

New York Store Established 1853. Sole Agents Butterick Patterns. Special Prices on Broken Lines to Close $2.50 Ladies' Shoes At $1.89

Pettis Dry Goods Co.

Everything Good to Eat

Better facilities than ever to supply the highest grade goods consistent with quality. A visit to our store will repay you.

The N. A. Moore Co. 162 and 164 N. Illinois St.

Our Motto: Not How Cheap, but How Good.

Our Large Stock and Large Business enables us to undersell all others.

GEO. J. MAROTT, 22 to 28 East Wash. St. Second largest Shoe Store in the World.

CARRY THE LARGEST stock of high-class Groceries in Indianapolis. When you trade with the Monarch you get what you buy. Telephone business gets prompt attention. Both 'phones 1453.

Monarch, 112 E. Washington St.

Reliable Jewelry

Our superb array of Diamonds, Watches and Sterling Silver, makes selection easy. Everything we don't know about, and we tell you everything we know about everything you ask to see.

CARL L. ROST, Diamond Merchant

15 North Illinois Street, Opposite Bates House.

Amusement

Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott at English's.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

It is that it seemed as if the players were in a world of their own, and that their lives before the eyes of the audience.

Hope Booth in "War on Women."

"War on Women," the melodrama in which Hope Booth appeared at the Park Theater yesterday afternoon and last night, is a work of such artistic merit and of an old border play, provided, however, with beautiful settings. Miss Booth started out this season in a comedy entitled "A Wife in Pawn," which proved a sorry failure, despite the time and money expended on its production. The play she is now presenting was hastily thrown together by William H. Young, author of "The Cattle King," and it is regretted that such haste was necessary. There are disagreeable jagged edges about the piece, and at times the lines are hopelessly dull. The acting is not good, but it is to be given the credit that it is not as bad as it might be.

The Ladies' Social Circle of the First Baptist Church will hold an all-day meeting to-day in the church parlors. The morning session will be devoted to a singing, luncheon will be served at the Young Women's Christian Association at noon, and the afternoon a business meeting will be held.

A Strange Animal.

There was a good representation of newspaper men at the Zoo yesterday morning, the occasion being a special exhibition for the Director General Bostock's new feature, which he has dubbed "Hoot Mon, What is It?" It was found to be just as the announcement read, "the stranger of all strange animals." The face of the strange specimen is for all the world like a human's. Its eyes are pink and its teeth are jet black in color and like pearl in composition. Long, bushy dark hair covers the entire body with the exception that on the back near the head the hair is straight and light in color and can neither walk nor run. Having no use for feet, its legs terminate in nasty claws. The animal has a long, thin neck and curved on each of the forelegs there are two claws, and on each of the hind legs there are three. The animal has a long, thin neck and curved on each of the forelegs there are two claws, and on each of the hind legs there are three.

Reading of "Twelfth Night."

George W. Riddle gave a reading at Plymouth Church last night for the benefit of the free kindergarten. This is next to the last of a series of entertainments given for that institution. The church is now filled with an appreciative audience. Mr. Riddle read "The Twelfth Night." His interpretation of characters in the play was excellent. He read the play to carry an interesting line of the story all the way through, eliminating the frequent details. There are a number of scenes in the play which are of a nature to cause a reader to remark that the reading of Shakespeare is better in comedy than in tragedy. The play is a comedy, and it is a comedy which is better in comedy than in tragedy.

Notes of the Stage.

"The Royal Guest" is the title of a four-act comedy play by Victor Maples, in which General Washington is the central figure.

Bianche Walsh will make her first appearance in Julia Arthur's spectacular Napoleonic play of last season, "More Than Queen," at the Broadway Theater, New York, next Tuesday night.

The music rendered by the Broadway Burlesques at the Empire Theater this week is of the catchiest sort that always makes a hit with the audiences at this theater. There are a number of good choruses.

The stock company's revival of "Peaceful Valley" is being presented this week at the Grand to constantly increasing audiences. The public seems to enjoy quiet, quiet comedy as much as it ever did. The matinee Wednesday night is a great crowd which will be duplicated to-morrow afternoon, from indications of the advance sale.

The yacht scene in the third act of William Collier's new comedy, "On the Quiet," by Augustus Thomas, is declared to be the best which has been seen to be as dainty and beautiful a stage setting as can be found in any of the season's offerings thus far. Mr. Collier and his company are to play the comedy at English's Opera House to-night and to-morrow night and to-morrow afternoon.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Y., who has been the guest of Rev. and Mrs. Thos. W. Shaw, of this city, and their lives before the eyes of the audience.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Shaw, who have been visiting Mrs. Shaw's mother, Mrs. Burkhardt, in Cincinnati, will return home today.

Miss Laura Bergener has returned after a year's trip through Germany, Austria, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, France and England.

General Parker Watkins Hardin, of Kentucky, visited Mr. and Mrs. John Downing Johnston yesterday at their home in Woodruff Place.

Miss Gardner, of New London, Conn., who has been visiting Mrs. Frederick Jones and Miss Anna Hubbard, returned home last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Churchman have taken the residence 41 East Eighteenth street, where they will be at home after next week.

Mrs. Robert H. Proctor, of Tipton, and Miss Matson, of Greencastle, are the guests of Mrs. Edwin Barton Pugh, North Meridian street.

J. Richard Francis will give a salmagundi party Tuesday, Nov. 6, in honor of Mrs. Halstead Ritter, of Denver, and Miss Koster, of Muncie.

The Halloween hay wagon party given by Dr. Rowe and wife was entertained at supper by Mr. and Mrs. Doer and Mrs. Ellis, of East Washington street.

The Ladies' Social Circle of the First Baptist Church will hold an all-day meeting to-day in the church parlors.

The morning session will be devoted to a singing, luncheon will be served at the Young Women's Christian Association at noon, and the afternoon a business meeting will be held.

The ladies in charge of the college fair to be given Nov. 13 to 15 inclusive, at Tomlinson Hall, are meeting yesterday morning, but nothing definite was decided for the opening entertainment. It was hoped that Miss Mary Jones would be the artist for the opening night of the fair, but little hopes are now entertained that Miss Reid will be able to reach Indianapolis.

There will be another musical concert this morning and definite plans will be made.

Mrs. John N. Hurry and Miss Anne Hurry were hostesses for a tea yesterday afternoon in honor of their visitor, Miss Helen Perry, of Lowell, Mass. Assisting were Mrs. John E. Hollett, Miss Isabel Palmer, Miss Louise Fletcher, Miss Lucy Satter, Miss Mary Jones, Miss Lillian Jones, Miss Mabel Norris, Miss Julia Kern, Miss Helen Swain, Miss Stella Raub, Miss Foreman, Miss Lillian Jones, Miss Anna Louise Beck, Mrs. Roland Sherman, of Boston, Mass., and Miss Boone, of Fall River, Mass.

The different rooms were adorned with liberty roses and maldenbar ferns. In the dining room the table was set with a basket of red carnations for centerpiece and the candelabra held lighted red candles.

There was a good representation of newspaper men at the Zoo yesterday morning, the occasion being a special exhibition for the Director General Bostock's new feature, which he has dubbed "Hoot Mon, What is It?" It was found to be just as the announcement read, "the stranger of all strange animals." The face of the strange specimen is for all the world like a human's. Its eyes are pink and its teeth are jet black in color and like pearl in composition. Long, bushy dark hair covers the entire body with the exception that on the back near the head the hair is straight and light in color and can neither walk nor run. Having no use for feet, its legs terminate in nasty claws. The animal has a long, thin neck and curved on each of the forelegs there are two claws, and on each of the hind legs there are three.

The stock company's revival of "Peaceful Valley" is being presented this week at the Grand to constantly increasing audiences. The public seems to enjoy quiet, quiet comedy as much as it ever did. The matinee Wednesday night is a great crowd which will be duplicated to-morrow afternoon, from indications of the advance sale.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

Whenever Nat Goodwin and Maxine Elliott visit Indianapolis the city sends its beauty and fashion to give them fitting greeting. Last night's audience excelled, if possible, all previous outpourings in brilliance and size.

One could scarcely conceive a more dramatic and thrilling scene than that in "Royal Box," wherein the leading actor at the Old Drury Lane Theater, London, insults the Prince of Wales publicly from the stage.

"Diplomacy," the society drama by Victorien Sardou, which the Grand Stock Company will present all of next week, is one of the most pretentious productions ever attempted by a stock organization.

TO KILL WITH DYNAMITE

ATTEMPT MADE BY A MARION MAN SATURDAY NIGHT.

Tried to Destroy His Former Wife and Her Family—Burns on the Glass Was—Spectacle Thief.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MARION, Ind., Nov. 1.—Michael Pulley, a once prominent farmer of this county, was arrested near Hanfield, this county, for attempting to murder his entire family by use of a stick of dynamite. The attempt was made in the home of his wife, from the yard before it exploded, and who is living in Elwood. Pulley confessed his guilt in the matter and has thrown himself on the mercy of the court. Shortly before midnight Saturday Mrs. Pulley was awakened in her home in Elwood by the smell of smoke. She searched the house and found a stick of dynamite with a lighted fuse lying on the piano. It had evidently been placed there through an open window, and had barely time to throw the stick into the yard before it exploded. As it was the explosion tore a great hole in the ground and badly damaged the home of Mrs. Pulley, as well as a house adjoining it, but no one was injured. Mrs. Pulley suspected her husband and Elwood officers came to Marion, and, assisted by local officers, arrested Pulley and placed him in jail.

Saturday, Pulley says, he came to Marion and the Cambridge City Board has retained an electrical engineer, who will prepare plans and specifications for an electric light plant.

Perry Edmundo, a carpenter of Florida, Ind., fell thirty feet to the ground from a scaffold Wednesday and suffered injuries which it fears will prove fatal. He was taken to the hospital, but died Wednesday afternoon, without a chance to hold it, from an attending attendant at the hospital.

The premature publication in Thursday's Journal of the burial notice of Maurice Johnson at Greensburg, was due to the contribution of the board of directors. Wednesday in the past week, without a chance to hold it, from an attending attendant at the hospital.

J. K. JONES ONCE MORE. (CONCLUDED FROM FIRST PAGE.)

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WABASH, Ind., Nov. 1.—The farm dwelling of Charles Wright, three miles north of West of the city, was burned last night. Lee Wright, who occupied a room on the second floor, did not see the fire until the building was in flames and leaped from the upper story to the ground, just as the chimney toppled over. He was slightly hurt. The building and contents are a total loss. Being insured, the value of the property was valued at about $2,000.

METHOD MISSIONS. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 1.—The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Muncie district of the North Indiana Conference, Methodist Church, began a two days' session in this city at High-street Church this afternoon, with Mrs. C. U. Wade, of Muncie, presiding. More than two hundred delegates are present. The meeting opened with a devotional service, and after the other formal ceremonies reports from the branch meetings were made by the delegates. The new officers are Mrs. George H. Hill, Richmond, president; Mrs. Frances Kelly, Richmond, first vice president; Mrs. D. H. Guld, Knightstown, second vice president; Mrs. J. B. Clark, Economy, third vice president; Mrs. A. W. Lampton, Japan, recording secretary; Mrs. C. I. Morgan, Knightstown, recording secretary; Mrs. Dennis Kelly, Winchester, treasurer; Mrs. G. H. Hill, Richmond, delegate to the meeting of the northwestern branch at Flint, Mich.; Mrs. Frances Kelly, Richmond, reserve delegate.

Mission Convention Officers. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. RICHMOND, Ind., Nov. 1.—The 1901 convention of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Richmond district of the Methodist Church will be held in Grace Church, this city. This year's convention, which closed yesterday at Knightstown, was very successful, nearly fifty delegates were present. The new officers are Mrs. George H. Hill, Richmond, president; Mrs. Frances Kelly, Richmond, first vice president; Mrs. D. H. Guld, Knightstown, second vice president; Mrs. J. B. Clark, Economy, third vice president; Mrs. A. W. Lampton, Japan, recording secretary; Mrs. C. I. Morgan, Knightstown, recording secretary; Mrs. Dennis Kelly, Winchester, treasurer; Mrs. G. H. Hill, Richmond, delegate to the meeting of the northwestern branch at Flint, Mich.; Mrs. Frances Kelly, Richmond, reserve delegate.

Connersville District. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. MILTON, Ind., Nov. 1.—The Connersville district association of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church is in session here. Among the many speakers are Miss Carrie O. Heaton, Nayoga, and Mrs. R. L. Thomas, of Cincinnati. Reports show the auxiliaries of the society to be in good order.

INDIANA OBITUARY. Unusual Ceremonies at the Funeral of a Terre Haute Man. TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Nov. 1.—H. H. Boudoin, general fire inspector for the city of Terre Haute, and a most prominent citizen, who died Tuesday, was buried to-day at the funeral home of J. H. Boudoin, engaged for the Ringgold Band, to compose for him a funeral dirge. When the composition was ready he gave a reception to the band two years ago and had the dirge played at his residence. He paid $5 for the composition and had composed it two years ago. It was not to be given until the day of his funeral. The contract was completed to-day. The Ringgold Band, which was engaged for the "Hearts Bowed Down," taken from the "Bohemian Girl."

Other Deaths in the State. WINCHESTER, Ind., Nov. 1.—Andrew J. Smith, aged fifty-eight, a well-to-do farmer who lived near this city, is dead as the result of a stroke of paralysis. He was engaged for the Ringgold Band, to compose for him a funeral dirge. When the composition was ready he gave a reception to the band two years ago and had the dirge played at his residence. He paid $5 for the composition and had composed it two years ago. It was not to be given until the day of his funeral. The contract was completed to-day. The Ringgold Band, which was engaged for the "Hearts Bowed Down," taken from the "Bohemian Girl."

Simon Burns on Conditions in the Warring Glass Trades. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. PORTLAND, Ind., Nov. 1.—Simon Burns, who passed through here yesterday, was asked concerning the status of the fight in the glass trades, and declared that the L. A. 300 is in the fight to stay; also that the new assembly cannot maintain itself and that the cutters and flatters are already whipped. He said he is not directing the fight in person, and that the present trouble is the culmination of differences which have existed for several years and now that they have come up to the surface.

Crowning Proof. Washington Post. A man doesn't feel that he is truly great until the photographer begins to copyright his pictures.