taft in his opinion. He borrowed money from Burke, Connelley and myself aggregating a million and a quarter.
