LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET. THE WEEK OPENS WITH AN EXCELLENT FLOUR TRADE.

Fresh Fruits and Vegetables in Excellent Supply—Better Conditions Rule in the Grain Trade.

The wholesale streets yesterday presented quite a busy appearance, and the platform at the city freight depot in the afternoon of the day gave evidence that the wholesale and commission merchants had had quite a busy day, in the lines of the busiest day of the spring and summer months.

Traveling salesmen who came in on Saturday reported having had a good week, so promising are crops that the retail stores in the cities and larger towns are getting an unusually good business for June.

Residents of the cities and smaller towns, including the farmers, seem to have money to spend now, and they are living in a more luxurious style than at any time since the panic of 1893; and this benefits the dry goods houses as well as the wholesale grocers, as farmers' wives and daughters are becoming more and more thrifty.

In prices yesterday there were but few changes. In some lines the dry goods market carries an easier tone, but this is not unusual, as the wholesale houses are beginning to receive fall and winter goods, and want to get their spring and summer stocks depleted as early as possible.

Arrivals. Druggists are having an excellent trade. Without exception prominent members of the respective firms state that they never have done a better business than for the last ninety days. Trade is improved somewhat with leather dealers, and prices on some descriptions of leather were advanced yesterday.

It carries a dull tone and prices are weak at quotations. Flour rules steady, the flour in wheat apparently not affecting prices as yet. Flour is in good demand at prices quoted.

Receipts are not as large as is usual in this season of the year. The receipts of sale and wheat in price. Receipts of strawberries continue large, home grown largely furnishing the market.

There are few changes in prices of oranges and lemons, and those are firm at prices quoted. Pineapples are in good supply, with prices steady.

Green stunts and green kidneys of the cities and smaller towns, could not be depended on later in the day, but the commission merchants manage to get a few orders for cutting prices when there are indications of an over-supply.

Wool is quiet at unchanged prices. The local grain market is in good features. While receipts of corn are increasing with wheat, they are not so much as to supply the local demand.

The same is true of wheat, grades desired for this market. The receipts of wheat with prices ruling as follows, on the tracks, as reported by the secretary of the Board of Trade:

BEARS CONTROL WHEAT. IN CONSEQUENCE THE PRICE DROPS ALMOST A FULL CENT.

Corn Relatively Firm, Closing Higher—Oats Steadily on a Lower Level—Provisions Strong and Active.

CHICAGO, June 10.—The bear element held the mastery in the wheat pit to-day, July wheat closing 5/8¢ lower. July corn at the close was 1/4¢ above Saturday's final price, July oats showed a loss of 1/4¢ and provisions were 1/2¢ to 1/4¢ higher.

Unfavorable weather reports from the West and Northwest, coupled with the estimates on local shipments, July wheat opened a shade to 1/4¢ lower, at 73 1/2¢.

During the early part of the session prices held fairly steady, declining under the absence of shipping demand to 73 1/2¢.

Subsequently there was a rally on covering by a few local shorts to 73 1/2¢, where the price remained but a moment. As the time approached when the government report would have to be faced, holders weakened and something of a stampede among them to unload caused a rapid shrinkage in values, and at the end of the session prices were near the local close of the day.

July closed weak and 3/8¢ lower, at 72 1/2¢. September ranged between 69¢ and 70¢ and closed at 69 1/2¢. Three loads were reported taken for export. Western shipments of wheat and flour were equal to 10,000 bu, an increase of 2,111,000 bu over the week before and 3,420,000 bu over a year.

The quantity of ocean passage showed a decrease of 1,058,000 bu since a week ago. Receipts of wheat from the West and Northwest were 543 cars, forty-seven of contract grain. Nine loads were taken for export.

Prices of grain in oats was fattest, and though trading was not very general, the market for oats was marked dullness. There was a fair country demand, based on the fact that the weather was not so unfavorable as it had been.

Local receipts were 314 cars. Provisions were strong and active, with a notable scarcity of offerings. A decrease in receipts of hog and higher prices at the yards helped the demand for July, July pork sold between $14 1/2 and $15, 100 lbs, closing at $14 1/2.

The latter flour; July laid between $8 1/2 and $8 3/4, closing 1/4¢ improved, at $8 1/2. Local receipts were 1,000 barrels, 100 lbs, closing at $8 1/2.
