Special to the Indianapolis Journal.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.-Washington is in an explosive mood and ready to go to pieces any minute on Cuba.

The air is thick with deals and rumors of deals, but note can be run to earth, the day's proceedings in their entirety partaking much of the order of a love feast.

The first meeting was that of the national board of arbitration, called at 10 o'clock this morning, and remaining in session until 1 p. m.

President Young says they took up several important minor league tangles and straightened them. This board, which is identical with the board of control, consists of President Young and Messrs. Boyer of Brooklyn; Soden of Boston; and Brush of Cincinnati.

The next feature of the day's proceedings was the meeting of the league proper, which was called to order at 1:15 p. m.

Mr. Soden was made chairman, and the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

According to Mr. Young, this is the first time in twenty-five years that such action has been taken.

Secretary Young was instructed to send a copy of the minutes of every meeting to each club as soon after such meeting as possible.

The report of the committee appointed last year to devise better means of controlling umpires was presented and temporarily laid aside until after the rules committee had made its report.

The committee on telegraphic contracts presented its report, which was finally accepted.

During a discussion of the report of this committee it was determined to take some steps to award with the "tickers" reports of the games, at least in the home games in respective cities.

It should not prove feasible it is thought that the League will endeavor to make the telegraph companies pay for the privilege of running wires into the various grounds, which may possibly have the effect of bringing about a clash with the telegraph companies.

The report of the committee on rules and the report of the Brooklyn club, which was permitted to reduce general admission to 25 cents have not yet come up. The board of directors, consisting of Messrs. Soden, Earl Wagner of Washington; Hart, of Chicago; and McGinnis, of St. Louis, will in all likelihood convene.

Their duties are to consider the two arbitrators, each to choose one "Mac" named Dr. Stucky, former president of the Brooklyn club.

Mr. Abell, of Brooklyn, to represent their cause. These two gentlemen are given absolute authority to make any rule, and to claim any compensation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.-The Senate was storm-tossed today by such passionate debate, such extraordinary demonstrations in the crowded galleries, and such dramatic personal exchanges between the conspicuous figures of the Senate, as to make the day one of the most memorable in the annals of the upper branch of Congress.

The theme, and seemed to stir all the pent-up emotions of the month. It brought about the complete displacement of appropriation bills, threatening their failure and the advancement of the Cuban question to the very front of Senate business.

It disclosed, also, that the resolution demanding of Spain the immediate and unconditional release of Julio Sangullily, having on a text secured the right of way, would be resisted by protracted debate.

The Allen resolution for sending battle ships to Cuba came up soon after the Senate opened at 11 a. m. and Mr. Allen severely arraigned Spain for cruelties against women and children.

WARNING TO GREECE

RUSSIA SENDS AN ULTIMATUM TO THE HELLENIC KING.

Ordering Him to Withdraw All His Soldiers and Ships from Crete Within Three Days.

WILL TOLERATE NO DELAY

THE CZAR'S TROOPS WILL RESTORE ORDER IN THE ISLAND.

And His War Fleet Will Blockade the Piræus if the Greeks Do Not Heed the Ultimatum.

RUSSIA WELL BACKED UP

FRANCE, GERMANY AND AUSTRIA SUPPORTING HER POLICY.

Great Britain's Plan for Autonomy Explained in the House of Lords by Premier Salisbury.

DANIEL HITS HALE.

"But I am the organ of my own State," declared the Virginia senator in the resolution of Greece regarding the ultimatum of the powers that her soldiers must evacuate the island.

It is reported that King George is inclined to defy the nations, but it is believed in diplomatic circles he will change his mind.

A plan for autonomy has been prepared by Lord Salisbury, and, it is said, agreed to by the powers, which will soon be put into effect in Crete, thus giving the Christians partial self-government.

It provides for the immediate departure of the Greek troops.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says: "Russia, through the Russian minister at Athens, M. K. Onou, has called on Greece to withdraw all of her troops and the fleet from Crete within three days."

The foregoing semi-official announcement was accompanied by a long and involved statement of the motives actuating Russia, namely: That to prevent the extension of the resolution to other portions of the Turkish empire, imperiling the peace of Europe, a stop must be put to the action of Greece, which is in opposition to international law.

Before negotiations for a future Cretan constitution can be entered upon, it is asserted, Russia has resolved to restore order in Crete after the Greek evacuation, under the protection of the powers an autonomous government will be installed under the suzerainty of the Sultan.

In this policy, it is claimed, Russia is supported by France, Germany and Austria. Throughout the entire statement neither England nor Italy is mentioned, but Greece is warned that should she, in blind misconception of her own interests, allow herself to be excited by self-seeking friends to persist in her present attitude under the false idea that the powers are united because at the outbreak of one or another has not concurred in Russia's proposals, Russia is resolved to take reprisals, the first step being the blockade of the Piræus.

The powers considered the Greek annexation of Crete out of the question and it is asserted in the consciousness of the fact that the powers are in a position to prevent the Cretan question from imperiling the people of Europe, even should any individual power refuse to accede to the proposed measures.

King George Interviewed.

LONDON, Feb. 25.-A dispatch to the Chronicle from Athens says: "During the interview with King George obtained by your correspondent yesterday, King George said: 'I cannot but express my profound astonishment and grief upon learning that the representatives of the great Christian powers not only permitted Turkish force to employ as a military base a sphere they had taken under their control, but also imposed upon me neutrality and peace, but also actively caused their cannons to be fired upon Christian people driven by outrage and massacre to struggle for life, liberty and religion. Nothing in the world till these events occurred would have induced me to believe in the open words of such a man. His Majesty then added: 'I utterly fail to comprehend why Europe, instead of following historic precedents in Italy and elsewhere, allowing the Cretans to declare by plebiscite what suzerainty they should desire, should attempt to force upon them a regime alien to their feelings and inevitably destined to result in further complications.'"

Mr. Henry Norman, the correspondent of the Chronicle, says that he is authorized to state that Greece is fully prepared to accede to the ultimatum of the powers.

The Chronicle publishes an editorial styling the Sultan "an arch outthroat sitting enthroned with British bayonets at his call." The Chronicle also urges Greece to declare war and so "end the infamy."

A dispatch from St. Petersburg to Athens says: "It is understood that the collective note of the powers has arrived and will be formally presented to-morrow (Friday). A blockade of the strictest nature is maintained along the island of Crete, and the security of provisions is beginning to be felt. An English gunboat has undertaken to convey dispatches between the Greek headquarters on the island of Crete and the government at Athens."

A dispatch to the Times from Athens says: "The Italian cruiser Elena, after a threat to bombard the Mohammedans, landed marines and rescued the Christians besieged at Hierapetra and took them to Crete."

Another dispatch from Athens says: "It is stated that King George has sent the Prince of Wales the open words of such a man. His Majesty then added: 'I utterly fail to comprehend why Europe, instead of following historic precedents in Italy and elsewhere, allowing the Cretans to declare by plebiscite what suzerainty they should desire, should attempt to force upon them a regime alien to their feelings and inevitably destined to result in further complications.'"
