AN INFRINGEMENT CASE

INVOLVING A TRADE MARK.

SUDGE BAKER'S DECISION IN A SUIT

A Settlement of the Case of the Church & Dwight Company Against C. E. Russ and F. S. Prentice.

The decision of Judge Baker in the case of the Church & Dwight Company against Charles E. Russ and Frederick S. Prentice was made yesterday, and in the decision are several points of interest to users of trade marks. The decision is also of moment to manufacturers of imitations of various lines of merchandise.

The plaintiff contends that the defendants are unlawfully using a trade mark registered by them for baking soda or saleratus upon a package of baking powder. The complainants ask for damages and Judge Baker finds they are entitled to damages in the sum of $5,000. The defendants admitted that they were using the trade mark of the plaintiffs, but claimed their product was baking powder, while that of the plaintiffs was saleratus, or baking soda, the two products not being in the same class.

In speaking of the points of the case. Judge Baker said: "The complainant having acquired the exclusive right to the use of the trade mark upon baking soda or saleratus, the remaining question is this: Does the baking powder of the respondents belong to the same class of goods as the baking soda and saleratus of the complainant? The respondents admit that their baking powder consists of 25 per cent. soda mixed with 70 per cent, corn meal, starch and tartaric acid. . . .

"Consequently, every time the respondents sell a package of their baking powder aving the complainant's trade mark on it, they are actually selling a package, a material part of which consists of soda. baking powder are used for the purpose of leavening or lightening dough n the manufacture of bread and cakes, as well as in other domestic purposes. They are generally handled by the same class of dealers and are purchased by the same class of customers. Either is indifferently used as may be most convenient lish the same object. To the extent that baking powder is used to that extent it will necessarily displace the use of soda for baking purposes. They belong to the same class of goods coming in direct competition with each other in sale and use for the same purposes. "The public would readily suppose that baking powder bearing its complainant's trade mark was either manufactured by it or by someone having its authority and consent, and that it vouched for its superiority. Goods are in the same class whenever the use of a given trade mark would enable an unscrupulous dealer to the way of an Ohio river bridge differenpalm off on unsuspecting purchasers of goods an infringement as goods made by the owner of a trade mark. The fact that the complainant is not using his trade mark packages of baking powder is no ground for defense. He has the right to manufacture or sell baking powder and to use his trade mark in connection with such manufacture. The right to use his own trade mark upon baking powder sold and manufactured by him would be valueless if all others were at liberty to use the same trade mark on baking powders sold Contemporary Club Disappointed. A telegram having been received that Mr. Edward Marshall, on account of severe illness, is obliged to cancel his engagement with the Contemporary Club, there will be no meeting of that society to-and He Thanks the Committee for Its Confidence.

WARREN BIGLER IS SECRETARY

JOSEPH B. KEALING, OF THIS DIS-TRICT, ELECTED VICE CHAIRMAN.

Expressions Secured from Prominent Republicans Indicate Good Feeling Throughout the State.

As was expected, the reorganization of the Republican state committee was accomplished with a unanimity that was impressive. All the districts were represented when, about 3 o'clock, Chairman Hernly called all the district chairmen to take places around the long table in his private office and then left them, closing the door behind him as he went out.

In the main office were several wellknown politicians and newspaper men, all anxious to know how near to the truth the door leading into the committee room and chatted with those in the main room. He had not long to wait, however, for in about five minutes George W. Self, heading a committee, opened the door, and, taking Mr. Hernly's arm, escorted him into the presence of the committee, where he was informed that he had been re-elected chairman of the state committee by acclamation. Mr. Hernly replied briefly, saying that it was well known that he was not a speaker and that he could do no more than tender his thanks to the committee for its renewed expression of confidence in selecting him as its chairman. Joseph B. Kealing, the committeeman from the Seventh district, was made vice chairman, also by acclamation, when it was announced that Thomas Adams, of Vincennes, who held the proxy of Nat U. Hill, had stated that Mr. Hill could not accept the place for business reasons.

The election of Warren Bigler, of Wabash, as secretary was in accordance with a resolution previously reached by the committee, and, as in the case of H. W. Bennett, of Indianapolis, as treasurer, was also unanimous and by acclamation. Very little other business was done, and within an hour many of the committeemen had left the city. AFTER STATE CONVENTION.

During the meeting Elmer Crockett, of the Thirteenth district, made a strong ef-South Bend, but it was found that constitutional provisions stood in the way, and accordingly it was decided to hold the convention in Indianapolis on Wednesday and Thursday, May 16 and 17, no restriction being placed, however, as to the date on which the county conventions must be held, except that they must be held before that

Before the close of the meeting Commiteeman James Goodrich, of the Eighth disrict, was compelled to leave for New York, and Senator T. H. Johnson, of Dunkirk,

The detail work of the organization of he committee will be undertaken next Tuesday, when Secretary Bigler will be in Indianapolis for a conference with Chairman Hernly. At that time it is probable that the members of the new executive and advisory committees will be named and the working force of the office selected. With few exceptions, the fight for the secretaryship left no sore spots after the selection of Warren Bigler. Such candidates as Grant Mitchener of Valparaiso, O. Tichenor of Princeton, J. W. Egnew of Lagro and Will Converse of Richmond said there could be no doubt of the propriety and wisdom of the selection, and that they would give all the support they could muster to Mr. Bigler in his work. A resolution was adopted creating an executive committee consisting of nine members, eight of whom will be appointed by he state committee and one by Chairman Hernly. Heretofore the appointment of the executive committee has been made by the

MR. POSEY A MINE OPERATOR.

He Owns a Mine in Kentucky-What

One of the strange sights at the Denison yesterday was Frank B. Posey with badge on his coat indicating that he was a mine operator from Kentucky. In explaining it, Mr. Posey said he represented the entire Kentucky delegation in that he owned a mine in Crittenden county, Kentucky, and was the only operator from that State at the convention. "I never had a strike in any of my mines," said he, "even when I owned one in this State. Many times other operators have cut prices so that I could not afford to pay the wages demanded by my men, but when I showed them the situation and explained that I could not compete with nonunion mines and that I would have to shut up the mines they always volunteered to accept a cut with the understanding that wages would be restored when prices went up. I always kept my word with them and never had any trouble whatever. I do not think the miners will secure anything like the general increase they expect. It has been suggested that 12 cents will be the compromise increase, but I do not agree with that, because in such States as Illinois it will not be practicable for operators to pay any increase, when the miners have not succeeded in unionizing all the mines in the State and when it is possible for the nonunion mines to turn out coal so much cheaper than the union operators. If all the operators were parties to the scale it would be reasonable to ask for an increase, for the consumer would have to pay the difference, but as long as the miners have not been able to make all the operators pay even the old scale of prices it is unfair to ask the operators to give still more money and still try to compete with the nonunion operators.' Mr. Posey said .. at so far as he was concerned he would agree to a substantial increase, as in his locality the operators had the benefit of a uniform freight rate to all points, whereas the Indiana operators south of the B. & O. S-W. railroad have to pay 30 cents a ton more for the haul to Chicago than those north of the line and were equally shut off from the Southern markets by an almost prohibitive tariff in GOOD FEELING IN DISTRICTS.

A Fine Article of Harmony Prevails Throughout the State.

Most of the state committeemen feel the effects of the harmony introduced Chairman Hernly and in discussing the outlook in their respective districts yesterday said to a man that the district organization was never in better shape than now. Most of them said their present representatives in Congress would be renominated without opposition. George W. Self, of the Third, sald his district was so strongly Democratic that it was hard to find a good man among the Republicans who would run. Elmer Thomas McNutt, of Madison, said the Republicans of the Fourth district did not intend to nominate their congressional candidate until after the Democrats had held their nominating convention. He said that O. H. Montgomery of Seymour, George Roberts of Lawrenceburg, and Judge Meyers of Greensburg, were spoken of for the congressional nomination.

SHELBY COUNTY DISCONTENT.

It Is Thought the Republicans Will Carry the County.

J. J. Wingate, of Shelbyville, while at the Denison yesterday, said: "The only unhappy people in Shelby county are the Democrats." He said the best of the Democrats were up in arms against the Democratic machine which has ruled the county so long and that there was little doubt that the Republicans would carry the county this year. He said arrangements had been made by which suits were to be filed by well-known citizens of the county against George Ray and others to compel a return of large sums of money that were paid to them in excess of what they really were entitled to. In Mr. Ray's case it is said the attempt will be made to recover about $10,000, while the other suits will be for smaller amounts. Mr. Wingate also said that two of the present County Commissioners will be impeached in the near future as soon as the experts employed by the County Council have completed their work on the books of the

After Years of Employment He Resorts to Petty Stealing.

JERRY SHEA'S ARREST.

Jerry Shea, aged fifty-five years, residing at 248 Blackford street, has fallen from grace after twenty-seven years in the employ of Kingan & Co., and was arrested last evening by Detective Thornton on the charge of petit larceny. For about a year brass stopcocks, valves, etc., have been missed from one of the store-rooms of Kingan's packing establishment. The guilty party worked cautiously and it hard to catch him.

The detective department was notified and Detective Thornton learned where Shea had been selling brass at a junk shop on West Washington street, Last Friday Shea sold twenty-six pounds of the brass, receiving ten cents a pound. He gave his name and address to the junk dealer differently each time he called. The detectives carried the brass away and yesterday norning Shea again called with more brass. He was told that he would have to take it away as the detectives were looking for him. He hurried from the place but was captured later. He claims that he did not steal the brass but bought it from boys and then sold it to the junk dealer. He said he did not have brass to sell when he called at the junk shop yesterday, but had a basket containing several empty bottles. It is said that the Kingan officials are not desirous of prosecuting the old man but that they are determined the petty stealing shall come to an end.

The Interstate Assurance Company Will Work Under New Law.

The Interstate Assurance Company, of this city, which has heretofore done business under the law of 1852, was reincorporated yesterday with the following directors: Charles A. Erwin, Aquilla Jones and Admiral George Brown. The new articles of incorporation were filed under the act of 1899 which requires that all insurance companies filing articles of incorporation shall first deposit with the auditor of state security to the amount of $25,000, and the company must further satisfy the auditor that it has 250 bona fide policy holders, each one of which is holder or owner of a policy worth $1,000 or more. The company fully complied with all these requirements by depositing with Auditor Hart a certificate of deposit for $25,000 and furnishing a satisfactory affidavit as to its policy holders. The Labor Oll Company, of Wabash, was incorporated with a capital stock of $5,000. Directors-C. E. Newhouse, Charles Hart. Howard Beegle, C. F. Kohler, F. W. Morse and W. R. Yarmalle.

To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: The imputation of some newspaper correspondents that the health officer here, Dr. Modesitt, is disregarding the quarantine order, needs to be refuted. I think I reflect the opinion of 99 per cent. of the citizens when I say the charge is untrue. The doctor has five assistants of sterling character, and, together, they are doing their best to prevent the spread of the disease (so-called smallpox.) Every house where it exists, or where it is supposed to exist, is promptly quarantined, and every suspectd case kept in. Every person known to come from infected neighborhood is closely scrutinized and questioned, and if suspected is given order to go in and stay in till further orders. Councilman Daller, a member of the committee on investigation and impeachment of the City Council, received a letter vesterday from G. R. Stapp, one of dismissed firemen, asking that the recent action of the Board of Public Safety be investigated. He said he was willing tell all he knows. It may be that this investigation will begin next week. The Republican councilmen will hold a caucus this week to talk over the matter and it is very probable that they will decide to secure a stenographer other than the one Mayor Taggart offers to furnish. They do not hope to get an ordinance through the Council but an effort may be made to get money appropriated for the purpose of carrying on the investigation. President Roth, of the Board of Safety, was at the police station for some time last night in consultation with Superintendent Quigley and Captain Kinney, of the detective force. MINERS WANT OPERATORS OUTSIDE THE FOUR STATES SEATED.

Such Action Would Tend to Prolong the Struggle-The First Joint Conference Is Held.

Probably the first evidence to be made ublic that the operators will not accede to all the demands of the mine workers will come this morning, when the second days' session of the joint convention is called to order. This will be the report own recognizance. The State's attorneys of the credentials committee and, judging from some of the rumors current about the hotels last night, the report of the probably be taken in the Criminal Court | committee will not meet with much favor in the eyes of the mine workers. The chief question to be considered by the committee on credentials was the seating of delegates from States outside of Pennsylvania. Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. During the meeting yesterday morning some of the miners showed their desire to have the operators seat delegates from outside the four States interested in the conference and one miner even went so far as to propose to the operators the seating of outside delegates. The report gained circulation last night that the committee on credentials had met and decided to make a report back to the convention this morning that it was unable to agree on the question. There was another report to the effect that the members of the committee will get together again and make a report against the seating of any of the outside operators. One operator said last night that the miners were favoring the seating of outide operators so as to break up the combine existing among the operators. As the operators are now bound together in the our States no important question can be settled without the unanimous vote of all the operators. The miners, it is said, believe if larger numbers can be added to the forces of the operators questions would be harder to settle, as the outside operators have not been organized as long a the operators of the four States and in they were to come into the meeting and have a voice in the settlement of questions there would be many disagreements It is said the credentials committee considered the question fully and, being unvicinity to-day, and some new cases have agree and will let the convention solve problem this morning. Many believe there will be considerable discussion on this question when it comes up before the convention, as the miners will want to seat the outside operators. The operators on the credentials committee recommend that the operators outside of the four States should get together and form an organization for their mutual protection and in a way they could all work together for each others interests. When the report of the credentials committee is disposed of before the joint convention this morning the report of the committee on rules and order of business may also be made. It is reported that the miners have not reached a conclusion on the wage question and will not be ready to meet the operators on this point should the matter come up to-day. After the reports of the two committees appointed yes terday are disposed of this morning the convention may order the scale committee to meet and make a report to the conven-tion to-morrow. Many of the operators and some of the leading miners do not look for a short session, some of the operators saying it will take several days to settle all the demands satisfactorily which the miners are said to be ready to make.

FIRST JOINT CONFERENCE.

The Miners and Operators Select Committees and Adjourn.

It was nearly 11 o'clock yesterday morning when the joint conference of mine workers and operators convened at the German House, the delay being caused by the grouping of the miners on one side of the large hall and the operators on the other side. Both the miners and operators occupied sections according to the States. After quiet was restored the selection of a chairman was indorsed and President Mitchell. of the United Mine Workers, moved that Walter S. Boge, of Chicago, be elected to preside. Mr. Bogel was selected chairman amid the applause of his friends. He was immediately escorted to the stage and took the gavel. He made a brief speech thanking his friends and saying he hoped he would be as popular when the convention adjourned as he seemed to be at the opening. He said the spirit of fairness and conservatism should prevail, as it will have much to do with the work. He further said the good feeling that has prevailed in past joint conventions has done much to improve the feeling between the miners and opera-The convention then selected W. C. Pearce, secretary of the miners, as secrecary of the convention and C. L. Scroggs, of Chicago, as assistant secretary. President Mitchell, of the miners, mad a speech, in which he referred to the Pittsburg agreement of last year having been originality. kept by both the miners and the operators, and because of this fact he said the op-erators should take the miners into their confidence. President Mitchell further said the interests of all concerned could be best conserved by co-operation, as they tees were named. The selection of the credentials committee resulted in the following men being chosen:

For the operators: Indiana-C. A. Eastman and J. M. Mc-Ohio-J. S. Morton and W. Woodford. Idinois-I Wantling and M. C. Wright. Pennsylvania-F. L. Robbins and F. M.

For the miners: Indiana-Barney Navin and G. W Ohio-Fred Dilcher and A. C. C. Smith. Pennsylvania-Edward McKay and M Illinois-William Hefti and Hugh Smith Those who were selected for members of the committee on rules and order of business are: For the operators: Ohio-Thomas Johnson and H. L. Chaprennsylvania-W. B. Rogers and O. A Indiana-R. S. Tenant and M. H. John-Illinois-E. T. Bent and C. E. Hull.

For the miners: Pennsylvania-W. B. Wilson and James Indiana-W. D. Van Horn and Samuel Illinois-Charles Duncan and T. J. Rey-Ohio-W. H. Haskins and D. H. Sulli The committees were then instructed to meet and organize and be ready to report this morning when the second days' ses-sion of the joint convention will be called.

Delegates Are Selected.

The United Mine Workers have elected the following as delegates to the American Federation of Labor: John Mitchell, 722 votes; W. C. Pearce, 559; Patrick Dolan, 420; Patrick L. Hunter, 344.

Many of the miners got together yesterday afternoon and last night in small groups about the hotels and discussed several questions pertinent to the joint convention. It is said by old miners there are more miners here at this convention than have attended any convention for some time. Because of so many young men being represented as delegates the older and nore conversative miners have had hard work to vote down some of the resolutions offered by the younger men who are not familiar with the situation. It was even reported last night that the miners have committee appointed by them last week. It has been given out that the miners will ask for 20 cents advance, but this has never been published as official.

STUDYING AUTHORITIES. Judge McMaster Is Considering the

Gas Case. Judge McMaster, of the Superior Court, is spending a good deal of time these days looking up the authorities cited in the mandatory proceedings brought by the city against the Indianapolis Gas Company to compel the company to lay an additional line of pipe to the gas fields. The case was argued several weeks ago on demurrer and a vast number of authorities were cited. hundred different authorities were submitted to him by counsel in the case. He expects to give a decision in the case within the next few days.

Sympathy for the Boers. Attorney Henry Seyfried, secretary of local sympathizers with the Boers, has mailed letters to many citizens of Indianapolis announcing a meeting at Mozart Hall for Friday evening to discuss the Boer question.
