

Telephone Calls. DAILY BY MAIL. Daily only, one month, $2.00. Daily only, three months, $5.00. Daily only, one year, $15.00. Daily, including Sunday, one year, $18.00. Sunday only, one year, $4.00.

Reduced Rates to Clubs. Subscribers with any of our numerous agents or send subscriptions to THE INDIANAPOLIS JOURNAL COMPANY, Indianapolis, Ind.

There will be less demand for the Texas anti-trust law when it is discovered that it covers labor organizations as well as combinations of capital.

No Republican has sent the Journal any reason why he should vote for Thomas Taggart either as a Republican or as a believer in good local government.

What Indianapolis needs is a business administration which will deal with all public affairs from the standpoint of the public welfare.

Ripley county no doubt thought it was through with the lynching episode, but its satisfaction was premature.

So long as the British government permits Canada to levy outrageous taxes on American miners in the Klondike it will be incompetent to let the outsiders operate their government in order that they may control the gold mines.

The City Council should be to the mayor and his board what the County Council is to county officers, but in this city the Council ratifies the estimates of the mayor without debate.

Another noted Democratic leader, Hon. L. A. Russell, of Cleveland, is out in a caustic letter declaring that he will not vote for "the most plutocratic bodder the Democratic party ever spawned."

Senator Tillman has been telling the country that the South is lukewarm in support of the war in the Philippines, but Georgia has furnished more volunteers on the basis of population than any other State.

Yesterday a clothier, a life insurance agent, a railroad passenger agent, an oculist, a printing house man and a florist said that their business was never nearly so good as it has been the past six months, and yet a Bryan organ asserts that "the reeve murmuring of the popular voice is heard complaining and protesting."

The balance of trade continues heavy in our favor, as shown by the statistics, and the volume of trade in and out of the country is greater than a year ago.

It is unfortunate for the eloquent attorney general of Texas that he made allusion to the constitutional amendment which conferred freedom and suffrage upon the colored people of the South, since his party in four Southern States has deprived the colored man of the right to vote and has practically deprived him of the right to vote in nearly every State of the South.

The suit which has been brought in the United States court by Mrs. Jenkins, of Chicago, whose husband was lynched in Ripley county about two years ago, may well arouse the fears of all those who took part in that affair.

Those who read the state papers cannot doubt that the work of the county council has met with the approbation of taxpayers, but the point in the paragraph is the insulation that the appropriations which the councils have made will be disregarded by those who levy the taxes.

Rightly considered, a city is a corporation whose affairs should be conducted upon business principles.

It seems unfortunate that so important a matter as local government, which involves the interests nearest to the inhabitants of a city, should be regarded with so little consideration.

What a topic this fact contains for discussion! If it were the manager of a railroad company who had so increased its current expenses in three years he would make an extended explanation at the stockholders' meeting.

The directors had paid a price and a half for a piece of property the stockholders would probably select other men to operate the road.

The City Council should be to the mayor and his board what the County Council is to county officers, but in this city the Council ratifies the estimates of the mayor without debate.

Another noted Democratic leader, Hon. L. A. Russell, of Cleveland, is out in a caustic letter declaring that he will not vote for "the most plutocratic bodder the Democratic party ever spawned."

Senator Tillman has been telling the country that the South is lukewarm in support of the war in the Philippines, but Georgia has furnished more volunteers on the basis of population than any other State.

Yesterday a clothier, a life insurance agent, a railroad passenger agent, an oculist, a printing house man and a florist said that their business was never nearly so good as it has been the past six months, and yet a Bryan organ asserts that "the reeve murmuring of the popular voice is heard complaining and protesting."

The balance of trade continues heavy in our favor, as shown by the statistics, and the volume of trade in and out of the country is greater than a year ago.

It is unfortunate for the eloquent attorney general of Texas that he made allusion to the constitutional amendment which conferred freedom and suffrage upon the colored people of the South, since his party in four Southern States has deprived the colored man of the right to vote and has practically deprived him of the right to vote in nearly every State of the South.

The suit which has been brought in the United States court by Mrs. Jenkins, of Chicago, whose husband was lynched in Ripley county about two years ago, may well arouse the fears of all those who took part in that affair.

Those who read the state papers cannot doubt that the work of the county council has met with the approbation of taxpayers, but the point in the paragraph is the clear that Mrs. Fiske's, the fact seems to be that she and these two have made a strong play and are to be congratulated thereon.

There can be no doubt that the new law creating county councils has already commended itself to the taxpayers throughout the State.

It is an object lesson in good citizenship. Probably many of them would have preferred to decline the positions, but a sense of duty as citizens influenced them to accept.

It seems unfortunate that so important a matter as local government, which involves the interests nearest to the inhabitants of a city, should be regarded with so little consideration.

What a topic this fact contains for discussion! If it were the manager of a railroad company who had so increased its current expenses in three years he would make an extended explanation at the stockholders' meeting.

The directors had paid a price and a half for a piece of property the stockholders would probably select other men to operate the road.

The City Council should be to the mayor and his board what the County Council is to county officers, but in this city the Council ratifies the estimates of the mayor without debate.

Another noted Democratic leader, Hon. L. A. Russell, of Cleveland, is out in a caustic letter declaring that he will not vote for "the most plutocratic bodder the Democratic party ever spawned."

Senator Tillman has been telling the country that the South is lukewarm in support of the war in the Philippines, but Georgia has furnished more volunteers on the basis of population than any other State.

Yesterday a clothier, a life insurance agent, a railroad passenger agent, an oculist, a printing house man and a florist said that their business was never nearly so good as it has been the past six months, and yet a Bryan organ asserts that "the reeve murmuring of the popular voice is heard complaining and protesting."

The balance of trade continues heavy in our favor, as shown by the statistics, and the volume of trade in and out of the country is greater than a year ago.

It is unfortunate for the eloquent attorney general of Texas that he made allusion to the constitutional amendment which conferred freedom and suffrage upon the colored people of the South, since his party in four Southern States has deprived the colored man of the right to vote and has practically deprived him of the right to vote in nearly every State of the South.

The suit which has been brought in the United States court by Mrs. Jenkins, of Chicago, whose husband was lynched in Ripley county about two years ago, may well arouse the fears of all those who took part in that affair.

Those who read the state papers cannot doubt that the work of the county council has met with the approbation of taxpayers, but the point in the paragraph is the per cent. they kindly announce that there will be no immediate advance in the price of burial caskets.

There can be no doubt that the new law creating county councils has already commended itself to the taxpayers throughout the State.

It is an object lesson in good citizenship. Probably many of them would have preferred to decline the positions, but a sense of duty as citizens influenced them to accept.

It seems unfortunate that so important a matter as local government, which involves the interests nearest to the inhabitants of a city, should be regarded with so little consideration.

What a topic this fact contains for discussion! If it were the manager of a railroad company who had so increased its current expenses in three years he would make an extended explanation at the stockholders' meeting.

The directors had paid a price and a half for a piece of property the stockholders would probably select other men to operate the road.

The City Council should be to the mayor and his board what the County Council is to county officers, but in this city the Council ratifies the estimates of the mayor without debate.

Another noted Democratic leader, Hon. L. A. Russell, of Cleveland, is out in a caustic letter declaring that he will not vote for "the most plutocratic bodder the Democratic party ever spawned."

Senator Tillman has been telling the country that the South is lukewarm in support of the war in the Philippines, but Georgia has furnished more volunteers on the basis of population than any other State.

Yesterday a clothier, a life insurance agent, a railroad passenger agent, an oculist, a printing house man and a florist said that their business was never nearly so good as it has been the past six months, and yet a Bryan organ asserts that "the reeve murmuring of the popular voice is heard complaining and protesting."

The balance of trade continues heavy in our favor, as shown by the statistics, and the volume of trade in and out of the country is greater than a year ago.

It is unfortunate for the eloquent attorney general of Texas that he made allusion to the constitutional amendment which conferred freedom and suffrage upon the colored people of the South, since his party in four Southern States has deprived the colored man of the right to vote and has practically deprived him of the right to vote in nearly every State of the South.

The suit which has been brought in the United States court by Mrs. Jenkins, of Chicago, whose husband was lynched in Ripley county about two years ago, may well arouse the fears of all those who took part in that affair.

Those who read the state papers cannot doubt that the work of the county council has met with the approbation of taxpayers, but the point in the paragraph is the boards a week to my income. This is owing to my good nature. But my good nature does not run to the length of conducting a court-martial, or a trial, or a hearing, or any other body that can get an answer at any moment to any question he likes to put.

There can be no doubt that the new law creating county councils has already commended itself to the taxpayers throughout the State.

It is an object lesson in good citizenship. Probably many of them would have preferred to decline the positions, but a sense of duty as citizens influenced them to accept.

It seems unfortunate that so important a matter as local government, which involves the interests nearest to the inhabitants of a city, should be regarded with so little consideration.

What a topic this fact contains for discussion! If it were the manager of a railroad company who had so increased its current expenses in three years he would make an extended explanation at the stockholders' meeting.

The directors had paid a price and a half for a piece of property the stockholders would probably select other men to operate the road.

The City Council should be to the mayor and his board what the County Council is to county officers, but in this city the Council ratifies the estimates of the mayor without debate.

Another noted Democratic leader, Hon. L. A. Russell, of Cleveland, is out in a caustic letter declaring that he will not vote for "the most plutocratic bodder the Democratic party ever spawned."

Senator Tillman has been telling the country that the South is lukewarm in support of the war in the Philippines, but Georgia has furnished more volunteers on the basis of population than any other State.

Yesterday a clothier, a life insurance agent, a railroad passenger agent, an oculist, a printing house man and a florist said that their business was never nearly so good as it has been the past six months, and yet a Bryan organ asserts that "the reeve murmuring of the popular voice is heard complaining and protesting."

The balance of trade continues heavy in our favor, as shown by the statistics, and the volume of trade in and out of the country is greater than a year ago.

It is unfortunate for the eloquent attorney general of Texas that he made allusion to the constitutional amendment which conferred freedom and suffrage upon the colored people of the South, since his party in four Southern States has deprived the colored man of the right to vote and has practically deprived him of the right to vote in nearly every State of the South.

The suit which has been brought in the United States court by Mrs. Jenkins, of Chicago, whose husband was lynched in Ripley county about two years ago, may well arouse the fears of all those who took part in that affair.

Those who read the state papers cannot doubt that the work of the county council has met with the approbation of taxpayers, but the point in the paragraph is the of Chambers that will understand and act before the inevitable final crash.

There can be no doubt that the new law creating county councils has already commended itself to the taxpayers throughout the State.

It is an object lesson in good citizenship. Probably many of them would have preferred to decline the positions, but a sense of duty as citizens influenced them to accept.

It seems unfortunate that so important a matter as local government, which involves the interests nearest to the inhabitants of a city, should be regarded with so little consideration.

What a topic this fact contains for discussion! If it were the manager of a railroad company who had so increased its current expenses in three years he would make an extended explanation at the stockholders' meeting.

The directors had paid a price and a half for a piece of property the stockholders would probably select other men to operate the road.

The City Council should be to the mayor and his board what the County Council is to county officers, but in this city the Council ratifies the estimates of the mayor without debate.

Another noted Democratic leader, Hon. L. A. Russell, of Cleveland, is out in a caustic letter declaring that he will not vote for "the most plutocratic bodder the Democratic party ever spawned."

Senator Tillman has been telling the country that the South is lukewarm in support of the war in the Philippines, but Georgia has furnished more volunteers on the basis of population than any other State.

Yesterday a clothier, a life insurance agent, a railroad passenger agent, an oculist, a printing house man and a florist said that their business was never nearly so good as it has been the past six months, and yet a Bryan organ asserts that "the reeve murmuring of the popular voice is heard complaining and protesting."

The balance of trade continues heavy in our favor, as shown by the statistics, and the volume of trade in and out of the country is greater than a year ago.

It is unfortunate for the eloquent attorney general of Texas that he made allusion to the constitutional amendment which conferred freedom and suffrage upon the colored people of the South, since his party in four Southern States has deprived the colored man of the right to vote and has practically deprived him of the right to vote in nearly every State of the South.

The suit which has been brought in the United States court by Mrs. Jenkins, of Chicago, whose husband was lynched in Ripley county about two years ago, may well arouse the fears of all those who took part in that affair.

Those who read the state papers cannot doubt that the work of the county council has met with the approbation of taxpayers, but the point in the paragraph is the

THE INDIANAPOLIS JOURNAL

Can be found at the following places: NEW YORK—Astor House. CHICAGO—Palmer House, P. O. News Co., 277 Grand Street, Northern Hotel and Grand Pacific Hotel. CINCINNATI—J. R. Hawley & Co., 154 Vine Street. LOUISVILLE—C. T. Dearing, northwest corner of Third and Second streets, and Louisville Book Co., 224 Fourth avenue. ST. LOUIS—Union News Company, Union Depot. WASHINGTON, D. C.—Riggs House, Ebbitt House and Willard's Hotel.

THE INDIANAPOLIS JOURNAL

Can be found at the following places: NEW YORK—Astor House. CHICAGO—Palmer House, P. O. News Co., 277 Grand Street, Northern Hotel and Grand Pacific Hotel. CINCINNATI—J. R. Hawley & Co., 154 Vine Street. LOUISVILLE—C. T. Dearing, northwest corner of Third and Second streets, and Louisville Book Co., 224 Fourth avenue. ST. LOUIS—Union News Company, Union Depot. WASHINGTON, D. C.—Riggs House, Ebbitt House and Willard's Hotel.

THE INDIANAPOLIS JOURNAL

Can be found at the following places: NEW YORK—Astor House. CHICAGO—Palmer House, P. O. News Co., 277 Grand Street, Northern Hotel and Grand Pacific Hotel. CINCINNATI—J. R. Hawley & Co., 154 Vine Street. LOUISVILLE—C. T. Dearing, northwest corner of Third and Second streets, and Louisville Book Co., 224 Fourth avenue. ST. LOUIS—Union News Company, Union Depot. WASHINGTON, D. C.—Riggs House, Ebbitt House and Willard's Hotel.

THE INDIANAPOLIS JOURNAL

Can be found at the following places: NEW YORK—Astor House. CHICAGO—Palmer House, P. O. News Co., 277 Grand Street, Northern Hotel and Grand Pacific Hotel. CINCINNATI—J. R. Hawley & Co., 154 Vine Street. LOUISVILLE—C. T. Dearing, northwest corner of Third and Second streets, and Louisville Book Co., 224 Fourth avenue. ST. LOUIS—Union News Company, Union Depot. WASHINGTON, D. C.—Riggs House, Ebbitt House and Willard's Hotel.

THE INDIANAPOLIS JOURNAL

Can be found at the following places: NEW YORK—Astor House. CHICAGO—Palmer House, P. O. News Co., 277 Grand Street, Northern Hotel and Grand Pacific Hotel. CINCINNATI—J. R. Hawley & Co., 154 Vine Street. LOUISVILLE—C. T. Dearing, northwest corner of Third and Second streets, and Louisville Book Co., 224 Fourth avenue. ST. LOUIS—Union News Company, Union Depot. WASHINGTON, D. C.—Riggs House, Ebbitt House and Willard's Hotel.

THE INDIANAPOLIS JOURNAL

Can be found at the following places: NEW YORK—Astor House. CHICAGO—Palmer House, P. O. News Co., 277 Grand Street, Northern Hotel and Grand Pacific Hotel. CINCINNATI—J. R. Hawley & Co., 154 Vine Street. LOUISVILLE—C. T. Dearing, northwest corner of Third and Second streets, and Louisville Book Co., 224 Fourth avenue. ST. LOUIS—Union News Company, Union Depot. WASHINGTON, D. C.—Riggs House, Ebbitt House and Willard's Hotel.