COLORADO MAN'S MASTERLY ADDRESS WAS NOT DELIVERED.

Col. John R. Fellows the Presiding Officer—Speeches by Lewis, of New Jersey, and Farrar, of Louisiana.

A magnificent audience assembled at Tomlinson Hall last night to greet the mass meeting of the National Democrats and the meeting must be set down as the most memorable gathering ever assembled in this city.

The cosmopolitan character of the audience, composed as it was of men representing the patriotism, integrity and intellectual strength of nearly every State of the Nation, would have been enough in itself to command the admiration of the thousands of spectators who crowded into the hall.

After the address of Mr. Farrar was finished Colonel Fellows made the announcement that he was unable to speak. It was then 11 o'clock, but there were many exclamations of protest and the audience seemed to have been disappointed.

Early yesterday afternoon a number of the delegates from Pennsylvania and Kansas were hustling about the city anxiously inquiring where the mass meeting was to be held.

They had invited Colonel Breckinridge to speak at the mass meeting, and he had accepted. The announcement had been very widely advertised through the newspapers, and to go to him then and ask that he withdraw was something they could not do.

It is another sentence Mr. Lewis referred to the fact that the popular idea of the election of the next President is secured, and that it matters little who is elected. "Of all the great service the Democratic party has rendered to the Nation," he declared in impassioned voice, "I can mention none so great as that it did by its action in electing Grover Cleveland."

Mr. Lewis is a plain man of the people, and does not have a very distinguished appearance, but his words seemed to burn into the hearts of his hearers.
