Senator Wiley is one of the men whose recollections of defeat in 1895 do not permit him to regard a man in the federal uniform with any sort of friendliness.

It would not be fair to hold Vice President-elect Roosevelt responsible for the forlorn expedients which some special correspondents are writing of his hunting adventures in Colorado.

The total of all the tax budgets in the borough that now constitute Greater New York in 1897 was $67,500,297.

When Senator Hoar was elected to the Senate, in 1877, newspapers deplored the general letting down of senatorial ability.

Bills have been introduced in the Michigan Legislature to create a boiler inspector, with eight assistants, a board to license plumbers and a board to examine coal mines.

Director of the Mint Roberts, in a statement before the House committee on coinage, recommended the conversion of all the silver now in possession of the government into subsidiary coin.

The proposition to increase the salary of the Governor should not fail because it could not be made to apply to the present Governor.

The tributes paid to the late Governor Mount by the speakers in both branches of the Legislature were sincere and well merited.

There have been many instances of corporations enjoying municipal franchises trifling with public interests or falling in their duty to the people.

A correspondent who has attempted to advocate the need of a state laboratory falls to show the necessity for it except to discover impure foods and drugs.

object to all such innovations is that when once the State starts out in creating boards and commissions they rapidly multiply.

THE TAGGART-BANKS CASE. The conviction of John Banks, a colored Democratic local politician, for attempting to bribe an election officer in the last election has elicited the usual protest in Democratic circles.

The Banks case presents some peculiar aspects, not the least peculiar of which is Mayor Taggart's connection with it.

Ex-President Cleveland's recent speech at the banquet of the Holland Society may be searched in vain for a single sentiment in sympathy with national progress.

During the closing days of the campaign Democratic headquarters was informed of the existence of genuine ballots in the hands of Republicans.

FROM HITHER AND YON. 'They All Feel So.' 'Oh! oh! oh!' cries Charles, 'there are 55 cases of grip in the city, and I've got them all.'

THE ANCESTRAL LIE AGAIN. The Lamb-Ow family are all educated. You know we trace our ancestry back to Mary's lamb.

Not in Their Line. 'Andrew Jackson said heaven would not be heaven to him unless he could meet his wife there.'

A QUESTION. The founder of the village, being conscientious withal, were at loss how to proceed.

JAMES ATWELL MOUNTED. This is the best in life: To serve mankind. And so, the Lord, therefore his life was best.

STATE BOARD OF CHARITIES. There can be no doubt in the mind of anyone who has given special attention to the work of the State Board of Charities that, from the first, it has rendered the State a most remarkable service.

Wife of a Boston Astrologer Charged with Mailing Obscene Circulars. BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 18.—Evangeline Yale Davey, better known as "Prof. Yale," wife of Thomas A. Davey, who says he is an astrologer, has been arrested by federal officers on a warrant charging her with sending an obscene circular through the United States mails.

One of the most useful innovations of the board is the quarterly publication of the MEMORIAL SERVICES HELD IN THE SENATE AND HOUSE. Both Branches Adjourn Early Out of Respect for the Late Ex-Governor.

THE MEMORIALS ADOPTED. HIGH TRIBUTES PAID TO THE STATE'S FORMER EXECUTIVE.

Many Senators and Representatives Speak Feelingly—Services at Butler.

Memorial services were held in both houses of the Legislature yesterday in honor of ex-Governor Mount.

The services in the Senate were beautiful and impressive. The Senate chamber was decorated with beautiful flowers, and in a prominent place over the president's desk a picture of Governor Mount was suspended, appropriately draped with crepe and flags.

Shortly after the session convened, President Gilbert called for the report of the committee on resolutions. Senator Binkley, the chairman of the committee, went forward to the president's desk, and, with a voice trembling with emotion, read the following memorial and resolutions on the death of Governor Mount.

He stood erect; his face beamed with a glow of satisfaction; his eyes were kindled with a fervent and happy light; his arms were outstretched in the strength of matured manhood.

which he loved so well. "Above all," said Senator Lindsey in conclusion, "he was an honest man who did his duty as he saw it with a fearless and courageous spirit."

Senator Wood was the next to pay tribute to Governor Mount's memory, saying in part: "The death of Governor Mount is not a matter of the day, and his memory will live with us for a long, long while."

Senator Inman, the leader of the minority, followed Senator Stillwell, saying in part: "I was touched in my heart with the news of the death of Governor Mount."

Senator Johnson, also of the minority, spoke in part as follows: "Governor Mount is to be remembered as a man who made a record for himself. He gave the State the best there was in him, and Governor Mount is to be remembered as a man who made a record for himself."

Senator Parks said in part: "Governor Mount has gone from us, but his memory will live with us for a long, long while."

At the conclusion of Senator Burns' remarks, President Gilbert called for a rising vote on the adoption of the resolution and its adoption was made unanimous.

On motion of Senator Brooks, President Gilbert appointed the following senators to act as an escort to the body of Governor Mount to-day to the place of interment at Crawfordsville: Senators Brooks, Keays, Johnson, Gardner, Goodwin, Guthrie, Johnson of Monroe, Keays, Kelly, Keyes, Lindsey, Matson, Parks, Ryan, Stillwell, Layman, Wampler and Wolcott.
