CLOSE OF PACKING SEASON.

Number of Hogs Killed by the Indianapolis Establishments.

With Feb. 28 ended the winter packing season and since Nov. 1, its beginning, Indianapolis packing houses have killed 412,-900 hogs, against 442,000 for the corresponding period ending with Feb. 28, 1899. One of the older of the packers says that through the entire season the hogs killed have been of a better grade than usual as to weight and condition. At the twentyfour points which report the number of nogs killed there were killed 8,675,000 hogs, against 9,720,000 for the corresponding period of last year's packing season. At several reporting points the falling off in number of hogs killed was proportionately greater than at Indianapolis.

Business at the Stockyards.

In the month of February there were received at the Union stockyards 84,054 hogs, 7,909 head of cattle, 1,306 head of sheep and 3,267 horses. There were shipped 38,643 hogs, 1,327 head of cattle, 1,013 sheep and Last month there were sold at the three auction sale stables 3,548 horses, 1,088 more than in February, 1899.

ESCAPED THE SNOW.

Trains, However, Are Delayed to Some Extent Coming from the East.

Indianapolis, although its inhabitants have been put to a little trouble in walking during the last few days, has been fortunate in escaping the great enowstorm which has swept over the Central States. From reports received early yesterday the snow was about forty inchs on a level in some places. Trains were tied up, and those which arrived late in the day bore evidence of having come through a mountain of snow. The blizzard which struck the eastern part of the country played havoc with the telegraph wires, and the

OLD STORY TOLD AGAIN

LAW THE ONLY THING THAT WILL CURE RATE DEMORALIZATION.

The Wabash Makes Gratifying Earning Exhibit-The Pennsylvania Will Have a Buffalo Line.

The freight traffic manager of one of the Indianapolis roads, in discussing the rate demoralization new prevailing, said the manner in which the freight business was conducted was a disgrace and simply a robbery of the stockholders. There was more business than could be carried, and it would move at a full tariff rates if subordinate officials did not disregard all agreements of presidents and conduct business on unbusiness like methods, the only persons benefited being a few big shippers, the small shippers being deprived of cars and of the lower rates. While this demoralization prevailed largely on export business the manipulation extended to other lines of freight. He, in the past, had rather opposed pooling agreements, but was now confirmed in the opinion that Congress should pass the pooling bill allowing the roads to pool the business subject to certain conditions, the Interstatecommerce Commission to have power to set aside any pool that was unjust to any class of shippers. At Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis, the big shippers in a large measure fixed the rates at which property should be carried, and he thought that with the pooling agreement the stockholders, the roads and shippers generally would be benefited, as rates would be steady and firm and all shippers treated alike. The present rate manipulation, he said, works an injustice to roads that are required to strictly adhere to rates. This was aptly illustrated in the case of the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City road, and of the Vandalia, which are in the hands of receivers, and which the courts have ordered should strictly maintain rates. While competitors of the Clover-leaf are showing large gains in earnings the latter show decreases, not being able to get business at the Wall Street Journal. We can give the following authoritative information regarding the Pennsylvania's new line to Buffalo. Colonel Joseph A. Crawford, assistant to Vice President Rea. of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, will put engineers in the field at once to locate its new Buffalo line which it is now thought will run from the Philadelphia & Erie railroad at Kane or Wilcox, thence due north to Buffalo, there connecting with terminal property now being acquired. This new line would, in conjunction with the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad and the Allegheny Valley Railroad, serve for both east and west bound traffic and would involve the least new construction and the maintaining of but one connecting line. It is a little longer from eastern points that the first line projected from near amporium to Mt. Jewett and thence to Buffalo with a branch over to Kane, but it utilizes the Philadelphia & Erie Ranroad from Emporium to Wilcox and will make a satisfactory connection of its own for the Pennsylvania system.

It is expected that as soon as ossible all of the cars on the system will be taken off and new ones put in their place, or those which are now in use will be entirely overhauled. It is reported that Charles M. Hays, who is said to have resigned as general manager of the Grand Trunk, is to go to the Canadian Pacific in a more important posi-tion than the one he held on the Grand Trunk. If this be true, a prominent railway official predicts that Joseph Ramsey, general manager of the Wabash, will succeed Mr. Hays on the Grand Trunk. One of the largest single orders for engines ever booked by a locomotive firm in this country is that just received by the Baldwin works from the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. The order calls for 100 compound consolidated freight engines, and is supplementary to one for sixty-five engines of a similar character placed by the company with this firm some months ago.

At a meeting of the directors of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, yesterday, the resignation of George Crocker as director and second vice president was received and accepted, and H. E. Huntington was elected to the office of second vice president. John W. Mackay was elected a member of the board of directors, to succeed Mr. Crocker, and Charles H. Tweed, counsel for the road, and William E. Dodge were also elected directors of the company. The resignation of Mr. Crocker is believed to mean that the Crocker holdings of Southern Pacific stock have been trans-ferred to the Speyers.

The map of the Wheeling & Lake Erie Railroad in the Official Guide for several months has shown the Cleveland division extending as far south as Zanesville, but in the time tables the train stops short at Coshocton, "thirty miles away." In this instance the map obviously has embodied a prophecy. This prophecy now is about to be realized. Zanesville is an imlocal business has been heavy beyond preportant center, and the extension will give Wheeling & Lake Erie a better hold upon certain lines of trade. For one thing, access to the West Virginia coal fields, by way of Zanesville, as well as by way of Martin's Ferry, is anticipated.

The Chicago & Rock Island officials have entered into arrangements with an Eastern correspondence school, whereby that institution will fit out cars for educational purposes and place them at the disposal of the employes of the railroad. The cars will be equipped with such appliances as are essential to thorough railroad experiments, together with books and other reading matter touching upon the various phases of railroad operation. The correspondence school will provide instructors, and employes who will be able to avail themselves of the educational opportunities without neglecting their regular labors need only pay small tuition fees.

CHARLES FOERSTER DEAD

HE WAS CONSUL UNDER CLEVELAND TO ELBERFIELD, GERMANY.

Since His Return He Had Lived a Retired Life in This City-An Interesting Career.

Mr. Charles Foerster, once a prominent citizen of Indianapolis, but who for some time has been living a retired life in very bad health, died yesterday at his home, 763 West New York street. Mr. Foerster was born in Zlichau, Silesia, aug. 12, 1827. and was educated in the college at Custrian. He served one year in the Prussian army and after his discharge was for some time employed as a stenographer in the German Reichstag. Coming to the United States while yet a young man, he was for a time employed on the New York Staats Zeitung, later going to Havana, Cuba, where he served as an interpreter. He came to Evansville, Ind., shortly before the outbreak of the civil war, and resided there until Caleb B. THE "SAPHO" CASE HEARING.

Fanny Le Grande's Gown Described as "a Very Clinging Costume."

NEW YORK, March 1.-The, "Sapho" hearing was to-day resumed by Magistrate Mott in his private room in the Centrestreet court. William Inglis, a reporter, described the second scene in the first act. He identified as correct the photographs shown him of the scene, one being that of Fannie being carried upstairs by Jean. Mr. Inglis said that as Sapho was being carried up stairs she was uttering inarticulate sounds which seemed to denote intense satisfaction. He told about the ballroom scene and the contest between Toto, a minor character, and Sapho for the possession of Jean's favor. Mr. Inglis spoke of Fanny Le Grande's gown as a "very clinging costume." She has to take very tiny steps as she wears it, he continued, and it clings to her very tightly, and reveals her anatomy very plainly. Court adjourned

CHICAGO, March 1 .- Charles E. Lutz shot and seriously wounded his brother, A. D. Lutz, to-day at the latter's art store, 506 West Madison street. He then fired two shots at his sister-in-law, killing her instantly. Charles Lutz was formerly employed by Mr. and Mrs. Lutz as manager. He was discharged last fall. To-day he entered the store intoxicated, and a quarrel ensued which resulted in the shooting. The murderer made no attempt to escape.

YOUTHS PLAYED

CAUSE OF ARREST OF TWO MORE BILLIARD HALL PROPRIETORS.

Pfau and Hatfield the Latest-Case of John W. Emerich in the Circuit Court.

John G. Pfau and Barton T. Hatfield, proprietors of a cigar and billiard estab-Webb, and his selection lends support to the persistent rumors that the Chicago & lishment at No. 109 North Pennsylvania Northwestern will build a connection and street, were arrested yesterday afternoon on grand jury warrants charging them with allowing minors to play pool. They each gave a bond of $100 for their appearance in court. There are four indictments against each of these men. This arrest. like that of Anderegg, proprietor of the Denison House billiard parlor, grew out of an investigation made by the jury into the habits of some youths of tender age who were arrested for stealing overcoats from the High School building. The jury found that these young men were of a "sporty" turn of mind and spent a good deal of time in billiard parlors. The information furnished by them resulted in the arrest of Anderegg, Pfau and Hatfield.

On Wednesday Anderegg pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs in four different cases against him. Fred Bane, Herbert Fergason, Luther Drisbeck and Henry Higgins, youthful offenders, were arraigned in the Criminal Court yesterday on the charge of burglary and grand larceny. Only the cases against Higgins and Fergason were disposed of. In both cases sentence was suspended.

Emerich's Appearance in Court. On Wednesday Judge Allen, of the Circuit Court, issued a writ of attachment for John W. Emerich, who, it was supposed, had failed to appear that morning as a witness in a suit for support brought by is wife Nellie Emerich. Yesterday when Emerich came into the court he explained that he was on hand promptly at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning and waited until 11. No one spoke to him or informed that he was wanted and he went away. Under the circumstances Judge Allen declined to punish him. .

The court asked Emerich about his alleged desertion of his wife and children, and he explained that he and his wife differed in their religious views. He said his wife was a Catholic, and when she asked him for $200 to give a Catholic priest, he refused. This, he explained, had a good deal to do with his leaving his family. Emerich, it appears, has become a Mormon convert. He had his Bible with him in court, and while waiting to be called as a witness frequently referred to the book. Judge Allen did not appear to greatly appreciate the man's devotion and said to him that he did not think it was a very strong religion that would cause a man to desert his family. Emerich has a piece of property in the city and Judge Allen ordered that this property be used in the best way to benefit Emerich's children.

Koepke Suit Dismissed.

In the suit of Louisa Koepke against the street-railway company, to recover damages on account of the death of her husband, Frederick Koepke, Judge Leathers, of the Superior Court, yesterday announced he would instruct the jury to find for the defendant. Frederick Koepke was injured by a street car in June, 1897, and committed sulcide about one year later. It was claimed that the injuries received in the street car accident unseated his reason and caused him to take his own life. George W. Galvin, one of the attorneys for Mrs. Koepke, came into the case at a late day and apparently was not familiar with the manner in which Frederick Koepke took his life. The attorney stood before the jury in his opening statement and pressed an imaginary revolver to his head in explaining how Mr. Koepke had Suit to Set Aside a Will. A suit to set aside the will of Leonard B. Hinkle, who died on Feb. 3 last, was filed yesterday in the Circuit Court. The suit is brought by Edith Coan against Cora Hinkle, widow of the testator, and Truman B. Hinkle, his son. The plaintiff is a daughter of the decedent. She avers that she and her brother and mother are the only heirs of Leonard Hinkle. She charges that the execution of the will of Leonard B. Hinkle was unduly procured by his wife and son and she claims he was not of sound mind at the time he made the will.

Didn't Have Enough Sand. George A. Rubush yesterday began an action for damages against the White River Sand and Gravel Company. He claims he made an agreement with the company by which it was to furnish him all the sand and gravel he could haul away. He charges that the company failed to keep its contract and he was unable to fill his wagons as often as desired. He was to have the gravel at 27 cents a load, he avers. He demands damages in the sum of

The will of Karl Mall was probated yesterdey. The plaintiff gave his property to his wife, Christina M. L. The will provides, however, that should Mrs. Mall remarry she is to have only such part of the estate as the law allows her.

EX-JUSTICE IN TROUBLE.

James Johnston in Jail to Answer a Charge of Forgery.

James Johnston, at one time justice of the peace here, was arrested vesterday afternoon on a warrant sworn out in Justice Smock's court, charging that on or about March 6, 1899, he forged the signature of his neice, Jennie Johnston, to a release of a mortgage for $600. In default of bond he was sent to jail awaiting a hearing. The forgery is said to have been attered in Dearborn county where the niece resides. It is also charged that the jurat, signed by O. F. Roberts, notary public, was also forged. Johnston lives at 1211 Union street. A short time ago he was before the Commissioner's Court charged with improperly administering a guardianship, at which time, it was claimed, he was short about $1,200 in his account with his ward. The matter was adjusted and his guardianship removed.

Stone Masons' Wage Scale.

The question of wage scale which has arisen between the contractors and union stone masons promises to have some interesting features before it is settled. Yesterday was the day for the new scale to take effect and on account of the bad weather few men were at work. At a Monday night the "bosses" announced their willingness to continue the present scale of 40 and 45 cents an hour according to the proficiency of the workman. This agreement does not suit the union men, as they say it discriminates against part of the union, and that in the future they will be required to pay the flat scale of 45 cents.

The Cruel Knife!

It is absolutely useless to expect a surgical operation to cure cancer, or any other blood disease. The cruelty of such treatment is illustrated in the alarming number of deaths which result from it. The disease is in the blood, and hence can not be cut out. Nine times out of ten the surgeon's knife only hastens death. My son had a most malignant Cancer, for which the doctors said an operation was the only hope. The operation was a severe one, as it was necessary to cut down to the jawbone and scrape it. Before a great while the Cancer returned, and began to grow rapidly. We gave him many lief, and finally, upon the advice of a friend, decided to try 8. S. S. (Swift's Specific), and with the second bottle he began to improve. After twenty bottles had been taken, the Cancer disappeared entirely, and he was cured. The cure was a permanent one, for he is now seventeen years old, and has never had a sign of the dreadful disease to re-J. N. MURDOCH, 279 Snodgrass St., Dallas, Texas.
