

WILLIAM AND DAISY YOUNG MARRIED COUPLE SENTENCED FOR TURKEY STEALING.
Love on Buck Creek led to the suicide of Jacob Royer—Death of Corporal W. C. Lake.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
FRANKFORT, Ind., Dec. 14.—William and Daisy Emery, husband and wife, were this morning sentenced to prison for one year. Six months ago farmer McNutt caught James Harshman, a fifteen-year-old youth, stealing his turkeys. Harshman said that he had been induced to steal the poultry by the Emerys, also admitting that he had before taken turkeys to their house. Investigation proved that the boy had told the truth. Mrs. Emery is a handsome young woman of twenty-two years, and the first married woman to be sent to prison from this county. On being sentenced she upbraided her husband for getting her into the trouble and refused to walk by his side on their return to jail. "When I married you I promised to love and cherish you, and to be an honest man. Now, see what we have both come to. I shall never live with you again."

MOTHER AND SON UNITED.
Separated for Thirty-Two Years on Account of Family Troubles.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 14.—W. L. Babbitt, living in this city, has just discovered the whereabouts of his mother, from whom he was stolen thirty-two years ago. His parents came from England and located in Chicago, where W. L. Babbitt was born. His father was a lumber dealer and an atheist, which finally led to a divorce from his wife. One day the husband stole his son from the home of his former wife and took him to a relative at Sabalia, Ia., where the boy remained until his father removed to Michigan, when he took his son along. In the meantime his mother had exhausted her means in searching for her son, but to no avail, and she went to reside with relatives at Niles, Mich., and later to Cuyahoga Falls, O., where she remained with his father, and as she grew up he learned about his having been stolen from his mother. His father had returned to Chicago, where a wealthy friend helped him in his search. They advertised, but to no purpose. Young Babbitt was finally married and settled in Niles, Mich., afterwards removing to this city, and is traveling for the Crawfordsville Lumber Company. A few months ago he got trace of his mother, and finally located her at her sister's, Mrs. J. S. Boyce, in Cuyahoga Falls, O. He returned here this week, and the old lady is with him, after thirty-two years' separation.

INDIANA OBITUARY.
Corporal W. C. Lake, of General Harrison's Old Regiment.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 14.—W. C. Lake, corporal of Company D, Seventeenth Indiana Volunteers, General Harrison's regiment, died at his home in this city this afternoon of apoplexy. He attended the meeting of the G. A. R. post last night, and went to his home about 9 o'clock. For some time he had to sit up in a chair at night, being unable to lie down. He was heard to groan from his chair after the family retired, and when the family reached him he was unconscious. He lived until about noon today.
Lake was born near Morgantown, this county, in August, 1844, and has resided in this county most of his life. He enlisted in the Seventeenth Indiana at Morgantown and served for three years. For many years he has been unable to do hard work because of injuries received during the war.

William Scott, Army Surgeon.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
KOKOMO, Ind., Dec. 14.—Dr. William Scott, the oldest physician in this city, both in age and active service, died suddenly this morning of heart trouble, aged sixty-five. While dressing, after arising from his bed, he was seized with a severe attack, but called the family and was assisted back in bed, remarking, "I believe I am dying." Deceased was married to Margaret, who was unable to do hard work because of injuries received during the war.

Warren Hertz's Management.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Dec. 14.—The committee of hold-over Senators appointed by the Legislature to investigate the convict labor problem arrived at the Prison South to-day. After being through the penitentiary they went into executive session. The committee is composed of Senators Christian Heller, chairman, of South Bend; W. S. Haggard, Lafayette; H. Q. Houston, Shoals; H. C. Duncan, Bloomington; Lewis Schick, Seymour; V. P. Boseman, Poseyville; M. W. Callett, Logansport; J. F. Whitte, Grandview. Accompanying the Senators were Warden Harley and Director Van Voorst, of the Michigan City prison, together with Hon. E. H. Neelaker and Secretary Bicknell, of the State Board of Charities. Senator Heller said the committee was already much interested in its work and the members were hopeful of beneficial results. After the inspection of the prison the members expressed themselves as very much pleased not only with the sanitary condition and discipline, but the general management of the new administration. Warden Hertz and the other officials were all highly complimented.

A BUCK CREEK SUICIDE.
Jacob Royer Kills Himself Near Senator Turple's Birthplace.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
DELFEL, Ind., Dec. 14.—Two boys out rabbit hunting yesterday afternoon found the dead body of Jacob Royer and turned the mystery that has been agitating parts of Carroll and Tippecanoe counties for the last three or four days. Monday morning Royer, a well-known young man from Buck Creek, went to Colburn, borrowed a gun and a dog from a friend, stating that he intended to put in the day hunting quail and rabbit. About 2 o'clock in the afternoon the dog returned home. Royer failing to put in his appearance, his neighbors, who were organized and went to look for him, but failed to find him. Royer had been dressed to take his life. His head had been shot off. Royer's right hand clutched the trigger, which was the cause of his death. The unfortunate man left a note to his mother, stating that he had decided that he could be happier in another world than he was in this, and requested that she have his body buried by the side of his brother in the cemetery at Buck Creek. The body was found within a few hundred yards of the house in which Senator Turple was born, which is now occupied by his brother Robert.

Meeting of Union Men to Protest.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
SUMMITVILLE, Ind., Dec. 14.—A mass meeting of the several organizations of workmen of the counties of Madison, Grant and Delaware was held here last night. The occasion was the recent opening of a new branch of a national organization by Robert Warren of a national organization.

Union Printers Strike.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
FANSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 14.—Shortly after midnight the union printers at this place were ordered out by the local union. The action was to head off a lockout, which proprietor Gilbert threatened to make after the printers had gone to press. The Tribune office is being operated. The Tribune is an afternoon paper, and the printers of other papers have been getting $21 per week. Gilbert wanted them to make a scale of $15.

COLUMBIA CITY, Ind., Dec. 14.—James Cunningham, who has been on trial in the Whitley Circuit Court for about ten days, charged with the murder of George M. Singer, postmaster at Dunfee, on the night of Sept. 16, was acquitted this evening. The jury was out about four hours.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
FRANKFORT, Ind., Dec. 14.—The fate of the two men recently tried in this county for White Cap outrages, Al Stinson and William Davis, was decided here this afternoon by Judge Bundy, of New Castle, before whom the cases were tried some weeks ago. At that time the men were found guilty and given six years each. The judge to-day refused a motion for a new trial. As Sheriff Starr was taking the men from the courthouse, a mob of about ten boys, who were watching mind reader Paul Alexander Johnston, went rushing up the steps of the east entrance of the courthouse. The committee had previously hidden a needle in the clerk's office and had taken that route. Some one started the riot, and a mob was after the White Caps, and the two men were wild with excitement and fear. It was a trying moment for the sheriff, who had the greatest difficulty in rearing the doomed men that they were safe in his keeping.

Water and Light Plant at Auction.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 14.—W. P. Fishback, master in chancery, sold the Crawfordsville Water and Light Company at the south door of the courthouse this afternoon at 3 o'clock. At first Mr. Fishback offered each parcel of land separately, but no person bid on it in this manner. Then he offered the entire property in a lump. The $3,000 qualification fee as a bidder was put up by William H. Goff, of York, who represented the Kickerbocker Trust Company, of New York, and the bid in the plant at $20,000. The first mortgage bondholders were, in reality, the purchasers of the plant, and the second mortgage bondholders will realize something on their investment. The debts of the plant are estimated at $10,000. The plant was reorganized and it is probable that Mr. Haynes, the receiver, will be retained as such.

Sloop Case Ready for Argument.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
MONTICELLO, Ind., Dec. 14.—The evidence in the case against George Sloop for murdering his wife, closed to-day. The State's evidence was that the deceased died from blows inflicted on the back of her head by the defendant. The defense is that the deceased was a woman weak in body and mind; that she suffered from attacks of epilepsy; that she frequently fell in the attack and was killed by the blows which she fell upon herself by falling when suffering from them; that the night she died she had several of these attacks; that she died from these convulsions, and the injuries on the head were not sufficient to produce death. The defendant proved conclusively that he was a man of good reputation, sober and industrious. The arguments commenced Monday morning. Great interest is manifested in the result, and the court room has been crowded.

Violating the Moore Law.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
MUNCIE, Ind., Dec. 14.—The first suit on the strength of the Moore law was instituted to-day by the arrest of Joseph Hewick, charged with operating a saloon in the residence part of Muncie. The Moore law gives any city the right to frame an ordinance making it a punishable offense to run a saloon in the residence part of the city, and such an ordinance has been made in Muncie. The law does not make the boundary line. The court has that problem to solve. Hewick's saloon is on Second street, one block from Walnut, the principal business thoroughfare, and is surrounded by residences. The case will be bitterly contested, as it will be a test case.

Hanover's New Science Hall.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
MADISON, Ind., Dec. 14.—Dr. A. Y. Moore, treasurer of Hanover College, this morning received a telegram from Rev. Alexander Dunn, special financial agent of the college, stating that Mr. William McKee Dunn, of Washington, D. C., had added $2,000 to her subscription of $600 to the fund for the new scientific building. This, with $32,000 recently secured, makes up the $35,000 necessary for the building. President Fisher will doubtless take steps to have the building erected at an early date. With the new gymnasium and new scientific building Hanover College will be better equipped than ever before in its history.

Fight Between Blacks and Whites.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
ROCKFORD, Ind., Dec. 14.—A race war that has been going on here for the past month assumed rather serious proportions this evening. A battle took place between liverman John Hawk, deputy marshal James Fagan and others on one side against John Tinsley and other colored men on the other side. Hawk and Fagan are seriously injured. Tinsley, the colored leader, has been arrested and placed in jail, and there are strong threats of mobbing him to-night. Deceased was arrested on the streets, and much excitement prevails. The trouble arises over an abuse of the liquor law and partly through politics.

Will Have a K. of P. Night.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
GAS CITY, Ind., Dec. 14.—Next Tuesday evening promises to be a great time in Gas City. The Knights of Pythias are to organize a lodge here, and Knights from all parts of the gas belt will participate. The lodge will be instituted with about eighty charter members, and is composed largely of prominent citizens and business men. The following officers of the Grand Lodge have accepted invitations to be present: Grand Chancellor J. C. Newberry, Grand Grand Chancellor Betty, Grand Keeper of the Records and Seal, Bowers, Grand Trustee Powell and others.

Fell Dead in the House.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
ANDERSON, Ind., Dec. 14.—Robert Michaels, aged sixty, who removed with his family from Hamilton, O., to Chesterfield, this county, four years ago, died suddenly at his home yesterday. His wife, three daughters and two sons witnessed his death. Mr. Michaels as he arose walked to the door, sank to the floor and was dead when his son reached him. The deceased was one of the leading citizens of the village. His remains were taken this afternoon to his old home in Hamilton.

Graybeards Invited.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
FRANKFORT, Ind., Dec. 14.—John Goldsmith, aged seventy-five, a wealthy Clinton county farmer, is going to give a big Christmas dinner to his friends. Fifteen guests are to be invited and of these the youngest is to be eighty years and the oldest ninety-five. Mr. Goldsmith says each guest will be expected to give the story of his life from infancy.

Fired at the Operator.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
LEBANON, Ind., Dec. 14.—About 2 o'clock this morning Jack Switzer, night telegraph operator of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railway, was attacked by two robbers. Switzer showed fight and the miscreants fired three shots through the window without effect. They then fled in the depot door, but were scared away and escaped.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
FRANKFORT, Ind., Dec. 14.—Charles Bridgford, a wealthy farmer, dropped dead on the streets of Kirkin this afternoon. Mr. Bridgford was seventy years old, and had been identified with Clinton county history for years.

Indiana Notes.
The commissioners of Parks county have appropriated $1,000 to build a cottage at the Soldiers Home, near Ellettsville.
The fourth annual session of the Wayne County Farmers' Institute closed a two days' session at Centerville Saturday.
Francis Long, a saloon keeper of Lebanon, was seriously injured at Fayette, Saturday night, by the accidental discharge of a pistol.
While Mrs. Louisa Steimayer, of Vincennes, was burning leaves, Saturday, her apron caught fire and she was fatally burned.
Mr. Levi Dougherty, of Carroll county, was dangerously injured in a runaway near his home at Rockspire, Saturday. He was a candidate for county treasurer on the Republican ticket four years ago.

Levi Warren Haughton.
NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Levi Warren Haughton, an old shipping merchant, well known in houses engaged in the foreign and California trades, is dead at his home in Bath, Me., where he was born in 1815. He and his three brothers succeeded his father in the shipping business, the latter having become the owner of one of the finest fleets of American vessels in the world in 1870, and a "Bank Book of Politics," in 1872, which was issued every second year thereafter. For several years he was the American editor of the "Almanack de Gotha."

John J. Blair.
NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—John J. Blair, supervising engineer of the department of utilities and corrections, is dead. He was stricken with heart failure while inspecting work on Ward's island on Dec. 8 and since then has been confined to his home. Mr. Blair was also commissioner of the old volunteer fire department and was connected with the "Six Six" company in the days when it was a member of the Circuit and Probate Court there. He came to Bridgeport two years ago.

Miss Phoebe Lincoln.
BURLINGTON, Ia., Dec. 14.—Miss Phoebe Lincoln, the favorite cousin of the martyred President of the United States, died at her home in La Harpe, Ill., yesterday, at the age of seventy. The funeral, which took place to-day, was attended by a large company of prominent people.

Other Deaths.
BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 14.—Stephen A. Holt, who had formerly been one of the most prominent lumber dealers in the New England States, dropped dead from heart failure on State street in Hartford, Conn. He was seventy-six years old, and leaves a wife and three children.

Bridgeport, Conn.
BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Dec. 14.—Judge John B. Douglass died of heart disease to-day at his home in Bridgeport. He was graduated from Yale Law School, and for several years practiced law in Duluth, Minn. He was a member of the Circuit and Probate Court there. He came to Bridgeport two years ago.

Charles Mayne.
SALTSBURG, Pa., Dec. 14.—Charles Mayne, pioneer, capitalist and millionaire banker, died to-day. His real name was Henry Mutschers, but when a young man he assumed the name of his employer, Charles Mayne.

Forecast for To-Day.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—For Ohio—Fair; warmer; southerly winds.
For Indiana—Fair weather; south to west winds; slightly warmer.
For Illinois—Fair; north to west winds.
Below Zero.
ALTOONA, Pa., Dec. 14.—The thermometer dropped below zero here this morning. All the mountain streams from which the city gets its water are frozen solid and a winter famine is threatened. All railroad shops in this city and the iron works in Duaneville were obliged to shut down on account of the scarcity of water.

He Was Bashful.
Washington Post.
I always take stories of the bashfulness of the modern man very decidedly a grain of salt, but here is one that is absolutely true. It is about a man who holds some office or other in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. He is more bashful than anybody you ever knew, and he'd rather give you a good thrashing than tell you in any way that he is bashful. He was persuaded to be one of the ushers—it was a church wedding, of course. When the eventual day arrived he appeared at the church, but that is all he did. He wouldn't escort a single woman to a seat, he just slunk away in corners and sent himself continually on imaginary errands. At length the other ushers rebelled. "I don't know what these things mean, but the bashful man promised to offer his arm to the next woman who came in. He stood by the door. He heard the rustle of petticoats, and he crouched. His own arm. Somebody took it. The bashful man stared straight ahead and marched by the side of the petticoats rustling alongside. Not once did he turn his head until he had seated his charge. Then he ventured to steal a glance at her. She was fat. She was old. Moreover, she was a colored woman, and one of the family servants.

Public Opinion.
New York Weekly.
People say you are marrying me for my money.
He (hotly)—The miserable slanderer! I'll sue them in a court of law! I won't stand it! I'll horsewhip 'em! I'll make talk, and it will get into the newspapers besides.
He—I don't care; I won't be lied about that way.
She—You needn't be my darling. I'll make over my share to my brothers and sisters. I'll never mind. Who cares what people say? I don't.

Perry's Magic Rheumatism Cure.
Cures every time.
Sense of illness, pain or soreness in the head, back, chest, side or limbs; or cough, sore throat, catarrh, influenza, profuse flowing from the nose or eyes, itching and redness of the eyelids, general prostration and fever. Sometimes one and again another symptom is more prominent. The appetite is impaired and the nervous system unstrung, depressed and run down.
"P" meets the epidemic condition and is the cure for all its manifestations. Taken early, cuts it short promptly; taken during its prevalence, prevents its invasion; taken while suffering, a cure is speedily realized.
