

ALTERATION IN SALE

MONDAY SPECIALS

Woven Flannels, hankies and stylish patterns; 2c and 2c goods, yard... All those fine Dimities that we have been selling at 15c and 20c a yard...

L. S. Ayres & Co.

Store closes 1 p. m. Saturdays.

JULY'S LAST

Monday Window Bargains

Every odd pair of Nottingham, Tambores, Irish Point, Rensselaire and Brussels Lace Curtains to be sold Monday Window Bargain Prices.

EASTMAN, SCHLEICHER & LEE.

"Alaska" Refrigerators, White Mountain Freezers, Water Coolers and Filters, and All Hot Weather Goods.

LILLY & STALNAKER

Bargains in Watches

Our low prices win the trade. Our store is crowded with customers. We are doing the business.

BARGAINS THIS WEEK.

Watches and Diamonds. Special sale; low prices. Silver Novelties—we have the latest hobby styles. Always come to us for rock-bottom prices.

MAKRY'S

39 West Washington Street.

Ladies, Attention!

We are closing out our five-dollar Knox Walking and Bicycle Hats for ONE DOLLAR

Dalton, Hatter,

BATES HOUSE.

ORDER OF FORMATION REPORTED BY THE COMMITTEE—Notes of the Celebration.

The work of the Labor Day committee began yesterday at the English Hotel meeting to take definite shape.

IDA'S CLOTHING IDENTIFIED.

Mr. Gebhard Recognizes All but the Hat—No New Clues.

The stable in the rear of 127 and 129 River avenue, West Indianapolis, where the body of little Ida Gebhard was found, was visited by hundreds of people yesterday.

QUET DAY AT ACTON

SMALL CROWD ATTENDS THE FIRST SUNDAY SERVICES.

Eloquent Sermon by Dr. Sims on the Greatness Gained by Doing Good to Others—Striking Comparisons.

Yesterday was a very quiet day at Acton. Not even a breeze arose during the day to disturb the quietude.

The following letter was yesterday received at police headquarters:

"Mr. Linsen is absent. I will give up some rumors I get from you. Others I will not touch."

The above was written on a letter-head of the Minneapolis Brewing Company and had been mailed yesterday.

SERMONS AT BETHANY

REV. H. McARDMID TALKS ON "I AM THE WAY."

Lectures to Ministers by Prof. McGarvey, and the Assembly Lectures by Prof. Clark Begin To-Day.

The first Sunday at Bethany Park was by far more quiet than those usually passed at the park.

The larger part of the crowd in attendance arrived during the morning in buggies and wagons from the country.

At all the services in the tabernacle the building was well filled without being crowded.

Those who had sought the place for a restful Sunday were well pleased.

Sunday, as a rule, is the day of the week when the largest crowd attends the park.

But being the first Sunday the attendance was highly satisfactory.

The 6 o'clock prayer meeting held in the Christian Endeavor cottage was well attended by those on the grounds.

The model Sunday school at 9 o'clock in the tabernacle was a success in every way.

A large number of the children at the park were present.

The tabernacle was well filled at 10 o'clock to listen to a sermon by J. M. McGarvey, of Lexington, Ky.

He spoke of the subject of "Prayer," dwelling more especially on the prayers of Jesus while on the earth.

He asked the question "Why did Jesus pray?" and the main part of the sermon was an answer to this question.

He showed that while Jesus was divine He was also man.

He showed that while Jesus was divine He was also man.

He showed that while Jesus was divine He was also man.

He showed that while Jesus was divine He was also man.

He showed that while Jesus was divine He was also man.

He showed that while Jesus was divine He was also man.

He showed that while Jesus was divine He was also man.

He showed that while Jesus was divine He was also man.

He showed that while Jesus was divine He was also man.

He showed that while Jesus was divine He was also man.

He showed that while Jesus was divine He was also man.

He showed that while Jesus was divine He was also man.

He showed that while Jesus was divine He was also man.

He showed that while Jesus was divine He was also man.

He showed that while Jesus was divine He was also man.

CHANGED THE SLIPPERS FOR THIS. THIS LOOKS LIKE HER HAT, BUT I THOUGHT SHE HAD A BROWN BAND AROUND IT INSTEAD OF BLUE.

My wife would be able to identify the hat," Superintendent Powell, after looking at the garments, expressed his opinion.

Prize that there was no blood on them. Coroner Garko also remarked that fact.

Both officials seemed to think it strange that the clothing was not saturated from the blood that would have flowed from the wounds on the body.

A new theory has been advanced. There are some who think that the child was outraged. They suggest that perhaps the wounds were inflicted after death.

It is contended by some that the putrid condition of the body when found was evidence that death had not occurred.

Manlinson still cling to the belief that old man Linson knows something about the Diastri affair.

The following letter was yesterday received at police headquarters:

"Mr. Linsen is absent. I will give up some rumors I get from you. Others I will not touch."

The above was written on a letter-head of the Minneapolis Brewing Company and had been mailed yesterday.

Powell read the epistle and tossed it aside.

TO STRENGTHEN THE CLUB

A number of the Cincinnati Club players are to be added to the Indianapolis Baseball Nine.

A better way to "strengthen the club" is to feed the members liberally on Parrott & Taggart's

'Domestic Bread'

Sold by all grocers.

Bargain for Monday, July 29

To-day you can buy "Ben-Hur" by General Lew Wallace, for 95c or $1.05 by mail, if order is postmarked July 29.

CATHCART, CLELAND & CO

6 East Washington Street, INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

DEATH AT A CROSSING

ELLIS BROWN INSTANTLY KILLED BY A BIG FOUR TRAIN.

Thrown Fifty Feet and Fell by the Road—Horse Killed and Buggy Demolished.

Fast train No. 35 on the Cincinnati division of the Big Four, due here at 11:35 last night, struck a buggy at a crossing eight miles east of the city, killing Ellis Brown, who was driving.

The young man was thrown fully fifty feet and instantly killed. The horse, a valuable animal, was thrown in a ditch and killed.

The crossing where the accident occurred is about eight miles east, on a pike which runs south from the National Road.

It is what is known as an open crossing, a view of the track in both directions being had. There are only two explanations of the affair.

One is that Brown was asleep and the other is that he tried to cross ahead of the train, which was coming toward the city at the rate of a mile a minute.

The train was stopped as soon as possible and backed to the crossing. In the catagorized by the fragments of the buggy.

It was a ditch further west with a huge sign on the side of his head. He was dead. Further along lay the dead horse, lying very near the track.

The body was brought to the city and taken to the morgue. The train was followed, bringing in a crowd from Acton, were two friends of Brown, who, with the young man, were on the train.

Ellis Brown was a farmer, living about ten miles south of the city on the Shelbyville pike. He was twenty-five years of age.

Yesterday he went to visit a young lady, and was returning home at 7 o'clock. He was driving a buggy, and another person brought home dead, having died suddenly in the West.

AKER WINS A LOT.

Rode to Matthews in Four Hours and Thirty Minutes.

E. S. Aker won the race to Matthews yesterday, winning a lot valued at $125 and making an average time for the seventy-five miles of the race in an hour.

It required three machines to complete the victory, and the last sixteen miles, from Muncie to Matthews, was made in forty-nine minutes.

He was paced this distance by George Catterson and Otis A. Birge on a tandem. They were on the road at 7:15.

The first incident occurred before the party had made many squares. One of the racers, whose name could not be learned, ran into a buggy driven by a lady and caused the horse to run away.

The other racers reported that they saw him in the vehicle, but they were not certain.

All the entries not being known, the racers were then making twenty miles an hour.

About four miles beyond Brightwood a horse, which was named Sherer, collided with Bonfield and those who finished reported that the horse was killed.

The horse was killed by a hand-to-hand fight. Aker rode a Waverly on the start, but when he was about a mile from the start, he rode a horse named Mungler.

He rode this to Muncie, and when it broke down he borrowed a seventeen-pound horse from Cleland and finished the race.

He was in the style and evidently yet fresh and able for another trip. The race was held on Monday.

The others who finished were J. B. Schwanbacher, arriving at 12:34; Arthur Schwanbacher, arriving at 12:34; Grove Schwanbacher, arriving at 12:34; Marshall T. Levey, arriving at 1:30; Rolly Fisher, arriving at 1:30; and J. B. Schwanbacher, arriving at 2:30.

BIG FOUR ROUTE.

THE SHORTEST AND ONLY DIRECT ROUTE TO THE TRIENNIAL OF THE KNIGHTS OF THE TEMPLARS.

Tickets will be sold for all regular and numerous special trains, Aug. 19 to 25, at rates ranging from $10 to $20.

For the round trip from Indianapolis, and corresponding rates from all points on the Big Four and connecting lines, permitting stop-overs at Niagara Falls, Chautauqua and J. B. Schwanbacher, arriving at 2:30.

Daylight ride down the St. Lawrence river, through Montreal and the White Mountains, a life service, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

NEW LINE OF Belt Buckles.... AT HAND

Large assortment Gold Link Buttons, Shell Hair Pins, Scarf Pins, Side Combs, Silver Novelties, etc. You are invited to call and see our goods before buying.

Julius C. Walk & Son,

Leading Jewelers, 12 E. Wash. St.

To Celebrate Properly ANY OCCASION

When you go Fishing, Picnicking, Camping, TO SUPPLY YOUR SUMMER HOME.

JAC. METZGER & CO.,

Can furnish the greatest variety of pure and wholesome wines, in bottles, to suit the occasion.

THE TRETOTALER AND CONNOISSEUR. For men, women and children in all conditions, such as Beers, Ales, Wines, Whiskies, Brandy, Coddies, Sodas, Waters, Mineral Waters, Soda Waters, etc.—foreign and domestic.

Call or send orders to 30 & 32 East Maryland Street. TELEPHONE 401.

To Strengthen the Club

A number of the Cincinnati Club players are to be added to the Indianapolis Baseball Nine.

A better way to "strengthen the club" is to feed the members liberally on Parrott & Taggart's

'Domestic Bread'

Sold by all grocers.

Bargain for Monday, July 29

To-day you can buy "Ben-Hur" by General Lew Wallace, for 95c or $1.05 by mail, if order is postmarked July 29.

CATHCART, CLELAND & CO

6 East Washington Street, INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

DEATH AT A CROSSING

ELLIS BROWN INSTANTLY KILLED BY A BIG FOUR TRAIN.

Thrown Fifty Feet and Fell by the Road—Horse Killed and Buggy Demolished.

Fast train No. 35 on the Cincinnati division of the Big Four, due here at 11:35 last night, struck a buggy at a crossing eight miles east of the city, killing Ellis Brown, who was driving.

The young man was thrown fully fifty feet and instantly killed. The horse, a valuable animal, was thrown in a ditch and killed.

The crossing where the accident occurred is about eight miles east, on a pike which runs south from the National Road.

It is what is known as an open crossing, a view of the track in both directions being had. There are only two explanations of the affair.

One is that Brown was asleep and the other is that he tried to cross ahead of the train, which was coming toward the city at the rate of a mile a minute.

The train was stopped as soon as possible and backed to the crossing. In the catagorized by the fragments of the buggy.

It was a ditch further west with a huge sign on the side of his head. He was dead. Further along lay the dead horse, lying very near the track.

The body was brought to the city and taken to the morgue. The train was followed, bringing in a crowd from Acton, were two friends of Brown, who, with the young man, were on the train.

Ellis Brown was a farmer, living about ten miles south of the city on the Shelbyville pike. He was twenty-five years of age.

Yesterday he went to visit a young lady, and was returning home at 7 o'clock. He was driving a buggy, and another person brought home dead, having died suddenly in the West.

AKER WINS A LOT.

Rode to Matthews in Four Hours and Thirty Minutes.

E. S. Aker won the race to Matthews yesterday, winning a lot valued at $125 and making an average time for the seventy-five miles of the race in an hour.

It required three machines to complete the victory, and the last sixteen miles, from Muncie to Matthews, was made in forty-nine minutes.

He was paced this distance by George Catterson and Otis A. Birge on a tandem. They were on the road at 7:15.

The first incident occurred before the party had made many squares. One of the racers, whose name could not be learned, ran into a buggy driven by a lady and caused the horse to run away.

The other racers reported that they saw him in the vehicle, but they were not certain.

All the entries not being known, the racers were then making twenty miles an hour.

About four miles beyond Brightwood a horse, which was named Sherer, collided with Bonfield and those who finished reported that the horse was killed.

The horse was killed by a hand-to-hand fight. Aker rode a Waverly on the start, but when he was about a mile from the start, he rode a horse named Mungler.

He rode this to Muncie, and when it broke down he borrowed a seventeen-pound horse from Cleland and finished the race.

He was in the style and evidently yet fresh and able for another trip. The race was held on Monday.

The others who finished were J. B. Schwanbacher, arriving at 12:34; Arthur Schwanbacher, arriving at 12:34; Grove Schwanbacher, arriving at 12:34; Marshall T. Levey, arriving at 1:30; Rolly Fisher, arriving at 1:30; and J. B. Schwanbacher, arriving at 2:30.

BIG FOUR ROUTE.

THE SHORTEST AND ONLY DIRECT ROUTE TO THE TRIENNIAL OF THE KNIGHTS OF THE TEMPLARS.

Tickets will be sold for all regular and numerous special trains, Aug. 19 to 25, at rates ranging from $10 to $20.

For the round trip from Indianapolis, and corresponding rates from all points on the Big Four and connecting lines, permitting stop-overs at Niagara Falls, Chautauqua and J. B. Schwanbacher, arriving at 2:30.

Daylight ride down the St. Lawrence river, through Montreal and the White Mountains, a life service, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to settle a quarrel between himself and a rival.

He was a great man, and he met his death by walking twelve miles through a rain, to