SUGGESTION OF MAYOR

HE WILL RECOMMEND NEW PLAN IN FURNISHING BONDS.

Surety Companies, He Thinks, Afford the Best Protection-Other Municipal Affairs.

Mayor Bookwalter has under consideration a recommendation for presentation to the Council. He will suggest that in future all bonds filed with the city for the honorable performance of contracts or the duties of any city office, or position of responsibility on the fire or police force, shall bear the signatures of responsible surety companies. Heretofore contractors, city officers and others who bound themselves to the city to properly carry out certain stipulations have furnished for the most part personal security; their bonds have been signed by private individuals. The mayor does not believe in that method of doing business. He thinks the city is always taking a chance when its accepts a bond bearing the signature of a private individual. He said yesterday:

'Every year there is filed with the city onds of contractors who have in charge mportant construction work calling for in aggregate an immense sum of money. In each case the amount is not a vast sum, but taken altogether it is. These bonds are secured by signatures of individuals. These individuals may be perfectly responsible so far as any one knows; but something may happen that will compel them to stand good for the amounts they are security for and they will bring suits to avoid payments of the bonds. Such a course involves the city in unnecessary and costly litigation and should be avoided If all bonds were secured by surety companies such suits could be done away with, because when these companies have to make good the bond of a dishonest contractor they pay up without suing. I am obtain their bonds from such companies instead of going to private parties. It does away with bringing sentiment into Breunig. Charles Maguire, who has adpurely business transactions and is a safer | vised his Democratic associates against course for the city.' The Mayor will probably include the recommendation in his next message to Coun-

DUTIES HAVE INCREASED.

Former Inspector Bedell Talks of the Many Difficulties.

George V. Bedell, building inspector under the previous administration, was a caller at the office of the Board of Works vesterday for the purpose of impressing the board with the merits of the smoke consumer manufactured by the company which Mr. Bedell represents. He wants the board to have his consumer put in Tomlinson Hall, the police station and a number of other public buildings.

Mr. Bedell thinks the present building inspector, Mr. Bartel, is doing all in his power to mitigate the smoke nuisance. He ment, and the same will be true here. Peoole criticise a seeming lack of energy on the part of the inspector from ignorance of the conditions which confront him. While he must endeavor to fulfill his duty in enforcing the ordinance against smoke, said Mr. Bedell, he must at the same time be just to business men who are making, in his opinion, sincere but ineffectual efforts to obey the law. Mr. Bedell stated that the duties of the building inspector are too laborious for one man. Ten or twelve years ago, he said, when the city had no smoke question to deal with and the building boom had not begun, the position was comparatively easy. At the present time an inspector must keep up with the details of the office in regard to building operations, which extend over what is now a vast territory, and at the same time must try to do his duty in looking after smoke violations. There is plenty of work to do in looking after smoke violators for one man, Mr. Bedell believes, and the city will eventually be compelled to separate the duties of the office and appoint two men to look after

REQUESTS FOR SWITCHES.

The Mayor, City Engineer and Board of Works Investigate.

The first applications for switches that have been made during the new administration were investigated yesterday afternoon by Mayor Bookwalter, City Engineer Nelson and the Board of Works. The Nordyke & Marmon Company is preparing to build a large foundry as an addition to the present plant, and the switch now used by the company will be inadequate to the company's needs, besides being in an undesirable position. The Board of Works is asked to permit a relocation of the switch. so that it will touch the plant in a different locality. To grant the request the board would have to allow the switch to be built across Kentucky avenue. The hominy mills, in the southern part of the city, want the right to build a new switch from the Belt, along Harrison street, to the factory, and the party investigated its request also. Decision in regard to the requests is deferred for a time.

DEMOCRATS VOTE SOLIDLY AGAINST PAYING THE CITY'S DEBT.

The Action a Disappointment to Mayor Bookwalter and Others Present-New Ordinances.

For the second time the temporary loan appropriation ordinance has been throttled. Contrary to expectation, James D. Moriarity instead of being a leader in Council last night was "led." The new boss discovered that his adherents of the minority were of stubborn mold and failed to sway them to a course which it is known he favored a few days ago. The vote by which the ordinance was defeated was again a strictly party ballot. Twelve Republicans voted for the measure and eight Democrats against it. Harry Haldeman, president of the body, is in New York, he being the only member of Council absent last night. Mayor Bookwalter was presof opinion, also, that all city officers should | ent with the hope of seeing the ordinance go through, and with him was Controller opposition to the ordinance; Major Megrew, Conrad Keller, of the Board of Safety, and several ex-councilmen were > among the visitors at the meeting. When the introduction of general ordinances for second reading was called, Thomas A. Wynne presented the majority report of the committee on finance, recom mending the passing of the measure Moriarity arose with the minority report against the measure. Preliminary sparring as to adoption of reports cast a chill over members of the administration who were present, for the votes of the Democrats against all motions of Republican initiation fell with dull thuds.

> AN ANXIOUS MOMENT. Anxious looks were cast at the Democratic side of the house when the final moment indicating the fate of the ordinance arrived. Mr. Maguire directed a few appealing glances that way, the mayor smiled more hopefully than he probably felt, and the controller twisted his mustache, but there was no change, and the ordinance was again buried. The only possible chance of its resurrection before the temporary loans fall due is for the mayor to call at least two more special meetings of Council So many special meetings have been held lately, and the conduct of the minority has been so uniformly unbusinesslike, that it is reported the mayor is disinclined to furnish any more amusement for the gentlemen who are of opinion that the city does not need to pay its debts when due receding the action on the appropriation measure the Council took up several minor appropriation ordinances prepared at the request of the controller and the Board of Works to meet expenses in the works department and other incidentals. The controller was authorized to transfer $800 from the fund for sprinkling unimproved streets to the fund for maintaining vapor lights. The deficit in election expenses was wiped out by the passing of an ordinance appropriating $1,875. Mr. Negley's ordinance changing the name of a part of Greenbriar avenue to Bloyd avenue went through without Democratic opposition. The ordinance which will furnish money for the controller to defray the expenses of several branches of the works department for the remainder of the year was introduced and referred to the finance committee. The amount involved is $7,600. Another ordinance introduced at the request of the Board of Works, providing for the transfer of $2,000 from the sprinkling fund to the fund for cleaning and sweeping improved streets, was referred to the finance com-

> FEW NEW ORDINANCES. Few new ordinances were introduced at last night's meeting. The body has not settled down yet to the winter's work, but in a few weeks a flood of measures of all kinds is expected to pour in. An ordinance for the regulation of the public markets and prescribing the duties of the market master was among the number. Its important section gives small dealers in farm and garden truck the right of setting tables along the outer edges of the curbs. Two ordinances dealing with children and young men were referred to the committee on public safety and comfort. The first, General Ordinance 69, dealt with the question of truant and vagrant children, and provided that whenever a child is discovered without a home, or when it is suspected of having run away from its parents, the authorities shall be notified at once and measures taken to restore it to its home or to a place of refuge. The other ordinance, No. 70, has for its purpose the separation of children who are arrested and confined in jail or police station from older and more hardened criminals. The latter measure has been advocated strongly by the Board of Charities. The Democratic members of Council refused to discuss the defeat of the appropriation measure, other than to say they are not ready for action. The Republicans are disappointed and disgusted. They said little in words, but faces spoke eloquently.

ARREST OF A BOY.

He Caused an Italian Vender a Great Deal of Annoyance.

John Thompson, a fifteen-year-old boy, living at 511 East Ohio street, and a companion, caused a great deal of excitement on Pennsylvania street last evening. An Italian vender stationed at Pennsylvania tention of the boys, who could think of no better way to get them than by theft. They ran past the wagon, grabbing the nuts in passing. The wagon was overturned. A crowd gothered. The Italian pursued the boys, but, in hesitating which one to follow, let both get away. Witnesses took an interest in the affair, and Thompson, who ran south, stopped at the entrance of the When, peering out to see if the owner of the wagon was coming. When he did come the boy ran across the street and jumped on to a passing car. The Italian followed but did not get aboard the car, for the reason that Thompson prevented him by

CASE OF HOPE DEFERRED WITH SWITZERLAND COUNTY PEOPLE.

H. M. Rabb Says the Inhabitants Are Thoroughly Up to Date-Hotel Visitors.

A mong the members of the order of Odd Fellows in the city this week is H. M. Rabb, a citizen of Patriot, Switzerland county. Mr. Rabb is staying at the Denson. Patriot is twelve miles below Rising Sun, a town made famous a few years ago by Joseph Arthur, the playwright. Switzerland and Ohio counties enjoy the distinction of being two of the four counties in the State that have no railroad. Time and again the people of Rising Sun have had their hopes revived by "railroad talk," but they are still without a road and the people are wondering how long it will be until the shriek of the iron horse is heard in the hills of Ohio and Switzerland.

Mr. Rabb says the people of Rising Sun have had a fresh disappointment and are just now trying to forget their troubles. For some time the Big Four Railway Company has been talking of extending a line down the river from Cincinnati to Louisville. Should this be done Rising Sun would have a railroad. There has also been talk of an extension of a trolley line from Aurora to Rising Sun, but the people have despaired of getting either of these lines, and, in fact, it is the understanding down that way that all negotiations are off. The people of Rising Sun went so far as to vote a subsidy for both lines should they be built. Mr. Rabb is at a loss to know just why Switzerland county cannot have a railroad. He says the people n his locality are prosperous and up to date and some of the land in the locality has reached a market value of $100 an acre. The people of Rising Sun, Mr. Rabb says, were intensely interested in Joseph Arthur's play, "Blue Jeans," and he thinks that every man, woman and child in the town who could raise the money went to Cincinnati to see the play. Mr. Rabb is a stanch Republican, but has lived all his life among the rock-ribbed Democracy of southeastern Indiana. He they are going to make another attempt to

B. A. Seitz, of Dawson City, Is at the Grand Hotel.

B. A. Seitz, of Dawson City, is a guest at the Grand Hotel and will probably be here for several days. He comes from the Klondike with fabulous stories of golden finds. Mr. Seitz is largely interested in Gold Hill mining property. He has twenty claims on Gold Hill, but in five of these claims he has interested with him some men who went to the gold fields from Texas. These claims are in the neighborhood of the mines owned by the Indiana syndicate of which Col. H. B. Smith i at the head.

Mr. Seitz says he has heard that his Texan partners are about to dispose of some of their interests and as there seems to be some negotiations on here in Indianapolis he is here to see what it is all about. Mr. Seitz relates a story of one man who took out $5,000 on Gold Hill in four hours and fifty minutes. This gold was taken from ground now owned by Mr. Seitz. He says the output of gold has been greater this year than in any year since the Klonlike fields were discovered. He declares that the amount taken out reaches $123,-000,000. Mr. Seitz says he knows of one man who took out $250,000 in three months.

VINCENNES OFFICIALS.

They Came to Indianapolis to Inspect

New Telephone Plant. At the Grand Hotel yesterday evening was a party of Vincenes citizens including five members of the Vincennes City Council. The party spent yesterday in the city inspecting the New telephone plant. The councilmen were P. J. Ryan, A. J. Taylor, S. Kixmiller, Anton Heitz and J. S. Spiker. The party also included Jerre Hershey, city engineer; Charles Laugel, city clerk J. W. Emmerson, an attorney of Vincennes and R. F. Weems and Joseph I. Muentzer newspaper representatives. The Vincennes men came here to inspect the New telephone plant at the request of A. J. Rousseau, of Chicago, and John F. Slinkard, of Bloomfield, who have applied for a franchise for a telephone plant at Vincennes. These men are about putting in a plant at Washington, this state, and they are desirous of constructing both at the same time should they be successful in Vincennes. The visitors expressed themselves as well pleased with the plant Senator S. B. Fleming in Town. Senator Sam B. Flemming, of Fort Wayne, arrived at the Grand Hotel last night, having returned a few days ago from a trip East. He says that Representative Robinson has recovered from an illness of typhoid fever and will leave for Washington about the 28th. Mr. Flemming has purchased a half interest in a paper mill at Reading, Pa., and will give some attention to this line of business. The mill in which he is interested manufactures what is called matrix paper, a material used in stereotyping newspaper "forms. The New York Heraid and Mail and Express use the matrix paper from this mill. Mr. Flemming expects to be in the Legislature again next winter.

Although Mr. Kolver lives in the midst of a Democratic stronghold he is a good Republican. Mr. Kolver says that one township in Adams county-Preble township-had four Republican voters the year that Benamin Harrison was elected President. General Harrison got twelve votes out of the

The lot has a frontage of fifteen feet and is 110 feet deep. Mr. Dickson owns the adjoining property and when the leases expire on the two properties, he says he will erect a busines block to cover both.
