

He said he believed the time had come when, owing to the changed view of the Irish, a Tory government would be formed in Ireland in a spirit of sympathy.

John Dillon said he feared that the ominous silence of the government would be the worst of fables. He would like to see the Irish people to believe that home rule could be won on the floor of that house.

The results of the election would lead him to assert that Unionism was receding in Ireland. Therefore he moved an amendment declaring that the government should legislate on the land question in Ireland in accordance with the recommendation of last year's committee.

Mr. Gerald Balfour, Chief Secretary for Ireland, recognized Mr. Dillon's motion at once, but reminded him of the great difference between the state of things now and in 1886. He reported that the harvests were good in every district in Ireland, and that there was no heavy rain in the last year.

He had only been in office for a month, and could not be expected to give an answer to all the questions; but, as to the home-rule attitude of the government, he said that it was one of unchanging and inflexible opposition. (Conservative cheers.)

The land question could only be dealt with by an entirely noncontentious bill, and he would not introduce any such bill next spring. The bill of Mr. Morley (Chief Secretary for Ireland in the last government) was not so contentions as the bill of Mr. Morley.

Timothy Harrington promised to give the government a vote in the course of some remarks, he declared that the Liberal party in the House of Commons had elected Dr. Charles K. D. Tanner, who had created a scene in the House earlier in the day, to be the Liberal member for the district.

Lord and indignation crisis of "O-lo" were heard from both sides of the house. Dr. Tanner declining to withdraw the expression, the speaker named him.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, moved that Dr. Tanner be called to order. Dr. Tanner failed to find a teller and the speaker declared the motion carried. He arose and addressed the speaker amidst loud cries for order.

The speaker then returned to the floor of the house where Dr. Tanner stood. Dr. Tanner showed that he was not a member of the House of Commons, and that he was not a member of the House of Commons.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 15.—Anxiety prevails here for the American missionaries. The reports of the election of a committee to assert that Unionism was receding in Ireland.

Cholera Playing Havoc. VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 15.—Although passengers arriving by the Oriental liners that have reached Victoria this week agree in a statement that cholera is working frightfully in Japan, the newspapers of that country contain no reference to the devastation of the plague. This report is due to the fact that the disease finds its way to the coast by the mail steamers returned from the front, and the report therefore takes advantage of the law which prohibits the landing of passengers from the coast.

WANTED TO LYNCH HIM. Chesterton Citizens Greatly Worked Up Over a Murder.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. VALPARAISO, Ind., Aug. 15.—There came Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 15.—This morning over the murder of Will Tratebass by Lon Powers. The two young men have been having trouble over property, and yesterday they came to blows. This morning they both met in Trudell's blacksmith shop and renewed the quarrel. Powers pulled his revolver, but the other twice twice near the heart, killing him instantly. A crowd gathered and talk of lynching was indulged in. The relatives of Tratebass were severe in their denunciation of the murderer and soon a mob of angry men gathered around the crowd, armed with guns. Powers was ably due to the fact that the disease finds its way to the coast by the mail steamers returned from the front, and the report therefore takes advantage of the law which prohibits the landing of passengers from the coast.

This morning they both met in Trudell's blacksmith shop and renewed the quarrel. Powers pulled his revolver, but the other twice twice near the heart, killing him instantly. A crowd gathered and talk of lynching was indulged in. The relatives of Tratebass were severe in their denunciation of the murderer and soon a mob of angry men gathered around the crowd, armed with guns. Powers was ably due to the fact that the disease finds its way to the coast by the mail steamers returned from the front, and the report therefore takes advantage of the law which prohibits the landing of passengers from the coast.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. SEYMOUR, Ind., Aug. 15.—This morning at 8 o'clock a scaffold in the new Strauss Block gave way. Mayor Joseph Balsley, the architect of the building; John Humes, a member of the firm erecting the building; Henry Barkman and Andy Heyob, carpenters, fell to the floor below, a distance of fifteen feet. Mayor Balsley sustained a fracture of the right leg and is suffering with concussion of the spine. He is in a critical condition and the attending physician, Dr. M. F. Gerrish, will express no opinion as to his chances for recovery.

John Humes's right ankle fractured and he is also suffering with concussion of the spine. In the descent Andy Heyob's head struck the wall and a large part of the hair was torn off, laying the scalp bare. He is suffering much pain. Henry Barkman is badly injured, but the extent of the injuries which he sustained cannot be learned. All are suffering with concussion of the spine.
