Governing committee—George W. Sloan, Y. K. Hendricks, Charles C. Perry, D. M. Parry, W. R. Holtan, George G. Tanner, L. W. Drew, T. H. McLean, A. H. Nordyke and M. B. Wilson.

DEMOCRATIC EDITORS.

Plans for Their Annual Meeting—The Great Issue of 1896. The committee from the Democratic Editorial Association which had in charge the arrangements for the summer meeting made report yesterday at a meeting of the executive committee at the Grand Hotel. It was decided to hold the meeting at Maxinkuckee June 27 and 28. C. W. Wellman, the president, will make the annual address at 7:30 o'clock p. m., June 27, and on the morning of the day following John G. Shanklin, will address the meeting. The editors on the subject "The Great Issue of 1896," J. P. Dunn will make an address on the same question and John B. Stoll will read a paper on "The Way to Victory." Resolutions of a political nature will be offered and discussed, chiefly relating to silver.

THE VOTERS' CHANCE

OPPORTUNITY TO-DAY TO REMAKE THE SCHOOL BOARD MAJORITY.

Elections to Be Held in the Fourth, Seventh and Eighth Districts—The Candidates.

The election of three members of the School Board begins this morning at 8 o'clock and the polls will be closed at 4 o'clock, unless there are citizens still asking to vote every fifteen minutes. Old-time methods are not barred, and there will be no ropes about the polls.

The polls are in the schoolhouses of the district. The voting place in the Fourth district is in school building No. 4, corner of Michigan and Blackford streets. The officers of the election board of this district as appointed by the City Council are as follows: Inspector, John Schmidt; judges, Allen Sims and Thomas Messick. The candidates in this district are Thomas E. Chandler, who is the candidate of the anti-cliquers, and Henry Russe, who went to the School Board with pledges and independently of the clique, but proceeded at once to ally himself to it in bonds that nothing has ever been able to break. He voted for the Ricketts purchase, and has participated in every extravagance and waste of money that the board has been guilty of. Mr. Chandler is president of the C. Taylor manufactory, which is a well and honorably known in the district.

The voting in district No. 7 will be done at school No. 7, corner of Bates and Benton streets. The clique candidate here is Charles C. Roth, who has invariably voted with the majority of the School Board for every scheme that was sprung upon the people. His opponent is Robert J. Magill, a well-known railroad man, a taxpayer and a citizen of the reputation of the late Lee Palmer and the judges are John L. McFarland and Julius Heineke. In the Eighth district the voting will be held in the schoolhouse formerly known as High School No. 2, on Virginia avenue. The candidates in this district are Edward L. Williams, who served acceptably as High School No. 2, on Virginia avenue, and who is now the candidate of the anti-cliquers. His opponent is Charles H. Adam, who is the creature of the clique, and who is nominally the treasurer of the board. He also promised to vote for the Ricketts purchase, and has been found in the hands of the clique, but he allied himself with it at once and has been tied up with it ever since. There has been no scheme on hand induced by the leaders that he has not supported. The election officers are W. Sims Ferguson, supervisor, John W. Wenner and H. R. Marten. At the time of the election of Messrs. Russe, Roth and Adam in 1892 the debt of the School Board was $20,000. It is now $125,000. They claim that the money was spent in increasing the resources of the School Board by new buildings, more ground and better equipment. The tax rate is now 25 cents a hundred, which is the limit of the law.

BLACKLEDGE TWISTS THE SCREW.

Compels Roth to Come Out Squarely Against Interest on School Fund.

The meeting of the School Board last night was marked by some political movements. The tempers of the members, however, were not seriously disturbed, and adjournment occurred without any of the unpleasantness that sometimes marks the meetings of the board. When the order of miscellaneous business was reached Mr. Blackledge sent to the assistant secretary and had read the following:

"Whereas, The School Board now has an indebtedness of about three-fourths of a million dollars, the larger part of which was contracted in the last three years, and involving the payment of about $25,000 annually in interest, and causing a large increase in the rate of taxation; and "Whereas, The purpose of this resolution cannot be stated with more clearness and commendable spirit than in the language of the pledge of our fellow-commissioners, now candidates for re-election, made and published in the Indianapolis Journal, on the 18th of 1892, for the avowed purpose of obtaining votes in the following words: "The undersigned, in reply to insinuations of the Indianapolis Journal, desire to say that they and the candidates for the Board of School Commissioners are not, and if elected will not be, under the control of any person or persons, and that they act in the interest of the city schools and their constituents, and hereby pledge themselves at no time and under no circumstances will we support anybody for treasurer of the board who will not agree that the school money shall be deposited with some bank that will agree to pay at least 3 per cent interest on the average of deposits; and "Whereas, The voters relied upon such pledge and elected our fellow-commissioners to office; therefore, be it resolved, That we are in favor of placing the school funds at interest, in safe hands, at the highest rate possible to obtain that we have been promised; and that the foregoing pledge, and sincerely regret that our fellow-commissioners Roth, Russe and Adam have seen fit not to keep that pledge."

The faces of the members were varied and amusing expressions. The president looked bored and confused. Mr. Roth gloomed. Mr. Hendrickson was laughing in his sleeve and Mr. Blackledge was looking innocently at the ceiling. Mr. Roth let no time be lost in taking the floor as soon as the last words were uttered by the assistant secretary. He said:

"I thought I had better say this. I want it understood that I never made such a pledge. I have denied a half a dozen times in this board that I ever made such a pledge. I want it to be understood that I will not agree to vote for any treasurer who says in his pledge that he will not agree to pay at least 3 per cent interest on the average of deposits, and could not be done lawfully."

"I have a statement to say to you that you never signed that statement to which your name is subscribed," asked Mr. Blackledge. "I have so stated a number of times."

"Those are, however, your sentiments?" "No—not those in the card. I am opposed to paying interest on the school money, but it is not safe to do so. I will not vote for anybody for treasurer who says he will pay the board interest." "I want to say that he would hold that up resolution was out of order unless the preamble were changed from the resolution. He was cut short by a motion to adjourn made by Mr. Yonessut, but the motion was not carried. The committee on the resolution, which was a committee of colored citizens from his district who were present to make a statement antagonistic to him. This committee, headed by W. Allison Sweeney, and composed otherwise of George W. Sloan, Haywood and G. L. Jones, was then given a hearing. Mr. Sweeney addressed the School Board in earnest language, and then by permission read the resolutions. They were those which were adopted at the mass meeting of colored citizens at the Second Baptist Church to refute the statement sent out by forty-three colored men relative to the sending of colored children to the nearest schools irrespective of color of the teachers. The board had received a communication signed by the forty-three colored citizens saying that they thought their children ought to go to schools taught by teachers of their own race. The resolutions read by Mr. Sweeney related and requested such schools as strong language as Mr. Sweeney's able command of language would permit. He said after finishing the reading of the resolution that it was not the purpose of the committee to seek to give the board as strong language as Mr. Sweeney's able command of language would permit, but that it desired to show that the race had a proper pride and was intent on preserving its just rights. The president ordered the petition placed on file.

Building Inspector Pendergast sent the board a letter relative to the swing of the doors in the Industrial Training School. He informed the board that he had found that only three doors swing as the law requires—outward. On motion of Mr. Adam the communication was referred to the committee on manual training school. An appropriation of $75 was made for the exercises of the commencement of High School No. 1 next Monday night at Tomlinson Hall. Diplomas for successful pupils were given to L. E. Lutz, E. Baiz, Sabra Conner, Pearl W. Culmer, Julia A. Dwyer, Bertha L. Hollie, Marlan E. Osborne and Julie Reiff. The secretary was authorized to turn over to H. H. Hanna, agent, $1,419.20 on account of supplies for the buildings for the Manual Training School. The report of the finances of the board showed a total credit balance of $17,674.72. The amount of warrants paid was $7,746.80. The total overdraft of tuition and other charges was $1,288.88. The member from Boston was not present. Other absentees were Loper and Gavin. The School Board ought, by its rules, to have held a meeting Thursday night for

GARFIELD PARK DAM

IT IS TO BE COMPLETED BY JULY 15 AT A COST OF $2,520.

Park Commissioners Will Try to Have Greenwood Line Pass Garfield Park.

The City Park Commission met yesterday with only Mr. H. C. Allen absent. The contract for the dam at Garfield Park was let to K. J. Fritz for $2,520. It is to be completed by July 15. The commission computed the expense of the improvements made at Military Park, and found that the amount was about $780. Messrs. Perry and Maus made a report as to the park on Brookside avenue, recommending the expenditure of $23,700 for cement walks, plumbing, washers and fountains. It is within the contemplation of the board's work to girdle the city with parks, and maps are being ordered with that end in view. The commission decided to invite the directors of the Greenwood electric line to meet with it next Friday for the purpose of conferring about building the line near Garfield Park.

NOW CALL FOR ASPHALT.

Works Board Will Pass Meridian-Street Resolutions To-Day. The Board of Works will this morning pass declaratory resolutions for the improvement of North Meridian street, from New York street to Seventh. The square north from New York will be paved with asphalt on account of the park, but from Vermont to St. Clair, and from St. Clair to Seventh, in two sections, the declarations will call for both asphalt and cedar blocks on a concrete foundation, so that the contractors require both to go to the Council one or the other may have a chance to go through. The street's width will not be disturbed by the work, the ground on which several members of the Council based their opposition.

THE CENTRAL UNION'S OFFER.

Wants to Buy a Franchise for 200 Fire and Police Telephones. The Central Union Telephone Company has intimated to the Board of Works that it will give the city the free use of two hundred telephones for fire and police purposes in consideration of a franchise. It also proposes to reduce the residence rates to $3 providing the renters be combined four on a wire. The company has already reduced its rates to compare with the other districts in the city. There was some disturbance in the service yesterday owing to a break in a cable which allowed water to reach the bundle of one hundred wires which carry the service so much that repairs had to be made.

Miller Gets the Contract.

The Board of Health has decided to advertise for bids for the meat supply at the City Hospital. There were several bids at the last meeting, but these have been rejected. The milk contract remains with Hiram Miller. H. H. of the Hendricks county creamery, having withdrawn his bid.

Off for New York.

Mayor Denny and President Holtan, of the Board of Works, will leave to-night for New York, to confer with the American Reduction Company concerning the ordinances that the company wants before the contract is closed.

Saloons May Open at Six.

Mayor Denny and Controller Tiler were besieged with inquiries yesterday as to the time the saloons might open to-day. It was decided that the day within the meaning of the law ends with the election day, at 6 o'clock p. m.

Streets Swept Too Early.

The Board of Health has been asked by the Board of Works to have the sweeping of the residence streets done later in the day than the sweeping of the business streets for people who are sitting on the front porches.

REFORMED CHURCH CLASSES.

Delegates from Several States in Attendance at the Meeting. At the First Reformed Church, corner of Noble and 6th streets, there is being held the forty-fifth annual convention of the Indiana Classis of the Reformed Church in the United States. About twenty-five ministers and a number of elders are in attendance at the meeting, which corresponds to a conference. Churches of Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois, Ohio and Tennessee are represented and from the latter connection is the consideration of questions concerning the church, and during the sessions, which will continue over Sunday, there are sermons by prominent preachers upon the Scriptures and church questions. Last night addresses were made by Rev. W. A. Ray, of New York, and Rev. J. Grauel, of Ohio. At the session yesterday Rev. C. F. Kriete was re-elected Moderator, and Rev. A. G. Gekeler was chosen in his stead. The reports read yesterday showed the different churches to be prospering.

ANOTHER SALOONIST TRIUMPHS.

Despite a Vigorous Opposition Chas. Mittendorf Gets a License. Notwithstanding that the remonstrance against Charles Mittendorf, of Broad Ripple, was vigorously prosecuted by attorney Spencer, a liquor license was granted by the County Commissioners yesterday afternoon. Mittendorf was accused of running a disorderly place. Attorney Spencer said that the remonstrators neglected to charge gambling in their petition and because of this oversight the license was granted. William Hout, commonly known as "Road House" Hout, was granted a license to sell liquor at Mount Jackson. A remonstrance in which nearly every citizen and neighbor had signed, was presented against Hout and he decided that he would go out of business.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Park's Season Closes To-Night. At 11 o'clock to-night the season at the Park Theater comes to a close. The bill for this afternoon and evening is a good one, comprising "The Streets of New York" and a dozen vaudeville acts that have attracted widespread attention this week. The performance begins at 2 o'clock and runs until 11 o'clock without a break. "The Streets of New York" is the best play yet put on by the present company.

"Jed Prouty" Takes the Debtor's Oath.

BOSTON, June 7.—Richard Golden, the actor, took the poor debtor's oath before Judge Forsyth in the Municipal Court today. He has been sued by the Springer Lithographic Company of New York, has sued Golden for $500 for a balance alleged to be due on a contract made in 1891 for posters struck by the "Jed Prouty" company. At to-day's hearing it developed that the last season's gross receipts of the "Jed Prouty" company were $20,000, of which 50 per cent fell to Golden. He accepted for one of a goodly portion of this by a trip to Europe.

Melba Averts a Panic.

LONDON, June 7.—During a performance of "Faust" at the Covent Garden Theater to-night the scenery caught fire, and considerable excitement resulted. A panic was the display of fireworks during the performance. The rockets were exploded from the south bank of the river. Not an unpleasant incident occurred to mar the enjoyment of those present, and notwithstanding the fact that the fire caused the thousands of people to and from the park, the evening passed off without an accident.

MEDICAL SOCIETY ADJOURNS.

Dr. Miles F. Porter, of Fort Wayne, Selected as President.

The Indiana State Medical Society elected officers, listened to a large number of papers and adjourned yesterday. The committee to report nominations of officers decided that as the next meeting is to be held in Fort Wayne it would be proper to have the president of the society at the schools in the township, outside of Allen county delegates. They named Dr. Miles F. Porter, Dr. Larkins, of Terre Haute, and Dr. Stilson, of this city, as delegates. Dr. W. B. Woodburn, of this city, secretary; Dr. Wheelock, of Fort Wayne, assistant secretary; and Dr. Stilson, of this city, treasurer.

High Death Rate Among Children.

The death rate among children has been high the last few days. One undertaker reports that he has buried seven babies in three days. The change in the temperature is thought to be the cause, for the change from the extremely hot weather to the cool is hard upon infants and invalids.
