Trucker's

19 EAST WASHINGTON STREET. AWAY WITH SPITTERS

DR. HURTY WILL HAVE THEM EJECTED FROM RAILROAD CARS.

State Health Board's Letter to the Companies—Board Will Pass the Necessary Law.

If Dr. J. N. Hurty, secretary of the State Board of Health, carries out his ideas there is going to be a whole lot less spitting in the State of Indiana than there is at present.

In this circular the doctor explains that "sputum" (which the same is every day spit) is an excrement, full of the germs of a grippe, nasal catarrh and a whole train of minor ills.

When the rule is first published in each county, and when posted in public places, this board will, of course, be loudly abused as foolish, impracticable idiots, etc.

NO STORM THAT NIGHT

WEATHER BUREAU RECORDS AS EVIDENCE IN NOBLESVILLE CASE.

Trees Could Not Have Been Uprooted—City Officials Talk Gently to Pleasant Brother Davis.

On account of the condition of the pond at the Noblesville strawboard works and the fact that it was so near fall it could not contain the refuse of the works for any great length of time, the claim of those interested that the levee around the pond broke on account of the wind having uprooted three big trees is received with much suspicion and doubt.

That wind was three hours before dark Thursday evening, and it had caused the damage the trouble would surely have been discovered before night by some of the employees of the mill.

Within the next hour the velocity of the wind topped to eight miles an hour, and again to four miles an hour by 7 o'clock. The rest of the night the register did not show a velocity of more than four miles an hour, and most of the time only three miles.

Wednesday afternoon the barometer began to fall slowly. This was about the time of the big storm at St. Louis. Later in the night—about 11 o'clock—there was a sudden drop in the barometer, which was accompanied by a heavy rain.

City Officials and Mr. Davis Have a Mild, Pleasant Talk. The Board of Health held a special meeting yesterday and summoned Mr. Davis, of the water company, to be present.

Notice Served on Strawboard People. Deputy United States Marshal J. H. J. returned from Noblesville yesterday. He reported that he had served notice to appear and answer to the charge of contempt on O. D. Macy, M. B. Williams, general manager of the American Strawboard Company.

Drinking Water in University Park. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: What a commentary it is on the wisdom and utility of one of the recent improvements in University Park, when, owing to the river pollution, the necessity has already arisen for tagging the water.

Vote on the Badge Resolution. There has been a dispute as to the way the vote stood at the Council meeting, Monday night, on Mr. Clark's resolution to provide councilmen with badges.

Many People Sick from Drinking Bad Water. Since the river is full of dead fish thousands of people blame the city water for their ills; some have suffered for years with stomachic and hepatic troubles, but never until now blamed the water.

Dr. Ferguson—Can you possibly get along with that water shut off from the river? Dr. Ferguson—That compels us, then, to use and accept the water as it comes from the river.

GAS CLOSE TO TOWN

A BIG FLOW STRUCK BY OIL PROSPECTORS AT CROW'S NEST.

Drillers Think It Has a 300-Foot Pressure—Only Seven Miles from Heart of the City.

People who shivered and shook with the cold last winter until their teeth rattled as they tried to keep warm over the feeble gas fires and who in the meantime swore at the natural gas companies, will doubtless be agreeably surprised to hear that a new gas field has been discovered almost in the city's door.

A little more than two months ago Messrs. Harry Gates, William Gates, William Hughes, Mayor Thomas Taggart, City Controller Johnson and a number of others associated with them, believing from surface indications at Broad Ripple a vast oil and gas field over an immense area of oil, began prospecting for it.

Work on the well began April 10, and, barring ten days that were lost grappling for drills, it has gone steadily forward. Day before yesterday Trenton rock was struck. The two men doing the drilling continued night and day. Yesterday morning at 2 o'clock the workmen were suddenly startled by a strong current of escaping gas that came whistling out of the pipe, carrying a shower of sand and gravel before it.

Dr. Ferguson—We are beginning to get purer water in the house. It has been just beginning to notice the effects of the bad water in the more remote resident portions of the city.

Both of the Doctors Ill. They Used Polluted Water from Dispensary Hydrants. Drs. Barr and Van Hook, in a staff of the City Dispensary, have been too ill for duty for two days.
