

street, I reeled and fell unconscious. An ambulance took me to St. Joseph's Hospital, where I was treated.

A story is told of McAllister's adventures at Hot Springs, Ark., where he spent some weeks three years ago. He was nearly lynched, according to the story, for the same practices which have brought him to this city. He had followed a respectable woman one day in a carriage and made an insulting proposal to her. The crowd chased McAllister, threatening to lynch him.

OHIO RIVER MYSTERY.

Body of Miss Emma Seigmeyer Found Floating in the Water. PITTSBURGH, Oct. 28.—The mystery connected with the finding of the body of Miss Emma Seigmeyer floating in the Ohio river opposite Glendon, yesterday, deepens as investigations proceed.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—An explosion of acetylene gas that was used for a stereopticon entertainment wrecked the interior of the First Presbyterian Church in Austin to-night, and the operator, George W. Leitch, recently returned from missionary work in India and Ceylon, lost his right hand and suffered other injuries.

EXPLOSION IN A CHURCH.

Interior of the Edifice Wrecked by Acetylene Gas and Man Hurt. CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—An explosion of acetylene gas that was used for a stereopticon entertainment wrecked the interior of the First Presbyterian Church in Austin to-night, and the operator, George W. Leitch, recently returned from missionary work in India and Ceylon, lost his right hand and suffered other injuries.

MANY ARE PERISHING.

(CONCLUDED FROM FIRST PAGE.) KON DISTRICT (Klondike), $16,274,488.15; Washington, Oregon, Idaho and foreign gold coin, $25,282.88.

Latest Arrivals from the Klondike.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 28.—The steamer Dolphin arrived from Skagway to-day with 125 passengers and $300,000 in gold from the Klondike. The Klondikers came up the river on the Zealandia, leaving Dawson Oct. 14. The river was then full of floating ice for 100 miles and the weather was bitterly cold.

Idaho Blue Stem Wheat Sold.

LEWISTON, Idaho, Oct. 28.—Twenty-five thousand bushels of blue stem wheat were sold here yesterday for Chicago delivery. The first shipment of blue stem wheat to the Northern Pacific to-day. The local quotation on blue stem is 45 cents, and the freight rate to Chicago is 25 cents per bushel.

Kentucky River Steamer Burned.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 28.—The stern-wheel steamer Falls City caught fire in a steamer at 6 o'clock this morning and the pilot house, stoves and cabin were burned. The loss is $200,000. The boat is insured and will be rebuilt at once. She cost $400,000, belongs to the Kentucky River Packet Co., Louisville, and is operated between Louisville and Frankfort. The owner of the fire is not definitely known.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Showers to-day, but fair to-morrow.—Southerly winds.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Forecast for Monday: For Ohio and Indiana—Showers on Monday; Tuesday fair; fresh southerly winds.

Local Observations on Sunday. Bar. Ther. 8.78. Wind. Clear. 63. 7 a. m. 30.19 54 78. North. Clear. 63. 7 p. m. 29.97 70 41. South. Fr. cloudy. 63. 7 a. m. 30.19 54 78. North. Clear. 63. 7 p. m. 29.97 70 41. South. Fr. cloudy. 63.

Yesterday's Temperatures. Stations. Min. Max. 7 p. m. Atlanta, Ga. 58 81 56 44. Baltimore, Md. 56 44 56 44. Buffalo, N. Y. 58 60 58 60. Chicago, Ill. 54 72 52 68. Cincinnati, O. 50 78 48 72. Cleveland, O. 50 78 48 72. Concordia, Kan. 52 78 50 72. Evansville, Ind. 52 78 50 72. Galveston, Tex. 52 78 50 72. Helena, Mont. 52 78 50 72. Jacksonville, Fla. 52 78 50 72. Kansas City, Mo. 52 78 50 72. Little Rock, Ark. 52 78 50 72. Louisville, Ky. 52 78 50 72. Memphis, Tenn. 52 78 50 72. New Orleans, La. 52 78 50 72. New York City, N. Y. 52 78 50 72. Norfolk, Va. 52 78 50 72. Oklahoma, Okla. 52 78 50 72. Omaha, Neb. 52 78 50 72. Philadelphia, Pa. 52 78 50 72. Portland, Me. 52 78 50 72. St. Louis, Mo. 52 78 50 72. St. Paul, Minn. 52 78 50 72. Springfield, Mo. 52 78 50 72. St. Petersburg, Fla. 52 78 50 72. Vicksburg, Miss. 52 78 50 72. Washington, D. C. 52 78 50 72.

BRYAN GOES TO CHURCH AND IS ALMOST MORDED BY A CROWD OF CURIOUS PEOPLE.

Then He Takes a Nap, and Later Starts on Another Republican Vote-Making Expedition.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Bryan breakfasted at 10 o'clock in their hotel with ex-Governor William J. Stone and several others. After breakfast the party adjourned to Mr. Bryan's room, where the candidate received Representative Richardson and several local politicians. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan then left the hotel and walked through Madison square to the Madison-avenue Presbyterian Church. When Mr. Bryan first appeared on the street there were very few people about, but those who were there instantly recognized him, and with many a shout followed him to the door of the church.

NOT ALL WILL RESUME.

SEVERAL ANTHRACITE MINES TO REMAIN IDE FOR A TIME.

Nearly All Large Companies, However, Have Complied with Demands, and Will Start to-day.

HAZLETON, Pa., Oct. 28.—The Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company, operating the Audenried, Honey Brook and Green Mountain collieries in this district, has not yet complied with the demands of the anthracite miners. It is said the company will grant the concessions by Nov. 1, when work will be resumed.

Over Nine Inches of Rainfall in a Brief Space of Time.

HONOLULU, Oct. 28.—The heaviest rainstorm which has occurred here for many years broke at 10 o'clock Tuesday night. For half an hour the rain fell in torrents, and within a short while the streets were impassable.

FLOOD IN HAWAII.

Over Nine Inches of Rainfall in a Brief Space of Time. HONOLULU, Oct. 28.—The heaviest rainstorm which has occurred here for many years broke at 10 o'clock Tuesday night. For half an hour the rain fell in torrents, and within a short while the streets were impassable.

Commercial Travelers See McKinley.

CANTON, Oct. 28.—President McKinley attended church this morning. Later the president and Mrs. McKinley and Captain and Mrs. McWilliams went to the country home of Mrs. Marie S. Saxton, on the farm of Mrs. Saxton in an aunt of the ladies. A few social callers were received during the day and evening.

Received Has a Quiet Day.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Governor Roosevelt spent the day very quietly here, taking a long drive with Mrs. Roosevelt during the day and going to the Episcopal Church in the evening. The trip to-morrow includes but three stops on land, where the party stays for an hour. Thence, where a three-hour stop will be made at the States corner party will spend the night.

OBITUARY.

Prof. Frederick Max Muller, of Oxford University.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Right Honorable Friedrich Max Muller, professor of comparative philology at Oxford University, died to-day at 12:35 p. m. His disease was an affection of the liver. Until ten days ago he was able to continue writing his autobiography, dictating to his son. He had been in poor health since the morning of the 22nd, when he was seized with frequent attacks of illness.

Col. John M. Fleming.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 28.—Col. John M. Fleming, aged sixty-eight years, and for many years editor of the old Knoxville Tribune and later of the Sentinel, died to-night at the East Tennessee Hospital for the Insane, where he had been confined for the past seven years. He was a noted Confederate soldier and a prominent politician.

William H. Cunningham.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—William H. Cunningham, for many years manager of the Western department of the Fire Association of Philadelphia, died here to-day, aged sixty-two years.

FRENCH PROGRAMME.

(CONCLUDED FROM FIRST PAGE.) Senate, to pass a bill of emolument as "a measure necessary to assure definitive settlement."

"While these internal events are being accomplished," he continued, "our position being strengthened abroad, which we are supported, when necessary, by the valor of our army. Our policy has regained for us our former authority and success. We have shown ourselves determined to abdicate nothing of our rights, and we are convinced that aggressive meddling has nothing in common with true patriotism. When the exposition opened the government deemed that after undergoing such violent shocks, the country would best be left to take the benefits of a peaceful truce. This period of rest will be followed with work. No more fruitful life were ever agitated than came to the front in the exposition congresses."

AS TO BANK INSPECTION.

Not in the Power of Bank Examiners to Detect Alford Cases.

New York Evening Post. Defalcations of bank officers and clerks are not so uncommon as to excite great surprise when they rise to the magnitude of $700,000, they rather take away one's breath.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—The Chicago Tribune has a story to the effect that the eyes of the superior officer can see everything that goes on, and where even the neighbors can detect any signs of wrongdoing, a bank clerk is living beyond his salary. Every bank defalcation, large or small, ought to teach a lesson, ought to make the next one more difficult of accomplishment, ought to contribute something to the protection of the community.

To Cure a Cold in One Day. Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All Druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box.

STORM IN THE NORTH.

SEVEN AND A QUARTER INCHES OF RAINFALL AT LA CROSSE, WIS.

Winona, Minn., Visited by Electrical Storm and Also Downpour of Rain—Railways Suffered.

LA CROSSE, Wis., Oct. 28.—In the twenty-four hours preceding this morning seven and one-quarter inches of rain fell in this city. The storm was the severest in this city, although it was generally felt within a radius of fifty miles of here. The Milwaukee road suffered much damage to its tracks and no trains have arrived from the east for twenty-four hours. The La Crosse river marshes are flooded and most of the hay that escaped the last flood has been destroyed.

NOT ALL WILL RESUME.

SEVERAL ANTHRACITE MINES TO REMAIN IDE FOR A TIME.

Nearly All Large Companies, However, Have Complied with Demands, and Will Start to-day.

HAZLETON, Pa., Oct. 28.—The Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company, operating the Audenried, Honey Brook and Green Mountain collieries in this district, has not yet complied with the demands of the anthracite miners. It is said the company will grant the concessions by Nov. 1, when work will be resumed.

Over Nine Inches of Rainfall in a Brief Space of Time.

HONOLULU, Oct. 28.—The heaviest rainstorm which has occurred here for many years broke at 10 o'clock Tuesday night. For half an hour the rain fell in torrents, and within a short while the streets were impassable.

FLOOD IN HAWAII.

Over Nine Inches of Rainfall in a Brief Space of Time. HONOLULU, Oct. 28.—The heaviest rainstorm which has occurred here for many years broke at 10 o'clock Tuesday night. For half an hour the rain fell in torrents, and within a short while the streets were impassable.

Commercial Travelers See McKinley.

CANTON, Oct. 28.—President McKinley attended church this morning. Later the president and Mrs. McKinley and Captain and Mrs. McWilliams went to the country home of Mrs. Marie S. Saxton, on the farm of Mrs. Saxton in an aunt of the ladies. A few social callers were received during the day and evening.

Received Has a Quiet Day.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Governor Roosevelt spent the day very quietly here, taking a long drive with Mrs. Roosevelt during the day and going to the Episcopal Church in the evening. The trip to-morrow includes but three stops on land, where the party stays for an hour. Thence, where a three-hour stop will be made at the States corner party will spend the night.

OBITUARY.

Prof. Frederick Max Muller, of Oxford University.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Right Honorable Friedrich Max Muller, professor of comparative philology at Oxford University, died to-day at 12:35 p. m. His disease was an affection of the liver. Until ten days ago he was able to continue writing his autobiography, dictating to his son. He had been in poor health since the morning of the 22nd, when he was seized with frequent attacks of illness.

Col. John M. Fleming.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 28.—Col. John M. Fleming, aged sixty-eight years, and for many years editor of the old Knoxville Tribune and later of the Sentinel, died to-night at the East Tennessee Hospital for the Insane, where he had been confined for the past seven years. He was a noted Confederate soldier and a prominent politician.

William H. Cunningham.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—William H. Cunningham, for many years manager of the Western department of the Fire Association of Philadelphia, died here to-day, aged sixty-two years.

FRENCH PROGRAMME.

(CONCLUDED FROM FIRST PAGE.) Senate, to pass a bill of emolument as "a measure necessary to assure definitive settlement."

"While these internal events are being accomplished," he continued, "our position being strengthened abroad, which we are supported, when necessary, by the valor of our army. Our policy has regained for us our former authority and success. We have shown ourselves determined to abdicate nothing of our rights, and we are convinced that aggressive meddling has nothing in common with true patriotism. When the exposition opened the government deemed that after undergoing such violent shocks, the country would best be left to take the benefits of a peaceful truce. This period of rest will be followed with work. No more fruitful life were ever agitated than came to the front in the exposition congresses."

AS TO BANK INSPECTION.

Not in the Power of Bank Examiners to Detect Alford Cases.

New York Evening Post. Defalcations of bank officers and clerks are not so uncommon as to excite great surprise when they rise to the magnitude of $700,000, they rather take away one's breath.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—The Chicago Tribune has a story to the effect that the eyes of the superior officer can see everything that goes on, and where even the neighbors can detect any signs of wrongdoing, a bank clerk is living beyond his salary. Every bank defalcation, large or small, ought to teach a lesson, ought to make the next one more difficult of accomplishment, ought to contribute something to the protection of the community.

To Cure a Cold in One Day. Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All Druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box.

STORM IN THE NORTH.

SEVEN AND A QUARTER INCHES OF RAINFALL AT LA CROSSE, WIS.

Winona, Minn., Visited by Electrical Storm and Also Downpour of Rain—Railways Suffered.

LA CROSSE, Wis., Oct. 28.—In the twenty-four hours preceding this morning seven and one-quarter inches of rain fell in this city. The storm was the severest in this city, although it was generally felt within a radius of fifty miles of here. The Milwaukee road suffered much damage to its tracks and no trains have arrived from the east for twenty-four hours. The La Crosse river marshes are flooded and most of the hay that escaped the last flood has been destroyed.

NOT ALL WILL RESUME.

SEVERAL ANTHRACITE MINES TO REMAIN IDE FOR A TIME.

Nearly All Large Companies, However, Have Complied with Demands, and Will Start to-day.

HAZLETON, Pa., Oct. 28.—The Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Company, operating the Audenried, Honey Brook and Green Mountain collieries in this district, has not yet complied with the demands of the anthracite miners. It is said the company will grant the concessions by Nov. 1, when work will be resumed.

Over Nine Inches of Rainfall in a Brief Space of Time.

HONOLULU, Oct. 28.—The heaviest rainstorm which has occurred here for many years broke at 10 o'clock Tuesday night. For half an hour the rain fell in torrents, and within a short while the streets were impassable.

FLOOD IN HAWAII.

Over Nine Inches of Rainfall in a Brief Space of Time. HONOLULU, Oct. 28.—The heaviest rainstorm which has occurred here for many years broke at 10 o'clock Tuesday night. For half an hour the rain fell in torrents, and within a short while the streets were impassable.

Commercial Travelers See McKinley.

CANTON, Oct. 28.—President McKinley attended church this morning. Later the president and Mrs. McKinley and Captain and Mrs. McWilliams went to the country home of Mrs. Marie S. Saxton, on the farm of Mrs. Saxton in an aunt of the ladies. A few social callers were received during the day and evening.

Received Has a Quiet Day.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Oct. 28.—Governor Roosevelt spent the day very quietly here, taking a long drive with Mrs. Roosevelt during the day and going to the Episcopal Church in the evening. The trip to-morrow includes but three stops on land, where the party stays for an hour. Thence, where a three-hour stop will be made at the States corner party will spend the night.

OBITUARY.

Prof. Frederick Max Muller, of Oxford University.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Right Honorable Friedrich Max Muller, professor of comparative philology at Oxford University, died to-day at 12:35 p. m. His disease was an affection of the liver. Until ten days ago he was able to continue writing his autobiography, dictating to his son. He had been in poor health since the morning of the 22nd, when he was seized with frequent attacks of illness.

Col. John M. Fleming.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 28.—Col. John M. Fleming, aged sixty-eight years, and for many years editor of the old Knoxville Tribune and later of the Sentinel, died to-night at the East Tennessee Hospital for the Insane, where he had been confined for the past seven years. He was a noted Confederate soldier and a prominent politician.

William H. Cunningham.

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—William H. Cunningham, for many years manager of the Western department of the Fire Association of Philadelphia, died here to-day, aged sixty-two years.

FRENCH PROGRAMME.

(CONCLUDED FROM FIRST PAGE.) Senate, to pass a bill of emolument as "a measure necessary to assure definitive settlement."

"While these internal events are being accomplished," he continued, "our position being strengthened abroad, which we are supported, when necessary, by the valor of our army. Our policy has regained for us our former authority and success. We have shown ourselves determined to abdicate nothing of our rights, and we are convinced that aggressive meddling has nothing in common with true patriotism. When the exposition opened the government deemed that after undergoing such violent shocks, the country would best be left to take the benefits of a peaceful truce. This period of rest will be followed with work. No more fruitful life were ever agitated than came to the front in the exposition congresses."

AS TO BANK INSPECTION.

Not in the Power of Bank Examiners to Detect Alford Cases.

New York Evening Post. Defalcations of bank officers and clerks are not so uncommon as to excite great surprise when they rise to the magnitude of $700,000, they rather take away one's breath.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—The Chicago Tribune has a story to the effect that the eyes of the superior officer can see everything that goes on, and where even the neighbors can detect any signs of wrongdoing, a bank clerk is living beyond his salary. Every bank defalcation, large or small, ought to teach a lesson, ought to make the next one more difficult of accomplishment, ought to contribute something to the protection of the community.

To Cure a Cold in One Day. Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All Druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. E. W. Grove's signature is on each box.

WELLS COUNTY LEADS.

GRANT THE SECOND IN PRODUCTION OF CRUDE PETROLEUM.

Indiana Output in October Less Than in September—Price Below the Profit Mark.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MONTPELIER, Ind., Oct. 28.—During the month of October now closing there were 235 wells completed in the "Greater Indiana" oil field. Of this number the dry holes and wells amounted to 54. The new production daily for the month of the new completed wells is 2,460 barrels, or an average of 184 barrels. This is a decrease in completed wells of 15 from the September figure, 250 barrels a day. The production, and twelve less dry holes. In new work under way there are 170 wells drilling and 80 rigs up and ready for the drill. This is a decline from the September report of 24 drilling wells and 32 rigs up, or a total decline in new operations of 56. The decline in new operations is not due to the scarcity of territory to drill, as there is plenty of it, but the cause lies in the decline in price of fluid, and as there is no telling to the let-up of the decline, the producers have concluded to drill only where they are compelled to live up to the conditions of their leases. Oil well material, while it has declined some, has not as yet declined on an average with the drop in the market. Wells county, as usual, leads with Grant a close second, while there is a hard race for third place between the counties of Blackford, Jay, Adams and Huntington. All are very close in number of wells completed, drilling and rigs up.

ENOUGH MERCURY TO KILL.

RESULT OF PROF. WITTHAUS' ANALYSIS IN THE RICE CASE.

Poison Found in the Organs of the Dead Millionaire—Had a Penchant for Patent Medicines.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Following the announcement of Professor Witthaus' discovery of enough mercury to cause death in the kidneys and intestine of William Marsh Rice, the old millionaire whose sudden death more than a month ago led to so many sensational developments, and the chemist's further statement that mercury formed no part of the fluid used in embalming the body, a consultation of the authorities will be held to-morrow, which may decide the next step in unraveling the mystery.

District Attorney Gardner, Coroner Hart, Professor Witthaus and Dr. Curry, who was Mr. Rice's physician, will meet in the district attorney's office, and it is probable the chemist will have a supporting report to make to-morrow. Although the amount of mercury found was sufficient to kill a man if administered in a soluble form, Professor Witthaus did not say so in his first report. He was then asked to make this plain in an additional statement and to tell if he could form any idea as to how this poison might have been introduced into the body. He said that he was taking of it if it must have been administered in some form or other.

That Rice had a penchant for patent medicines and that he frequently took them is a fact which was stated by others who knew him. Dr. Curry says that in none of the medicine prescribed for the old millionaire was there any mercury, but he adds that he found Mr. Rice was taking a medicine that was given to him by a friend, and that it was not until after his death that he was able to stop taking it. An endeavor to learn what drugist prepared the medicine prescribed by Dr. Curry for Mr. Rice was futile to-day.

Many physicians spoke to agreed that the cause of Mr. Rice's death was a man's death would be by the administration of mercury in minute doses. They also said the symptoms of illness noted in Mr. Rice just previous to his death were caused by this poison given in this manner. It would produce retching and dysentery, and would cause a severe attack on the stomach and more in the intestines. For several days before Mr. Rice died he was ill and he was led to believe this resulted from his partaking of several baked bananas. He was weak, but he did not seem to be in any immediate danger of death.

JOURNALISM THAT IS YELLOW.

In What It Consists and Its baleful Effect on Society.

Chicago Journal. What is "Yellow Journalism"? It is a term coined, first of all, perhaps, by the thoughtless, and meant to express the unspeakable in the passing news literature of the day. Yellow is the color that fever hospitals and a dull, drab yellow, that suggests the forlorn mental and pitiable bodily condition of the patients within it. Thus the term "yellow journalism" implies feverish journalism, unhealthy journalism, journalism that is sickly, leprous, unclean.

Yellow journalism is the journalism that pries into private affairs, that stations itself in the streets, that peeps into the holes, that lays bare sacred and cherished household traditions and secrets to the gaze of the vulgar and debased. It respects no man or woman and no man or woman respects it. It is an enemy of peace, of decency and the home. It flaunts vice in the eyes of innocence and invades the sanctity of the very church. It brazenly plumes itself on its own effrontery and makes boast of its horrors of life that it carefully and persistently repeats to the young.

Yellow journalism is the friend and instigator of crime. It paints crime in alluring colors and so debauches the young that it crowns the brow of the murderer with a chaplet of laurel, and by the nasty relations of every circumstance of his homicidal incites in the depraved a desire to become as infamous as the prisoner himself. It is the thief of the public's printed words for his acts and militates, as far as it can, against the law in striving to create for the unwelcome and morbid sympathy.

Yellow journalism does worse. It illustrates an exhibition of crime with atrocious and deplorable pictures. It sets up your breakfast table a hot-bed of horrible headlines and grotesque faces that astound and horrify the public mind. It destroys the appetite and exasperates the temper at one and the same time.

Yellow journalism sometimes undertakes spectacular deeds. By the power of money, it employs the services of buy-jailers, thereby rescuing captive heroines from prison, and expends the proceeds of the sensational public building, for the further monstrous iniquities against decency and the home. It can unearth scandalous and degrading details of the lives of the sufferers for the amusement of the vicious and abandoned. It can dig into the moral deformities of the unfortunate. And with it all there is not a dollar spent, not a counterfeit motive, sacrilegiously used in the past with the few exceptions—the gaining of further advertisement and the eventual reaping of hastier profit. Yellow journalism is most of all, sorrid. Its aim is money, and the method of securing it to the last degree unscrupulous and bad.

The mud-sucking press of the Nation, it has slandered the chief magistrate of the people with insults too vile for print; it is a leech of nervous prostration, of phlegm and scum. It haunts the nymph and combs the sewer. It is a sore on the public body. It reeks with its self-contradictory and its glared and morbid obscenity into forbidden places.

Yellow journalism, as I have called, is an affront to our social life, and the most contemptible because practiced in the slimy mud of an assumed and fraudulent virtue.

Yellow journalism is a pander to immorality. Convicts study it; degenerates love it; harlots swear by it. It is an enemy of the fireside, of the altar and of parentage. It has assailed the integrity of the Nation; it has slandered the chief magistrate of the people with insults too vile for print; it is a leech of nervous prostration, of phlegm and scum. It haunts the nymph and combs the sewer. It is a sore on the public body. It reeks with its self-contradictory and its glared and morbid obscenity into forbidden places.

Yellow journalism, as I have called, is an affront to our social life, and the most contemptible because practiced in the slimy mud of an assumed and fraudulent virtue.

Yellow journalism is a pander to immorality. Convicts study it; degenerates love it; harlots swear by it. It is an enemy of the fireside, of the altar and of parentage. It has assailed the integrity of the Nation; it has slandered the chief magistrate of the people with insults too vile for print; it is a leech of nervous prostration, of phlegm and scum. It haunts the nymph and combs the sewer. It is a sore on the public body. It reeks with its self-contradictory and its glared and morbid obscenity into forbidden places.

Yellow journalism, as I have called, is an affront to our social life, and the most contemptible because practiced in the slimy mud of an assumed and fraudulent virtue.

Yellow journalism is a pander to immorality. Convicts study it; degenerates love it; harlots swear by it. It is an enemy of the fireside, of the altar and of parentage. It has assailed the integrity of the Nation; it has slandered the chief magistrate of the people with insults too vile for print; it is a leech of nervous prostration, of phlegm and scum. It haunts the nymph and combs the sewer. It is a sore on the public body. It reeks with its self-contradictory and its glared and morbid obscenity into forbidden places.

Yellow journalism, as I have called, is an affront to our social life, and the most contemptible because practiced in the slimy mud of an assumed and fraudulent virtue.

Yellow journalism is a pander to immorality. Convicts study it; degenerates love it; harlots swear by it. It is an enemy of the fireside, of the altar and of parentage. It has assailed the integrity of the Nation; it has slandered the chief magistrate of the people with insults too vile for print; it is a leech of nervous prostration, of phlegm and scum. It haunts the nymph and combs the sewer. It is a sore on the public body. It reeks with its self-contradictory and its glared and morbid obscenity into forbidden places.

Yellow journalism, as I have called, is an affront to our social life, and the most contemptible because practiced in the slimy mud of an assumed and fraudulent virtue.

Yellow journalism is a pander to immorality. Convicts study it; degenerates love it; harlots swear by it. It is an enemy of the fireside, of the altar and of parentage. It has assailed the integrity of the Nation; it has slandered the chief magistrate of the people with insults too vile for print; it is a leech of nervous prostration, of phlegm and scum. It haunts the nymph and combs the sewer. It is a sore on the public body. It reeks with its self-contradictory and its glared and morbid obscenity into forbidden places.

Yellow journalism, as I have called, is an affront to our social life, and the most contemptible because practiced in the slimy mud of an assumed and fraudulent virtue.

Yellow journalism is a pander to immorality. Convicts study it; degenerates love it; harlots swear by it. It is an enemy of the fireside, of the altar and of parentage. It has assailed the integrity of the Nation; it has slandered the chief magistrate of the people with insults too vile for print; it is a leech of nervous prostration, of phlegm and scum. It haunts the nymph and combs the sewer. It is a sore on the public body. It reeks with its self-contradictory and its glared and morbid obscenity into forbidden places.

Yellow journalism