SHOT AT LIVE TARGETS

SECOND DAY OF LIMITED GUN CLUB'S ANNUAL TOURNAMENT.

Fred Gilbert Again Led the Shooters
—The Scores in the Sparrow Events.

Live targets were shot at yesterday at the annual tournament of the Limited Gun Club. Ten live sparrow events were scheduled for the day, the first at ten sparrows with $1 entrance and the other nine events at fifteen sparrows each with $4.50 entrance. When seven events had been concluded there were not enough birds left to complete the other events. Six men, however, completed their fifteen birds in the eighth event.

Fred Gilbert made the best scores on Thursday again led the shooters yesterday. In the sparrow events he killed 108 out of a possible 115. He entered the extra pigeon contest at seven pigeons, killing six, making his complete record for the day 114 killed out of a possible 122. Tripp and Helkes were the second highest in the sparrow events, each killing 106 out of the possible 115.

The scores in the extra live pigeon event at seven birds were as follows: Tripp, 6; Parry, 6; Crosby, 6; Helkes, 7; Smythe, 4; Lilly, 7; Budd, 6; Gilbert, 6; Burnside, 6; Verbs, 7; Marott, 6; Rike, 7; Irwin, 6; Adamson, 7; Wilcox, 6; Comstock, 5. The scores in the sparrow events were as follows:

DENTAL EXAMINERS.

The State Board Files Its Annual Report with Governor.

The annual report of the State Board of Dental Examiners, filed with the Governor yesterday, shows that the board has revoked the license of one dentist, examined seven, five of whom passed, that three dentists were successfully prosecuted for violation of the dental laws, and that three other cases are pending against alleged violators.

It is further shown that the board has issued 109 registration certificates, fifty-four student permits. The receipts for the fiscal year, 1900, were $1,062.31 and the disbursements $96.31, leaving a cash balance of $1,066.00.

The report says that inferior dental colleges are springing up continually in some part of the Union, where diplomas are sold for just what they can get for them. The board has refused certificates to a number of applicants who have graduated from these institutions, and says that it will continue to do so.

Receiver's Report Filed.

The receiver's report for the month of September of the earnings and expenses of the New Albany Railway Company, filed in the Federal Court yesterday, shows the earnings for the month to have been $3,384.46 and the expenses $2,908.44, leaving a net balance of $476.02.

REPRESENTATIVE OVERSTREET HEARD AT FRANKLIN.

The Biggest Political Demonstration Ever Held in Johnson County.

BIG DELEGATION FROM HERE

SIXTEEN COACHES FILLED WITH MEMBERS OF LOCAL CLUBS.

Splendid Speeches Made by Mr. Overstreet and D. F. Kennedy—Street Parade.

The reception accorded to Representative Overstreet at Franklin last night is said to have been the biggest political demonstration ever witnessed in Johnson County. Not only did every one of Mr. Overstreet's fellow-townsmen, regardless of political opinions, turn out to do him honor, but there were people there from every part of Johnson County. It is estimated that fully four thousand people took part in the big street parade before the meeting, and as many more cheered and waved them a welcome from the adjacent sidewalks.

Conspicuous in the parade was the monster delegation from Indianapolis, more than twelve hundred strong, which went to Franklin on a J. M. & L. special of sixteen coaches. The delegation was composed of the Atlas Republican Club, with drum corps; the Indianapolis Pork Packers' Club; the Noyd & Marmon Republican Club; with drum corps; the Columbia Club, headed by the Indianapolis Military Band; the Kingman & Co. Republican Club; and the First Voters' Drum Corps and many Republicans who belonged to no other club than the Republican party.

The train carrying the local delegation was scheduled to arrive at Franklin at 7:30 p. m., but owing to the heavy train and the bad engine furnished for the occasion it was more than an hour late.

MET AT DEPOT.

The Indianapolis delegation was met at the depot by the Franklin and Johnson county marchers, and the parade was started from that point, marching over the principal streets of the city. The opera house in which Mr. Overstreet spoke did not accommodate more than one-fourth of the people who had assembled to hear him, and hundreds were forced to go away without hearing him. Owing to the length of the parade and the time it occupied in passing, it was nearly 10 o'clock when Chairman R. M. Miller rapped for order and introduced Mr. Overstreet to his fellow citizens. His appearance before the big concourse of people was greeted with prolonged cheering, and it was fully five minutes before he was allowed to proceed. He spoke for about an hour and a half, and made his best effort since the beginning of the campaign. He began his address with the remark that "No President, Abraham Lincoln excepted, has brought greater renown or more prosperity to the American government than William McKinley."

He took up in succession the issues of militarism, imperialism and trusts. He said three years ago the Republicans had accepted the reins of government under the most adverse circumstances. Labor was walking the streets, said Mr. Overstreet, "money was scarce and conditions everywhere were unsettled and unstable. There were three million of men who were begging for something to do. We promised that we would change those conditions, and I say to you tonight that the Republican party has kept its promises. Prosperity now abounds throughout the length and breadth of our land and labor no longer walks the streets, for every man who wants work can find it instead of a nation in debt we have become a credit nation, and all this in three years."

UNDER DEMOCRATIC RULE.

As a parallel picture to Republican prosperity Mr. Overstreet pointed out the conditions that existed under the Democratic administration four years ago. He spoke of the prophecies of Bryan, and said that, notwithstanding their utter falsity, he had the effrontery to again ask the American people for their votes from the very same platform that he stood upon four years ago. He spoke of Mr. Bryan's love of free silver and of the Republican party's prediction that if Bryan were a step in advance of our position four years ago, said Mr. Overstreet, "We declared for maintenance of the gold standard then, and now we ask for an absolute security in the maintenance of that standard."

With reference to militarism, Mr. Overstreet said that this country had had standing armies since the days of Jefferson, and that he challenged any man to point out when the boys in blue had ever proven a menace to the Republic. "There were over a million men in the civil war," said Mr. Overstreet, "and instead of the country being a better place for it, they have become the bulwark and the very foundation of the Republic. He said Bryan and his assistants pretended to be afraid of the very overthrow of the government, and that they were afraid of the powers of government. He said that the American people were in the hands of the American people, and that they were not to be overthrown any more that ever existed. In conclusion Mr. Overstreet thanked himself to the trusts. He spoke of the records of both parties on the trust question, showing conclusively that the Republican party had ever enacted any anti-trust legislation was the Republican party. "Iurs has been the best performance," said Mr. Overstreet, "and theirs, the party of pretense."

Mr. Overstreet was followed in his remarks by D. F. Kennedy, of Indianapolis, who made a brief address, and was then introduced by Mr. Burke while an Indiana senator.

A NEW STEAM MOTOR.

It Is Being Built at the Indiana Car Works.

A new motor car for steam railroads is in process of building at the Indiana car works which M. W. Mansfield, superintendent of the Indianapolis & Vincennes road and other experts in mechanical devices, think to be a great success. Col. Thompson, of Chicago, formerly purchasing agent of the Union Pacific, and other railroad men of prominence are interested in the motor, which it is expected will run sixty miles an hour, hauling two ordinary coaches. The motor has an upright water boiler, a large horizontal triple engine, and a large horizontal triple engine. The mechanical device for starting the engine and accelerating its speed is entirely new and simple, yet very effective. The link motion system is used in its construction and it is claimed to have 125 horse power when worked to its full capacity. It rests on four paper wheels with steel tires, the wheels being four feet and five inches in diameter. It is expected that the motor will be completed by Dec. 1 when a test will be made running between Indianapolis and Martinsville on the Indianapolis & Vincennes road. Considerable interest is taken in its construction and its practicability for service when hauling one or two cars which it is expected that a motor of its type can haul readily.

LOOKING FOR E. L. BLANK.

Caroline Lindley Says He Decamped with $1,000 of Her Money.

Caroline Lindley, forty-nine years of age, yesterday asked the police to locate E. L. Blank, twenty-seven years of age, who she claimed had stolen $1,000 of her money. She said she lived on a farm near Lockland, O., and Blank for several years and for some time prior to the death of her husband worked on the farm. Recently he persuaded her to sell the farm for $1,400 and come to this city, where it was proposed they should be married. The house at No. 1522 Nevada street was rented and newly furnished. Blank occupied rooms in the house and the day for the wedding was set for yesterday. About $400 was expended in furnishing the house and the rest of the money Mrs. Lindley kept under her pillow. When she awoke yesterday morning her money was gone, and since that time she has seen nothing of Blank. A dispatch from Cincinnati stated that Blank had deserted his wife to go with the Lindley woman, who was his aunt by marriage.

Mrs. Lindley said she knew nothing of Blank's alleged family. She thought she had been drugged, as Blank drank some whisky and then went into the kitchen and poured out some in a glass for her. The whisky, she said, tasted peculiarly. Relative to the sudden death of Myrtle Lindley, a granddaughter, fifteen years of age, on Oct. 1, and of which people of Lockland have heard there were suspicious circumstances, though she knew nothing definite. She thought the girl was trying to hide something from her, and that she often talked with Blank in tones so that she could not hear. The girl was ill for some time and refused to have a doctor until the day of her death. She said that Dr. Hunter was called in, and he said "trouble of the heart" which was not explained was the cause of heart trouble, which was given as the cause of death. She had collected some insurance money on the girl's life.

WAGES HAVE INCREASED

FIGURES TAKEN FROM BOOKS OF THE BIG FOUR SHOPS.

Men Received an Average of $10 a Month Each More Under McKinley Than Under Cleveland.

One of the chief arguments of the Democrats for the votes of the working classes and especially those in factories and shops is that the prosperity of the country and their subsequent better circumstances are only fancied in the minds of Republicans. The arguments of the Democrats along this line are backed by reliable statistics. They fall flat in the face of such statistics as are at command of the advocates of Republican principles throughout the country. Railroad men who have in former years voted the Democratic ticket are ardent supporters of the Republican candidates and the reason is that in the matter of wages and the comparative statistics they are able without much trouble to see the source of their better circumstances.

A table of peculiar local interest is given. It was taken from the pay rolls of the Big Four shops at Brightwood. Most of the men named are machinists and the state-ments are made by the men themselves, showing the comparative condition of all the workmen in the shops. The period covered in the table takes in the last three and one-half years of Cleveland's administration and the first three and one-half years of McKinley's. The figures show that of twelve men working throughout the period the wages of each increased on an average of $6.66 in the case of Cleveland and $10.00 in the case of McKinley. This is a trifle more than an average increase of $3.33 per month.

The table follows:

MAENNERCHOR CONCERT.

The First of the Season an Enjoyable Affair.

The first concert of the season by the Indianapolis Maennerchor was given in the society's hall last night, and the opening was very promising for the success of the series that is to follow. The chorus is composed of about the same members as last year, only a few new ones having been added. The regular Maennerchor was assisted by Mrs. Philip Goetz, Mrs. Alice Fleming Evans and the Philharmonic Quartet, with Mrs. Cecil Smith as accompanist. The Maennerchor was directed by Franz Seilingner, from the beginning to end each number of the programme brought applause and encore.

The programme opened with a song, "Like the Wild Rose in the Forest," by the Maennerchor. The chorus is perhaps more evenly balanced this year than it has ever been before. The Philharmonic String Quartet played selections from "Quartet No. 4, Op. 64," by Joseph Haydn, "With a Warm Clad," recitative, and aria from "The Creator," by Haydn, sung by Mrs. Goetz, and the prologue and feast, "Bridal Song," by "King Rother," by Joseph Krug-Walders, rendered by Mrs. Goetz, Mrs. Evans, Victor Jose and Edna Jones, who supported by a mixed chorus from the Maennerchor and Ladies' Society. This was followed by "Fore by Morning" by the Maennerchor. Mrs. Evans sang, "Autumn," by E. Frank and then sang in English when brought forward by the Philharmonic Quartet, being serenaded composed by Adolph Schelschmidt, leader of the quartet. These songs were especially appreciated. "Bella Figlia," quartet from Rigoletto, was sung by Mrs. Goetz, Mrs. Evans, Mr. Jose and Mr. Steinblum. The concert closed with "Zieh Hinaus," by the Maennerchor.

After the concert Montani's Orchestra played, and those who cared to, danced. At 11:30 a supper was served in the dining room.

Indianapolis Will Have Club.

Charles Ruschaupt, half owner of the Indianapolis ball club, was in Chicago Thursday and incidentally called upon President J. H. Johnson of the American League. Mr. Ruschaupt said last night that there was nothing in the talk that Indianapolis would not be included in the American League circuit next year. He intimated the circuit in 1901 might be made up of the following clubs: Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia and Cleveland in the East, and Chicago, Indianapolis, Detroit and Milwaukee in the West. Mr. Ruschaupt says Buffalo will be dropped should Philadelphia be taken.

Employees Are Examined.

The instruction and examination of street railway employees, for the purpose of improving the service, began yesterday morning and resulted in the dismissal of four motormen and conductors. According to Superintendent Grant the basis of employment and service of employees will not be greatly different from that of steam railway lines and the work will continue.

AN IMPRENSO CROWD

TOMLINSON HALL LITERALLY PACKED WITH PEOPLE.

The Meeting of the Colored Republicans of the City Was a Great Affair.

PRECEDDED BY A BIG PARADE

ALL OF THE SPEECHES WERE ENTHUSIASTICALLY RECEIVED.

Bishop Arnett, S. A. McElwee of Tennessee and Nelson Crews the Speakers.

If there was any doubt in the minds of the Republican managers of where the colored voters of Indianapolis stood in this campaign, it must have been dissipated by the magnificent meeting conducted by colored men at Tomlinson Hall last night. It was an immense outpouring of the colored people of this city. Tomlinson Hall was packed to the doors and the aisles were crowded with people who patiently stood during the entire meeting. No such meeting of colored people was perhaps ever before witnessed in this city. The colored voter applauded the sentiments of the most eloquent of Republican orators, and in his cheers there was no uncertain ring.

The exercises in the hall did not begin until after 9 o'clock. The proceedings were delayed because of the big street demonstration that took place between 8 and 9 o'clock, in which 2,000 colored people marched or rode in a procession through the city. The parade did not start until after 8 o'clock, but when it came it was greeted with the cheers of the people who waited for it. Charles W. Brown was the chief marshal. James M. Shelton was chief of staff and Jesse N. Ringold was adjutant. Jacob Porter was marshal of the first division, Watson Richardson was marshal of the second division and John B. Williams was marshal of the third division. The parade was divided into divisions rested on West Michigan, Vermont and New York streets, near West street.

LINE OF MARCH.

The line of march was north on West street to Indiana avenue, south on Indiana avenue to Capitol avenue, south on Capitol avenue to Washington street, east on Washington street to New Jersey street, countermarch on Washington street to Pennsylvania street, north on Pennsylvania street to Market street and east on Market street to Tomlinson Hall.

The column, as it marched through the streets, brought with it a glare of brilliant lights of various colors. The marchers carried red and green torches. The different organizations carried banners, many of them peculiarly significant. The "We Prefer Four More Years of Hearty Living," the "Fifth Ward Overstreet Club" carried a banner which said, "We Want Overstreet and All the Rest." One organization had a banner on which were written the words "We are going to win the flag to the Philippines—Are you with us?" Another said, "Our Motto—Loyal to the Flag." One banner, which created much amusement along the line of march, declared, "We Are Not Paid to March." In the parade were several carriages and tallies, in which gayly dressed women and girls rode and cheered and waved small flags. By the time the parade was over Tomlinson Hall was pretty well crowded, and by 9 o'clock there was scarcely standing room. The different organizations were cheered as they came into the hall. The stage was crowded with the vice presidents and their families.

MEETING CALLED TO ORDER.

Dr. S. A. Furness called the meeting to order and Rev. J. W. Carr was the presiding chairman. The speakers were Bishop Arnett, of the A. M. E. Church, S. A. McElwee of Tennessee, and Nelson Crews. The Bishop Arnett made an eloquent speech, and the audience at the start by saying, "Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, and by the grace of the Republican party, fellow-citizens." Bishop Arnett made an eloquent speech and almost every sentence was cheered. Women waved handkerchiefs and sang and cheered and their hats and cheered. "It is said by the chief secedist of Indianapolis," declared Bishop Arnett, "that the negroes are to vote for Bryan." "No, no," cried hundreds of voices. Bishop Arnett paid an eloquent tribute to the memory of Lincoln and Grant, Sherman and Sheridan, and Governor Oliver P. Morton. "What a thing to be a child of God is to be a citizen," declared the bishop. "The next thing to being a child of God is to be a citizen." "With a warm clad," recitative, and aria from "The Creator," by Haydn, sung by Mrs. Goetz, and the prologue and feast, "Bridal Song," by "King Rother," by Joseph Krug-Walders, rendered by Mrs. Goetz, Mrs. Evans, Victor Jose and Edna Jones, who supported by a mixed chorus from the Maennerchor and Ladies' Society. This was followed by "Fore by Morning" by the Maennerchor. Mrs. Evans sang, "Autumn," by E. Frank and then sang in English when brought forward by the Philharmonic Quartet, being serenaded composed by Adolph Schelschmidt, leader of the quartet. These songs were especially appreciated. "Bella Figlia," quartet from Rigoletto, was sung by Mrs. Goetz, Mrs. Evans, Mr. Jose and Mr. Steinblum. The concert closed with "Zieh Hinaus," by the Maennerchor.

After the concert Montani's Orchestra played, and those who cared to, danced. At 11:30 a supper was served in the dining room.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

High School Boys' Dinner and Dance a Success.

Nearly 800 people paid 25 cents admission to Shortridge High School building last night to partake of a supper and to dance, and incidentally help swell the funds to the credit of the athletic association. The association will realize quite a sum from the entertainment, and the money will be devoted exclusively to athletic work. The High School boys are now busy with the football season, and are preparing for the big game with the M. T. H. S. this month. The athletes will devote their spare time to basketball, which is a feature of the high school in the city, and the facilities of both schools lend their encouragement to the game.

Russell D. Robinson's Death.

Russell D. Robinson, of Chicago, who was well-known in this city on account of his service with the Journal a number of years ago, died yesterday at Elkhart, Ind., at the home of his sister, Mrs. C. W. Frink, of tuberculosis. He was a graduate of De Pauw and after a few years with the Journal went to Chicago where he became connected with the City Press Association, which work he was obliged to give up for time on account of ill health. He had just returned to Chicago to renew his work with that association when taken critically ill. Mr. Robinson was the son of John R. D. Robinson, who died several years ago. He leaves his mother and two sisters, Mrs. Frank and Miss Lucy E. Robinson, in this city. The body will be brought here to-day for burial.

What Our Patients Say About Us.

I was in a most critical condition when I began treatment—had a terrible cough, hard breathing and night sweats. Now I cough scarcely at all. My breath is sweet, my lungs are little, and I have no more night sweats, and am so much stronger and improved in every way. MRS. HATTIE ROBERTS, 45 Tenth Ave., Indianapolis, Ind. September 1, 1900.

I have been afflicted with hay fever and asthma ever since I was twenty years of age. Am now fifty-four. Took Depurator Treatment, and to my great surprise was relieved in the first treatment. Have had no return of any of the symptoms. I feel as well as I ever did. I eat and sleep well, and have gained seven pounds. I heartily recommend the Depurator Treatment. JOHN A. MOORE, Bloomington, Ind.

I began the Depurator Treatment January 20, 1900, and now, in only two months' treatment, I have no night sweats, my lungs are very nearly well; I eat and sleep well, and have gained twenty-one pounds in flesh. E. W. NIXON, Electrician and Engineer, Robert Keller's Department Store, Indianapolis, Ind.

I can truly say that the Depurator Treatment has worked wonders with me, and I am now a well woman. MRS. FRANK METZGER, 1012 Southeastern Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.

I have taken the treatment about four months, and I do not see how I could feel any better than I now feel. The Depurator Treatment has worked wonders with me. ADOLPH C. MOLLER, 3421 College Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.

I feel better than I have felt for ten years. I had a very bad cold, and the Depurator Treatment, obtained relief from the very first treatment. MRS. LULU B. JONES, 821 North Illinois St., Indianapolis, Ind.

I have been an invalid for nine years, and was completely discouraged, as my lungs were in a very bad condition, and I am now in good health, and do not cough at all. MRS. JOHN MONEY, Clermont, Ind.
